Note A Basis of Presentation and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation

The accompanying unaudited, condensed and consolidated financial statements of Noble International, Ltd. (the Company) have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAP) for interim financial reporting, and with the instructions to Form 10-Q and Rule 10-01 of Regulation S-X. Accordingly, the financial statements for interim reporting do not include all of the information and notes or disclosures required by GAAP for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included and such adjustments are of a normal recurring nature. Results for interim periods should not be considered indicative of results for a full year. The consolidated balance sheet for the year ended December 31, 2006 was derived from audited financial statements, but does not include all disclosures required by GAAP. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K, as amended by Form 10-K/A, for the period ended December 31, 2006 as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Principles of Consolidation

The condensed consolidated financial statements include the Company and the accounts of the Company's domestic and non-U.S. subsidiaries in which it holds a controlling financial or management interest. The Company's operating subsidiaries are currently organized into a single reporting segment operating in the automotive supply business.

The Company applies the equity method of accounting for investments in voting stock, which gives it the ability to exercise significant influence over operating and financial policies of the investee. Significant influence is generally defined as 20% to 50% ownership in the voting stock of an investee. However, each investment in voting stock is analyzed to determine if other factors are present, such as representation on the investee's board of directors, participation in policy making processes, material intercompany transactions, interchange of managerial personnel, or technological dependency, which may indicate the Company's ability to exercise significant influence absent a voting stock ownership greater than 20%.

Significant Accounting Policies

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, revenues and expenses, and the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Revenue Recognition

Consistent with SEC Staff Accounting Bulletin No. 104 Revenue Recognition, revenue is realized or realizable and earned when there is persuasive evidence that an arrangement exists, the delivery has occurred or services have been rendered, the Company's price to the customer is fixed or determinable, and the Company's ability to collect is reasonably assured. The Company recognizes revenue when products are shipped to customers and title transfers under standard commercial terms or when realizable in accordance with the Company's commercial agreements. Revenue is recorded net of customer returns, which are primarily for damaged items. Historically, the Company's customer returns have not been material.

Table of Contents

Noble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

Accounts Receivable

Trade accounts receivable are stated net of allowances for uncollectible accounts. When determining the allowances for uncollectible accounts, the Company evaluates the overall composition of the accounts receivable aging, the prior history of accounts receivable write-offs, the credit risk of customers and known collectibility issues. Based upon its analysis, the Company recorded an allowance for doubtful accounts of $0.8 million and $0.7 million as of September 30, 2007 and December 31, 2006, respectively.

Goodwill

The Company records goodwill when the cost of an acquisition exceeds the fair value of net assets acquired. As required under Statement of Financial Accounting Standard (SFAS) No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (SFAS 142), management reviews the recoverability of goodwill at least annually as of June 30 and any other time events or circumstances indicate a potential change in recoverability. See Note D Goodwill for additional information.

Long-Lived Assets, Including Intangible Assets

The Company recognizes intangible assets apart from goodwill if they arise from contractual or other legal rights. The Company determines the useful lives of its intangible assets based upon various factors such as the historical and anticipated utility of the asset, including current and pending patents where applicable, the contractual term of any agreement, and other economic factors. All of the Company's intangible assets are currently subject to amortization as the Company does not have any intangible assets with indefinite useful lives.

In accordance with SFAS No. 144 Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets (SFAS 144), the Company periodically evaluates the carrying value of long-lived assets held for use, including intangible assets, whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value of those assets may not be recoverable. The impairment review is generally triggered when events such as a significant industry downturn, product discontinuance, plant closures, product dispositions, or technological obsolescence occur.

The carrying value of a long-lived asset or asset group is not recoverable if it exceeds the sum of the undiscounted cash flows expected to result from the use and eventual disposition of the asset. An impairment loss is measured as the amount by which the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its fair value. Fair value is determined by quoted market prices, if available, or primarily by a discounted cash flow analysis.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements

On January 1, 2007, the Company adopted Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 48, Accounting for Uncertainty in Income Taxes, an interpretation of FASB Statement No. 109 (FIN 48). FIN 48 clarifies the accounting for uncertainty in income taxes recognized in financial statements and requires the impact of a tax position to be recognized in the financial statements if that position is more likely than not of being sustained by the taxing authority. The Company recognized no adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as a cumulative effect of a change in accounting principle as a result of the adoption of FIN 48. See Note J Income Taxes for additional information.

Noble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)

Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

In February 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 159, The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities Including an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 115 (SFAS 159). SFAS 159 permits entities to choose to measure many financial instruments and certain other items at fair value. The objective of SFAS 159 is to improve financial reporting by providing entities with the opportunity to mitigate volatility in reported earnings caused by measuring related assets and liabilities differently. The Company is currently evaluating the requirements of SFAS 159. However, it does not believe that it will have a material effect on its consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 157, Fair Value Measurement, (SFAS 157). SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in GAAP and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. SFAS 157 applies under other accounting pronouncements that require or permit fair value measurements. SFAS 157 is effective for financial statements issued for fiscal years beginning after November 15, 2007, and interim periods within those fiscal years. The Company is currently evaluating the requirements of SFAS 157. However, it does not believe it will have a material effect on its consolidated financial position or results of operations.

In September 2006, the FASB issued SFAS No. 158, Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and Other Postretirement Plans - an amendment of FASB Statements No. 87, 88, 106, and 132(R) (SFAS 158), which requires an employer to recognize the overfunded or underfunded status of a defined benefit postretirement plan (other than a multiemployer plan) as an asset or liability in its statement of financial position, and to recognize changes in that funded status in the year in which the changes occur through comprehensive income. This provision of SFAS 158 was effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2006. SFAS 158 also requires an employer to measure the funded status of a plan as of the date of its year-end statement of financial position, effective for fiscal years ending after December 15, 2008. The provisions of SFAS 158 were applied in the Company's accounting for its Mexican employee benefit plans. See Note M Mexican Employee Benefit Plans for additional information.

Note B (Loss) Earnings Per Share

Basic (loss) earnings per share are computed by dividing net earnings by the weighted-average common shares outstanding for the period. Diluted (loss) earnings per share reflect the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common stock were exercised and converted into common stock or resulted in the issuance of common stock that then shared in the net (loss) income of the entity. The following table reconciles the numerator and denominator to calculate basic and diluted (loss) earnings per share for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 (in thousands, except share and per share amounts):

The inclusion of the impact of the Company's $32.5 million Amended and Restated Convertible Subordinated Notes would have been anti-dilutive at September 30, 2007 and 2006 and, therefore, is not included in the calculations above. In addition, the inclusion of the impact of the Company's stock options and unvested stock awards would have been anti-dilutive at September 30, 2007 and, therefore, is also not included in the calculations above. The total number of anti-dilutive shares excluded for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 is as follows:

Note C AcquisitionsTailored Laser-Welded Blank Business of Arcelor S.A.

Arcelor S.A. (Arcelor), a Luxembourg corporation, is a member of the Arcelor Mittal group, the world's largest steel company. The Arcelor Mittal group, with 330,000 employees in more than 60 countries, has an industrial presence in 27 countries across Europe, the Americas, Asia and Africa and is a steel provider to numerous industrial sectors such as automotive, construction, household appliances and packaging.

On August 31, 2007, the Company acquired substantially all of the tailor laser-welded blank business conducted by Arcelor and its affiliates in Europe, India, China and the United States (the Arcelor Business) in exchange for (i) 9.375 million newly-issued shares of the Company's common stock, (ii) cash payments of $116.3 million less capitalized lease obligations, accrued taxes and adjustments for working capital at closing and (iii) $15.0 million to be paid in the form of a 6% subordinated note maturing in 2012 (the Arcelor Transaction). The newly-issued shares of the Company's common stock were valued at $17.49 per share, which was the average closing price for a five-day period beginning two days before the terms of the acquisition were announced on March 15, 2007.

Noble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries

Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

At closing of the Arcelor Transaction on August 31, 2007, Arcelor transferred (i) to one of the Company's European subsidiaries, all the outstanding Arcelor Business in Europe, China and India, and (ii) to one of the Company's U.S. subsidiaries, all the outstanding equity interests in Arcelor's U.S. subsidiary that operates the U.S. portion of the Arcelor Business. The Arcelor Business the Company acquired does not include two laser-welded blank production plants owned by Arcelor subsidiaries in Belgium and Germany, but these facilities will be subject to a contract manufacturing agreement with the Company.

Key elements in the Company's growth strategy include global expansion, given the challenging North American market for the automotive industry, and diversification of its customer base in a growing global market. The transaction with Arcelor enables the Company to expand globally at a faster rate and lower cost than through internal growth alone. The Company's post-transaction customer concentration improves dramatically, with the largest customer only accounting for approximately 18% of total revenue. Products manufactured outside of North America will account for approximately 53% of the Company's total annual revenues. The acquisition also provides the Company with important new customers including Renault and Peugeot, as well as the European operations of Ford, General Motors and Volkswagen.

In connection with the Arcelor Transaction, Arcelor, the Company and in certain instances, Mr. Skandalaris, the Company's chairman of the board of directors, have entered into, a number of additional agreements that address corporate governance matters and the rights of Arcelor and Mr. Skandalaris as stockholders. These are as follows:

Standstill and Stockholder Agreement

Under the standstill and stockholder agreement, at the closing of the Arcelor Transaction, Mr. Skandalaris and Arcelor agreed for two years from the closing of the Arcelor Transaction not to, among other things: (i) acquire any additional shares of the Company; (ii) solicit proxies or become a participant in an election contest without the other party's permission; and (iii) enter into an arrangement with a third party with respect to voting, acquiring, holding or disposing of any of the Company's securities. In addition, the Company and Arcelor agreed for two years from the closing of the Arcelor Transaction not to: (i) acquire any additional shares of the other party; (ii) solicit proxies or become a participant in an election contest involving the other party; (iii) enter into an arrangement with a third party with respect to voting, acquiring, holding or disposing of any of the securities of the other party; (iv) seek to place a representative on the other party's board of directors or seek to call a meeting of stockholders of the other party; or (v) solicit or assist any person with respect to any business transaction involving the other party.

