PART III – NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail the reasons why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, 10-D, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period. (Attach extra sheets if needed.)

CSP Inc. was unable, without unreasonable effort or expense, to file its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2016 (the “Q3 Quarterly Report”) by the August 15 filing date due to a delay we experienced in completing our financial statements. Late in the closing process for the quarter, the Company became aware of two errors as a result of management’s review of our German subsidiary’s balance sheet reconciliations. First, management’s investigation determined that the net debit balance in the subsidiary’s deferred revenue account had been erroneously reclassified to accounts receivable. Instead, we should have reclassified gross debits in the deferred revenue account to accounts receivable. Second, certain accounts receivable entries were booked in error to work-in-process inventory.

Resolving this matter required investigation of the supporting documentation and additional work and analysis to assure that the accounts are correct. We expect to file the Q3 Quarterly Report on or before August 22, 2016, which is within the time period prescribed by Rule 12b-25. We expect that this work will affect our balance sheet only, not our income statement.
