A Quick Chinwag

The first quarter of 2019 is quickly coming to its end, and with that we expect to soon close the Univar-Nexeo transaction. Over the past months, you have seen many announcements and heard many conversations about what's next. You will hear more specifics about what is next on and after Day One and there is plenty to be excited about, especially how we have the opportunity to launch a brand new company. There are many firsts in life and if we learn anything from these moments, it's that you never get a second chance to make a first impression. This is why Day One and the weeks following are so incredibly important. Previously you've heard me share the importance of sticking the landing, as I compared the integration planning process to that of an Olympic ski jumping event, where the athlete is not only focused on the mid air acrobatics, but only wins the medal if they land correctly. If they stick the landing. I can relate to this analogy as it illustrates the importance of not just what we are executing, but how we are doing it.

As we embrace this once in lifetime opportunity to launch Univar Solutions, I want us to remain focused on sticking the landing. This means never losing sight of a single detail and to strive for flawless execution of our plans. It means embracing the cultural values that we will share by making Univar Solutions a company that is Serious About Safety, where We Do What We Say, Where People Matter, where We Are Valuable to Others and Together, We Win. And it means taking care of our customers and suppliers through a seamless day one and integration. As I've shared before, this transaction is about growth, so get ready for more opportunities as we bring the strengths of both companies together and move closer to achieving our vision to be the most valued chemical and ingredient distributor in the world.

One Univar

I'm pleased with the progress we've made by executing our One Univar strategy. This approach benefitted us all, as it helped Univar shift towards a more collaborative and unified way of working. By fostering knowledge, sharing and collaboration, we were able to implement best practices with discipline and precision all whilst executing globally and performing at the highest level possible. The execution of the One Univar strategy has now positioned us well as we look forward to combining two industry leaders: Univar and Nexeo Solutions. As one Univar Solutions, we will serve customers and suppliers as a committed ally with the capabilities and know-how to help their businesses run smoothly, and the expertise to help them anticipate, navigate, and leverage meaningful growth opportunities. More to come soon on our exciting future, but in the meantime remember to stay focused and most importantly stay safe, and keep selling the value of Univar.

Meet the Team

Brian Herington, Senior Vice President and Chief Commercial Officer, Univar Solutions

With the pending close of the Univar-Nexeo transaction, I wanted to further introduce one of the most important additions to my leadership team. As it was announced, Brian will serve as the Chief Commercial Officer of our newly combined company, Univar Solutions.

Brian currently serves as Executive Vice President of Chemicals at Nexeo Solutions and brings nearly 30 years of Industrial and Commercial experience leading complex, technology-driven businesses both regionally and globally.

His experience includes international assignments in the Netherlands and Brazil, which helped shape an in-depth business acumen that includes a unique understanding of global market structures.

Prior to joining Nexeo Solutions Brian served in leadership roles of increasing responsibility at respected organisations such as ABB, Sun Capital, SABIC, GE and BP Amoco. This prepared Brian well for Nexeo Solutions as during his tenure he built a robust go-to-market strategy that changed the trajectory of the Chemicals business to deliver consistent double digit growth.

Beyond his career accomplishments, Brian is a tireless leader who embodies our cultural values and embraces a collaborative and teamwork oriented environment. His positive attitude towards all aspects of life is contagious, which makes Brian a steady force in a business of constant change.

I encourage you to reach out to Brian and get to know him better as he is someone who always brings a new idea to the conversation. I am looking forward to Day One where I can officially welcome Brian to the team as we kick-off a new day and introduce Univar Solutions.
