Business Review and Prospects

Business Review

In 2014, the global economic recovery remained weak, and China's GDP grew by 7.4%. The Company, focusing on growth quality and efficiency, further deepened reforms, transformed its growth model and strengthened its management. Through intensified analysis and forecasting of macroeconomy and market trends, we actively responded to the significant change of international crude oil prices while expediting structural adjustments, expanding our markets and enhancing fine management and cost controls. All of these efforts contributed to stable operations of the Company.

6.1

Market Review

(1)

Crude oil and natural gas

In 2014, international crude oil prices fluctuated at a high level in the first half of the year and plunged in the second half, with a precipitous drop in the fourth quarter. The average spot price of Platts Brent for the year was USD 99.45 per barrel, 8.5% lower than the previous year. China's demand for natural gas continued to increase in 2014. Chinese Government made further adjustments to the price of existing supplies of non-residential natural gas, thus gradually aligning domestic gas prices with those of alternative energy sources.

Oil products market

In 2014, Chinese government timely adjusted domestic oil product prices in response to changes in international crude oil prices. In the second half of 2014, domestic oil product prices experienced 11 consecutive cuts as international crude prices plummeted. Affected by slowing economic growth, domestic demand for oil products grew at a lower rate, with diesel demand decreased despite a continued increase in gasoline demand. Statistics show that domestic apparent consumption of oil products (including gasoline, diesel and kerosene) was 269 million tonnes in 2014, up by 2.0% from the previous year.

(3)

Chemicals

In 2014, chemical prices declined continuously. The second half of the year saw a bigger decrease in feedstock costs than in chemical prices, thus improving chemical margins. According to the Company's statistics, domestic apparent consumption of synthetic resin and synthetic fiber rose by 8.7% and 7.0%, respectively, from the previous year, while apparent consumption of synthetic rubber fell by 1.9% and that of ethylene equivalent grew by 4.9%.

Operations Review

Exploration and production

In 2014, driven by management and technology innovation, we implemented exploration and development programs efficiently and made a number of new findings, some of which are commercial discoveries. With 106.75 billion cubic meters of reserves added to the Fuling shale gas project, China's first sizable shale gas field came into being. In 2014, newly added proved oil and gas reserves amounted to 431 million barrels. In crude oil development, we focused on improvements to economics through optimal development of new blocks, further development of mature fields and enhancing recovery rates continuously. In natural gas development, we accelerated the capacity construction of major projects, strengthened management of the Puguang gas field and other mature fields, adjusted marketing strategies, expanded sales volume and achieved better economic returns. In shale gas development, the Fuling project's Phase I construction, with capacity of 5 billion cubic meters per year, progressed smoothly, and daily output of all producing wells exceeded design targets, laying a good foundation for future development. In 2014, production of oil & gas rose by 8.4% to 480.22 million barrels of oil equivalent, among which domestic crude oil production remained flat, while overseas production increased significantly as a result of overseas acquisition at the end of 2013. Natural gas production rose by 8.5% to 716.4 billion cubic feet. Average unit all-in-cost has been well under control.

Refining

In 2014, the Company adjusted its product mix in response to the market, increasing production of oil products and high-value-added products for which demand was strong, such as gasoline (especially high-octane gasoline) and jet fuel, further decreasing the diesel to gasoline ratio. We accelerated the quality upgrade of oil products, increasing production of GB IV automotive diesel, with some regions gasoline and diesel upgraded to GB V standard. We effectively controlled costs through improvements in resource allocation, optimising selection of oil to be processed, as well as inventory management. Through tapping our well established advantages in specialisation, margins of lubricants, liquefied petroleum gas (LPG) and asphalt further improved, delivering good economic returns. In 2014, we processed 235 million tonnes of crude oil, up by 1.5% from the previous year, and produced 146 million tonnes of refined oil products, up by 4.2%.

Marketing and distribution

In 2014, the Company initiated business restructuring in the marketing segment and has launched mixed-ownership reform by introducing private capital. Sinopec Corp. entered into capital injection agreement with 25 investors, established a mechanism aiming to transform the segment into a market orientated business through joint efforts with private investors. The initiative laid the foundations for further reform on the operational systems and mechanisms of our marketing business with the aim of development through innovations.