Under the standstill and stockholder agreement, if Arcelor should sell 1.0 million or more shares of its common stock in the Company to a third party, then Mr. Skandalaris will have the right to sell his common stock in the Company (at the same price and on the same terms). Similarly, Mr. Skandalaris will have certain put rights to Arcelor following his death, disability or removal from the Company's board of directors or as the chairman thereof, but, if such rights are not exercised following the expiration of the put term, Arcelor has certain call rights to purchase all of Mr. Skandalaris' stock. In addition, if Mr. Skandalaris disagrees with Arcelor regarding a strategic matter for the Company, then Mr. Skandalaris would have the option to offer all of his shares to Arcelor at a pre-determined price. If Arcelor declines to purchase Mr. Skandalaris' shares, then the standstill provisions preventing Mr. Skandalaris from selling his shares would terminate, but the other provisions of the standstill and stockholder agreement would remain in place. Lastly, should Mr. Skandalaris voluntarily resign from the Company's board of directors or refuse to serve as a director, the restrictions on Mr. Skandalaris to sell his shares during the first two years from the Arcelor closing would no longer apply, except that Arcelor will have a right of first refusal on any shares that Mr. Skandalaris determines to sell.

Registration Rights Agreement

Under the registration rights agreement, the Company granted to Arcelor and Mr. Skandalaris registration rights with respect to the common shares Arcelor receives in the Arcelor Transaction and that Mr. Skandalaris has previously owned. These registration rights grant up to four demand registrations.

Representation on the Company's Board of Directors

Following the closing of the Arcelor transaction, the Company's board of directors was expanded from seven to nine members. Arcelor and Mr. Skandalaris nominated four directors and one director, respectively. In addition, each of Arcelor and Mr. Skandalaris shall have certain nomination rights to the audit, compensation and governance committees of the Company's board of directors. However, the voting and support agreement requires that the Company's board of directors maintain its independence under applicable law. These nomination rights expire if either party falls below certain pre-determined ownership thresholds. Following the closing of the Arcelor Transaction, and for so long as Arcelor retains any nomination rights, Mr. Skandalaris has agreed to vote his common stock of the Company in favor of Arcelor's nominees, and for so long as Mr. Skandalaris retains any nomination rights, Arcelor has agreed to vote its common stock of the Company in favor of Mr. Skandalaris' nominee.

Strategic Matters

Following the closing of the Arcelor Transaction, and until the earlier of a change of control or the fifth anniversary thereof, the Company has agreed not to take any action on certain strategic matters without the prior approval of both Mr. Skandalaris and Arcelor.

Non-competition

Following the closing of the Arcelor Transaction, and until the fifth anniversary thereof, Mr. Skandalaris has agreed not to invest in, be employed by, or otherwise engage in a laser-welded blanks business other than the Company.

Commercial Matters

In conjunction with the Arcelor Transaction, Arcelor and the Company entered into a four-year contract manufacturing agreement which may be extended one additional year at the Company's option. Under the terms of the contract manufacturing agreement, two Arcelor subsidiaries in Belgium and Germany will manufacture laser-welded blanks, unwelded blanks and patch-welded blanks solely for two of the locations from the Arcelor Transaction. The manufacture of unwelded blanks under the agreement will terminate on December 31, 2008. Under the terms of the contract manufacturing agreement, Arcelor will charge the Company only for costs defined in the agreement. The pricing terms Arcelor will provide the Company for steel supply under the steel supply and services agreement will also apply to the steel provided under the contract manufacturing agreement. To induce the Company to terminate the contract manufacturing agreement early and to free space within Arcelor's facilities, Arcelor has granted the Company the option to take ownership of the laser-welding machines used by the two Arcelor subsidiaries. Upon the Company's removal of such machines, Arcelor will reduce the $15.0 million subordinated note given by the Company to Arcelor by an amount equal to $3.0 million multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which equals the aggregate book value of the machines removed and the denominator of which equals the aggregate book value of all laser-welding machines at the two Arcelor subsidiaries.

Support Services for the Business

Under the transitional services agreement between the Company and Arcelor, Arcelor will provide all reasonable transition services, as previously furnished to the Arcelor Business, that the Company needs to efficiently manage the Arcelor Business while integrating the laser-welded blank properties and assets into the Company's business. These services include, among other things, information technology, human resources administration, electrical and other utility service (where legally and contractually permitted), accounting and tax services, purchasing and business development. The Company has agreed to provide Arcelor all reasonable transition services that Arcelor needs in order to fulfill any contractual or other obligation not transferred to the Company that would, but for the transaction, be fulfilled by Arcelor using the laser-welded blank properties and assets. The term of the transitional services agreement is three years, except for Arcelor's provision of information technology-related services, which will be for a term of four years. Either party may terminate the receipt of any specific service provided to it on at least 90 days notice. The price of Arcelor's services to the Company is not to exceed $3.3 million for the first two years after the closing.

Steel Supply and Services

In conjunction with the Arcelor Transaction, Arcelor Auto, a subsidiary of Arcelor, and the Company entered into a five-year steel supply and services agreement. This agreement will automatically renew for additional five-year terms unless either party provides the other party with a written termination notice at least two years prior to the expiration of the initial term or any renewal term. However, if Arcelor ever owns fewer than 4,687,500 shares of the Company's common stock, Arcelor Auto may terminate its supply upon two years prior notice and may terminate its services upon 18 months prior notice.

Under this agreement, Arcelor Auto will supply all flat-rolled carbon steel products needed by the Company in its European production facilities. Arcelor Auto has agreed to provide the Company with the most favorable pricing contemporaneously provided by Arcelor Auto, with respect to similar volumes and on the same terms and conditions, to any European welded-blanks competitor of the Company.

In addition, Arcelor Auto will provide marketing, technical support, sales, credit risk, invoicing, collections, consulting and research and development services to the Company for its European business. Arcelor Auto will provide the sales, credit, invoicing and collection services to the Company at no additional charge. Arcelor Auto will further bear the credit risk on all sales of the Company's European products. All research and development plans will be jointly agreed to by the Company and Arcelor Auto. Arcelor Auto will pay approximately the first $2.0 million of research and development cost each year. The Company will pay any cost in excess of $2.0 million. Arcelor Auto will grant the Company a license to use the intellectual property that is developed on the same terms as provided in the intellectual property licensing agreement.

Results of operations for the Arcelor Business are included in the Company's financial statements beginning September 1, 2007. The unaudited pro forma combined historical results for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, as if the Company had acquired the Arcelor Business at the beginning of 2007 and 2006, are estimated to be (in thousands, except per share amounts):

The Company has completed a preliminary allocation of the purchase price for its Arcelor Business acquisition pursuant to purchase accounting requirements. The preliminary allocation was based upon initial valuations and estimates of certain assets and liabilities and is subject to adjustment as additional information is obtained. Such additional information includes, but is not limited to: the final working capital adjustment, valuations and reconciliations of property, plant and equipment, valuations of intangible assets, valuation of certain contracts with Arcelor, other investments and certain liabilities, and the evaluation of plant consolidation and related exit costs. The table below summarizes the preliminary purchase price allocation (in thousands):

It is estimated that approximately $21.6 million of the goodwill recognized in the Arcelor Business acquisition is deductible for tax purposes.

Pullman Industries, Inc.

In October 2006, the Company completed the acquisition of all outstanding common stock of Pullman Industries, Inc. (Pullman) for approximately $122.1 million, including cash of $90.7 million, the assumption of long-term debt of $22.0 million, contingent consideration of approximately $14.0 million offset by cash acquired of $4.6 million. The contingent consideration is payable upon the Company's receipt of amounts owed by certain customers, subject to any rights of offset available to it. There is $14.0 million included in accrued liabilities at September 30, 2007 for this contingent consideration.

Pullman operated four facilities in the United States and two facilities in Mexico. Pullman's product line consisted primarily of structural, impact and trim roll-formed components for automotive applications.

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

Pullman's expertise as an enabling technology allows the Company to create more advanced tubular, shaped and enclosed formed structures to meet the future demands of the automotive industry. Combining roll-forming and laser-welding allows the Company to create more complex, finished impact and structural products, improving safety in more parts of the vehicle. This combination is particularly important as the need to produce safer and lighter vehicles gains more momentum in the automotive industry. Both laser-welding and roll-forming offer similar advantages over costly, traditional stamping methods, including more efficient processing, better material utilization and lower total cost. The combination significantly reinforces the Company's 21st Century Auto Body Solutions® strategy.

The Company and Pullman share a common focus on research and development in an effort to capture more of the value chain for vehicle structures. Both laser-welded and roll-formed structures offer superior product performance, higher profitability and lower costs versus older, competing technologies, with even greater advantages if the advanced processes are combined. By combining the research and development efforts of the Company and Pullman, the Company can more rapidly commercialize tubular structural applications for components such as pillars, cross members, side sills and roof rails to improve rollover and side-impact protection. The Company believes increased adoption of these applications will lead to an acceleration of the use and benefits of the tubular space frame architecture.

