Table of ContentsCELLSTAR CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES*NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(Unaudited)

(1) Basis for Presentation

Although the interim consolidated financial statements of CellStar Corporation and subsidiaries (the Company) are unaudited, Company management is of the opinion that all adjustments (consisting of only normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair presentation of the results have been reflected therein. Operating revenues and net income (loss) for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of results that may be expected for any other interim period or for the entire year.

These statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and related notes included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended November 30, 2003 (the Form 10-K).

The Company has not materially changed its significant accounting policies from those disclosed in the Form 10-K and has reclassified certain prior period financial statement amounts to conform to the current year presentation.

(2) Stock-Based Compensation

Had the Company determined compensation cost based on the fair value at the grant date for its stock options under Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, the Company's net income (loss) would have been the pro forma amounts below for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004 and 2003 (in thousands, except per share amounts):

	For the three months		For the six months
	ended May 31,		ended May 31,

(3) Net Income (Loss) Per Share

A reconciliation of the denominators of the basic and diluted net income (loss) per share computations for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004 and 2003 follows (in thousands):

	Three months ended		Six months ended
	May 31,		May 31,

Effect of dilutive securities:
Stock options	286		371
Weighted average number of shares outstanding including effect of dilutive securities	20,652	20,354	20,731	20,354

Options outstanding to purchase 1.1 million and 0.7 million shares of common stock for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004, respectively, were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive as the exercise price was higher than the average market price for the periods.

Options outstanding to purchase 1.8 million shares of common stock for both the three and six months ended May 31, 2003, were not included in the computation of diluted earnings per share because their inclusion would have been anti-dilutive as the Company reported a loss for the periods.

(4) Segment and Related Information

The Company operates predominately within one industry, wholesale and retail sales of wireless telecommunications products. The Company's management evaluates operations primarily on income before interest and income taxes in the following reportable geographical regions: Asia-Pacific; North America, which consists of the United States, excluding the Company's Miami, Florida, operations (Miami); and Latin America, which includes Mexico and Miami. Revenues and operations of Miami are included in Latin America since Miami's product sales are primarily for export to Latin American countries, either by the Company or through its exporter customers. The Company divested the remainder of its operations in its European Region in fiscal 2003; however, as of May 31, 2004, the Company still had a receivable of $0.6 million in escrow related to the sale of the Sweden operations. The Corporate segment includes headquarters operations, income and expenses not allocated to reportable segments and interest expense on the Company's domestic revolving line of credit and long-term debt. Corporate segment assets primarily consist of cash, cash equivalents and deferred income tax assets. Intersegment sales and transfers are not significant.

(5) Debt

Debt consisted of the following at May 31, 2004, and November 30, 2003 (in thousands):

	May 31, 2004	November 30, 2003

The Company has an $85.0 million Loan and Security Agreement (the "Revolving Credit Facility" or "Facility") that expires in September 2006. The Facility is considered a current liability as the lender has dominion over cash receipts related to the Company's domestic operations and the Facility contains an acceleration clause that the lenders could choose to invoke if the Company were to commit an event of default.

Funding under the Facility is limited by a borrowing base test, which is measured weekly on eligible domestic accounts receivable and inventory. Interest on borrowings under the Facility is at the London Interbank Offered Rate or at the bank's prime lending rate, plus an applicable margin. The Facility is secured by a pledge of 100% of the outstanding stock of all U.S. subsidiaries and 65% of the outstanding stock of all first tier foreign subsidiaries. The Facility is further secured by the Company's domestic accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment and all other domestic real property and intangible assets. The Facility contains, among other provisions, covenants relating to the maintenance of minimum net worth and certain financial ratios, dividend payments, additional debt, mergers and acquisitions and disposition of assets. If the Company terminates the Facility prior to maturity, the Company will incur a termination fee. The termination fee is currently $2.6 million and decreases by $0.9 million each anniversary date, occurring in September of each year. As of May 31, 2004, the Company had borrowed $49.1 million, at an interest rate of 5.0%, under the Facility and had additional borrowing availability of $23.3 million.

On March 31, 2004, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility that increased borrowing availability under the loan by modifying advance rates for, and definitions of, eligible accounts receivable and inventory. The amendment also allows the Company to utilize its domestic receivables from foreign entities in other financing arrangements.

At May 31, 2004, the Company's operations in the People's Republic of China ("PRC") had various short-term borrowing facilities totaling approximately 683 million Renminbi ("RMB") (approximately USD $82.5 million), all of which had been borrowed. The facilities consist of revolving lines of credit, bank notes and factoring facilities. The facilities have interest rates ranging from 3.3% to 5.0% and have maturity dates through January 2005. The various short-term borrowing facilities are collateralized by PRC accounts receivable (USD $72.9 million of collateral).

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

At May 31, 2004, long-term debt consisted of $12.4 million of the Company's 12% Senior Subordinated Notes (the "Senior Notes") due January 15, 2007. The Senior Notes bear interest at 12%, payable in cash in arrears semi-annually on February 15 and August 15. The Senior Notes contain certain covenants that restrict the Company's ability to incur additional indebtedness; make investments, loans and advances; declare dividends or certain other distributions; create liens; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; consolidate; merge; sell assets; and enter into transactions with affiliates.

(6) Discontinued Operations

On March 21, 2003, the Company completed the sale of its Netherlands operations to a group which included local management. The purchase price was $2.1 million in cash. During the quarter ended May 31, 2003, in conjunction with the transaction, the Company recorded an impairment charge of $0.8 million to reduce the carrying value of the net assets of its Netherlands operations to the estimated net realizable value. In October 2003, the Company sold its Sweden operations to AxCom AB. The purchase price was $10.9 million in cash. In conjunction with the transaction, the Company recorded a pre-tax gain of $0.8 million, including a charge of $0.3 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments, for the three months ended November 30, 2003.

During the first quarter of 2003, the Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Statement No. 144. In conjunction with the 2003 sales of its operations in The Netherlands and Sweden, the Company has reclassified to discontinued operations, for all periods presented, the results and related charges for The Netherlands and Sweden operations.

Following is a summary of the discontinued operations related to the Company's former operations in The Netherlands and Sweden that were sold in 2003 for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004, and 2003 (in thousands):

(7) Divestiture of Colombia Operations

On May 26, 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its Colombia operations to a group that included local management. The Company obtained two promissory notes totaling $1.7 million and retained a 19% ownership interest. A tax refund note of $1.0 million is payable to the Company upon the receipt of a tax refund by the Colombia operations from the Colombian government. The other note of $0.7 million is a five year promissory note and is payable to the Company in equal quarterly installments beginning on the third anniversary of the note. The note is fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payment by the management group. Prior to the completion of the divestiture, the Company repatriated $3.9 million in cash from its Colombian operations. The Company recorded a pretax loss of $0.1 million on the divestiture for the three months ended May 31, 2004. In conjunction with the anticipated transaction, the Company had previously recorded an asset impairment charge of $4.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2003. The impairment charge included $3.8 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments and $0.2 million for property and equipment. For purposes of the statement of operations, the Company has not classified the Colombia operations as discontinued because of the continuing sale of products to carrier customers in Colombia from the Company's Miami export operations and the export of products to other customers in South America.

(8) Cumulative Effect of a Change in Accounting Principle

As of December 1, 2002, the Company adopted FASB Statement No. 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets. Pursuant to the provisions of Statement No. 142, the Company stopped amortizing goodwill as of December 1, 2002, and performed a transitional impairment test on its goodwill. The Company recorded an impairment charge of approximately $17.2 million during the first quarter of 2003, which was presented as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle, net of tax.

