QUESTAR CORPORATION
PROXY STATEMENT

May 20, 2003

The Board of Directors of Questar Corporation is soliciting proxies from its stockholders to be used at the Annual Meeting on Tuesday, May 20, 2003. This proxy statement contains information related to the Annual Meeting. At the Annual Meeting, holders of common stock will elect four directors of the Company for three-year terms that expire in May of 2006. Information concerning the Annual Meeting and solicitation of proxies for it is presented in a question and answer format.

Q: What am I voting on?

A: You can cast your votes to elect four nominees to serve new three-year terms. The nominees for new three-year terms are four incumbent directors: W. Whitley Hawkins, Robert E. Kadlec, Keith O. Rattie, and Harris H. Simmons.

Q: Who can vote?

A: Stockholders who owned shares as of the close of business on March 24, 2003. Each holder is entitled to one vote for each share held on such date.

Q: How do I vote?

A: Sign and date each proxy card you receive and return it in the enclosed prepaid envelope. If you return your signed proxy card, but do not indicate how you want to vote, your shares will be voted for the named nominees. You have the right to revoke your proxy by notifying the Company's Corporate Secretary prior to the meeting, by returning a later dated proxy, or by voting in person at the Annual Meeting.

If you own shares through a broker or other nominee, you must return your proxy card to the broker. Your votes cannot be counted if you send the proxy directly to the Company.

Q: What does it mean if I get more than one proxy card?

A: It means that you hold shares registered in more than one account. Sign and return all proxies to make sure that all your votes are counted, but consider consolidating your accounts to minimize the administrative cost of sending materials to you.

Q: Who is soliciting my proxy?

A: Questar's Board of Directors.

Q: Who is paying for the solicitation?

A: The Company is paying for the solicitation of proxies and will reimburse banks, brokers, and other custodians for reasonable charges to forward proxy materials to beneficial holders.

Q: What constitutes a quorum?

A: On March 24, 2003, the Company had 82,450,260 shares of common stock. A majority of the shares, or 41,225,131 shares, constitutes a quorum. Once a quorum is present, the nominees will be elected upon receiving a plurality of the shares represented at the meeting. The Company's Bylaws provide that votes "withheld" from nominees will not be counted for purposes of determining whether a nominee receives a plurality of votes. Shares registered in the names of brokers for which proxies are voted for some but not all matters will be considered as voted only as to those matters actually voted. Abstentions, broker nonvotes, and instructions to withhold authority to vote for one or more of the nominees will result in such nominees receiving fewer votes. Such action, however, will not reduce the number of votes otherwise received by the nominee.

Q: Who can attend the Annual Meeting?

A: Any stockholder of record as of March 24, 2003, can attend. If you own shares through a nominee or trustee, please obtain a letter, account statement, or other evidence of your ownership of shares as of such date.

Q: How will my vote be handled on other matters?

A: Questar's Bylaws limit the matters presented at an Annual Meeting to those in the notice, those properly presented by the Board of Directors and those presented by stockholders so long as the stockholder gives the Corporate Secretary written notice of the matter at least 90 days but not more than 120 days before the meeting. We do not expect any other matter to come before the meeting. If any other matter is presented at the Annual Meeting, your signed proxy gives the named proxies authority to vote your shares. (See "Other Matters" on page 19 for a detailed discussion of the Company's Bylaw requirements.)

Q: When are stockholder proposals due for the next Annual Meeting?

A: To be considered for presentation at the Company's Annual Meeting scheduled for May of 2004 and included in the proxy statement, a stockholder proposal must be received at the Company's office no later than December 8, 2003.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

The Company's Restated Articles of Incorporation provide for a board of 13 directors, divided into three classes, approximately equal in number, elected to serve three-year terms.

The Board of Directors has selected W. Whitley Hawkins, Robert E. Kadlec, Keith O. Rattie, and Harris H. Simmons as the nominees for election to three-year terms that expire in May of 2006. Unless you give other instructions for your shares, the proxies will be voted for the nominees.

As retired employees, Messrs. Cash and Nordloh received bonus payments for 2002 in cash only. Dividends are paid on the restricted shares at the same rate dividends are paid on other outstanding shares of the Company's common stock. As of December 31, 2002, the officers named above owned the following shares of restricted stock: Mr. Rattie, 18,086 shares worth $503,152; Mr. Rose, 4,244 shares worth $118,068; Mr. Stanley, 21,000 shares worth $584,220; and Mr. Parks, 2,491 shares worth $69,549.