Results of operations for Pullman are included in the Company's financial statements beginning October 2006. The unaudited pro forma combined historical results for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2006, as if the Company had acquired Pullman at the beginning of 2006, are estimated to be (in thousands, except per share amounts):

In the fourth quarter of 2006, the Company completed a preliminary allocation of the purchase price for its Pullman acquisition pursuant to purchase accounting requirements. During the first nine months of 2007, the Company refined its allocation and adjusted the basis of certain assets acquired and liabilities assumed, which resulted in adjustments to the balance of goodwill. Significant adjustments in the third quarter which increased goodwill included $1.2 million related to finalizing the fair value of fixed assets, $1.1 million for additional tooling loss reserves, $0.5 million for costs related to the exit of the former Pullman headquarters facility, and $0.3 million for a liability related to a technology contract entered into by Pullman prior to the acquisition. These increases to goodwill were offset by adjustments recorded in the third quarter which decreased goodwill by $6.3 million related to deferred taxes and income tax liabilities including a $3.1 million reduction for the resolution of various tax contingencies. The Company finalized its purchase price allocation during the third quarter of 2007. The table below summarizes the final purchase price allocation (in thousands):

In the fourth quarter of 2006, the Company completed a preliminary allocation of the purchase price for its Pullman acquisition pursuant to purchase accounting requirements. During the first nine months of 2007, the Company refined its allocation and adjusted the basis of certain assets acquired and liabilities assumed, which resulted in adjustments to the balance of goodwill. The Company finalized its purchase price allocation during the third quarter of 2007.

Goodwill related to the purchase of Oxford Automotive Inc.'s steel processing facility in Silao, Mexico and the purchase of Pullman's Mexico operations is recorded in Mexican Pesos and is subject to foreign currency translation adjustments. In addition, certain portions of goodwill related to the purchase of the Arcelor Business are recorded in Euros and Great British Pounds and are also subject to foreign currency translation adjustments.

In accordance with SFAS 142 management reviews the recoverability of goodwill at least annually as of June 30 and any other time events or circumstances indicate a potential change in recoverability.

Goodwill impairment is determined using a two-step test. The first step of the goodwill impairment test is used to identify potential impairment by comparing the fair value of the reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of the reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, goodwill is not considered impaired and the second test is unnecessary.

The second step of the goodwill impairment test is used to measure the amount of the impairment loss by comparing the implied fair value of the reporting unit goodwill with the carrying amount of that goodwill. If the carrying amount of the reporting unit goodwill exceeds the implied fair value of that goodwill, an impairment loss shall be recognized in an amount equal to that excess.

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

The Company completed its most recent annual goodwill impairment analysis as of June 30, 2007. As of that date, the Company determined it had one reporting unit. The goodwill valuation performed by the Company utilized two approaches to calculate the fair value of its reporting unit.

The first was a market value approach based upon multiples of Earnings Before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization (EBITDA) to market capitalization plus total debt (Market Enterprise Value) of a market basket of companies considered comparable to the Company. The Company obtained the average Market Enterprise Value to EBITDA multiple for mergers and acquisition activity for the trailing twelve month period ended June 30, 2007 from an independent source and also used publicly available data for a market basket of comparable companies. Based upon this analysis, the Company calculated a range of multiples of 7 to 9. These multiples were then applied to the Company's internally forecasted EBITDA to arrive at an estimated fair value of the reporting unit.

The second approach utilized a discounted cash flow analysis using estimates of the Company's future cash flows and weighted average cost of capital. The Company estimated its future cash flows using internal budget information based upon independent forecasts of future automotive volumes.

Based upon the Company's analysis at June 30, 2007, the fair value of its reporting unit exceeded its carrying amount, therefore goodwill was not considered impaired and the second test was unnecessary.

Total amortization expense for all intangible assets for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 was $0.8 million and $1.9 million, respectively. Total amortization expense for all intangible assets for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2006 was $0.06 million and $0.2 million, respectively.

In conjunction with the acquisition of Pullman in October 2006, intangible assets for technology of approximately $7.0 million and customer contacts of approximately $22.0 million were recorded. The Company determined the fair value of these intangible assets at the time of the acquisition with the assistance of an independent third-party valuation firm. As part of the valuation, an estimated useful life of 15 years for each class of intangible asset was determined. The estimated useful life of the technology was based upon the historical and anticipated utility of the technology, including current and pending patents, where applicable. The estimated useful life of the customer contracts was based upon the average life of an automotive platform, along with the estimated likelihood of renewal of existing platforms.

The Company engaged an independent third-party valuation firm to assist with the valuation of the tangible and intangible assets acquired from Arcelor. The initial fair value estimates were received in the third quarter of 2007 and the Company recorded an intangible asset for customer contracts of approximately $44.2 million. As part of the valuation, the estimated useful life of the intangible asset was determined to be 15 years, based upon the average life of an automotive platform and the estimated likelihood of renewal of existing platforms.

Amortization expense for the remaining three months of 2007 is estimated to be $1.3 million. Amortization expense by year is estimated to be as follows (in thousands):

Note G Long-Term DebtAmended and Restated Convertible Subordinated Notes

On January 10, 2007, the Company and the holders of its $32.5 million Amended and Restated Convertible Subordinated Notes (Notes) amended the Notes to fix the conversion price of the Notes at $19.50 per share over the term of the Notes and to remove the conversion price reset provision that would have been effective July 1, 2007. The annual interest rate was increased from 6% to 8%. In addition, prior to the amendment in January 2007, the Notes gave the Company the right to call the Notes after three years if the Company's common stock was trading at an amount at least 140% of the conversion price for a specified period of time. Pursuant to the January 2007 amendment, this call premium was reduced from 140% to 120%.

Edgar Filing: NOBLE INTERNATIONAL, LTD. - Form 10-Q

As a result of the above amendments, the Company determined that a debt extinguishment had occurred in accordance with the guidance in FASB's Emerging Issues Task Force (EITF) Abstract, Issue No. 96-19, Debtor's Accounting for a Modification or Exchange of Debt Instruments. In January 2007, the Company recognized a loss on debt extinguishment of approximately $3.3 million ($1.9 million net of tax) and recorded the modified debt at the fair value of approximately $36.2 million. In addition, as a result of removing the conversion price reset provision, the Company was no longer required to bifurcate the conversion option as a derivative liability.

Arcelor Subordinated Note

In conjunction with the Arcelor Business transaction, the Company issued Arcelor a $15.0 million subordinated note (Arcelor Note). The Arcelor Note currently bears interest at 6.0% and will increase to 7.0% if the Company issues Institutional Debt, as defined in the Arcelor Note. Quarterly payments of interest on the note commence in the first quarter of 2008 and will continue until maturity in August 2012. The Arcelor Note may be prepaid at any time without premium or penalty at the election of the Company. Mandatory repayment is required upon an equity issuance, as defined in the Arcelor Note. As of September 30, 2007, the balance of the Arcelor Note was $15.0 million.

U.S. and Canadian Credit Facility

The Company maintains a $40.0 million revolving credit facility and a $70.0 million term loan through a syndicate of commercial banks (collectively the Credit Facility). The Credit Facility matures in October 2011 and is secured by the assets of the Company and its subsidiaries in the U.S. and Canada, excluding those in Mexico and Europe. Quarterly payments of $3.25 million on the term loan commenced in the first quarter of 2007 and will continue until maturity. The Credit Facility accrues interest at either a margin to the prime rate or LIBOR, at the Company's option. At September 30, 2007, the balances on the revolving credit facility and the term loan were approximately $32.8 million and $60.3 million, respectively. During the third quarter of 2007, the average interest rates on the revolving credit facility and the term loan were 8.15% and 8.31%, respectively.

On May 8, 2007, the Company entered into an agreement with the syndicate of commercial banks for the purpose of amending certain covenants under the Credit Facility for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2007, and amending and restating certain quarterly ratios for future periods. The amendment also increased interest rate spreads on both Eurocurrency and Prime-based borrowings by 0.25% to 0.60% until at least December 31, 2007. Absent this amendment, the Company would have been in violation of certain covenants under the Credit Facility as of March 31, 2007. As of September 30, 2007, the Company was not in compliance with all of its covenants under the Credit Facility, but has received a waiver from the syndicate of commercial banks with respect to any defaults based on such non-compliance. This waiver is effective from September 28, 2007 to November 15, 2007, at which date the Company would be in default unless the covenants were formally amended.

The Credit Facility requires that the Company maintain compliance with certain covenants governing the Company's financial and operating performance, including, but not limited to, a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio, a maximum total debt to EBITDA ratio and a maximum senior debt to EBITDA ratio. In management's estimation, the Company will not be in compliance with the requirements of these three covenants for the trailing twelve-month period ending December 31, 2007. If the Company is not able to demonstrate compliance with the requirements of these covenants as of December 31, 2007 by either: (i) agreeing with the lenders under the Credit Facility to amend the covenants; (ii) obtaining from such lenders covenant violation waivers; or (iii) repaying the Credit Facility, then the Company will be in default under the Credit Facility. A default would result in, among other things: (A) a requirement by the Company to reclassify an estimated $47.3 million of borrowings under the term loan and any outstanding borrowings on the revolving credit facility from long-term to short-term in its December 31, 2007 Annual Report on Form 10-K; (B) the option of the lenders to declare all outstanding liabilities under the Credit Facility immediately due and payable; (C) the option of the lenders to realize upon the lenders' security interest in the Company; (D) the option of the lenders to deny the Company the right to further borrowing under the revolving credit facility; and (E) the option of the lenders to demand immediate delivery of cash collateral in an amount equal to the outstanding letters of credit under the Credit Facility. In addition, if the lenders under the Credit Facility accelerate the outstanding liabilities thereunder, the Company would also be in a default under the Notes and the holder of the Notes may require the Company to redeem all or any portion of the Notes.

The Company is in discussions with the lenders under the Credit Facility regarding an amendment to the Credit Facility to avoid the expected covenant defaults. The Company is also investigating possible refinancing alternatives. The Company can give no assurance that it will be able to amend or obtain a waiver of the covenants. If the Company is unable to amend or obtain a waiver from compliance with the covenants by the dates stated above, the lenders under the Credit Facility could exercise their remedies against the Company, which would have a material adverse effect on the results of operations, business, assets, and financial condition of the Company.