The changes in the carrying amount of goodwill by operating segment for the six months ended May 31, 2003, are as follows (in thousands):

(9) Contingencies

On April 30, 2003, a purported class action lawsuit was filed in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, New Castle County, styled as follows: Ruth Everson v. CellStar Corporation, James L. Johnson, John L. Jackson, Jere W. Thompson, Dale V. Kesler and Terry S. Parker (the Everson Suit). The Everson Suit alleges breach of fiduciary duty and corporate waste in connection with the Company's proposal to divest up to 70% of its operations (the CellStar Asia Transaction) in the People's Republic of China (the PRC), Hong Kong and Taiwan (the Greater China Operations). The Everson Suit seeks injunctive and other equitable relief, recissory and/or compensatory damages and reimbursement of attorney's fees and costs. The CellStar Asia Transaction at issue in the Everson Suit is not anticipated to proceed prior to the fall of 2004. The parties agreed to a temporary stay of the proceedings until the Company files a revised proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission relating to the CellStar Asia Transaction, or earlier if the plaintiff determines that the transaction is likely to proceed prior to that filing. During the pendency of the stay, the parties must file a status report with the court every sixty (60) days. Defendants have 20 days following the expiration of the stay to respond to plaintiff's complaint. Although the Company believes it has meritorious defenses to these claims and will vigorously defend this action if and when the stay expires, the Company has initiated settlement discussions with the plaintiff in an effort to avoid a delay in proceeding with the CellStar Asia Transaction which delay could materially and negatively impact the Company's ability to successfully complete the CellStar Asia Transaction. The ultimate outcome is not currently predictable.

The Company is a party to various other claims, legal actions and complaints arising in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that the disposition of these other matters will not have a materially adverse effect on the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of the Company.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Overview

The Company reported net income of $0.7 million, or $0.03 per diluted share, for the second quarter of 2004, compared with a net loss of $8.1 million, or $0.40 per diluted share, for the same quarter last year. Revenues for the quarter ended May 31, 2004, were $345.4 million, a decrease of $70.1 million, compared to $415.5 million in 2003. Revenues decreased in the Asia-Pacific Region ($32.9 million), the North American Region ($20.3 million) and the Latin American Region ($16.9 million). Gross profit increased from $17.1 million (4.1% of revenues) in the second quarter of 2003 to $23.3 million (6.7% of revenues) in the second quarter of 2004, as a result of higher margins in the Asia-Pacific and North American Regions, offset by a decline in Latin America. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $7.1 million from $27.3 million (6.5% of revenues) for the second quarter of 2003 to $20.2 million (5.8% of revenues) for the second quarter of 2004.

The Company's operations in the People's Republic of China (PRC) were impacted by actions taken by the Company's major suppliers in the PRC to reduce the involvement of national distributors and the carriers' decision to sell product into the channel at subsidized prices.

On April 22, 2004, the Company announced that effective April 30, 2004, James L. Johnson would step down as Chairman of the Board. The Company also announced that Terry S. Parker would assume Mr. Johnson's position as Executive Chairman, and Robert A. Kaiser, the Company's President and Chief Operating Officer, would become Chief Executive Officer. As Executive Chairman, Mr. Parker will retain responsibility for the Company's Asia-Pacific operations. On May 26, 2004, the Company announced the resignation of Paul C. Samek as Chief Financial Officer, and that it had promoted Raymond L. Durham to the position of Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer from his former position of Vice President and Corporate Controller.

On March 14, 2003, the Company filed a preliminary proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the SEC), which included a proposal to divest up to 70% of its operations (the CellStar Asia Transaction) in the PRC, Hong Kong and Taiwan (the Greater China Operations), including an initial public offering (the IPO) of its Greater China Operations on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited (the SEHK). The Greater China Operations constitute substantially all of the assets of the Company's wholly-owned indirect subsidiary, Cellstar International Corporation/Asia (CellStar International).

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it would delay the IPO and, consequently, the divestiture of its Greater China Operations due to the spread of Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS), which negatively impacted the business environment and financial markets in Hong Kong and China, as well as limited the Company's ability to market the IPO. Due to the delay, during the year ended November 30, 2003, the Company expensed $4.0 million in IPO costs, $3.0 million of which were expensed in the second quarter of 2003, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other costs related to the CellStar Asia Transaction.

On March 10, 2004, the Company filed a new preliminary proxy statement with the SEC, seeking, among other matters, stockholder approval of the CellStar Asia Transaction and the IPO. On May 17, 2004, the Company announced that the CellStar Asia Transaction would not be completed in the summer of 2004 as previously anticipated due to delays in the process of listing the stock of the Greater China Operations on the SEHK. As a result of that delay, the Company has explored the possibility of excluding its Taiwan operations from the IPO due to the unprofitability and unfavorable business prospects of the operations. In addition, due to the financial performance of the Greater China Operations, the change in the distribution channels described above, and the recent downturn in the Asian stock markets, the Company and its financial advisor, UBS Securities LLC (UBS), are re-evaluating alternatives for deriving the value which the Company believes is locked up in the Greater China Operations, including a possible spin-off of those operations to the Company's stockholders. Should the Company decide to further delay the IPO or change the form of the transaction, the Company will be required to expense approximately $1.9 million in IPO costs which are included in other assets in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet at May 31, 2004, which include legal, accounting, tax auditing, consulting and other costs related to the CellStar Asia Transaction. The Company expects to complete the evaluation of its alternatives during the third quarter of 2004.

Although the Company intends to pursue the CellStar Asia Transaction, or such other transaction as the Company and its financial advisor deem most favorable to its stockholders as soon as practicable, there are a number of steps to be completed before any transaction can occur, including the Company's receiving stockholder approval, the approval of the SEHK, the consent of the Company's bank group under its revolving credit agreement and the approval of the terms of the IPO or other transaction by the Company's Board of Directors. The completion of any such transaction is also dependent upon favorable market conditions and the successful performance of the Company's Greater China Operations. Accordingly, there can be no assurance of the timing of the transaction or that any transaction will occur.

Cautionary Statements

The Company's success will depend upon, among other things, its ability to maintain its channels of distribution, continuing to secure an adequate supply of competitive products on a timely basis and on commercially reasonable terms, economic conditions, wireless market conditions, the financial health of its largest customers and its ability to improve its operating margins, service its indebtedness and meet covenant requirements, secure adequate financial resources, continually turn its inventories and accounts receivable, successfully manage changes in the size of its operations (including monitoring operations, controlling costs, maintaining adequate information systems and effective inventory and credit controls), manage operations that are geographically dispersed, achieve significant penetration in existing and new geographic markets, hire, train and retain qualified employees who can effectively manage and operate its business and successfully manage the repositioning of its operations.

The Company's foreign operations are subject to various political and economic risks including, but not limited to, the following: potentially unstable channels of distribution, increased credit risks, political instability, economic instability, currency controls, currency devaluations, exchange rate fluctuations, export control laws that might limit the markets the Company can enter, inflation, changes in laws and enforcement policies related to foreign ownership of businesses abroad, foreign tax laws, trade disputes among nations, changes in cost of and access to capital, changes in import/export regulations, including enforcement policies, gray market resales and tariff and freight rates.

In addition to the factors listed above, threats of terrorist attacks, a decline in consumer confidence and continued economic weakness in the U.S. and throughout the countries in which the Company does business could have a material adverse impact on the Company.