In 2014, in light of the slower growth of domestic demand for oil products and the particularly weak demand for diesel, we adjusted our marketing strategies, enhancing marketing efforts on high-octane gasoline and jet fuel to increase total sales volume. We expanded our retail volume by using our network and brand advantages, enhancing customer service at service stations. At the same time, we further developed our non-fuel businesses, improved the customer experience and provided one-stop services through our online fuel-card services and self-service mobile apps and equipment. Non-fuel business transaction increased by 28% over 2013 to RMB 17.1 billion. In 2014, total sales volume of refined oil products was 189 million tonnes, up by 5.1% from the previous year, with domestic sales rising by 3.4% to 171 million tonnes and retail rising by 3.6%.

Chemicals

In 2014, confronted by severe market conditions that saw prices of chemicals remaining at anemic levels, the Company cut its feedstock costs by increasing the light feedstock ratio, adjusted its product mix and intensified efforts in R&D, production, and sales of new products. Sales of new polyolefin products and specialty materials accounted for 57.4% of total sales, and high-value-added rubber accounted for 17.4%. The synthetic fiber differentiation rate was 76.7%. In addition, we optimised operations of our manufacturing facilities, adjusted utilisation rates, and shut down facilities with unsatisfactory marginal costs. Ethylene output was up by 7.2% from 2013 to 10.7 million tonnes. Meanwhile, by keeping inventories at low levels and implementing a differentiated marketing strategy, our full-year chemical sales volume increased by 4.4% to 60.79 million tonnes, with all manufactured chemicals sold.

Research and development

In 2014, the Company fully tapped the functions of research and development in supporting and leading its business operations, stepping up its R&D efforts with remarkable results. In upstream, we successfully completed the well pad drilling test for shale gas development, achieving substantial improvements in efficiency of construction. We developed offshore well safety control technologies to enhance the safety and efficiency of production in offshore oilfields. (8) Oil & gas reserve appraisal principles

We manage our reserves estimation through a two-tier management system. Our Oil and Natural Gas Reserves Management Committee, or the RMC, at our headquarters level oversees the overall reserves estimation process and reviews the reserves estimation of our company. Each of our Branches has a reserves management committee that manages the reserves estimation process and reviews the reserves estimation report at the branches level.

Our RMC is chaired by Mr. Wang Zhigang, one of our senior vice presidents, and is co-led by our deputy chief geologist and our director general of our exploration and production segment. Mr. Wang holds a Ph.D. degree in geology from Geology and Geo-physics Research Institute of the China Academy of Science and has over 30 years of experience in oil and gas industry. Our RMC also consists of 31 other members who are senior management members in charge of exploration and development activities at production bureau level. A majority of our RMC members hold doctor's or master's degrees and our RMC members have an average of 20 years of technical experience in relevant industry fields, such as geology, engineering and economics.

Our reserves estimation is guided by procedural manuals and technical guidance. Initial collection and compilation of reserves information are conducted by different working divisions, including exploration, development, financial and legal divisions, at production bureau level. Exploration and development divisions collectively prepare the initial report on reserves estimation. Together with technical experts, reserves management committees at subsidiary level then review to ensure the qualitative and quantitative compliance with technical guidance and accuracy and reasonableness of the reserves estimation. The RMC is primarily responsible for the management and coordination of the reserves estimation process, review and approval of annual changes and results in reserves estimation and disclosure of our proved reserves. We also engage outside consultants who assist us to be in compliance with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission rules and regulations. Our reserves estimation process is further facilitated by a specialised reserves database which is improved and updated periodically.

Business Prospects

Market analysis

The 2015 world economy is expected to continue its slow recovery while China's economy will enter a New Normal state of slower growth. The international crude oil price is projected to remain anaemic. Domestic demand for refined oil products is to grow steadily with product mix further adjusted, quality gradually upgraded. Domestic demand for major chemicals is to grow step by step.

Operations

In 2015, the Company will focus on improving the quality and efficiency of growth while deepening reforms, transforming its development model, and implementing rigorous management programs. We will put more emphasis on restructuring, resource optimisation, innovation and risk control. Key measures are as follows:

Exploration and production: In response to low oil prices, the Company will integrate reserves, production, investment, costs and earnings and will seek to optimise its exploration activities, lower its development costs, and increase commercial yields for oil and gas. In exploration, we will focus on making commercial discoveries, exploiting reserve potential in frontier areas and other key promising regions, and improving the success rate of exploration. In development, we will select projects and production targets based on oil price level. We will also further develop mature fields and put technologies that significantly enhance recovery into wide operation. In addition, we will facilitate development of shale gas to fast-track shale gas projects and expedite capacity-building projects for natural gas. In 2015, we plan to produce 300 million barrels of crude oil in China, 48 million barrels from our oversea assets, and 886.3 billion cubic feet of natural gas.