Mexican Revolving Credit Facility

At September 30, 2007, to finance its Mexican operations (excluding the facility in Silao, Mexico), the Company maintained a $6.7 million revolving credit facility (Mexican Revolver) and a $7.9 million term loan (Mexican Term Loan) with a commercial bank. These credit facilities were assumed by the Company in connection with the Pullman acquisition. During the third quarter of 2007, the Mexican Revolver was renewed and expanded from a $4.5 million to $6.7 million revolving credit facility and the maturity was extended until December 2007. Of the $6.7 million, $2.2 million has been classified as short-term. Given that the Company has the intent and ability to further renew and extend the maturity of the credit facility, it has recorded the remaining $4.5 million liability as long-term debt in its condensed consolidated balance sheets. At September 30, 2007, the balances of the Mexican Revolver and Mexican Term Loan were approximately $6.7 million and $6.1 million, respectively. The average interest rates on the Mexican Revolver and Mexican Term Loan during the third quarter of 2007 were 8.25% and 8.86%, respectively.

European Credit Facility

On August 31, 2007, the Company, through its subsidiary, Noble European Holdings B.V. (Noble B.V.), entered into a 78.0 million term loan (European Term Loan) and a 40.0 million revolving credit facility (European Revolver) with a commercial bank for the cash portion of the acquisition price for the Arcelor Business and to provide working capital for the Arcelor Business after closing. The European Term Loan is repayable in ten equal, semiannual installments, plus interest, over five years. Both the European Term Loan and the European Revolver bear interest at a floating rate equal to the Euro Interbank Offered Rate (EURIBOR) plus an initial margin of 1.5% and are secured by the assets of Noble B.V. and its subsidiaries. The margin will fluctuate annually from a minimum of 1.0% to a maximum of 1.8%, depending on, among other things, the ratio of Noble B.V.'s total consolidated debt (excluding subordinated debt) at year end to EBITDA for the year then ended. The European Term Loan and European Revolver are subject to customary financial and other covenants including, but not limited to, a prohibition on the payment of dividends by Noble B.V. and limitations on acquisitions and business combinations by Noble B.V. At September 30, 2007, the balances of the European Revolver and the European Term Loan were approximately $11.1 million and $111.3 million, respectively. The average interest rates on the European Revolver and European Term Loan during the third quarter of 2007 were 5.77% and 5.81%, respectively. The Company is not an obligor or guarantor on the European Revolver and European Term Loan.

Note H Derivatives and Hedging Activities

To manage interest rate risk, the Company has entered into interest rate swap contracts to adjust the proportion of total debt that is subject to variable interest rates. The contracts fix the borrowing rate on floating rate debt to provide an economic hedge against the risk of rising rates. The Company does not enter into derivative transactions for speculative or trading purposes.

SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, as amended (SFAS 133), requires that all derivative instruments be reported on the balance sheet at fair value with changes in fair value reported currently through earnings unless the transactions qualify and are designated as normal purchases or sales or meet special hedge accounting criteria.

Gains or losses on derivatives qualifying as cash flow hedges are recorded in other comprehensive income (OCI), to the extent that hedges are effective, until the underlying transactions are recognized in earnings. Unrealized amounts in OCI will fluctuate based on changes in fair value of open hedge derivative contracts at each reporting period. Cash flow hedges are discontinued when it is probable that the original forecasted transactions will not occur.

The Company entered into three derivative contracts during the second quarter of 2007 and one during the third quarter of 2007. Two of the derivative contracts were contingent upon the acquisition of the Arcelor Business, which occurred on August 31, 2007.

U.S. Interest Rate Swap

On April 6, 2007, the Company entered into a three-year interest rate swap transaction with the Bank of Montreal. The swap effectively fixes the LIBOR component at 5.14% on a notional amount of $31.8 million at inception. The notional amount decreases over time so that it is always equal to 50% of the outstanding U.S. term loan principal balance. The Company has designated this derivative as a cash flow hedge, which qualifies for hedge accounting under SFAS 133. Therefore, changes in fair value will be reported as a component of OCI, to the extent that the hedge is effective, until the underlying transaction is recognized in earnings.

As of September 30, 2007, the Company had recorded a loss on the derivative instruments of approximately $0.3 million, pre-tax and after-tax, in Accumulated OCI. The amount of hedge ineffectiveness recorded in the Company's Condensed Consolidated Statements of Operations for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2007 was not significant. The amounts recorded in Accumulated OCI will be reclassified to interest expense as the Company accrues interest expense on the related debt obligation. As of September 30, 2007, a loss of approximately $0.3 million is expected to be included in interest expense within the next 12 months.

Contingent Hedge of Euro-Denominated Financing

In conjunction with the acquisition of the Arcelor Business, the Company anticipated obtaining Euro-denominated financing. Given the financing would be denominated in Euros and the purchase price is denominated in U.S. Dollars, the Company was exposed to foreign exchange risk until the closing of the acquisition. As a result, on April 5, 2007, the Company entered into a forward foreign exchange transaction with Credit Suisse. The forward contract effectively fixed the exchange rate at 1.332 U.S. Dollars per 1.00 Euro on a notional amount of 78.0 million. This derivative provided an economic hedge, although it did not qualify for hedge accounting treatment under SFAS 133. This derivative was settled upon closing of the Arcelor Business transaction and the Company recorded a loss of approximately $1.0 million and $2.7 million for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively.

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007*Contingent Interest Rate Swap

In conjunction with the acquisition of the Arcelor Business, the Company anticipated obtaining Euro-denominated, variable rate financing. On June 5, 2007, the Company entered into a five-year interest rate swap transaction with BNP Paribas with settlement contingent upon the closing of the Arcelor Transaction. The swap effectively fixed the variable rate component at 4.73% on a notional amount of 39.0 million at inception. The notional amount decreased over time so that it was always equal to 50% of the outstanding principal balance. This derivative provided an economic hedge of interest rates, although it did not qualify for hedge accounting treatment under SFAS 133. This derivative expired on August 15, 2007 and the Company recorded a loss of approximately $0.4 million and $0.3 million for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively.

Europe Interest Rate Swap

On September 28, 2007, the Company, through its subsidiary Noble B.V., entered into a 56-month interest rate swap transaction with BNP Paribas which is effective after the first principal payment on the European Term Loan on December 31, 2007. The swap effectively fixes the EURIBOR component at 6.14% on a notional amount of 35.1 million at inception. The notional amount of the swap will decrease proportionately with the outstanding balance on the loan as principal payments are made. The Company has designated this derivative as a cash flow hedge which qualifies for hedge accounting under SFAS 133. Therefore, changes in fair value will be reported as a component of OCI, to the extent that the hedge is effective, until the underlying transaction is recognized in earnings.

The fair value of all derivative financial instruments recorded in the consolidated balance sheet as assets and liabilities as of September 30, 2007 is as follows (in thousands):

Current liabilities	$ 48
Non-current liabilities	216
Total Liabilities	$ 264

Note I Investments in Affiliates and Related-Party TransactionsWISCO Noble (Wuhan) Laser Welding Technology Co., Ltd.

WISCO Noble (Wuhan) Laser Welding Technology Co., Ltd. (the Joint Venture) was formed as a 50/50 joint venture between Noble Metal Processing Asia Limited and WISCO Jiangbei Steel Processing and Logistics Co., Ltd. During the second and third quarters of 2007, the Company made investments of $0.2 million and $1.1 million, respectively, in the Joint Venture. The Company applies the equity method of accounting for this investment. The Joint Venture has not commenced operations, and no other transactions have occurred.

S.E.T. Enterprises, Inc. (SET)

SET is a privately-owned, qualified minority business enterprise which provides metal processing services to original equipment manufacturers and Tier I suppliers. During the fourth quarter of 2005, the Company recognized a $7.9 million impairment charge related to a $0.3 million investment in common stock and a $7.6 million investment in the preferred stock of SET. The impairment was based upon management's estimate of the fair value of these investments using a discounted cash flow model and other fair value tools in conjunction with SET's current and projected financial performance at that time.

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

In October 2006, Sumitomo (a Japanese steel company) owned 45% of SET common stock and $13.6 million face value of SET preferred stock. In addition, Sumitomo held approximately $12.0 million of SET senior debt and $27.0 million of SET unsecured payables (a portion of which were interest bearing). Due to various reasons, Sumitomo made the decision to exit its relations with SET. The Company paid Sumitomo $2.0 million for $2.4 million face value of SET preferred stock. After this capital restructuring, SET had a significant amount of positive net worth and its 2007 projected income statement was significantly improved due to the elimination of a significant amount of interest expense and other charges from Sumitomo. The $2.0 million cash paid by the Company to Sumitomo served as inducement for Sumitomo to complete the transaction, which strengthened the value of the Company's $7.6 million face value of preferred stock.

As of September 30, 2007 and December 31, 2006, the Company owned 4% of the outstanding common stock of SET and 100% of the non-convertible, non-voting, preferred stock of SET, with a face value of $10.0 million.

The Company accounts for its investment in SET common equity under the equity method of accounting and accounts for its investment in SET preferred stock under the cost method of accounting. The Company's carrying values of its investments in SET are as follows (in thousands):

	September 30, 2007	December 31, 2006
Preferred stock	$ 1,501	$ 1,950

In accordance with EITF No. 98-13 Accounting by an Equity Method Investor for Investee Losses When the Investor Has Loans to and Investments in Other Securities of the Investee, and given that the Company's carrying value of its investment in SET common stock is zero, the Company reduces the carrying value of its investment in SET preferred stock for its share of equity method losses. During the first, second, and third quarters of 2007, the Company reduced the carrying value of its investment in SET preferred stock by $0.2 million, $0.1 million, and $0.2 million, respectively, based upon a percentage of SET's net loss in the same periods.