Special Cautionary Notice Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

Certain of the matters discussed in this Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q may constitute forward-looking statements for purposes of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (as so amended the Exchange Act), and, as such, may involve known and unknown risks, uncertainties and other factors that may cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Company to be materially different from future results, performance or achievements expressed or implied by such forward-looking statements. When used in this report, the words anticipates, estimates, believes, continues, expects, intends, may, might, could, should, and similar expressions are intended to be among the statements that identify forward-looking statements. Statements of various factors that could cause the actual results, performance or achievements of the Company to differ materially from the Company's expectations (Cautionary Statements) are disclosed in this report, including, without limitation, those statements made in conjunction with the forward-looking statements and otherwise herein. All forward-looking statements attributable to the Company are expressly qualified in their entirety by the Cautionary Statements.

Revenues. The Company's revenues decreased $70.1 million, or 16.9%, from $415.5 million in 2003 to $345.4 million in 2004. The Company handled 3.0 million handsets (0.7 million consigned) in the second quarter of 2004 compared to 3.6 million handsets (1.0 million consigned) in the second quarter of 2003. The average selling price of handsets for the second quarter of 2004 was $137 compared to $149 in 2003.

The Company's operations in the Asia-Pacific Region provided $160.3 million of revenues in 2004 compared to $193.2 million in 2003. Revenues in the PRC were $141.1 million in 2004, an increase of $1.0 million, or 0.7%, from $140.1 million in 2003. The Company's PRC operations experienced a significant increase in units sold in the second quarter of 2004 (1.0 million) compared to 2003 (0.7 million); however the average selling price decreased significantly from $189 in 2003 to $140 in 2004, resulting in virtually flat revenues. In the second quarter of 2003, the consumer markets in the PRC were severely impacted by the spread of SARS, resulting in a decline of $109.6 million from revenues of $249.7 million in the second quarter of 2002. Consumer purchases of wireless handsets were impacted as the fear of the SARS outbreak affected consumer behavior across the region. In addition, the Company's operations were affected by market competition between the Company's suppliers and local manufacturers. The Company's revenues had historically been from the sale of handsets supplied by Nokia and Motorola. From late 2002 to mid 2003, Nokia and Motorola lost significant market share to the local Chinese manufacturers. As of May, 2004, the local Chinese manufacturers had approximately 39% of the PRC's wireless handset market according to Gartner, Inc. (Gartner), a technology research and advisory firm. In late 2003, the Company began purchasing from Shanghai DBTEL Industry Co., Ltd. (DBTEL) on a purchase order basis. In the second quarter of 2004, Nokia and DBTEL products accounted for approximately 77% of the Company's revenues in the PRC. Motorola products accounted for approximately 1% of revenues.

Revenues in the PRC operations were positively impacted by a new product offering from Wuhan NEC Mobile Communications Co., Ltd. (NEC) with whom the Company entered into an agreement in late 2002. The NEC handsets had an average selling price that was higher than the average selling price of other handsets offered by the Company's PRC operations. Revenues in the PRC operations in the second quarter of 2004 were negatively impacted by a price reduction from one of the Company's major suppliers. Due to the supplier's global market share decline, the supplier reduced prices of their handsets, causing other suppliers in the PRC to also reduce prices. Additionally, the PRC government started implementing a tighter credit control policy which has severely affected consumer sentiment in the market. These factors are expected to continue to impact the Company in the near term. Further, the Company's major suppliers are changing their distribution channels by reducing the involvement of national distributors and dealing with regional distributors or directly with carriers and large retailers. The carriers have also been increasingly selling product into the channels at subsidized prices. Revenues in future periods will be significantly impacted by the Company's ability to obtain competitive handsets from its current suppliers or from new suppliers and the Company's ability to maintain access to distribution channels that it has historically enjoyed. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to procure such handsets on favorable terms or to maintain its historical market access such that it can effectively compete in the PRC.

Revenues from the Company's operations in Hong Kong decreased from $5.2 million in 2003 to $1.7 million in 2004. The Hong Kong market has a penetration rate in excess of 90%. The Company is attempting to increase sales from its Hong Kong operations to other Asia-Pacific markets and to customers exporting to these markets. Revenues from the Company's operations in Singapore decreased from $36.9 million to $15.7 million. The Company's supply contract in Singapore with one of its major suppliers was not renewed by the supplier. Revenues from Taiwan, which is also highly penetrated, were $3.9 million in 2003 compared to $1.5 million in 2004. Revenues in The Philippines decreased from $7.0 million to $0.4 million as the Company has significantly scaled back its operations. Due to the declining market conditions in Singapore, The Philippines and Taiwan markets, the Company will be assessing each of the operations in view of its over-all long-term strategy and will divest those operations if plans to enhance profitability and return on investment cannot be developed. If the Company decides to exit these markets, there can be no assurance that the net book value of these markets will be recovered. The net book value of these markets at May 31, 2004, is $23.3 million, including $3.5 million in accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments.

North American Region revenues were $100.3 million, a decrease of $20.3 million, compared to $120.6 million in 2003. In January 2004, the Company announced that it would cease providing fulfillment and logistics services for one of the region's largest customers, Cricket Communications, Inc. (Cricket), as well as its indirect sales channels, at the expiration of the current agreement related to those services. The agreement expired on February 25, 2004. Company management believes that the pricing requested by Cricket going forward would not have met the Company's desired profitability. The Company had provided those services for Cricket since 1998. Revenues from Cricket and its indirect sales channel represented approximately 11% of the Company's consolidated revenues for fiscal 2002 and approximately 6% in 2003. Revenues from Cricket and its indirect sales channel represented approximately 0.4% ($1.5 million) and 6.7% ($28.0 million) of the Company's consolidated revenues for the second quarters of 2004 and 2003. Revenues in the North American Region were also negatively impacted by the lack of product availability from some of the Company's major suppliers, primarily Motorola, during the latter part of the quarter. The suppliers cited a shortage of CDMA chipsets as the primary reason for the handset shortages. This decrease was offset by increases in the regional carrier division where volume returned to more normal levels after some of the region's customers worked through excess inventory from the first quarter of 2004.

Table of Contents

The Company's operations in the Latin American Region provided $84.7 million of revenues, compared to $101.6 million in 2003, a $16.9 million decrease. Revenues in Mexico were $35.2 million compared to $41.7 million in 2003. Revenues from the Company's Mexico operations have been primarily generated from two carrier customers. In the second half of 2003, the Company significantly reduced its relationship with one of the carrier customers, resulting in a decrease of $5.1 million from 2003. These actions are part of the Company's ongoing evaluations of its customers and continued emphasis on maintaining a desired level of profitability with each customer. Revenues in Mexico were also impacted by the loss of sales arising from the unavailability of product from a major supplier. Revenues from the Company's Colombia operations decreased to $7.1 million in 2004 from $16.3 million in 2003 due to reduced business with its major carrier customer. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, in the second quarter of 2003 the Company shifted the majority of its business with its major carrier customer in Colombia to the Company's Miami export operations. In the fourth quarter of 2003, the Company made a strategic decision to seek a high level of local ownership in Colombia, and in the second quarter of 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its operations in Colombia to a group that included local management. Revenues from the Company's Miami export operations were $34.8 million compared to $38.3 million a year ago. Revenues from the Company's operations in Chile were $7.7 million in 2004 compared to $5.3 million in 2003. This increase was primarily due to spot sales in the second quarter of 2004, which are not expected to occur on a continuous basis.