Refining: The Company will optimise crude procurement and resource allocation to reduce costs, take better advantage of our economies of scale to control unit costs, and upgrade oil product quality to increase the supply of clean fuels. We will also strengthen the integration of production and sales, adjust our product slate and utilisation rates, and increase the output of higher-value-added products which are well received by market. In addition, we will seek to unlock the potential value of specialisation, improve our sales networks, and enhance the marketing of lubricants, LPG, asphalt and other products. In 2015, we plan to refine 243 million tonnes of crude oil and produce 152 million tonnes of oil products.

Marketing and distribution: The Company will proactively explore to innovate on operational systems and mechanisms with an aim to transform Sinopec from an oil products supplier into an integrated services provider. To ensure maximum profits, the Company will improve its market analysis based on fundamental changes in the market and operate with low inventory levels to mitigate risks and facilitate adjustments to its marketing structure. We will expand our retail sales volume and increase per station pumped volume. We will accelerate the planning and construction of our oil product pipelines to optimise our marketing network, carry out differentiated marketing strategies and increase customer loyalty by providing tailor-made services. We will also develop our non-fuel businesses on the basis of specialisation and market orientation to increase both scale and profits of the business. In 2015, we plan to sell 173 million tonnes of oil products in the domestic market.

Chemicals: The Company will further adjust its feedstock structure, lower feedstock costs, accelerate improvements in its product mix, and strengthen the integration of manufacturing, marketing and R&D. We will increase the production of higher-value-added products which are well received by markets, enhance the development, production and promotion of new products, fine-tune facilities operations and utilisation rates according to profit margins, take advantage of our strengths in marketing network and improve our sales performance. In 2015, we plan to produce 10.9 million tonnes of ethylene.

R&D: We will continue to implement the strategies of development driven by innovations. Areas of focus for R&D include shale oil and gas exploration and development, oil and gas recovery enhancement technologies aiming to increase production and reserve, biofuels, heavy oil refining, clean fuels for quality upgrading, new catalytic materials, high-performance synthetic chemicals and fine chemicals to promote restructuring of product mix. In addition, we will develop and apply technologies that are greener and less carbon-intensive, thus conserving energy while preserving the environment. We will continue to emphasise fundamental and forward-looking R&D activities to improve the Company's innovation for the purpose of supporting and driving its transformative growth.

Capital expenditures: In 2015, the Company will look to improve its project portfolio and investment plan based on market conditions. Our capital expenditure budget for the year is RMB 135.9 billion, of which exploration and production segment accounts for RMB 68.2 billion, mainly for Fuling shale gas project construction, exploration and development projects in Shengli oilfield, Sichuan Basin, Tahe oilfield, Junggar Basin, and Ordos Basin as well as Guangxi and Tianjin LNG projects; gas pipelines; and overseas projects. Refining segment accounts for expenditures of RMB 24.0 billion, mainly for revamping Qilu and Jiujiang refineries, as well as product quality projects such as gasoline adsorbent desulfurization and diesel hydrogenation. Marketing and distribution segment accounts for expenditures of RMB 22.6 billion, mainly for revamping service stations, constructing the product pipeline networks, optimising the distribution of tank farms, and improving facilities for service stations and non-fuel businesses to develop integrated service with an aim to support new businesses. Chemicals segment accounts for expenditures of RMB 15.1 billion, mainly for the Jinling propylene oxide and LPG utilisation projects and the Hainan PX phase II project. Corporate and others segment accounts for expenditures of RMB 6.0 billion, mainly for R&D facilities and IT projects.

In 2015, the Company will proactively adapt to the “new normal” situation of macroeconomy, building up new drivers for development, continuously improving its overall strength and competitiveness in the global arena, as well as capabilities to maintain sustainable growth and striving to achieve remarkable results.

Risk Factors

In the course of its production and operations, Sinopec Corp. will actively take various measures to circumvent operational risks. However, in practice, it may not be possible to prevent the occurrence of all risks and uncertainties below.