The Company also guarantees $3.0 million of SET's senior debt. This guarantee will be reduced $0.5 million on a quarterly basis beginning in the first quarter of 2008. Pursuant to the guidance in FASB Interpretation No. 45 Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Other (FIN 45), the Company does not carry a liability for this guarantee at September 30, 2007.

SET provides the Company with blanketing services, and the Company leases certain equipment and manufacturing floor space to SET. The Company also provides SET with certain sales and marketing, operational, financial and administrative services under a services agreement with SET in exchange for a fee of $0.6 million per year. In addition, in exchange for the services, the services agreement provides for the Company to be paid 15% of SET's income before taxes in excess of $1.0 million during any fiscal year. No amounts were recognized under this additional provision during the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006. The services agreement is cancellable at any time upon 60 days notice by SET after the Company's investment in SET's preferred stock has been repurchased by SET or transferred to a third party. In addition, the Company provides certain information technology services to SET in exchange for an annual payment of $0.2 million. This agreement is cancellable at any time by SET.

Note J Income Taxes

Edgar Filing: NOBLE INTERNATIONAL, LTD. - Form 10-Q

The Company adopted FIN 48 as of January 1, 2007, and recognized no adjustment to the opening balance of retained earnings as a cumulative effect of change in accounting principle. FIN 48 requires that liabilities for uncertain tax positions be recorded as a separate liability, classified as either current or long-term depending upon whether the enterprise anticipates payment within one year. Accordingly, the Company reclassified its unrecognized tax benefits from current income tax liabilities to long-term tax liabilities included in Other Liabilities on its balance sheet since the Company does not anticipate any payments within one year.

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

The Company's gross unrecognized tax benefits as of January 1, 2007 included $0.4 million of which represented tax positions that, if unrecognized, would impact its effective tax rate.

The Company files U.S. federal, U.S. state and foreign tax returns. For U.S. federal and state tax returns, the statute of limitations remains open for 2002 and following years. The major foreign jurisdictions in which the Company operates include Canada, Mexico, Australia, Belgium, Germany, France, United Kingdom, and Spain. The statute of limitations remains open in these jurisdictions from 2000 onwards. Additionally, Mexico may have an additional five years open for entities with reported losses.

In the third quarter of 2007, the Company recorded a $3.1 million change in currency and long-term tax liabilities. The changes are primarily attributable to $1.3 million relating to a tax return that has become statute barred in the third quarter of 2007 and $1.8 million relating to the satisfactory resolution of an audit by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. The nature of these uncertain tax positions pertain to losses claimed in relation to loans and investments in foreign subsidiaries. The effect on operations amounts to less than $0.1 million of accrued interest as the remaining amount was offset to goodwill.

The Company has accrued interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits based upon the statutes as outlined in the applicable government regulations. The accrued interest and penalties were added to interest expense consistent with the Company's policy.

Note K Geographic Information

The Company currently classifies operations into one industry segment and is presently evaluating its organizational structure due to the recent Arcelor Transaction. The following tables identify the breakdown of the Company's net sales by geographic location (which are classified based upon region of production) and long-lived assets by geographic location, which consist primarily of fixed assets and intangible assets including goodwill (in thousands):

differences related to stock option exercises during each of the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006.

2006 Executive Stock Appreciation Rights Plan

The Company's 2006 Executive Stock Appreciation Rights Plan (2006 SAR Plan) provides for the grant of cash awards based upon the increase in the value of the Company's common stock from the date of grant through the date of exercise. There are 750,000 Stock Appreciation Rights (SARs) authorized under the 2006 SAR Plan and, at September 30, 2007, there were 400,000 SARs outstanding. The Company classifies the SARs as a liability award and measures the liability for the award each period until settlement. Compensation cost for each period is based upon the change in the fair value of the SARs for each reporting period and the percentage of the award that is vested. The weighted-average fair value of these SARs is estimated to be $6.89 per SAR at September 30, 2007 using the Hull-White Enhanced SFAS No. 123(R) Model using weighted-average assumptions as follows:

Risk-free rate	4.2%
Dividend yield	1.5%
Estimated volatility	39.9%
Expected term (years)	2.2
Exercise price	$ 17.16

The estimated volatility is based upon historical volatility. The expected term is based upon a four-year graded vesting period and the assumption that SARs will be exercised when the Company's stock price is at a 20% premium to the exercise price. The fair value of the SARs is amortized to compensation expense on a straight-line basis over the four-year vesting period. The SARs expire ten years after the expiration of each graded vesting period. Compensation expense for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 was $0.2 million and $0.02 million, respectively. Compensation expense for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 was $0.5 million and $0.08 million, respectively. The liability for the SARs as of September 30, 2007 was $0.9 million. Additional compensation expense of approximately $1.9 million is expected to be recognized over the remaining vesting period of approximately three years, based upon the fair value at September 30, 2007.

2001 Stock Incentive Plans

The Company's 2001 Employee Stock Incentive Plan and Non-Employee Director Stock Incentive Plan (together, the 2001 Stock Incentive Plans) allow for the issuance of up to 900,000 shares of the Company's common stock. As of September 30, 2007, 583,898 shares are eligible to be granted under the 2001 Stock Incentive Plans.

In June 2007, the Company instituted a stock matching program which provided executives with grants of restricted stock under the 2001 Employee Stock Incentive Plan. In connection with the restricted stock awards, each of the executives entered into a Restricted Stock Award Agreement with the Company. Each Restricted Stock Award Agreement, in addition to certain other provisions, provides that the executive receive one share of common stock (the Matched Shares) for every two shares of common stock that the executive purchases under the 2001 Employee Stock Incentive Plan (the Purchased Shares), subject to certain maximums. During the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, there were 71,074 shares purchased at $19.98 per share, which was the seven day average of the closing price of the common stock of the Company, as listed on the NASDAQ National Market, preceding the date of grant. The grant date fair value of the Purchased Shares was $20.44 per share and the Company recognized approximately $0.1 million of compensation expense during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 related to the Purchased Shares. During the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, there were 35,536 Matched Shares awarded, which, among other things, are subject to a two-year vesting period that requires that the executive remain employed by the Company. The Matched Shares cliff vest at the end of the two-year period. In the event of a change in control of the Company (as defined in the 2001 Employee Stock Incentive Plan), any unvested shares will immediately vest. As of September 30, 2007, there was approximately $0.6 million of total unrecognized compensation expense related to non-vested Matched Shares granted under the 2001 Employee Stock Incentive Plan. This expense is expected to be recognized over a two-year period.

The Company issued 10,832 shares of common stock during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 and recorded compensation expense of $0.1 million related to the Non-Employee Director Stock Incentive Plan. The shares issued during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 were granted fully vested and without restriction. At the date of grant, the per share fair-value of shares issued in the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $17.95.

The Company issued 25,258 shares of common stock during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006 and recorded compensation expense of $0.3 million for the 2001 Stock Incentive Plans. The shares issued during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006 were granted fully vested, but held a one- to three-year trading restriction. The Company incorporated this trading restriction in the estimate of the fair value of the stock issued. Based upon a restricted stock valuation study, the Company concluded that it was reasonable to discount the market value of these shares by 25% for a two-year trading restriction and 12.5% for a one-year trading restriction. The Company applied this percentage to the grant date fair value of an unrestricted share to arrive at the fair value of a restricted share. At the date of grant, the per share weighted average fair-value of shares issued in the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006 was estimated to be $12.42, which incorporated any trading restrictions into the estimation of fair value.

1997 Stock Option Plan

The Company's 1997 Stock Option Plan provides for the grant of non-qualified stock options to employees, officers, directors, consultants and independent contractors, as well as for the grant to employees of qualified stock options. The 1997 Stock Option Plan has a ten-year term and 700,000 shares of the Company's common stock have been reserved for issuance. There are 33,927 options eligible for grant under the 1997 Stock Option Plan as of September 30, 2007 due to forfeitures in 2006. A summary of the status of the 1997 Stock Option Plan, and the changes during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007, are as follows:

	Shares	Weighted-Average Exercise Price	Aggregate Intrinsic Value (in thousands)
Outstanding 12/31/06 (119,426 exercisable)	119,426	$ 9.04	$ 1,293

Forfeited	(33,927)	14.73	N/A
Outstanding 9/30/07 (36,999 exercisable)	36,999	5.33	591

The Company received $0.02 million and $0.4 million from the issuance of new shares for stock options exercised during the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively. Stock options outstanding and exercisable at September 30, 2007 have a weighted-average contractual life of 0.63 years. The following is a summary of the exercise prices for stock options that are outstanding and exercisable at September 30, 2007:

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

Exercise Price	Outstanding and Exercisable Stock Options	Weighted-Average Exercise Price
$5.33	36,999	$ 5.33

As of December 31, 2006, all stock options granted were fully vested under the 1997 Stock Option Plan; therefore, no compensation expense has been recorded in 2007. The 1997 Stock Option Plan expires on November 24, 2007.

2007 Stock Option Plan

In August 2007, the Company's shareholders approved the 2007 Stock Option Plan. Under the 2007 Stock Option Plan, the Company may grant options to purchase shares of its common stock to full-time key employees and non-employee directors whose judgment, initiative and efforts are, or are expected to be, important to the successful conduct of the Company's business. The Company anticipates that approximately 400 individuals will be eligible to participate in the 2007 Stock Option Plan, including nine non-employee directors. The maximum aggregate number of shares of common stock that may be made subject to awards under the 2007 Stock Option Plan is 1.0 million. Any shares that are subject to an award but are (i) not issued because the terms and conditions of the award are not met, (ii) used for payment of the exercise price of an option or (iii) withheld by us to satisfy tax withholding will become available again for use under the 2007 Stock Option Plan. No participant in the 2007 Stock Option Plan may be granted options with respect to more than 100,000 shares of common stock in any calendar year. The 2007 Stock Option Plan has a ten-year term, and as of September 30, 2007 no options have been granted.