The 2000 options reflected a one-time decision to grant options that were approximately 150 percent of original recommendations.

The Company paid specified relocation and moving expenses for Mr. Stanley during 2002. It also entered into a three-year "loan" with him dated January 31, 2002, that is forgiven in three annual installments through completion of service.

The following table lists information concerning the stock options that were granted to the Company's named executive officers during 2002 under the Company's Long-term Stock Incentive Plan. Mr. Stanley was granted a special option to purchase 100,000 shares of stock on his appointment. No stock appreciation rights (SARs) were granted during 2002; none have been granted under the Plan.

These stock options vest in four annual, equal installments, with the first installment exercisable as of July 31, 2002 (Mr. Stanley's special option) and August 11, 2002 (all other options). Participants can use cash or previously-owned shares as consideration for option shares. Options expire when a participant terminates his employment, unless termination is caused by an approved retirement, death, or disability. Options can be exercised within 12 months following a participant's death or disability. Options may be exercised after retirement for terms specified in the terms of the individual option agreements.

When calculating the present value of options as of the dates granted (January 31, 2002 and February 11, 2002); the Company used the Black-Scholes option pricing model. The Company assumed a volatility of 30.5 percent, a risk-free interest rate of 4.98 percent, a dividend yield of 3.14 percent, and an average life of 7.30 years.

The 2002 options granted to Messrs. Cash and Nordloh beneficially vested on an accelerated basis on August 11, 2002 and November 1, 2002, respectively. The expiration date for such options is seven years after retirement.

The following table lists information concerning the stock options that were exercised by the named executive officers during 2002 and the total options and their value held by each at year-end 2002.

The "value" is calculated by subtracting the fair market value of the shares purchased on the date of exercise minus the option price. This table does not reflect any taxes paid by the named executives as a result of exercising options or selling all or any portion of the shares obtained as a result of exercising options. The current value of the shares may be higher or lower than the aggregate value reported in the table.

Retirement Plans

The Company maintains a noncontributory retirement plan that is funded actuarially and does not involve specific contributions for any one individual. The following table lists the estimated annual benefits payable on a straight line annuity basis under the Company's Retirement Plan as of December 31, 2002, and, if necessary, the Company's Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (SERP). The benefits shown are based on earnings and years of service for an employee reaching normal retirement age of 65 in 2002, do not include Social Security benefits, and reflect a 50 percent surviving spouse benefit. Benefits under the Retirement Plan are not reduced or offset by Social Security benefits, although participants who retire prior to age 62 do receive a temporary supplement until reaching age 62.

700,000	195,950	261,267	326,583	344,083	361,583

The Company's Retirement Plan has a "step rate/excess" benefit formula. The formula provides for a basic benefit that is calculated by multiplying the employee's final average earnings by a specified basic benefit factor and by subsequently multiplying such sum by the employee's years of service (to a maximum of 25). This basic benefit is increased for each year of service in excess of 25 and is reduced for retirement prior to age 62. Employees also receive a permanent supplemental benefit that is calculated by multiplying the difference between the employee's final average earnings and his "covered compensation" by a supplemental factor that varies by age. (The term "covered compensation" refers to the 35-year average Social Security wage base tied to year of an employee's birth.) Employees who retire prior to age 62 also receive a temporary supplement that is tied to years of service until they are eligible to receive Social Security benefits at age 62.

Federal tax laws impose limits on the amount of a participant's annual compensation that can be used when calculating benefits under qualified plans and on the amount of benefits that can be paid to a participant from such plans. The SERP, a nonqualified plan, was adopted in 1987 to compensate officers who are affected by these limits. It provides retirement benefits equal to the difference between the benefits payable under the qualified Retirement Plan and the benefits that would be payable absent such limits. The SERP also permits participants to make advance elections to receive lump-sum payments. With the exception of Messrs. Rattie and Stanley, all of the officers listed in the table have vested benefits under the SERP; all of the listed officers earn annual compensation in excess of the current cap of $200,000.

Information concerning compensation, final average earnings, and years of service as of December 31, 2002, for the four active employees is shown below:

Name	2002 Retirement Benefit Compensation	Final Average Earnings	Year of Service
K. O. Rattie	815,576	622,629	2.0
D. N. Rose	496,780	421,843	34.0
C. B. Stanley	270,642	270,642	1.0
S. E. Parks	325,376	268,755	28.4

Each officer's 2002 compensation for purpose of the Company's retirement plans is different than shown on the table because the former includes cash payments when made, not when earned; the value of restricted stock when distributed, not granted; and includes dividends paid on shares of restricted stock.