Risks with regard to the variations from macroeconomic situation: The business results of the Company are closely related to China's and global economic situation. Although, China's economic growth has entered the new normal, and the various countries have adopted different kinds of macroeconomic policies to eliminate negative effects caused by lower economic growth, the strength and process of economic recovery still remains uncertain. The business of the Company may be adversely affected by such factors as the impact on export due to trade protectionism of some countries, impact on import which is likely caused by regional trade agreements and etc.

Risks with regard to the cyclical effects from the industry: The majority of the operational income of the Company comes from the sales of refined oil products and petrochemical products, and part of the business and their related products are cyclic and are sensitive to macro-economy, cyclic changes of regional and global economy, the changes of the production capacity and output, demand of consumers, prices and supply of the raw materials, as well as prices and supply of the alternative products etc. Although the Company is an integrated company with the integration of upstream, midstream and downstream businesses, it can only counteract the adverse influences of periodicity of the industry to some extent.

Risks from the macroeconomic policies and government regulation: Although the government of China is gradually liberalising the market entry regulations on petroleum and petrochemicals sector, the petroleum and petrochemical industries in China are still subject to entry regulations to a certain degree, which include: issuing licenses in relation to prospection, exploration and development of crude oil and natural gas, setting the upper limit for retail prices of gasoline, diesel and other oil products, the imposing of the special oil income levy, formulation of import and export quotas and procedures, formulation of safety, quality and environmental protection standards; meanwhile, the changes in macroeconomic and industry policies such as: the change of crude oil and refined products import policy, and admit private assets into the oil and gas exploration and development sector, further improvement in pricing mechanism of refined oil products, reforming and improvement in pricing mechanism of natural gas, and reforming in resource tax and environmental tax. Such regulations may have material effect on the operations and profitability of the Company.

Risks with regard to the changes from environmental legislation requirements: Our production activities generate waste water, gases and solids. But the Company has built up the supporting effluent treatment systems to prevent and reduce the pollution to the environment. And the relevant government authorities may issue and implement much stricter environmental protection laws and regulations, adopt much stricter environment protection standards. For this reason, the Company may increase more expenses in relation to the environment protection accordingly.

Risks from the uncertainties of obtaining additional oil and gas resources: The future sustainable development of the Company is partly dependent to a certain extent on our abilities in continuously discovering or acquiring additional oil and natural gas resources. To obtain additional oil and natural gas resources, the Company faces some inherent risks associated with exploration and development and/or with acquiring activities, and the Company has to invest a large amount of money with no guarantee of certainty. The proved reserves are subject to crude oil and gas prices fluctuation. If the Company fails to acquire additional resources though further exploration, development and acquisition or crude oil and gas prices fell sharply, the oil and natural gas reserves and production of the Company will decline over time which will adversely affect the Company's financial situation and operation performance.

Risks with regard to the external purchase of crude oil: A significant amount of crude oil as need by the Company is satisfied through the external purchases. In recent years, especially influenced by the mismatch between supply and demand of crude oil, geopolitics, global economic growth and other factors, the crude oil prices are subject to a significant fluctuation. Additionally, the supply of crude oil may even be interrupted due to some extreme major incidents. Although the Company has taken flexible counter measures, it may not fully avoid risks associated with any significant fluctuation of international crude oil prices and disruption of supply of crude oil.

Risks with regard to the operation and natural disasters: The process of petroleum chemical production is exposed to the risks of inflammation, explosion and environmental pollution and is vulnerable to natural disasters. Such contingencies may cause serious impacts to the society, major financial losses to the Company and grievous injuries to people. The Company has always been paying great emphasis on the safety of production, and has implemented a strict HSE management system as an effort to avoid such risks as far as possible. Meanwhile, the main assets and inventories of the Company have been insured. However, such measures may not shield the Company from financial losses or adverse impact resulting from such contingencies.

Investment risks: Petroleum and chemical sector is a capital intensive industry. Although the Company adopted a prudent investment strategy and conducted rigorous feasibility study on each investment project, some certain investment risks may exist in the sense that expected returns may not be achieved due to major changes in factors such as market environment, prices of equipment and raw materials, and construction period during the implementation of the projects.

Currency risks: At present, China implements an administered floating exchange rate regime based on market supply and demand which is regulated with reference to a basket of currencies in terms of the exchange rate of RMB. As the Company purchases a significant portion of crude oil in foreign currency which is based on US dollar-denominated prices and the company had issued some foreign currency bonds, fluctuations in the exchange rate of Renminbi against US dollars and certain other foreign currencies may affect the Company's purchasing costs of crude oil and the cost of foreign currency bond redemption.
