and Widmer, including the retention of key employees, may suffer due to uncertainty; that, in the event the merger is completed, the combined company may not have greater opportunities and advantages; that the combination of the Company and Widmer may not result in a company better positioned to compete on a national basis; that the operational, financial and management controls, reporting systems and procedures of the combined companies may be inadequate; and that the parties may be unable to successfully execute their integration strategies or realize the expected benefits of the merger. Other factors that could create or contribute to other risks and uncertainties are more fully described in the Company's filings with the SEC, including, but not limited to, the Company's annual report on Form 10-K/A for the year ended December 31, 2007.
