SGL Carbon increases Graphite Electrodes prices
in Europe

WIESBADEN, September 10, 2003. SGL Carbon increases the prices of its graphite electrodes in Europe (incl. all of Turkey) by 100 Euro per ton. The increase is effective immediately for all new businesses.

SGL Carbon will honour these new prices for all orders received before November 30, 2003, and for shipments before December 31, 2004. This price increase was triggered by significantly higher energy prices supported by tightness of graphite electrode supply and its key raw materials world-wide.

Important Notice:

This document contains forward-looking statements as defined in the US Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 based on currently available information. Actual future results and trends could differ materially from those set forth in such statements due to various factors. Such factors include, among others, changes in economic, political, technical, business and competitive conditions, unforeseeable alterations in electric steel production, changes of interest and exchange rates, price developments, unanticipated developments relating to recently acquired businesses and Group companies, potential liability in connection with existing or future regulations, unforeseen difficulties relating to the investigations by the European antitrust authorities and to the now completed investigation by the Canadian and U.S. antitrust authorities and the civil actions related thereto and other risks and uncertainties, including those detailed in the Company's filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. SGL Carbon does not intend to update these forward-looking statements, and does not assume any obligation to do so.
