RADVISION(R) Awarded Prestigious Frost & Sullivan Award

Monday October 30, 11:00 am ET

Company Honored with Competitive Strategy Leadership Award for Consistent Growth and Market Success

FAIR LAWN, N.J.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--RADVISION (Nasdaq:RVSN - News), a leading provider of video network infrastructure and developer tools for unified visual communications over IP, 3G, and emerging next-generation networks, announced that global growth consulting company Frost & Sullivan has selected RADVISION as the recipient of the 2006 Frost & Sullivan Competitive Strategy Leadership Award for its significant gains in market share in 2005 and distinctive market strategies in the Asia Pacific videoconferencing infrastructure systems market.

The Frost & Sullivan award recognizes RADVISION's achievements in successfully sustaining growth in the region, with sales accounting for 20.9 percent of the total Asia-Pac market revenues in 2005, up 2.4 percent from the year before. RADVISION has emerged as the market leader in Hong Kong, South Korea and Taiwan in 2005, while holding the number two position in the overall Asia-Pac market. RADVISION's focus on strengthening its partnerships has allowed the company to stay highly competitive and increase its presence, particularly in Australia, Japan and China.

"The anticipation of stronger growth momentum in the desktop conferencing segment, particularly in key markets such as Japan, Australia, China, and India places RADVISION in a favorable position to strengthen its foothold in Asia Pacific," says Frost & Sullivan industry analyst Yen Yen Har.

RADVISION is the first company in Asia Pacific to extend the 3G video platform with the SCOPIA(TM) 3G Video Gateway, and according to Frost & Sullivan, the SCOPIA 3G offerings are expected to boost RADVISION's revenues in 3G-ready (<http://www.radvision.com/Products/3GProductsApplications/>) countries for the next two to five years. In addition, the SCOPIA (<http://www.radvision.com/Products/Network/>), Click to Meet(R) (<http://www.radvision.com/Products/Desktop/>) and iVIEW(TM) lines have gained remarkable acceptance in the price-sensitive markets of the region.

"Recognition by Frost & Sullivan further validates our significant investment in the growing Asia Pacific markets and we are extremely pleased to see our efforts bearing fruit," said Boaz Raviv, RADVISION CEO. "We are very proud to receive this award and we remain committed to our competitive strategy for this dynamic region."