Gross Profit. Gross profit increased $6.2 million from $17.1 million in 2003 to $23.3 million in 2004. Gross profit as a percentage of revenues was 6.7% for the quarter ended May 31, 2004, compared to 4.1% for the second quarter of 2003. The higher gross profit as a percentage of revenues was primarily due to higher margins in Asia-Pacific and North America, partially offset by lower margins in the Latin America Region. The increase in the Asia-Pacific Region was primarily due to the negative impact of SARS in 2003. Although gross profit in the North American Region is down from the second quarter of 2003, gross profit as a percentage of revenues increased as a result of the Company ceasing its business with Cricket and its indirect sales channel as this business had a low gross profit percentage. Latin America's gross profit decrease was primarily due to unfavorable foreign exchange rates. In the second quarter of 2004, the Company recognized a foreign currency exchange loss in Mexico of $0.3 million compared to a foreign currency exchange gain of $1.6 million in 2003, resulting in a change of $1.9 million from the second quarter of 2003.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $7.1 million from $27.3 million to $20.2 million. In the second quarter of 2003, the Company recorded $3.0 million in expenses related to the CellStar Asia Transaction, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other related costs. Bad debt expense decreased from $2.0 million in 2003 to $0.0 million in 2004 primarily due to a decrease in Mexico. The remaining decline is primarily in payroll and benefits. Pursuant to Mr. Kaiser's amended and restated employment agreement, effective as of May 1, 2004, Mr. Kaiser waived the Company's obligation to pay him $0.5 million related to the timing of his promotion to President and Chief Operating Officer. The Company originally recorded this expense in the second quarter of 2003 in accordance with his then existing employment agreement, and accordingly reversed this liability in the second quarter of 2004 upon execution of the amended and restated employment agreement. Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues were 5.8% and 6.5% for the second quarters of 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Interest Expense. Interest expense in 2004 was $1.8 million compared to $1.7 million in the prior year.

Loss on Divestiture of Colombia Operations. On May 26, 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its Colombia operations to a group that included local management. The Company obtained two promissory notes totaling $1.7 million and retained a 19% ownership interest. A tax refund note of $1.0 million is payable to the Company upon the receipt of a tax refund by the Colombia operations from the Colombian government. The other note of $0.7 million is a five year promissory note and is payable to the Company in equal quarterly installments beginning on the third anniversary of the note. The note is fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payment by the management group. Prior to the completion of the divestiture, the Company repatriated $3.9 million in cash from its Colombian operations. The Company recorded a pretax loss of $0.1 million on the divestiture for the three months ended May 31, 2004. In conjunction with the anticipated transaction, the Company had previously recorded an asset impairment charge of $4.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2003. The impairment charge included $3.8 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments and $0.2 million for property and equipment.

Other, Net. Other, net, decreased to $0.0 million in 2004 compared to income of $0.4 million in 2003.

Income Taxes. Income tax expense increased from a benefit of $4.0 million in 2003 to an expense of $0.4 million in 2004 primarily due to higher pre-tax income. The Company's effective tax rates, excluding the effects of discontinued operations, for the quarters ended May 31, 2004, and May 31, 2003, were 39% and 35%, respectively.

Discontinued Operations. As discussed in Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, the Company sold its operations in Sweden and The Netherlands in 2003.

Table of ContentsSix Months Ended May 31, 2004, Compared to Six Months Ended May 31, 2003

Revenues. The Company's revenues decreased $63.9 million, or 7.3%, from $880.4 million in 2003 to $816.5 million in 2004. The Company handled 6.7 million handsets (1.5 million consigned) for the first half of 2004 compared to 7.1 million handsets (1.8 million consigned) for the same period of 2003. The average selling price of handsets for the first half of 2004 was $144 compared to $153 in 2003.

The Company's operations in the Asia-Pacific Region provided $430.1 million of revenues in 2004 compared to $437.3 million in 2003. Revenues in the PRC were $376.0 million in 2004, an increase of $48.2 million, or 14.7%, from $327.8 million in 2003. The Company's PRC operations experienced a significant increase in units sold in the first six months of 2004 (2.4 million) compared to 2003 (1.6 million); however the average selling price decreased significantly from $196 in 2003 to $152 in 2004. In the second quarter of 2003, the consumer markets in the PRC were severely impacted by the spread of SARS, resulting in a decline of $109.6 million from revenues of $249.7 million in the second quarter of 2002 to $140.1 million in 2003. Consumer purchases of wireless handsets were impacted as the fear of the SARS outbreak affected consumer behavior across the region. In addition, the Company's operations were affected by market competition between the Company's suppliers and local manufacturers. The Company's revenues had historically been from the sale of handsets supplied by Nokia and Motorola. From late 2002 to mid 2003, Nokia and Motorola lost significant market share to the local Chinese manufacturers. The local Chinese manufacturers had 39% of the PRC's wireless handset market as of May 2004 according to Gartner, a technology research and advisory firm. In late 2003, the Company began purchasing from Shanghai DBTEL Industry Co., Ltd. (DBTEL) on a purchase order basis. For the first six months of 2004, Nokia and DBTEL products accounted for approximately 79% of the Company's revenues in the PRC. For the same period, Motorola products accounted for approximately 1% of the Company's revenues in the PRC.

Revenues in the PRC operations were positively impacted by a new product offering from Wuhan NEC Mobile Communications Co., Ltd. (NEC) with whom the Company entered into an agreement in late 2002. The NEC handsets had an average selling price that was higher than the average selling price of handsets in the Company's PRC operations. Revenues in the PRC operations in the second quarter of 2004 were negatively impacted by a price reduction from one of the Company's major suppliers. Due to the supplier's global market share decline, the supplier reduced prices of their handsets, causing other suppliers in the PRC to also reduce prices. Additionally, the PRC government started implementing a tighter credit control policy which has severely affected consumer sentiment in the market. These factors are expected to continue to impact the Company in the near term. Further, the Company's major suppliers are changing their distribution channels by reducing the involvement of national distributors and dealing directly with regional distributors or with carriers and large retailers. The carriers have also been increasingly selling product into the channels at subsidized prices. Revenues in future periods will be significantly impacted by the Company's ability to obtain competitive handsets from its current suppliers or from new suppliers and the Company's ability to maintain access to distribution channels that it has historically enjoyed. There can be no assurance that the Company will be able to procure such handsets on favorable terms or to maintain its historical market access such that it can effectively compete in the PRC.

Revenues from the Company's operations in Hong Kong decreased from $17.8 million in 2003 to $7.2 million in 2004. The Hong Kong market has a penetration rate in excess of 90%. The Company is attempting to increase sales from its Hong Kong operations to other Asia-Pacific markets and to customers exporting to these markets. Revenues from the Company's operations in Singapore decreased from $70.1 million in 2003 to $41.8 million in 2004 due to decreased sales of models which were at the end of their life cycle. In addition, the Company's supply contract in Singapore with one of its major suppliers was not renewed by the supplier. The Company's revenues from Taiwan, which is also highly penetrated, were $10.2 million in 2003 compared to $3.1 million in 2004. Revenues in The Philippines decreased from $11.0 million in 2003 to $1.9 million in 2004 as the Company has significantly scaled back its operations. Due to the declining market conditions in Singapore, The Philippines and Taiwan markets, the Company will be assessing each of the operations in view of its over-all long-term strategy and will divest those operations if plans to enhance profitability and return on investment cannot be developed. If the Company decides to exit these markets, there can be no assurance that the net book value of these markets will be recovered. The net book value of these markets at May 31, 2004, is $23.3 million, including $3.5 million in accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments.

North American Region revenues were $211.4 million in 2004, a decrease of $34.1 million or 13.9%, compared to $245.5 million in 2003. In January 2004, the Company announced that it would cease providing fulfillment and logistics services for one of the region's largest customers,

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

Cricket, as well as its indirect sales channels, at the expiration of the current agreement related to those services. The agreement expired on February 25, 2004. Company management believes that the pricing requested by Cricket going forward would not have met the Company's desired profitability. The Company had provided those services for Cricket since 1998. Revenues from Cricket and its indirect sales channel represented approximately 11% of the Company's consolidated revenues for fiscal 2002 and approximately 6% in 2003. Revenues from Cricket and its indirect sales channel represented approximately 3.0% ($24.2 million) and 6.0% ($53.1 million) of the Company's consolidated revenues for the six months ended May 31, 2004, and 2003. Revenues were also negatively impacted by the lack of product availability from some of the Company's major suppliers, primarily Motorola, during the latter part of the second quarter of 2004. The suppliers cited a shortage of CDMA chipsets as the primary reason for the handset shortages.