Note M Mexican Employee Benefit Plans

The Company provides noncontributory defined benefit lump sum payments, in accordance with local statutory requirements, to certain employees when they cease employment at the Company's Mexican facilities (Mexican Benefit Plans). The benefits are related to service, final salary, and reason for leaving the Company. The Mexican Benefit Plans are unfunded. The Company's Mexican facilities consist of two facilities that were acquired in the Pullman acquisition in October 2006 and the Silao, Mexico facility that was acquired from Oxford Automotive, Inc. in January 2005.

As part of the purchase price allocation for the Pullman acquisition, the Company obtained actuarial valuations of the Mexican Benefit Plans, including the operations at the Silao facility whose benefit plans were previously individually insignificant to the Company. Based on these actuarial valuations, the Company recorded a liability of approximately $0.7 million during the second quarter of 2007. Below is a summary of the Mexican Benefit Plans' obligations (in thousands):

Projected benefit obligation as of December 31, 2006	$ 659
Assets
Net amounts recognized	659
Expense, January 1 through September 30, 2007	95
Estimated benefit obligation as of September 30, 2007	$ 754

Table of ContentsNoble International, Ltd. and Subsidiaries*Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited)*Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

The principal assumptions used to determine the Mexican Benefit Plans' actuarial value of the projected benefit obligation and expense for 2007 were as follows:

Inflation rate	3.5%
Discount rate (net of inflation)	4.8%
Rate of increase in compensation levels (net of inflation):
Hourly	0.5%
Salary	1.0%
Dismissal rate (as a percent of terminations)	20.0%

Note N Commitments and Contingencies

From time to time, the Company is involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of its operations in the normal course of business. The Company maintains insurance coverage against certain types of potential claims in amounts which it believes to be adequate. Management is not aware of any legal proceedings or claims pending against the Company that it believes will have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial condition or results of operations.

As of September 30, 2007, the Company guaranteed $3.0 million of SET's senior debt. This guarantee is reduced $0.5 million on a quarterly basis beginning in the first quarter of 2008. Pursuant to the guidance in FIN 45, the Company does not carry a liability for this guarantee at September 30, 2007.

Note O Subsequent EventsAmendment of Credit Facility

The Company maintains a $40.0 million revolving credit facility and a $70.0 million term loan through a syndicate of commercial banks (collectively the Credit Facility). On November 2, 2007, the Company entered into a fifth amendment with the syndicate of commercial banks which modified the Credit Facility to, among other things, (i) permit the Company to request that the Credit Facility to be increased by $10.0 million, (ii) revise the levels of certain financial covenants and ratios, (iii) add and delete certain financial covenants, and (iv) revise the margins and fees in a manner that, among other things, increases interest rate spreads on both Eurocurrency and Prime-based borrowings by 0.50% until at least December 31, 2007. The fifth amendment and modifications set forth therein were effective as of November 2, 2007.

Plant Closures

On November 7, 2007, the Company announced to its employees its decision to close two of its manufacturing facilities, one located in Holt, Michigan employing approximately 50 employees and one located in South Haven, Michigan employing approximately 200 employees. The Company will relocate certain production from those facilities to other existing facilities. The closing of these facilities is intended to optimize synergies among product lines, reduce excess capacities across our facilities and improve logistical efficiencies. Each of these facilities was acquired in connection with acquisitions completed in the past 13 months. The Company expects to complete the closure of the Holt facility during the second quarter of 2008 and the South Haven West facility during the fourth quarter of 2008.

Three and Nine Months Ended September 30, 2007

In connection with the closure of the Holt facility, the Company currently estimates it will incur $4.9 million of total cash outlays, consisting of: $2.2 million for capital expenditures at the facilities that will absorb production from Holt, $0.5 million for employee termination benefits and $2.2 million for relocation and infrastructure costs. The Company estimates $2.7 million of the above total cash outlay will be recorded in the income statement by the end of the 2008 fiscal year. The aforementioned $2.2 million of capital will be recorded in the Company's income statement as depreciation expense dependent on each asset's estimated useful life. The Company estimates the closure costs will be offset by cost savings of $1.4 million by the end of the 2008 fiscal year and will generate $0.8 million of annual cost savings beginning in the 2009 fiscal year.

In connection with the closure of the South Haven West facility, the Company currently estimates it will incur $6.7 million of total cash outlays, consisting of: $1.7 million for capital expenditures at the facilities that will absorb production from South Haven West, $1.0 million for employee termination benefits, $1.5 million for manufacturing costs primarily related to inventory build up and $2.5 million for relocation and infrastructure costs. The Company estimates $5.0 million of the above total cash outlay will be recorded in the income statement by the end of the 2008 fiscal year. The aforementioned $1.7 million of capital will be recorded in the Company's income statement as depreciation expense dependent on each asset's estimated useful life. The Company has taken a $0.6 million charge in the third quarter of 2007 relating to relocation expenses. The Company estimates the closure costs will be partially offset by cost savings of $2.6 million by the end of the 2008 fiscal year and will generate $2.8 million of annual cost savings beginning in the 2009 fiscal year.

Pursuant to the terms of the Share Purchase Agreement dated as of March 15, 2007 between the Company and Arcelor, the Company expects to be reimbursed by Arcelor for up to $1.3 million of the foregoing costs relating to the closure of the Holt facility. The actual closure costs incurred for each facility and any cost savings will not be known until the Company has finalized the details of, and implements, its closure plan and receives reimbursement from Arcelor.

Noble International, Ltd. (we, us, our, Noble or the Company), through its subsidiaries, is a full-service provider of Auto Body Solutions® primarily to the automotive industry. We utilize laser-welding, roll-forming, and other technologies to produce flat, tubular, shaped and enclosed formed structures used by original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) or their suppliers in automobile body applications, including doors, fenders, body side panels, pillars, bumpers, door beams, load floors, windshield headers, door tracks, door frames, and glass channels.

On August 31, 2007, we acquired substantially all of the tailor laser-welded blank business conducted by Arcelor S.A., a Luxembourg corporation (Arcelor), and its affiliates in Europe, India, China and the U.S. (the Arcelor Business). Results of operations for the Arcelor Business are included in our financial statements beginning September 1, 2007.

Results of Operations

The following Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations (MD&A) should be read in conjunction with the MD&A section included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, as amended by Form 10-K/A, for the year ended December 31, 2006, as filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC).

Net Sales. Net sales for the three months ended September 30, 2007 were $211.9 million, an increase of $118.8 million, or 127.5%, compared to the same period in 2006. Net sales for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 were $554.7 million, an increase of $251.5 million, or 83.0%, compared to the same period in 2006. The increase of $67.4 million and $187.3 million in sales for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively, was attributable primarily to the roll-forming programs from our acquisition of Pullman Industries, Inc. (Pullman) in the fourth quarter of 2006 and an increase of $47.4 million attributable to the Arcelor Business acquisition in the third quarter of 2007. The additional increase of $3.9 million and $16.9 million in sales for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively, was due to a combination of new laser-welding programs launched during the first nine months of 2007, marginally higher light vehicle production volumes and higher steel prices. Net Sales for the three months ended September 30, 2006 were impacted by the resolution of certain outstanding commercial matters which increased revenue by $1.6 million.

Cost of Sales. Cost of sales for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $200.7 million, an increase of $115.5 million, or 135.5%, compared to the same period in 2006. Cost of sales for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $515.8 million, an increase of $242.5 million, or 88.7%, compared to the same period in 2006. Cost of sales as a percentage of net sales increased to 94.7% for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 from 91.5% in the same period in 2006. Cost of sales as a percentage of sales increased to 93.0% for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 from 90.2% for the same period in 2006. The increase in Cost of Sales for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 was mainly due to the inclusion of Pullman ($65.0 million and $178.1 million, respectively) and the Arcelor Business acquisition ($45.2 million). The remaining increase for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 is attributable to start-up costs in our new Tonawanda, New York facility ($0.4 million and $0.8 million, respectively), costs related to the labor strike at General Motors ($0.4 million) and a terrorist attack on a gas pipeline in Mexico, and higher steel prices.

Gross Margin. Gross margin for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $11.2 million, an increase of $3.3 million, or 41.4%, compared to the same period in 2006. Gross margin for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $38.8 million, an increase of $9.0 million, or 30.1%, compared to the same period in 2006. Gross margin as a percentage of net sales decreased to 5.3% for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 from 8.5% in the same period in 2006. Gross margin as a percentage of net sales decreased to 7.0% for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 from 9.8% in the same period in 2006. Gross margin for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was negatively impacted by $3.2 million of launch costs and launch-related inefficiencies on certain new roll-forming programs, $0.6 million of costs related to the planned closure of one roll-forming facility, start up costs in our new Tonawanda, New York facility, costs related to the labor strike at General Motors and a terrorist attack on a gas pipeline in Mexico. Gross margin for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was negatively impacted by $12.6 million of launch costs and launch-related inefficiencies on certain new roll-forming programs, start up costs in our new Tonawanda, New York facility, the General Motors labor strike and the gas pipeline terrorist attack in Mexico. In addition to these isolated costs, the additional decline in gross margin percentage can be attributed to higher steel content as a percentage of sales on laser welding programs.

Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses (SG&A) for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $10.8 million, an increase of $6.8 million, or 166.2%, compared to the same period in 2006. SG&A for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $26.1 million, an increase of $12.8 million, or 95.8%, compared to the same period in 2006. For the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, SG&A as a percentage of net sales (5.1% and 4.7%, respectively) increased compared to the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2006 (4.4% and 4.4%, respectively). The increase in SG&A was mainly due to the inclusion of Pullman ($3.1 million and $8.9 million, respectively) and the Arcelor Business ($1.9 million) in our results of operations for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007. The remaining increase of $1.8 million and $2.0 million for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively, was driven by additional staffing to support growth.

