Steve Demetriou: Today marks a major milestone for Jacobs and our industry.

Steve Demetriou: Earlier this morning we announced a definitive agreement to acquire CH2M to create a premier, 15-billion-dollar global leader.

Steve Demetriou: This is a significant step for both companies as we unite complementary cultures and capabilities and expand our presence around the world and accelerate profitable growth.

Title: Compelling Strategic Fit

Steve Demetriou: This deal is truly transformational and will set a new benchmark for client service – not just bigger, but more importantly, better

Terry Hagen: Jacobs and CH2M together create the perfect combination where one plus one equals three.

Bob Pragada: We are uniquely positioned to deliver differentiated services and solutions resulting in business opportunities neither company could create on their own.

Joanne Caruso: There is so much opportunity for growth – collectively as a company and for each of us as individuals. I strongly believe that these types of opportunities are rare, and can and will be transformative.

Gary Mandel: CH2M's capabilities complement our P&C growth strategies that we've all been diligently working towards, and with this acquisition we can offer our clients a more robust value proposition.

Bob Pragada: CH2M's expertise and project experience expands our overall capabilities and nicely complements our priority growth areas in the Industrial and B&I Lines of Business.

Terry Hagen: CH2M leads the industry in environmental and nuclear capabilities and this complementary expertise dovetails perfectly with our A&T growth strategy.

Title: Creating Employee Opportunities

Steve Demetriou: One of our values is – people are the heart of our business – and this will be further strengthened as we become one team and realize the full benefits of this integration.

Joanne Caruso: Not only does this deal expand on our already impressive capabilities, it offers opportunities for our people to shine. Both companies were built by strong, capable, smart people and the emphasis on our teammates will and remain an integral part of our future success.

Title: Focused, Disciplined Approach

Terry Hagen: While there are many reasons to be enthusiastic about the road ahead, it is also important to remember that the agreement announcement is just the first step.

Gary Mandel: For all of us at Jacobs, we must remain focused on our day-to-day responsibilities and serve our clients as we always have – we must keep focused on safety and sustainable operations.

Bob Pragada: Until the transaction closes, which is expected to occur in Jacobs' fiscal 2018 first quarter, ending in December, Jacobs and CH2M will continue to operate as separate organizations.

Title: A Premier Global Solutions Provider

Steve Demetriou: So here's the bottom line: I believe this transaction is a win-win for everyone.

Steve Demetriou: For employees, we expect there will be exciting career development opportunities as part of a larger, more diversified global company.

Steve Demetriou: For our clients, we'll be a stronger partner and offer new, differentiated services and solutions.

Steve Demetriou: And for our shareholders, we expect to deliver significant value given the financial and operating strength we create together.

Joanne Caruso: This is a big moment for our Jacobs family. We have shown that we can execute and that our people are the best. Now we must continue to deliver on a level that our employees, partners, shareholders and clients have come to expect from us.

Bob Pragada: I encourage your questions and curiosity. Please seek additional information, talk with your leaders and most of all, embrace and engage in making our strategic vision a reality.

Terry Hagen: And I look forward to the future that we will build together on delivering the best, most innovative solutions to our customers.