Table of Contents

The Company's operations in the Latin American Region provided $175.0 million of revenues in 2004, compared to $197.7 million in 2003, a $22.7 million decrease. Revenues in Mexico were $60.2 million in 2004 compared to $95.3 million in 2003. Revenues from the Company's Mexico operations have been primarily generated from two carrier customers. In the second half of 2003, the Company significantly reduced its relationship with one of the carrier customers, resulting in a decrease in revenues of $17.5 million from 2003. These actions are part of the Company's ongoing evaluations of its customers and continued emphasis on maintaining a desired level of profitability with each customer. The remaining decrease in Mexico is primarily due to the loss of sales arising from the unavailability of product from a major supplier. Revenues from the Company's Colombia operations decreased to $16.3 million in 2004 from $30.5 million in 2003 due to reduced business with its major carrier customer. As part of the Company's overall plan to reposition its operations, in the second quarter of 2003 the Company shifted the majority of its business with its major carrier customer in Colombia to the Company's Miami export operations. In the fourth quarter of 2003, the Company made a strategic decision to seek a high level of local ownership in Colombia, and in the second quarter of 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its operations in Colombia to a group that included local management. Revenues from the Company's Miami export operations were $86.7 million in 2004 compared to $65.4 million a year ago primarily due to this shift, as well as sales to carriers in Ecuador and Venezuela through a U.S. distributor. Revenues to the major carrier customer in Colombia in the first six months of 2004 were $18.2 million in 2004 and $11.9 million in 2003. Revenues from the Company's operations in Chile were $11.9 million in 2004 compared to $6.5 million in 2003. This increase was primarily due to spot sales in 2004, which are not expected to occur on a continuous basis.

Gross Profit. Gross profit increased $7.3 million from $42.6 million in 2003 to $49.9 million in 2004. Gross profit as a percentage of revenues was 6.1% for the six months ended May 31, 2004, compared to 4.8% for the same period of 2003. The higher gross profit as a percentage of revenues was primarily due to higher margins in the Asia-Pacific and Latin America Regions. The increase in the Asia-Pacific Region was primarily due to the negative impact of SARS in the second quarter of 2003, as well as sales of products manufactured by DBTEL in 2004. The increase in Latin America was primarily due to a reduction in the inventory obsolescence provision, primarily in Mexico and Colombia, from $1.5 million in 2003 to $0.3 million in 2004.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased $8.6 million from $50.8 million to $42.2 million. In the second quarter of 2003, the Company recorded $3.0 million in expenses related to the CellStar Asia Transaction, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other related costs. Bad debt expense decreased from $4.0 million in 2003 to $0.3 million in 2004 primarily due to a decrease in Mexico as well as a decrease in North America. In the first quarter of 2003, the Company recorded a $1.3 million charge related to NTELOS Inc., a carrier customer in the North American Region that filed for bankruptcy in March 2003. The remaining decline is primarily in payroll and benefits. Pursuant to Mr. Kaiser's amended and restated employment agreement, effective as of May 1, 2004, Mr. Kaiser waived the Company's obligation to pay him $0.5 million related to the timing of his promotion to President and Chief Operating Officer. The Company originally recorded this expense in the second quarter of 2003 in accordance with his then existing employment agreement, and accordingly reversed this liability in the second quarter of 2004 upon execution of the amended and restated employment agreement. Selling, general and administrative expenses as a percentage of revenues were 5.1% and 5.8% for the six months ended May 31, 2004, and 2003, respectively.

Interest Expense. Interest expense in 2004 was $3.3 million compared to $2.9 million in the prior year.

Loss on Divestiture of Colombia Operations. On May 26, 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its Colombia operations to a group that included local management. The Company obtained two promissory notes totaling $1.7 million and retained a 19% ownership interest. A tax refund note of $1.0 million is payable to the Company upon the receipt of a tax refund by the Colombia operations from the Colombian government. The other note of $0.7 million is a five year promissory note and is payable to the Company in equal quarterly installments beginning on the third anniversary of the note. The note is fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payment by the management group. Prior to the completion of the divestiture, the Company repatriated $3.9 million in cash from its Colombian operations. The Company recorded a pretax loss of $0.1 million on the divestiture for the three months ended May 31, 2004. In conjunction with the anticipated transaction, the Company had previously recorded an asset impairment charge of $4.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2003. The impairment charge included $3.8 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments and $0.2 million for property and equipment.

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

Other, Net. Other, net, consisted of income of $0.2 million in 2004 compared to income of $0.5 million in 2003.

Income Taxes. Income tax expense increased from a benefit of $3.6 million in 2003 to an expense of $1.8 million in 2004 primarily due to higher pre-tax income. The Company's effective tax rates, excluding the effects of discontinued operations, for 2004 and 2003 were 39% and 34%, respectively.

Discontinued Operations. As discussed in Note 6 to the Consolidated Financial Statements, the Company sold its operations in Sweden and The Netherlands in 2003.

During the quarter ended May 31, 2004, the Company relied primarily on cash available at February 29, 2004, funds generated from operations, borrowings under its credit facilities and cash generated from the closure and/or divestiture of certain of its operations to fund working capital, capital expenditures and expansions.

The Company has an $85.0 million Loan and Security Agreement (the Revolving Credit Facility or Facility) with a bank that expires in September 2006. The Facility is considered a current liability as the lender has dominion over cash receipts related to the Company's domestic operations and the Facility contains an acceleration clause that the lenders could choose to invoke if the Company were to commit an event of default. Funding under the Facility is limited by a borrowing base test, which is measured weekly on eligible domestic accounts receivable and inventory. Interest on borrowings under the Facility is at the London Interbank Offered Rate or at the bank's prime lending rate, plus an applicable margin. The Facility is secured by a pledge of 100% of the outstanding stock of all U.S. subsidiaries and 65% of the outstanding stock of all first tier foreign subsidiaries. The Facility is further secured by the Company's domestic accounts receivable, inventory, property, plant and equipment and all other domestic real property and intangible assets. The Facility contains, among other provisions, covenants relating to the maintenance of minimum net worth and certain financial ratios, dividend payments, additional debt, mergers and acquisitions and disposition of assets. If the Company terminates the Facility prior to maturity, the Company will incur a termination fee. The termination fee is currently $2.6 million and decreases by $0.9 million each anniversary date, occurring in September of each year. As of May 31, 2004, the Company had borrowed $49.1 million, at an interest rate of 5.0%, an increase of $22.2 million from $26.9 million at February 29, 2004. The increase in borrowings was a result of the Company reducing domestic trade payables in the second quarter of 2004. Under the Facility, the Company had additional borrowing availability of $23.3 million at May 31, 2004. The interest rate increased to 5.25% on June 30, 2004.

On March 31, 2004, the Company finalized an amendment to the Facility that increased borrowing availability under the loan by modifying advance rates for, and definitions of, eligible accounts receivable and inventory. The amendment also allows the Company to utilize its domestic receivables from foreign entities in other financing arrangements.

As of June 30, 2004, the Company had borrowed $40.7 million under the Facility and had additional borrowing availability of $20.9 million.