Consulting Contracts

Mr. Cash has a consulting contract that became effective May 1, 2002. In return for an annual fee of $200,000 payable in monthly installments, Mr. Cash furnishes advisory services on such matters as investor relations activities, charitable contributions, and employee benefits. His contract extends through his service as Chairman of the Board.

The Company entered into a one-year consulting contract with Mr. Nordloh upon his retirement as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Company's Market Resources unit. In return for an annual fee of $120,000 payable in monthly installments, Mr. Nordloh agreed to advise Mr. Stanley on any matters relating to the unit and to refrain from competing with the Company's areas of interest.

Employment Contracts

Messrs. Rattie and Stanley each have three-year employment agreements with the Company. Pursuant to the terms of his agreement, which was effective February 1, 2001, Mr. Rattie was given a special option to purchase 100,000 shares, a one-time grant of 21,000 shares of restricted stock, and a relocation allowance of $50,000. Other contractual commitments included consideration for the position of Chief Executive Officer, payment of a specified salary and benefits if terminated within the duration of the contract, and a 30-day period of time following termination within the contract period in which to exercise vested stock options.

Pursuant to the terms of the Company's agreement with Mr. Stanley, which became effective January 31, 2002, he was given a special option to purchase 100,000 shares, a one-time grant of 21,000 shares of restricted stock, and a cash loan of $140,000 for relocation expenses and forfeiture of bonuses earned with his predecessor employer. Any loan payments are forgiven on an annual basis with Mr. Stanley's service. The Company also agreed to make up the tax impact of imputed interest charged in conjunction with the loan. Other contractual commitments included consideration for the position of Chief Executive Officer of the Market Resources unit and a position on the Board of Directors if named Chief Executive Officer, payment of specified salary and benefits upon termination within the duration of the contract, and a 30-day period of time following termination within the contract period in which to exercise vested stock options.

Executive Severance Compensation Plan

The Company has an Executive Severance Compensation Plan that covers the Company's executive officers and all other officers of the Company and its affiliated companies. Under this plan, participants, following a change in control of the Company, are eligible to receive compensation equal to up to two years' salary, cash bonuses, and miscellaneous benefits upon a termination of their employment (as defined in the plan).

The dollar amounts payable to the Company's executive officers (based on current salaries paid by the Company and its affiliates) in the event of a change in control of the Company are as follows: $1,020,000 to Mr. Rattie; $686,000 to Mr. Rose; $630,000 to Mr. Stanley; and $520,000 to Mr. Parks. The Company's executive officers would also receive cash bonuses, supplemental retirement benefits, and welfare plan benefits. As retired officers, Messrs. Cash and Nordloh do not participate in the Company's Executive Severance Compensation Plan.

Under the plan, a "change in control" is defined to include any change in control required to be reported under Item 6(e) of Schedule A of Regulation 14A of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. A change in control is also deemed to occur once any acquiring person becomes the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of securities representing 25 percent or more of the Company's outstanding shares of common stock.

CUMULATIVE TOTAL SHAREHOLDER RETURN

The following graph compares the cumulative total return of the Company's common stock with the cumulative total returns of a group of diversified natural gas companies published by Value Line, Inc., which is a peer group of six diversified natural gas companies selected by the Company, and the S&P Composite-500 Stock Index. The Company believes performance of the six peer company group to be a better benchmark of performance due to the higher concentration of commodity price exposure, relative size, and business mix of such companies. (The six peer companies are Energen Corporation; Equitable Resources, Inc.; Kinder Morgan, Inc.; National Fuel Gas Company; ONEOK, Inc.; and Southwestern Energy Company.)

	1997	1998	1999	2000	2001	2002
Questar	100.00	89.85	72.16	149.70	128.21	146.54
Six Peers	100.00	85.85	82.35	167.02	160.92	143.72
S&P 500	100.00	128.58	155.64	141.47	124.66	97.11

The graph assumes $100 is invested at the close of trading on December 31, 1997 in the Company's common stock, the equities of peer companies, and the S&P 500 Index. It also assumes all dividends are reinvested. For 2002, the Company had a return of 14.3 compared to a return of -11.0 percent for the Questar peer group, and a return of -22.1 percent for the S&P Index. For the five-year period, the Company had a compound annual return of 7.9 percent compared to returns of 7.4 percent for the Questar peer group and -0.6 percent for the S&P 500 Index.

