Item 8.01 Other Events.

On February 1, 2012, ViaSat, Inc. and ViaSat Communications, Inc. (formerly known as WildBlue Communications, Inc.) (collectively, "ViaSat") filed a complaint in the United States District Court for the Southern District of California against Space Systems/Loral, Inc. ("SS/L"). The complaint alleges, among other things, that SS/L infringed certain ViaSat patents and that SS/L breached non-disclosure obligations in certain contracts with ViaSat in connection with the manufacture of satellites by SS/L for customers other than ViaSat. The complaint seeks, among other things, damages (including treble damages with respect to the patent infringement claims) in amounts to be determined at trial and to enjoin SS/L from further infringement of the ViaSat patents and breach of contract.

SS/L and ViaSat have agreed to engage in discussions to resolve the matter and to defer further proceedings in the lawsuit pending the outcome of such discussions.

If the parties are not able to resolve this matter through discussions, SS/L believes that it has meritorious defenses and counterclaims to ViaSat's claims. SS/L believes that its conduct was consistent with, and in due regard for, any applicable and valid intellectual property rights of ViaSat. Although no assurance can be provided, SS/L does not expect that this matter will have a material adverse effect on its financial position or results of operations.