At May 31, 2004, the Company's operations in the PRC had various short-term borrowing facilities totaling approximately 683 million Renminbi (RMB) (approximately USD $82.5 million), all of which had been borrowed. The facilities consist of revolving lines of credit, bank notes and factoring facilities. The facilities have interest rates ranging from 3.3% to 5.0% and have maturity dates through January 2005. The various short-term borrowing facilities are collateralized by PRC accounts receivable (USD $72.9 million of collateral). Although the Company has no additional borrowing capacity under the existing facilities in the PRC, the Company believes that it will continue to have access to additional facilities as needed using its accounts receivable or cash as collateral. However, there can be no assurance that these facilities will continue to be available at rates acceptable to the Company.

Table of Contents

The Company currently has four facilities in Taiwan, under which approximately $90 thousand was borrowed at May 31, 2004. Two facilities are for the factoring of accounts receivable and total New Taiwan Dollar (NTD) 160 million (approximately USD $4.8 million). The third facility is for a combination of factoring and open credit and totals NTD 80 million (approximately USD $2.4 million). The fourth facility is for NTD 50 million (approximately USD $1.5 million) and is collateralized by real property owned in Taiwan. The facilities have interest rates ranging from 2.0% to 5.0% and have maturities through November 2004.

In Singapore, the Company has a banker's guarantee line that totals Singapore Dollar (SGD) 4.5 million (approximately USD $2.6 million), of which SGD 3.9 million (approximately USD $2.3 million) had been issued at May 31, 2004. In order to issue the bank guarantees, a cash deposit of $1.2 million was required and is restricted. There is no interest on this facility and it matures in August 2004.

At May 31, 2004, long-term debt consisted of $12.4 million of the Company's 12% Senior Subordinated Notes due January 2007 (the Senior Notes). The Senior Notes bear interest at 12%, payable in cash in arrears semi-annually on February 15 and August 15. The Senior Notes contain certain covenants that restrict the Company's ability to incur additional indebtedness; make investments, loans and advances; declare dividends or certain other distributions; create liens; enter into sale-leaseback transactions; consolidate; merge; sell assets and enter into transactions with affiliates.

Cash, cash equivalents, and restricted cash at May 31, 2004, were $41.4 million, compared to $55.6 million at November 30, 2003. Restricted cash at May 31, 2004, was $1.2 million, compared to $16.2 million at November 30, 2003. The reduction in restricted cash is in the PRC operations, as the Company has modified its financing arrangements such that restricted cash is no longer required as collateral for borrowings.

Compared to November 30, 2003, accounts receivable increased from $214.8 million to $270.6 million at May 31, 2004. Accounts receivable days sales outstanding for the quarter ended May 31, 2004, based on monthly accounts receivable balances, were 70.2, compared to 35.7 for the quarter ended November 30, 2003. Accounts receivable have increased by $91.5 million in the PRC operations compared to November 30, 2003, primarily due to the granting of longer credit terms to customers. The Company's PRC operations, in its attempt to expand to other markets, extended longer credit terms of 90 days to most of its wholesale distributors to encourage them to sell to large-scale retailers and carriers, which generally receive longer credit terms. Inventories decreased to $136.3 million at May 31, 2004, from $167.8 million at November 30, 2003. Inventory turns for the quarter ended May 31, 2004, based on monthly inventory balances, were 8.3 turns per year, compared to 11.5 for the quarter ended November 30, 2003. The decrease in inventory turns was due to reduced sales levels, primarily in the Company's Asia-Pacific Region. Accounts payable decreased to $139.9 million at May 31, 2004, compared to $186.5 million at November 30, 2003.

This increase in accounts receivable and the decrease in accounts payable has caused the Company's cash flow from operating activities to be a net use of cash of $33.8 million for the six months ended May 31, 2004. The Company believes that these changes should not materially affect the Company's liquidity.

Based upon current and anticipated levels of operations, the Company anticipates that its cash flow from operations, together with amounts available under its credit facilities and existing unrestricted cash balances, will be adequate to meet its anticipated cash requirements for at least the next twelve months. In the event that existing unrestricted cash balances, cash flows and available borrowings under the credit facilities are not sufficient to meet future cash requirements, the Company may be required to reduce planned expenditures or seek additional financing. The Company can provide no assurances that reductions in planned expenditures would be sufficient to cover shortfalls in available cash or that additional financing would be available or, if available, offered on terms acceptable to the Company.

International Operations

Asia-Pacific Region

The Company believes that the intrinsic value of its Asia-Pacific Region is not fully reflected in the current market price of its common stock. As a result, the Company engaged UBS to assist it in evaluating transactions that could result in recognizing the value that it believes is locked up in the Asia-Pacific Region, which is substantially comprised of its Greater China Operations. Those evaluations focused on a number of possible transactions including a possible initial public offering of all or a portion of the Asia-Pacific Region operations, a spin-off, a sale to outside investors or a management buyout. On March 14, 2003, the Company filed a preliminary proxy statement with the SEC, which included the CellStar Asia Transaction as a stockholder proposal.

On May 1, 2003, the Company announced that it would delay the IPO and, consequently, the divestiture of its Greater China Operations due to the spread of SARS, which negatively impacted the business environment and financial markets in Hong Kong and China, as well as limited the Company's ability to market the IPO. Due to the delay, during the year ended November 30, 2003, the Company expensed $4.0 million in IPO costs, which included legal, accounting, tax, auditing, consulting and other costs related to the CellStar Asia Transaction.

On March 10, 2004, the Company filed a new preliminary proxy statement with the SEC, seeking, among other matters, stockholder approval of the CellStar Asia Transaction and the IPO. On May 17, 2004, the Company announced that the CellStar Asia Transaction would not be completed in the summer of 2004 as previously anticipated due to delays in the process of listing the stock of the Greater China Operations on the SEHK. As a result of that delay, the Company has explored the possibility of excluding its Taiwan operations from the IPO due to the unprofitability and unfavorable business prospects of the operations. In addition, due to the financial performance of the Greater China Operations, the change in the distribution channels described in Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations Overview, and the recent downturn in the Asian stock markets, the Company and its financial advisor, UBS, are re-evaluating alternatives for deriving the value which the Company believes is locked up in the Greater China Operations, including a possible spin-off of those operations to the Company's stockholders. Should the Company decide to further delay the IPO or change the form of the transaction, the Company will be required to expense approximately $1.9 million in IPO costs which are included in other assets in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet at May 31, 2004, which include legal, accounting, tax auditing, consulting and other costs related to the CellStar Asia Transaction. The Company expects to complete the evaluation of the alternatives during its third quarter of 2004.

The Asia-Pacific Region, which includes the countries in the Greater China Operations as well as Singapore, The Philippines, and Korea, has been the single largest revenue producing operation of the Company for the past five years and the largest operating income producer from 1996 through 2002 (and whose operating results for 2003 were negatively impacted by the outbreak of SARS). Due to the declining market conditions in Singapore, The Philippines and Taiwan markets, the Company will be assessing each of these operations in view of its over-all long-term strategy and will divest those operations if plans to enhance profitability and return on investment cannot be developed. If the Company decides to exit these markets, there can be no assurance that the net book value of these markets will be recovered. The net book value of these markets at May 31, 2004, is $23.3 million, including $3.5 million in accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments. The following is a summary of the Greater China Operations and other segments, before the allocation of certain corporate overhead expenses, for the three and six months ended May 31, 2004, 2003, and the years ended November 30, 2003, 2002, and 2001 (in thousands):

The completion of the CellStar Asia Transaction would cause the Company to violate one of the covenants in the indenture for its Senior Notes, which would create an event of default under the indenture. Although the Company could seek a waiver of the event of default from the holders of the Senior Notes, the Company intends to pay off the $12.4 million of outstanding Senior Notes from proceeds of the CellStar Asia Transaction. By paying off the Senior Notes, the Company will recognize a gain on the early extinguishment of the debt of approximately $4.3 million, which represents the remaining interest on the Senior Notes that was accrued upon completion of the Company's exchange offer in February 2002. Payment of the Senior Notes will require the consent of the Company's domestic lenders. The Company anticipates that it will receive the lenders' consent. If the lenders do not approve the payment of the Senior Notes, either the Company will pay off in full and terminate the credit facility (including a $2.6 million early termination penalty) at or prior to the completion of the CellStar Asia Transaction or the Company will not proceed with the CellStar Asia Transaction.