COMMITTEE REPORT ON EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

The Management Performance Committee (Committee) is a Committee of outside directors that is chaired by Patrick J. Early. Our other members include Teresa Beck, James A. Harmon, W. Whitley Hawkins, Robert E. Kadlec, and Gary G. Michael. We review and approve all elements of the total compensation program for officers of the Company and administer the Company's Long-term Stock Incentive Plan. We monitor the Company's executive compensation programs to verify that they are aligned with the Company's business strategies and financial goals. We believe that such programs motivate the Company's officers to acquire and retain appropriate levels of stock ownership and are competitive with programs offered by the Company's peers. We determined that the total compensation earned by the Company's officers in 2002 achieved these objectives and is fair and reasonable.

Each year, we review the performance of the Company on a consolidated basis and the performance of the Company's major lines of business and compare such performance to specified groups of peer companies.

We also assess the individual performance of officers, particularly the performance of Keith O. Rattie and the other named executive officers listed in the Summary Compensation Table. We periodically direct outside consultants to perform an in-depth audit and analysis of the total compensation paid to the Company's officers.

The Company's total compensation program for officers includes base salaries, annual bonuses, and stock options. The total program is designed to attract, motivate, reward and retain the broad-based management talent required to achieve corporate objectives and increase shareholder value. Each of these components of the total program is discussed in greater detail below.

Base Salaries

We review base salaries for the Company's officers on an annual basis. Such salaries are generally pegged at or near the 50th percentile or market average of survey data. We have historically awarded salary increases to Mr. Rattie and other officers based on an assessment of each officer's comparison with survey data, responsibilities, experience and performance. The salaries earned by the named executive officers during 2002 are listed in the table shown on page 11.

Annual Bonuses

All Company officers, but particularly the highest paid officers shown in the table, have a significant portion of their total compensation at risk. Annual bonuses are directly linked to key financial and operating objectives for the major business units and for the Company on a consolidated basis. Each year, we review and approve annual specified performance objectives. Performance objectives are both financial (e.g., net income, return on equity, total shareholder return) and efficiency objectives (e.g., customer service rating, safety performance, finding costs, operating and maintenance costs). The performance objectives are set after we review actual results for the prior year and budgeted results for the year in question and are generally higher than actual results for the prior year and expectations for the current year.

An overall performance factor is multiplied by each officer's target bonus to determine his earned bonus. Each officer's target bonus is a percentage of his base salary in effect at the time the target bonus is approved. We also determine the allocation of each officer's target bonus between business unit results and consolidated results. Two-thirds of each officer's earned bonus is paid in cash; the remainder is paid in shares of restricted stock that vest approximately a year after being granted. Messrs. Nordloh (prior to his retirement) and Stanley also participate in general employee compensation plans adopted for the Market Resources unit.

Stock Options

Annual grants of stock options are awarded to the Company's officers and key employees as part of their "risk-based" compensation. As a general rule, we use the prior year's grant as the basis for determining each subsequent year's grant for the named executive officers, but we do change the size of grants when participants are promoted to new positions or when surveys indicate that stock options should be adjusted. These grants are awarded pursuant to the terms of an omnibus Long-term Stock Incentive Plan, which allows us broad flexibility to use a wide range of stock-based performance awards.

Stock options, from our perspective, focus attention on managing the Company from a long-term investor's perspective and encourage officers to have a significant, personal investment in the Company through stock ownership. Stock options awarded to officers and key employees become valuable only as the Company's performance is reflected in increased stock prices. Stock options constitute the Company's only long-term incentive compensation program. Officers are encouraged to retain their stock for long-term investment, rather than sell option shares after purchasing them.

We have established stock ownership guidelines for officers. (Phantom stock units attributable to an officer's deferred compensation are included.) All of the officers named in the Summary Compensation Table satisfy these guidelines, which constitute a multiple of their base salaries.

Information concerning the stock options granted to the Company's highest ranking executive officers in 2002 is included in the table labeled "Option/Grants in Last Fiscal Year." The table labeled "Option Exercises" provides information concerning the value realized by the individual members of the group when exercising stock options in 2001 and the year-end value of their remaining stock options.

Specific Compensation Decisions

We believe that the bonuses paid to the Company's officers for 2002 performance reflect the success achieved by the Company during a difficult and volatile environment. We were particularly pleased that the Company improved its total shareholder return comparison and decreased its debt as an overall percentage of capital, which were two of the consolidated goals. The Company met its minimum net income goal, even as its overall performance was negatively affected by lower than expected prices for natural gas volumes and as it was required to take a first-quarter writedown to reflect the new accounting principle for goodwill.

