Q&A

We know associates will have many questions. We won't be able to provide all the answers right away, as much evaluation and many decisions lie ahead. However, we'll answer as best we can and provide more clarity over time.

Considering the announcement of the new Mortgage Officer and eventual relocation of Mortgage Operations to Columbia, when do we anticipate the Hendersonville office closing or downsizing?

Merging two operations is a very complex and intricate process. Although the holding company merger is projected to occur in the fourth quarter, followed by the merger of the two banks sometime thereafter, both mortgage divisions will continue to operate during a transition period beyond that latter date. We will keep associates updated on timelines as soon as feasibly possible over the upcoming weeks and months.

Will employment opportunities be available in Columbia given the possibility of closing or downsizing the Hendersonville Operations Center?

Retaining top talent to service our customers remains a top priority and is essential to our future success. Staffing models have not yet been determined.

When will I know if my position is impacted by the consolidation of the two Mortgage entities?

Specific details related to merging the two divisions and associate impact have not been finalized. All associates will remain in their current positions and continue business as usual in the interim. We need every associate focused on continuing to provide the highest level of service possible to our customers.

Will I have to reapply for employment with First Citizens?

No; however, details regarding employment/staffing opportunities post-merger have not been finalized. Current associates, provided they are in good standing, will be afforded consideration for continued employment with the combined bank.

Will the Bank provide a severance if my position is eliminated?

If it is determined your position is no longer needed and you are unable to secure other employment with the Bank, you may be eligible for a position elimination package.

How will Mortgage Sales be aligned to the new Mortgage structure?

Details regarding the post-merger Mortgage Sales structure have not been finalized at this time.