The Company has entered into a letter of intent with the Asia-Pacific Region management team regarding their participation in the possible IPO of the Greater China Operations. There was no indication that such letter of intent, the negotiations leading up to such letter of intent, nor any negotiations subsequent to the letter of intent, had any effect on the Company's internal controls.

Although the Company intends to pursue the CellStar Asia Transaction, or such other transaction as the Company and its financial advisor deem most favorable to its stockholders as soon as practicable, there are a number of steps to be completed before any transaction can occur, including the Company's receiving stockholder approval, the approval of the SEHK, the consent of the Company's bank group under its revolving credit agreement and the approval of the terms of the IPO or other transactions by the Company's Board of Directors. The completion of any such transaction is also dependant upon favorable market conditions and the successful performance of the Company's Greater China Operations. Accordingly, there can be no assurance of the timing of the transaction or that any transaction will occur.

Mexico

The Company's Mexico operations derive their revenues primarily from wholesale purchasers and the activation of handsets. The Company's operations in Mexico accounted for approximately 61%, 54%, and 51% of the Latin America Region's revenues in 2001, 2002, and 2003, respectively. Over the last three years, the operations in Mexico have recognized operating losses of $9.8 million, $11.5 million, and $3.0 million in 2001, 2002, and 2003, respectively. Despite the losses in the Mexico operations in recent years, the Company believes growth and profit potential exist in the Mexico market due to the size of this market. The Mexico operations showed improvement in the second half of 2003, including operating profits of $0.3 million and $0.7 million for the third and fourth quarters of 2003, respectively. Furthermore, the Mexico operations had an operating profit of $0.5 million and $0.6 million in the first and second quarters of 2004, respectively. In 2003, the Company replaced the general manager and embarked on an aggressive reorganization of its Mexico operations, dramatically cutting costs and repositioning the business to recapture market share. Given the recent improvement in operations and the improved relationship with the largest wireless carrier in Mexico, the Company is now committed to staying in Mexico.

At November 30, 2002, the Company had a value-added tax (VAT) asset in its Mexico operations of $10.7 million related to the Company's 1998 to 2001 VAT returns. In connection with this asset, in the fourth quarter of 2001, the Company recorded a charge of $3.0 million, and in the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company recorded an additional charge of $1.5 million as the recoverability was uncertain. In December 2003, the Company filed for and received a refund of $3.7 million in relation to the VAT receivable. The Company continues to pursue collection of the remaining net asset of $2.1 million and the Company believes it has sufficient documentation to collect the balance.

Colombia

Edgar Filing: CELLSTAR CORP - Form 10-Q

On May 26, 2004, the Company completed the divestiture of its Colombia operations to a group that included local management. The Company obtained two promissory notes totaling $1.7 million and retained a 19% ownership interest. A tax refund note of $1.0 million is payable to the Company upon the receipt of a tax refund by the Colombia operations from the Colombian government. The other note of $0.7 million is a five year promissory note and is payable to the Company in equal quarterly installments beginning on the third anniversary of the note. The note is fully reserved and will remain reserved pending receipt of payment by the management group. Prior to the completion of the divestiture, the Company repatriated $3.9 million in cash from its Colombian operations. The Company recorded a pretax loss of $0.1 million on the divestiture for the three months ended May 31, 2004. In conjunction with the anticipated transaction, the Company had previously recorded an asset impairment charge of $4.0 million in the fourth quarter of 2003. The impairment charge included $3.8 million for accumulated foreign currency translation adjustments and $0.2 million for property and equipment.

To reduce its in-country exposure in Colombia, the Company negotiated with its major carrier customer in Colombia and shifted the carrier customer's business to the Company's Miami export operations during the second quarter of 2003. For purposes of the statement of operations, the Company has not classified the Colombia operations as discontinued because of the continuing sale of products to carrier customers in Colombia from the Company's Miami export operations and the export of products to other customers in South America.

Seasonality and Cyclicity

The effects of seasonal fluctuations have not historically been apparent in the Company's operating results due to a number of seasonal factors in the different countries and markets in which it operates, including the purchasing patterns of customers in different markets, product promotions of competitors and suppliers, availability of distribution channels, and product supply and pricing. The Company's sales are also influenced by cyclical economic conditions in the different countries and markets in which it operates. An economic downturn in one of the Company's principal markets could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's operating results.

Critical Accounting Policies

Note 1 of the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements, included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended November 30, 2003, includes a summary of the significant accounting policies and methods used in the preparation of the Company's Consolidated Financial Statements. The following is a brief discussion of the more critical accounting policies and estimates.

(a) Significant Estimates

Management of the Company has made a number of estimates and assumptions related to the reporting of assets and liabilities in preparation of the consolidated financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The most significant estimates relate to the allowance for doubtful accounts, the reserve for inventory obsolescence and the deferred tax asset valuation allowance.

In determining the adequacy of the allowance for doubtful accounts, management considers a number of factors including the aging of the receivables portfolio, customer payment trends, financial condition of the customer, economic conditions in the customer's country, and industry conditions. Actual amounts could differ significantly from management's estimates.

In determining the adequacy of the reserve for inventory obsolescence, management considers a number of factors including the aging of the inventory, recent sales trends, industry market conditions, and economic conditions. In assessing the reserve, management also considers price protection credits or other incentives the Company expects to receive from the vendor. Actual amounts could differ significantly from management's estimates.

Table of Contents

In assessing the realizability of deferred income tax assets, management considers whether it is more likely than not that the deferred income tax assets will be realized. At May 31, 2004, the Company had deferred income tax assets, net of valuation allowances, of $55.5 million, a significant portion of which relate to net operating loss carryforwards. The ultimate realization of deferred income tax assets is dependent on the generation of future taxable income during the periods in which those temporary differences are deductible. Management considers the scheduled reversal of deferred income tax liabilities and projected future taxable income, including income generated by tax planning strategies, in making this assessment. Based on the level of historical taxable income and projections for future taxable income over the periods in which the deferred income tax assets are deductible, including taxable income generated by tax planning strategies, management determines if it is more likely than not that the Company will realize the benefits of these deductible differences. A valuation allowance is provided for any amounts not expected to be realized. The amount of the deferred income tax asset considered realizable, however, could be reduced in the near term if estimates of future taxable income during the carry-forward period are reduced. In addition, any transaction involving the Greater China Operations could affect, positively or negatively, the valuation allowance on deferred tax assets depending on the form and the valuation of the transaction.

As a result of the Company completing an exchange offer for its previously existing 5% convertible subordinated notes on February 20, 2002, the Company was deemed to have undergone an ownership change in accordance with Section 382 of the Internal Revenue Code. Beginning with the year ended November 30, 2002; this ownership change limits the amount of losses that can be used on an annual basis to offset future taxable income. In order to utilize the full U.S. tax loss carryforwards, the Company must complete, prior to February 2007, a transaction similar to the CellStar Asia Transaction related to operations existing as of February 20, 2002, that results in taxable income. Based on the Company's estimated value of the CellStar Asia Transaction, the Company will be able to utilize the U.S. tax loss carryforwards. If at any time prior to February 2007 the Company deems such a transaction unlikely to occur by February 2007 or that the transaction will not allow the Company to fully utilize the U.S. tax loss carryforwards, the Company will then record a valuation allowance for the U.S. tax loss carryforwards the Company does not anticipate utilizing.

