These documents may contain forward-looking statements about expected future events and financial results that involve risks and uncertainties. Such statements are based on our current expectations and are subject to uncertainties and risks that could cause actual results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements. Factors that could cause such a difference include, but are not limited to, those described under "Risk Factors" in the Company's annual report on Form 20-F filed with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Company believes that it will be considered a "passive foreign investment company" for United States Federal income tax purpose in the year to which these consolidated financial results relate and for the foreseeable future by reason of the composition of its assets and the nature of its income. A U.S. holder of the shares or ADSs of the Company is therefore subject to special rules generally intended to eliminate any benefits from the deferral of U.S. Federal income tax that a holder could derive from investing in a foreign corporation that does not distribute all of its earnings on a current basis. Economic Environment

Although the global economy continues to carry downside risks such as decelerating growth in emerging countries and lingering uncertainties in European sovereign debt issues, we believe the risk of another serious global financial crisis is receding, with signs of improvement in the U.S. economy.

The United States' economy is in a state of moderate recovery backed by an increase in employment and positive recovery trend in consumer spending due to the rise in wages. The Dow Jones Industrial Average achieved record highs for consecutive days during the end of March in conjunction with the improvement in the residential housing market and various economic indicators.

The economic slowdown in Europe is weakening the pace of growth in some parts of Asia including China and India constraining them from leading growth in the global economy. However, some countries in Southeast Asia such as Indonesia continue to maintain high growth compared to advanced economies.

Japan has seen some developments that might lead to a bottoming out of its economy with the rapid pace of the weakening yen and rising stock prices, which came about largely due to the Abe administration assuming control at the end of the previous year. The subsequent announcement of an aggressive monetary easing by the Bank of Japan (BOJ) led by new BOJ leadership caused further depreciation of the yen and stock market recovery, resulting in the Nikkei Stock Average returning to its pre-financial crisis level and long-term interest rates reaching a record low. Particular attention is directed towards the ability of the new administration to execute its growth strategy.

Equity in net income of affiliates increased compared to the previous fiscal year due to the absence of a valuation loss for the investment in Monex Group Inc. that was recognized during the previous fiscal year.

As a result of the foregoing, income before income taxes and discontinued operations for the fiscal year increased 33% to ¥172,518 million compared to ¥129,756 million during the previous fiscal year, and net income attributable to ORIX Corporation shareholders increased 34% to ¥111,909 million compared to ¥83,509 million during the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets decreased 12% compared to March 31, 2012 to ¥416,569 million due to decreases in investment in securities and installment loans.

Retail Segment

This segment consists of the life insurance operations, the banking business and the card loan business.

Edgar Filing: ORIX CORP - Form 6-K

Segment profits increased 123% to ¥43,209 million compared to ¥19,352 million during the previous fiscal year due to gains associated with the consolidation of ORIX Credit Corporation which was formerly an equity-method affiliate, and the absence of a write-down that was recognized for investment in equity-method affiliate Monex Group, Inc. during the previous fiscal year.

Segment assets increased 13% compared to March 31, 2012 to ¥1,970,972 million mainly due to an increase in installment loans as a result of consolidation of ORIX Credit Corporation.