Operating Profit. Operating profit for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $0.4 million, a decrease of $3.5 million, or 89.5%, compared to the same period in 2006. Operating profit for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $12.8 million, a decrease of $3.8 million, or 22.9%, compared to the same period in 2006. Operating profit as a percentage of net sales for the three months ended September 30, 2007 was 0.2%, compared to 4.2% for the same period in 2006. Operating profit as a percentage of net sales for the nine months ended September 30, 2007 was 2.3%, as compared to 5.5% for the same period in 2006. The reasons for the changes in operating profit for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 are due to the factors discussed above in Cost of Sales and Selling, General and Administrative Expenses.

Interest Income. Interest income for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $0.1 million, a decrease of $0.3 million compared to the same period in 2006. Interest income for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $0.2 million, a decrease of $0.8 million compared to the same period in 2006. Interest income decreased due to the overall decrease in our cash available as a result of the acquisition of Pullman in the fourth quarter of 2006 and the Arcelor Business in the third quarter of 2007.

Interest Expense. Interest expense for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $4.0 million, an increase of $3.3 million compared to the same period in 2006. Interest expense for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $10.1 million, an increase of $7.9 million compared to the same period in 2006. The higher interest expense was primarily related to the additional debt incurred pursuant to the Pullman acquisition and the acquisition of the Arcelor Business in the third quarter of 2007.

Loss on Extinguishment of Debt. As a result of the amendments made to our $32.5 million Amended and Restated Convertible Subordinated Notes (Notes) during the first quarter of 2007, we determined that a debt extinguishment had occurred and recognized a loss on debt extinguishment of approximately $3.3 million during the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007.

Net Loss on Derivative Instruments. During the second quarter of 2007, we entered into three derivative transactions, two of which were contingent upon the acquisition of the Arcelor Business. We determined that while our contingent derivative instruments provided economic hedges, they did not qualify for hedge accounting treatment. Accordingly, we recorded the gains and losses on these derivative instruments in our statement of operations and recognized net losses of approximately $1.3 million and $3.0 million for the three-and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively. See Item 1: Financial Statements; Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited) Note H Derivatives and Hedging Activities for additional information.

Other, net. Other, net for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 decreased $0.7 million from net income of $0.6 million in 2006 to net expense of $0.1 million in 2007. Other, net for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 increased $0.6 million from net income of $0.3 million in 2006 to net income of $0.9 million in 2007. Other, net for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 included dividend income of $0.4 million and management fee income of $0.2 million from S.E.T. Enterprises, Inc. (SET) offset by foreign currency losses of $0.5 million and equity investments losses from SET of $0.2 million. Other, net for the three-month period ended September 30, 2006 included a foreign currency gain of $0.1 million, dividend income of $0.2 million and a $0.5 million gain from the reversal of a potential liability favorably resolved at our Mexican operations, offset by a loss on the redemption of $7.5 million of the convertible subordinated notes of $0.2 million. Other, net for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 included dividend income of $1.6 million and management fee income of $0.6 million from SET, offset by equity investment losses from SET of $0.5 million and foreign currency losses of $0.8 million. Other, net for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006 included dividend income of $0.2 million and a $0.5 million gain from the reversal of a potential liability favorably resolved at our Mexican operations, offset by foreign currency losses of $0.1 million and a loss on the redemption of $7.5 million of the Notes of $0.2 million.

Income Tax (Benefit) Expense. Income tax (benefit) expense for the three-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 was ($1.5) million and $1.2 million, respectively. Income tax (benefit) expense for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006 was ($1.3) million and $5.0 million, respectively. A tax benefit of $1.4 million was recorded on the loss from extinguishment of debt during the first quarter of 2007 in connection with our amendment of the Notes. Excluding this tax benefit, the effective tax rate for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was 12%, compared to 32% for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006. The decrease in the effective tax rate for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was due to a decrease in foreign taxes at facilities that were purchased as part of the Arcelor Business acquisition, an increase in research and development credits available and the release of the valuation allowance on our investment in SET, offset by an increase in state taxes at facilities that were purchased as part of the Pullman acquisition.

Minority Interest. Minority interest represents our partner's 49% share of the net earnings from the Silao facility in Mexico. Minority interest for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 was $0.2 million and $0.7 million, respectively. Minority interest for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2006 was $0.5 million and $0.7 million, respectively.

Net (Loss) Income. As a result of the foregoing factors, our net loss for the three-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $3.5 million, a decrease of $6.0 million, or 245.0%, compared to the same period in 2006. Net losses for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 were $1.9 million, a decrease of $11.9 million, or 118.9%, compared to the same period in 2006.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our cash requirements have historically been satisfied through a combination of cash flow from operations, equity and debt financings. Working capital needs and capital equipment requirements in our operations have increased as a result of our growth and are expected to continue to increase. Anticipated increases in required working capital and capital equipment expenditures are expected to be met from our cash flow from operations, equity issuances and debt financing. As of September 30, 2007, we had net working capital of $73.3 million, and we expect capital expenditures to be approximately $12.2 million during the last quarter of 2007.

Net cash provided by operating activities was $15.8 million and $6.7 million for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The $9.1 million increase was due to an increase in net earnings adjusted for non-cash items of $1.7 million and changes in operating assets and liabilities of $7.4 million. The overall increase was driven by incremental cash from growth activities and our active working capital management.

Net cash used in investing activities was $130.4 million and $8.3 million for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007 and 2006, respectively. The use of cash in 2007 was primarily the result of the acquisition of the Arcelor Business of $109.4 million. Capital expenditures related to ongoing operations were $19.9 million and $8.9 million for the nine-month periods ending 2007 and 2006, respectively. In 2006, we had additional cash inflows from investing related to the collection of notes receivable. In 2007, we made an investment of $1.3 million in WISCO Noble (Wuhan) Laser Welding Technology Co., Ltd. See Item 1: Financial Statements; Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited) Note I Investments in Affiliates and Related-Party Transactions for additional information.

Net cash received from financing activities for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007 was $117.5 million. This receipt of cash was mainly due to borrowing necessary to fund the acquisition of the Arcelor Business of $117.1 million. In addition, we had net borrowings on our U.S. credit facility of $5.9 million, dividend payments of $4.1 million and net payments on our Mexican debt of $2.4 million. Net cash used in financing activities for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2006 was $9.8 million. This use of cash was primarily the result of the redemption of the Notes of $7.5 million and payment of dividends of $3.2 million offset by the receipt of cash related to the issuance of common stock of $0.2 million, net borrowings on long-term debt at our Mexico facility of $0.5 million and a tax benefit from share based-payments of $0.2 million.

At September 30, 2007, to finance our U.S. and Canadian operations, we maintained a $40.0 million revolving credit facility and a $70.0 million term loan through a syndicate of commercial banks (collectively, the Credit Facility). The Credit Facility matures in October 2011 and is secured by the assets of Noble and its subsidiaries in the U.S. and Canada, excluding those in Mexico and Europe. Quarterly payments of $3.25 million on the term loan commenced in the first quarter of 2007 and will continue until maturity. The Credit Facility accrues interest at either a margin to the prime rate or LIBOR, at our option. During the third quarter of 2007, the average interest rates on the revolving credit facility and the term loan were 8.15% and 8.31%, respectively. As of September 30, 2007, there was approximately $32.8 million outstanding on the revolving credit facility and $60.3 million on the term loan.

The Credit Facility is subject to customary financial and other covenants including, but not limited to, limitations on debt, consolidations, mergers, and sales of assets, and bank approval on acquisitions over $15.0 million. On May 8, 2007, we entered into an agreement with the syndicate of commercial banks for the purpose of amending certain covenants under the Credit Facility for the fiscal quarter ended March 31, 2007, and amending and restating certain quarterly ratios for future periods. The amendment also increased interest rate spreads on both Eurocurrency and Prime-based borrowings by 0.25% to 0.60% until at least December 31, 2007. Absent this amendment, we would have been in violation of certain covenants under the Credit Facility as of March 31, 2007. As of September 30, 2007, we were not in compliance with all of our covenants under the Credit Facility, but have received a waiver from the syndicate of commercial banks with respect to any defaults based on such non-compliance. This waiver is effective from September 28, 2007 to November 15, 2007, at which date the Company would be in default unless the covenants were formally amended.

The Credit Facility requires that we maintain compliance with certain covenants governing our financial and operating performance, including, but not limited to, a minimum fixed charge coverage ratio, a maximum total debt to EBITDA ratio and a maximum senior debt to EBITDA ratio. In management's estimation, we will not be in compliance with the requirements of these three covenants for the trailing twelve-month period ending December 31, 2007. If we are not able to demonstrate compliance with the requirements of these covenants as of December 31, 2007 by either: (i) agreeing with the lenders under the Credit Facility to amend the covenants; (ii) obtaining from such lenders covenant violation waivers; or (iii) repaying the Credit Facility, then we will be in default under the Credit Facility. A default would result in, among other things: (A) a requirement by us to reclassify an estimated $47.3 million of borrowings under the term loan and any outstanding borrowings on the revolving credit facility from long-term to short-term in our December 31, 2007 Annual Report on Form 10-K; (B) the option of the lenders to declare all outstanding liabilities under the Credit Facility immediately due and payable; (C) the option of the lenders to realize upon the lenders security interest in Noble; (D) the option of the lenders to deny us the right to further borrowing under the revolving credit facility; and (E) the option of the lenders to demand immediate delivery of cash collateral in an amount equal to the outstanding letters of credit under the Credit

Facility. In addition, if the lenders under the Credit Facility accelerate the outstanding liabilities thereunder, we would also be in a default under the Notes and the holder of the Notes may require us to redeem all or any portion of the Notes.