Prior to the fourth quarter of 2002, the Company did not accrue for U.S. Federal income taxes or tax benefits on the undistributed earnings and/or losses of its international subsidiaries because earnings were considered permanently reinvested and, in the opinion of management, would continue to be reinvested indefinitely. As a result of the progress in the fourth quarter of 2002 in evaluating the strategic options with regard to its Asia-Pacific Region, it was determined that the earnings in its Asia-Pacific Region did not meet the criteria to be considered permanently reinvested since the Company has manifested its intent to pursue possible transactions designed to allow the Company to withdraw and return to the U.S. some or all of the value of those operations. The Company had accrued, at May 31, 2004, U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings of the Asia-Pacific Region of approximately $36.5 million.

No U.S. Federal income taxes on the undistributed earnings will be payable until such earnings are actually remitted back to the U.S. in the form of dividends or, in the case of a completed transaction such the CellStar Asia Transaction, sale proceeds. As of May 31, 2004, the Company had net operating loss carryforwards in the U.S. of approximately $62.8 million, a significant portion of which the Company believes it will be able to utilize to offset the taxes payable in the event that a transaction is completed.

At May 31, 2004, the Company had not provided for U.S. Federal income taxes on earnings of its Mexico and Chile subsidiaries of approximately $1.5 million as these earnings are considered permanently reinvested.

(b) Revenue Recognition

For the Company's wholesale business, revenue is recognized when the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss. If the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss upon shipment, revenue is recognized on the shipment date. If the customer takes title and assumes risk of loss upon delivery, revenue is recognized upon delivery. In accordance with contractual agreements with wireless service providers, the Company receives an activation commission for obtaining subscribers for wireless services in connection with the Company's retail operations. The agreements contain various provisions for additional commissions (residual commissions) based on subscriber usage. The agreements also provide for the reduction or elimination of activation commissions if subscribers deactivate service within stipulated periods. The Company recognizes revenue for activation commissions on the wireless service providers' activation of the subscriber's service and residual commissions when received and provides an allowance for estimated wireless service deactivations, which is reflected as a reduction of accounts receivable and revenues in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. The Company recognizes fee service revenue when the service is completed or, if applicable, upon shipment of the related product, whichever is later.

(c) Vendor Credits and Allowances

The Company recognizes price protection credits, sell through credits, advertising allowances and volume discounts, when supported by a written agreement or if not supported by a written agreement, when received. Price protection credits and other incentives are applied against inventory and cost of goods sold, depending on whether the related inventory is on-hand or has been previously sold. Sell-through credits are recorded as a reduction in cost of goods sold as the products are sold. Advertising allowances are generally for the reimbursement of specific incremental, identifiable costs incurred by the Company and are recorded as a reduction of the related cost. Allowances in excess of the specific costs incurred, if any, are recorded as a reduction cost of goods sold or inventory, as applicable.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

Foreign Exchange Risk and Derivative Financial Instruments

For the quarters ended May 31, 2004, and May 31, 2003, the Company recorded net foreign currency gains (losses) of ($0.4) million and $1.9 million, respectively, in cost of goods sold. The gain (loss) in both quarters was primarily due to the fluctuations in foreign exchange rates in the Company's Mexico operations.

The Company manages foreign currency risk by attempting to increase prices of products sold at or above the anticipated exchange rate of the local currency relative to the U.S. dollar, by borrowing in local currency, or by conducting transactions denominated in U.S. dollars. The Company consolidates the bulk of its foreign exchange exposure related to intercompany transactions in its international finance subsidiary. The Company continues to evaluate foreign currency exposures and related protection measures.

The Company has foreign exchange exposure on the RMB lines of credit in the PRC as they are collateralized by U.S. dollars. For the quarter ended May 31, 2004, $141.1 million, or 40.9%, of the Company's revenues were from the Company's operations in the PRC. With the exception of inter-company activity, all revenues and expenses of the PRC operations are in RMB. The Company does not hold derivative instruments related to the RMB.

At May 31, 2004, the Company had no forward contracts and did not hold any other derivative instruments.

Interest Rate Risk

The Company manages its borrowings under its Facility each business day to minimize interest expense. The interest rate of the Facility is an index rate at the time of borrowing plus an applicable margin. The interest rate is based on either the agent bank's prime lending rate or the London Interbank Offered Rate. During the quarter ended May 31, 2004, the interest rate of borrowings under the Facility was 5.0%. The interest rate increased to 5.25% on June 30, 2004, as a result of changes in banks' prime lending rates. A one percent change in variable interest rates will not have a material impact on the Company. The Company has short-term borrowings in the PRC bearing interest between 3.3% and 5.0% (see Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations-Liquidity and Capital Resources). The

Senior Notes issued in February 2002 bear interest at 12.0%.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

The Company's management, with the participation of the Executive Chairman and Chief Financial Officer, has evaluated the effectiveness of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Exchange Act Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e)) as of the end of the period covered by this report. Based on that evaluation, the Executive Chairman and Chief Financial Officer have concluded that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective to ensure that information required to be disclosed by the Company in reports that it files or submits under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified by the rules and forms of the SEC. There were no changes in the Company's internal control over financial reporting during the quarter ended May 31, 2004, other than described below, that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

In the Company's Mexico operations, certain bank accounts were not being reconciled timely during the first quarter of 2004. During the second quarter of 2004, the bank accounts were reconciled on a timely basis and the Company has changed the oversight of the reconciliation process.

The Company's management, including the Executive Chairman and the Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls can prevent all error and all fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable and not absolute assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. While the Company's management believes that its disclosure controls and procedures provide reasonable assurance that fraud can be detected and prevented, because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, have been detected.

Part II OTHER INFORMATION

Item 1. Legal Proceedings

On April 30, 2003, a purported class action lawsuit was filed in the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware, New Castle County, styled as follows: Ruth Everson v. CellStar Corporation, James L. Johnson, John L. Jackson, Jere W. Thompson, Dale V. Kesler and Terry S. Parker (the Everson Suit). The Everson Suit alleges breach of fiduciary duty and corporate waste in connection with the CellStar Asia Transaction. The Everson Suit seeks injunctive and other equitable relief, rescissory and/or compensatory damages and reimbursement of attorney's fees and costs. The CellStar Asia Transaction at issue in the Everson Suit is not anticipated to proceed prior to the fall of 2004. The parties agreed to a temporary stay of the proceedings until the Company files a revised proxy statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission relating to the CellStar Asia Transaction, or earlier if the plaintiff determines that the transaction is likely to proceed prior to that filing. During the pendency of the stay, the parties must file a status report with the court every sixty (60) days. Defendants have 20 days following the expiration of the stay to respond to plaintiff's complaint. Although the Company believes it has meritorious defenses to these claims and will vigorously defend this action if and when the stay expires, the Company has initiated settlement discussions with the plaintiff in an effort to avoid a delay in proceeding with the CellStar Asia Transaction which delay could materially and negatively impact the Company's ability to successfully complete the CellStar Asia Transaction. The ultimate outcome is not currently predictable.

The Company is a party to various other claims, legal actions and complaints arising in the ordinary course of business. Management believes that the disposition of these other matters will not have a materially adverse effect on the consolidated financial condition or results of operations of the Company.
