PART III - NARRATIVE

State below in reasonable detail why Forms 10-K, 20-F, 11-K, 10-Q, N-SAR, N-CSR, or the transition report or portion thereof, could not be filed within the prescribed time period.

The quarterly report on Form 10-Q of Ligand Pharmaceuticals Incorporated (the "Company") for the period ended March 31, 2005 could not be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on a timely basis without unreasonable effort or expense due to the following reasons:

In connection with the Company's preparation of its consolidated financial statements for 2004 and the audit of those financial statements, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company (the "Audit Committee") is conducting a review, with the assistance of management, of the Company's revenue recognition policies and accounting for product sales, including its estimates of product returns under SFAS 48 - "Revenue Recognition when Right of Return Exists" and question 9 of SAB 101 - "Revenue Recognition in Financial Statements." The review is expected to include the Company's revenue recognition policies and practices for current and past periods as well as the Company's internal control over financial reporting as it relates to these items. Until this review is completed, the Company is unable to file its Form 10-K for the period ended December 31, 2004 and subsequent periodic reports on 10-Q.

The Audit Committee retained Dorsey & Whitney LLP as independent counsel. The Audit Committee and its independent counsel retained PriceWaterhouseCoopers as their independent accounting consultants to assist in the review.

The Company is also reviewing the accounting and classification of its sales of royalty rights in its consolidated statements of operations.

No determination has been made as to whether any changes may be required in the Company's policies or accounting, how the items under review would be treated for accounting purposes, nor the magnitude of any changes that may be required. If it is determined that the accounting policies and/or historical accounting treatment require modification and the modifications are material, adjustments to the fiscal 2004 consolidated financial statements and/or restatement of prior 2004 financial results and one or more prior fiscal years or quarters may be required, which would reflect a material weakness in the Company's internal control over financial reporting.

The Audit Committee with the assistance of management is endeavoring to complete the review as soon as possible. The internal review will not be completed in sufficient time for the Company to: (i) complete its financial statements for the first fiscal quarter of 2005, (ii) assure that the information presented in the Form 10-Q complies with the requirements of the form and applicable federal securities laws and regulations, and (iii) file the Form 10-Q, within the prescribed period without unreasonable delay and expense.

The Company previously provided additional information concerning the status of these reviews and the Company's current expectations on this and related topics in its press releases dated March 17, March 30 and May 4, 2005.