We recommended that Mr. Rattie be named to the position of Chief Executive Officer effective May 1, 2002, at a base salary of $460,000, and we recommended his salary be increased to $510,000 effective March 1, 2003. We granted him an option to purchase 150,000 shares in February of 2003 and 30,000 shares of restricted stock that will begin to vest after three years. We also increased his target bonus to 75 percent of his pre-March 1, 2003, base salary or $345,000.

We determined to change some of the specific performance goals and such weightings for goals but we continued to emphasize a combination of financial and operating goals.

Miscellaneous

We support the Company's historic philosophy that officers are not fundamentally different than employees, but are paid more due to the nature of their responsibilities, their experience, and the greater demands on their time. Consequently, we support the Company's traditional practice of limiting the perquisites granted to officers. Company officers do not have first-class travel privileges, cars, country club memberships, supplemental welfare benefit plans, executive dining room service, or personal use of the Company's airplane.

Federal tax law precludes the Company from deducting compensation paid in excess of $1 million per year to any named executive officer. Performance-based compensation, however, is not subject to this deductibility limit. Awards under the Company's Long-term Stock Incentive Plan qualify for performance-based compensation. Consequently, the Company can continue to take a deduction for any ordinary income recognized by officers when exercising nonqualified stock options. The Company's cash bonus plans do not qualify as performance-based plans.

Audit Fees

The following table presents fees for the audit of the Company's annual consolidated financial statements for 2002 and for other services provided by Ernst & Young:

Audit Fees	$ 406,827

AUDIT COMMITTEE REPORT

Our Committee has reviewed and discussed the Company's audited financial statements for the year ended December 31, 2002. We have also discussed with Ernst & Young, the Company's independent auditing firm, the matters required by Codification of Statements on Auditing Standards No. 61.

We have also received the written disclosures and the letter from Ernst & Young required by Independence Standards Board Statement No. 1, and we have discussed with representatives of Ernst & Young its independence from the Company. We have considered whether Ernst & Young's provision of services to generate the miscellaneous fees listed above is compatible with maintaining its independence. We have also discussed with the Company's officers and Ernst & Young such other matters and received such assurances from them as we deemed appropriate.

Based on our review and discussions, we have recommended to the Company's Board of Directors the inclusion of the audited financial statements in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2002.

Our Committee originally adopted a Statement of Responsibilities in May of 1997 and revised it several times in response to the adoption or proposal of new requirements by the Securities and Exchange Commission and the New York Stock Exchange

ANNUAL REPORT AND FORM 10-K REPORT

Questar has recently mailed an annual report for 2002 to shareholders of record. The Company does take advantage of the special "householding" rules recently adopted by the Securities and Exchange Commission to mail single copies of the annual report (not the proxy statement) to multiple security holders sharing an address unless we have received contrary instructions from one or more of the security holders. We will promptly send a separate copy of the annual report to you if you live at a shared address that only received a single copy. Please contact Connie C. Holbrook at 180 East 100 South, Salt Lake City, Utah 84111, or 801-324-5202, if you want to receive a separate copy of the annual report now or in the future or if you want to request that only one copy of the annual report be sent to your address if you are currently receiving multiple copies of it.

We will also send you without charge a copy of our Annual Report on Form 10-K (excluding exhibits) that was filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. You can contact the person identified above to make the request.

SECTION 16(a) COMPLIANCE

Pursuant to Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and regulations promulgated by the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Company's directors, certain officers, and persons that own more than 10 percent of the Company's stock, are required to file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the Commission and the New York Stock Exchange and to furnish the Company with copies of all such reports they file.

Based solely on its review of copies of such reports received or written representations for certain reporting persons, the Company believes that all filing requirements were satisfied for 2002.

OTHER MATTERS

Pursuant to the Company's Bylaws, business must be properly brought before an annual meeting in order to be considered by stockholders. The notice must also include the signed consent of the nominee to serve as a director if elected.

The Company's Bylaws also require that any stockholder who is entitled to vote at the annual meeting and who wants to submit a proposal at such meeting without having it considered through the proxy materials, must deliver a written notice of the proposal, by certified mail, to the Company's Secretary. Such notice must be received at least 90 days and not more than 120 days prior to the date of such meeting.