We are in discussions with the lenders under the Credit Facility regarding an amendment to the Credit Facility to avoid the expected covenant defaults. We are also investigating possible refinancing alternatives. We can give no assurance that it will be able to amend or obtain a waiver of the covenants. If we are unable to amend or obtain a waiver from compliance with the covenants by the dates stated above, the lenders under the Credit Facility could exercise their remedies against us, which would have a material adverse effect on the results of operations, business, assets, and financial condition of the Company.

On November 2, 2007, we entered into a fifth amendment with the syndicate of commercial banks which modified the U.S. Revolver and the U.S. Term Loan to, among other things, (i) permit us to request that the Credit Facility be increased by $10.0 million, (ii) revise the levels of certain financial covenants and ratios, (iii) add and delete certain financial covenants, and (iv) revise the margins and fees in a manner that, among other things, increases interest rate spreads on both Eurocurrency and Prime-based borrowings by 0.50% until at least December 31, 2007. The fifth amendment and modifications set forth therein were effective as of November 2, 2007.

We also have $32.5 million of convertible subordinated notes (Notes) which, per the terms of the October 2006 amendment, carried an interest rate of 6% per annum and an initial conversion price per share of $18.50. This conversion price was subject to a mandatory reset to 125% of the 45-day trailing average closing common stock price at July 1, 2007. The Notes mature in October 2011, and we have certain redemption call rights in October 2009. On January 10, 2007, we and the holders of our Notes amended the Notes to fix the conversion price per share of the Notes at $19.50 over the term of the Notes and to remove the conversion price reset provision that would have been effective July 1, 2007. The annual interest rate was increased from 6% to 8%. In addition, prior to the amendment in January 2007, the terms of the Notes gave us the right to call the Notes after three years if our common stock was trading at an amount at least 140% of the conversion price for a specified period of time. Pursuant to the January 2007 amendment, this call premium was reduced from 140% to 120%. See Item 1: Financial Statements; Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (Unaudited) Note G Long-Term Debt; Amended and Restated Convertible Subordinated Notes for additional information.

At September 30, 2007, to finance our Mexican operations (excluding the facility in Silao, Mexico), we maintained a $6.7 million revolving credit facility (Mexico Revolver) and a $7.9 million term loan (Mexico Term Loan) with a commercial bank. These credit facilities were assumed by us in connection with the Pullman acquisition. During the third quarter of 2007, the Mexico Revolver was renewed and expanded from a $4.5 million to $6.7 million revolving credit facility and the maturity was extended until December 2007. Of the $6.7 million, $2.2 million has been classified as short-term. Given that we have the intent and ability to further renew and extend the maturity, we have recorded the remaining $4.5 million liability as long-term debt in our condensed consolidated balance sheets. The Mexico Revolver and Mexico Term Loan accrue interest at the prime rate and LIBOR plus 3.5%, respectively. During the third quarter of 2007, the average interest rates on the Mexico Revolver and Mexico Term Loan were 8.25% and 8.86%, respectively. As of September 30, 2007, there was approximately $6.7 million outstanding on the Mexico Revolver and $6.1 million outstanding on the Mexico Term Loan.

On August 31, 2007, through our subsidiary, Noble European Holdings, B.V. (Noble B.V. or our subsidiary), we entered into a 78.0 million term loan (European Term Loan) and a 40.0 million revolving credit facility (European Revolver) with a commercial bank for the cash portion of the acquisition price for the Arcelor Business and to provide working capital for the Arcelor Business after closing. The European Term Loan is repayable in ten equal, semiannual installments, plus interest, over five years. Both the European Term Loan and the European Revolver bear interest at a floating rate equal to Euro Interbank Offered Rate (EURIBOR) plus an initial margin of 1.5% and are secured by the assets of Noble B.V. and its subsidiaries.

The margin will fluctuate annually from a minimum of 1.0% to a maximum of 1.8%, depending on, among other things, the ratio of our subsidiary's total consolidated debt (excluding subordinated debt) at year end to EBITDA for the year then ended. The European Term Loan and European Revolver are subject to customary financial and other covenants including, but not limited to, a prohibition on the payment of dividends by our subsidiary and limitations on acquisitions and business combinations by them. At September 30, 2007, the balances of the European Revolver and European Term Loan were approximately $11.1 million and $111.3 million, respectively. The average interest rates on the European Revolver and European Term Loan during the third quarter of 2007 were 5.77% and 5.81%, respectively. The Company is not an obligor or guarantor on the European Revolver or European Term Loan.

The liquidity provided by our existing and anticipated credit facilities, combined with cash flow from operations, is expected to be sufficient to meet our anticipated working capital and capital expenditure needs and for existing debt service for at least twelve months. There can be no assurance, however, that such funds will not be expended prior thereto due to changes in economic conditions or other unforeseen circumstances, requiring us to obtain additional financing prior to the end of such twelve-month period. In addition, we continue to evaluate our business strategy and may pursue future growth through opportunistic acquisitions of assets or companies, which may involve the expenditure of significant funds. Depending upon the nature, size, and timing of future acquisitions, we may be required to obtain additional debt or equity financing. There can be no assurance, however, that additional financing will be available when and if needed, on acceptable terms or at all.

As of September 30, 2007, we guaranteed $3.0 million of SET senior debt in connection with our sale of businesses to SET. We may be required to perform under the guarantee if SET defaults under the terms of its credit facility. The maximum amount we would be required to pay is $3.0 million. Pursuant to the guidance in Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Interpretation No. 45, Guarantor's Accounting and Disclosure Requirements for Guarantees, Including Indirect Guarantees of Indebtedness of Others, we do not carry a liability for this guarantee at September 30, 2007.

Inflation

Inflation generally affects a company by increasing the interest expense of floating rate indebtedness and by increasing the cost of labor, fuel, equipment and raw materials. We do not believe that inflation has had a material effect on our business over the reporting period included in this Report.

Item 3: Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk

Foreign Currency Risk

We are exposed to the impact of foreign currency fluctuations. International revenues from our foreign subsidiaries were approximately 37% of net sales for the nine-month period ended September 30, 2007. Our primary foreign currency exposures are the Canadian Dollar, Mexican Peso, Euro, UK Sterling, Japanese Yen and Australian Dollar. In general, where possible, we manage our exposures to foreign currency assets, liabilities and earnings primarily by funding certain foreign currency denominated assets with liabilities in the same currency and matching revenues with expenses in the same currency, as such, certain exposures are naturally offset. However, at September 30, 2007, our Mexico operations, whose functional currency is the Mexican Peso, had net U.S. Dollar liability exposure of approximately $17.9 million. Based upon this exposure, for every one percent increase (decrease) in the value of the Mexican Peso versus the U.S. Dollar, we would recognize a foreign currency transaction gain (loss) of approximately $0.2 million. Additionally, our Mexico operations acquired with the Pullman acquisition have debt denominated in Japanese Yen. The balance of this debt at September 30, 2007 was $0.9 million. Based on this exposure, for every one percent increase (decrease) in the value of the Japanese Yen versus the U.S. Dollar, we would recognize a foreign currency transaction gain (loss) of approximately $0.01 million. We recognized a foreign exchange transaction loss of $0.5 million and $0.8 million for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2007, respectively, and a foreign currency transaction gain (loss) of $0.1 million and ($0.2) million for the three- and nine-month periods ended September 30, 2006, respectively.

In connection with the acquisition of the Arcelor Business, we anticipated Euro-denominated financing. Given the financing would be denominated in Euros and the purchase price is denominated in U.S. Dollars, we were exposed to foreign exchange risk until the closing of the acquisition. As a result, on April 5, 2007, we entered into a forward foreign exchange transaction with Credit Suisse. The forward contract effectively fixed the exchange rate at 1.332 U.S. Dollars per 1.00 Euro on a notional amount of 78.0 million. This derivative was settled upon closing of the Arcelor Business transaction and we realized a loss of approximately $2.7 million.

Interest Rate Sensitivity

Our financial results are affected by changes in U.S. and foreign interest rates due primarily to our various credit facilities containing variable interest rates when we borrow under these credit facilities. The balance of our variable interest rate debt as of September 30, 2007 was $228.3 million.

In April 2007 and September 2007, we entered into a three-year and five-year interest rate swap transaction, respectively, which effectively fixed the interest rate on a portion of our variable interest rate debt. Based upon this exposure and including the effects of the interest rate swap, for every annualized one percent increase (decrease) in the U.S. and foreign interest rates, we would recognize an additional annualized interest expense (benefit) of $1.4 million.

We invest any excess cash balances in overnight and other short-term investments that may be impacted by changes in interest rates. We do not hold any other financial instruments that are subject to market risk (interest rate risk and foreign exchange rate risk).

Item 4: Controls and Procedures

We maintain disclosure controls and procedures designed to ensure that the information that is required to be disclosed in our filings with the SEC is recorded, processed, summarized and reported on a timely basis. With participation from our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer, we have reviewed and evaluated the effectiveness of our disclosure controls and procedures as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the Exchange Act). We have concluded that as of September 30, 2007, our disclosure controls and procedures were adequate and effective and would ensure that material information relating to us and our subsidiaries required to be disclosed in the reports we file with the SEC under the Exchange Act would be made known to our Chief Executive Officer and our Chief Financial Officer by others within Noble, particularly during the period in which this Report was being prepared.

There have been no changes in our internal control over our financial reporting during the quarter ended September 30, 2007 that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

Table of ContentsPART II: OTHER INFORMATION*Item 1: Legal Proceedings

From time to time, we are involved in litigation relating to claims arising out of our operations in the normal course of business. We maintain insurance coverage against certain types of potential claims in an amount which we believe to be adequate. We are not aware of any legal proceedings or claims pending against us that we believe will have a material adverse effect on our financial condition or results of operations.

Item 1A: Risk Factors

There were no material changes from the risk factors previously disclosed in Item 1A. Risk Factors, included in our Annual Report on Form 10-K, as amended by Form 10-K/A, for the year ended December 31, 2006.
