RHOMBIC CORPORATION (A DEVELOPMENT STAGE COMPANY) NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS THREE MONTHS ENDED MARCH 31, 2002

The unaudited financial statements included herein were prepared from the records of the Company in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. These financial statements reflect all adjustments which are, in the opinion of management, necessary to provide a fair statement of the results of operations and financial position for the interim periods. Such financial statements generally conform to the presentation reflected in the Company's Forms 10-KSB and 10-KSB filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission for the year ended December 31, 2001. The current interim period reported herein should be read in conjunction with the Company's Form 10-KSB subject to independent audit at the end of the year.

The results of operations for the three months ended March 31, 2002 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ending December 31, 2002.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following discussion is intended to provide an analysis of the Company's financial condition and Plan of Operation and should be read in conjunction with the Company's financial statements and the notes thereto. The matters discussed in this section that are not historical or current facts deal with potential future circumstances and developments. Such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, the development plans for the technologies of the Company, trends in the results of the Company's development, anticipated development plans, operating expenses and the Company's anticipated capital requirements and capital resources. The Company's actual results could differ materially from the results discussed in the forward-looking statements.

The Company has not generated revenue from operations during the first three months of 2002 or since its inception.

At December 31, 2001 the Company had $9,000 in cash and $49,092 in current payables. At March 31, 2002 the Company had approximately $6,800 in cash and approximately $88,500 in current payables. Although the company could probably settle debt to affiliates in the amount of $58,543 for restricted common stock, it would have approximately $0,000 in debt remaining.

The competition in the technology proliferation and transfer market is highly intense and is based on product and technology recognition and acceptance, novelty and marketability of an invention, price, and sales expertise. The Company has placed its primary emphasis on product development, dependability and commercial viability of its acquired technologies. Management is currently determining the expenses involved to develop its Excimer Lamp intellectual property into commercial applications. To date, the Company has not generated any revenues from any of its acquired intellectual property except minimal royalties from Daimler Benz from the IEC Technology. Rhombic is currently a development stage company and is operating at a loss. None of the technologies have been developed to commercialization. The Company is not able to determine an approximate date for commercialization of any of its intellectual property at this time. No assurances can be given that any of the Company's intellectual property will ever be developed to a point of usefulness or, if developed, that any will be commercially feasible.

Development of its intellectual property may be possible through joint ventures where Rhombic contributes its intellectual property for an ownership percentage in a joint venture and all costs are paid by the other joint venture partners.

On March 19, 2002, Rhombic canceled the letter intent for the proposed merger with FAMCO because it had not received sufficient financial information from the six corporations in order to negotiate an agreement. During the calendar year 2002, Rhombic plans to actively seek the acquisition of a revenue generating operation. Ideally, the acquisition will have operations that bear some relationship to one or more of the intellectual properties currently held by Rhombic; however, the acquisition may or may not bear a relationship to the intellectual property currently owned. The objective of management it to optimize the value of the company through acquisitions or development projects.

In the event Rhombic had an opportunity to raise cash, it would pay for a marketing study and development plan for the Excimer Lamp. An 18-month budget of approximately $ 350,000 to develop a prototype with patent protection.

The Company currently has options outstanding from which it could obtain cash; however, it is not probable that Rhombic will obtain cash from the options while the stock price trades below the outstanding option strike prices. In the event all of the outstanding options were exercised, the Company would receive $1,725,000 before December 31, 2002. The Company has a total of 2,000,000 options outstanding at an average exercise price of $ .86 per share. The exercise prices range from $.50 to $4.50.

The Company does not have any employees and uses consultants for matters pertaining to coordinating technology development and administration. The Company may hire employees during the next twelve months depending upon its success in developing prototype applications for sale and financing more development. This report contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, and Section 21E of the Exchange Act of 1934. Although the Company believes that the expectations reflected in the forward-looking statements and the assumptions upon which the forward-looking statements are based are reasonable, it can give no assurance that such expectations and assumptions will prove to be correct.
