In addition to disclosing results determined in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (US GAAP) above, management utilizes a measure of operating income, net income and earnings per share on a non-GAAP basis that excludes certain income/expenses as below to better assess operating performance. Those non-GAAP financial measures exclude certain items, such as gains on disposal of marketable securities, gains on disposal of assets held for sale, losses on marketable securities arising from split share structure reform, or other infrequent or unusual items. Please see page 2 for the reconciliation of GAAP operating income and GAAP operating income per share to non-GAAP operating income and non-GAAP operating income per share, and GAAP net income and earnings per share to non-GAAP net income and earnings per share, and pages 7 to 8 for a detailed discussion of management s use of non-GAAP financial information.

SECOND QUARTER REVIEW

Sales in the second quarter dropped 7% as compared to the same quarter last year from a decline in business from telecommunication components assembly (TCA). This product segment is dependent on demand in the mobile phone market and one of our indirect customers suffered a substantial drop in sales volume in its mobile devices business in Asia and Europe. Thus, we and other participants in the mobile phone supply chain were inevitably affected. On a sequential basis, our total revenue still improved by about 3% from the first quarter mainly from growth in both our LCD products (LCDP) and consumer electronics and communication products (CECP) segments, with especially strong demand for our headsets containing Bluetooth® wireless technology* and home entertainment products. Net sales in the second quarter of 2007 were $197.8 million, a decrease of 7.4% as compared to $213.7 million in the second quarter of 2006. Gross profit in the second quarter of 2007 was $22.7 million, an increase of 9.5% as compared to $20.8 million in the same period last year. Operating income in the second quarter of 2007 was $11.8 million, or $0.26 per share (diluted), a decrease of 41.0% as compared to operating income of $20.0 million, or $0.46 per share (diluted) for the same period last year. Net income in the second quarter of 2007 was $38.8 million, an increase of 109.5% as compared to $18.5 million in the second quarter of 2006. Basic and diluted earnings per share in the second quarter of 2007 were both at $0.87 per share, an increase of 107.1% as compared to $0.42 per share for both basic and diluted earnings per share in the same period last year.

Non-GAAP operating income in the second quarter of 2007 was $11.8 million, or $0.26 per share (diluted), an increase of 10.3% as compared to non-GAAP operating income of $10.7 million, or $0.25 per share (diluted) for the same period last year. Non-GAAP net income in the second quarter of 2007 was $10.4 million or $0.23 per share (diluted), a decrease of 1.0% as compared to $10.5 million, or $0.24 per share (diluted), in the second quarter of 2006. The Company's financial position remains strong and net cash provided by operating activities in the second quarter of 2007 was $28.7 million. The Company ended the quarter with $268.3 million cash on hand even after capital expenditures of $5.7 million and first quarter dividends of $9.4 million paid to shareholders on April 21, 2007.

COMPANY OUTLOOK

The second quarter of 2007 was still difficult for Nam Tai as the same business environment that we discussed in our announcement of first quarter financial results continued into the second quarter. The competitive environment remains intense and we expect resulting pricing pressures from customers to remain a significant challenge for the electronics manufacturing services industry in the coming quarters and years. Additionally, the Company would also have to deal with difficulties such as appreciation of Renminbi, shortage of electricity supply and increases in overhead expenses resulting from general inflation. We are working hard to stabilize our results by improving efficiencies, broadening our product offerings and diversifying our customer base. Initial evidence from our performance in the second quarter, showing gross profit margin rebounding to 11.5%, supports management confidence of the Company's future profitability.

Recently, Nam Tai began manufacturing FLY Fusion Pentop Computers¹, a new product for a customer new to Nam Tai, LF Leapfrog Enterprises, Inc (Leapfrog). Leapfrog is a leading company in designing and developing educational products for children. The Company is also providing manufacturing services for another new customer, a leading Japanese company, in manufacturing 1.3 mega pixel CMOS image sensor modules for notebook computers. Additionally, apart from the strategy to produce high value and more sophisticated products, Nam Tai plans to continue to seek to negotiate better terms from suppliers and to control expenses in an effort to enhance our operating margins.

In furtherance of our previously announced expansion projects, our development of new production facilities, in Shenzhen Guangming Hi-Tech Industrial Park, or Shenzhen Guangming, People's Republic of China (the PRC), in which an approximate $1.5 million deposit was paid in 2006, we paid an additional $0.7 million deposit in June of this year for the land acquisition cost in Shenzhen, with the remaining balance of approximately $6.7 million to be paid upon further notification by the PRC government around the end of 2007. As to our planned facility in Wuxi, Jiangsu Province of the PRC approximately 80 miles Northwest of Shanghai, we are accelerating the implementation of this expansion project with the support of the local government of Wuxi in an effort to overcome limitations on existing available facilities. We are currently working with our architect on the design of manufacturing facilities and believe that these additional facilities, when operational, will position us to meet our forecasts of customers' demands and market requirements in the next few years. In turn, we expect to resume both higher growth in sales and profitability in the long term.

Whether management's optimism regarding Nam Tai's long-term prospects, including sales growth and profitability, will be realized, whether management's assessment of future demands and market conditions will prove true and expectancies regarding Nam Tai's position to meet such demands and requirements, whether Nam Tai is successful in negotiating better terms from suppliers or controlling expenses and whether the anticipated effect of such efforts on Nam Tai's operating margins will prove positive, whether the Company can or will be able to meet the stages of its planned expansion by the dates currently expected or whether increased orders for its products generally, if received, can be handled by the planned increases in capacity, whether Nam Tai capital expenditures to achieve expanded capacity will result in material increases in revenues or result in increased or any profit, will depend upon future sales orders, Nam Tai's actual ability to contain manufacturing costs and the actual level of capital expenditures required for each of the planned expansion projects. Nam Tai's growth, operating income, available cash, cash flows and levels of capital expenditures may be adversely affected by numerous factors including Nam Tai's dependence on a few large customers; intense competition in the electronics industry in which the Company participates; Nam Tai being subject to continuing pressure on its margins; its operating results fluctuating and lacking predictability; risks relating to its doing business in the PRC such as arising from changes in governmental policies, taxation, trade regulation, currency exchange rates, increasing labor costs, inflation and income taxes; the timing and amount of significant orders from customers; delays in product development and related product release schedules; obsolete inventory or product returns; warranty and other claims on products; technological shifts; the availability of competitive products of comparable quality at prices below Nam Tai's prices; maturing product life cycles; concessions Nam Tai may make on product sale terms and conditions; implementation of operating cost structures that align with revenue growth, if any; the financial condition of Nam Tai's customers and

In addition, factors, among others, that could cause the market price of our shares to decline in the future could include the failure of our growth, if any, or operating results or those of our competitors or customers to meet the expectations of public market analysts and investors who follow the electronics manufacturing services, or EMS, industry, the sale or availability for sale, of the Redeemed Shares by BOC or Tele-Art's liquidator to satisfy the claims of Tele-Art's creditors or one or more of the factors discussed in Item 3.
