Item 2. Identity and Background of Filing Person.

The first paragraph of Item 2(b) is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

"(b) This Statement relates to the tender offer by Apex Acquisition Corporation, or NACCO Sub, which is a newly formed Florida corporation and an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary of NACCO Industries, Inc., or NACCO, which is a Delaware corporation, to purchase all of the issued and outstanding shares of Applica's common stock at a purchase price of $7.75 per share, net to the seller in cash, without interest. The tender offer is being made on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Tender Offer Statement on Schedule TO and the exhibits thereto filed by NACCO and NACCO Sub with the Securities and Exchange Commission on December 15, 2006, as amended by NACCO and NACCO Sub on December 18, 2006, December 21, 2006, December 26, 2006 and January 3, 2007. The value of the consideration offered, together with all of the terms and conditions applicable to the tender offer, is referred to in this Statement as the NACCO offer. The Schedule TO states that NACCO intends, as soon as practicable after successful completion of the NACCO offer, to seek to have NACCO Sub merge with and into Applica in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Florida Business Corporation Act, or the FBCA.

The first paragraph of Item 3(a) is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

The first paragraph under the subheading Cash Consideration Payable Pursuant to the NACCO Offer in Item 3(a) is hereby amended as follows:

The amount $20,654,887.50 in the last line of such paragraph is replaced with the amount $21,343,383.75 .

The third paragraph under the subheading Cash Consideration Payable Pursuant to the NACCO Offer in Item 3(a) is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

As of November 27, 2006, Applica's directors and executive officers held options to purchase 842,500 shares of Applica's common stock, 623,667 of which were vested and exercisable as of that date. The outstanding options have exercise prices ranging from $2.86 to $31.6875 and an aggregate weighted average exercise price of $5.08 per share. Of the total options outstanding as of November 27, 2006, options to purchase 772,000 shares of Applica's common stock had exercise prices that were less than NACCO's $7.75 offer price, 549,667 of which were vested and exercisable as of November 27, 2006. The weighted average exercise price of these in the money options was $4.32. All of the unvested options would fully vest upon the consummation of the NACCO offer pursuant to the terms of Applica's 1988 Directors Stock Option Plan, 1992 Employees Incentive Stock Option Plan, 1996 Stock Option Plan, the 1998 Stock Option Plan and the 2000 Stock Option Plan.

Item 4. The Solicitation or Recommendation.

The first four paragraphs in Item 4(a) are hereby amended and restated in their entirety to read as follows:

As described in subsection (c) below, after careful consideration, the Applica board determined at a meeting on January 3, 2007, to recommend that Applica's shareholders reject the NACCO offer and not tender their shares in the NACCO offer.

Accordingly, the Applica board recommends that Applica's shareholders reject the NACCO offer and not tender their shares in the NACCO offer.

In addition, the Applica board reaffirms the Harbinger merger and recommends that Applica's shareholders vote FOR the adoption of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of October 19, 2006, as amended by Amendment No. 1 thereto, dated as of December 14, 2006, Amendment No. 2 thereto, dated as of December 22, 2006, Amendment No. 3 thereto, dated as of December 27, 2006, and Amendment No. 4 thereto, dated as of January 3, 2007, among Applica and certain affiliates of Harbinger Capital Partners Master Fund I, Ltd., which are collectively referred to in this Statement as Harbinger.

A press release communicating the Applica board's recommendation and a letter relating to such recommendation are filed as Exhibit (a)(10) and Exhibit (a)(11), respectively.

The final paragraph of Item 4(a) is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

The Applica board also recommends that, even if a shareholder does not vote with respect to the Harbinger merger agreement at this time, that such shareholder vote FOR the proposal to adjourn or postpone the special meeting of Applica's shareholders, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient shares present or represented at the meeting to constitute a quorum or insufficient votes at the time of the meeting to adopt the Harbinger merger agreement or because the board, in its judgment, determines that an adjournment is required by law or is otherwise in the best interests of Applica and its shareholders. The ability to adjourn or postpone the special meeting will give the Applica board the flexibility to preserve the existing transaction with Harbinger should the vote not be obtained by January 10, 2007.

Item 4(b) is hereby amended and supplemented by the addition of the following paragraphs as the final paragraphs thereto:

On January 3, 2007, NACCO publicly announced that it had increased the per share offer price of the NACCO offer to $7.75, net to the seller in cash, without interest, and amended the Schedule TO accordingly. In accordance with the terms of the Harbinger merger agreement, Applica promptly notified Harbinger on January 3, 2007 of NACCO's amended offer price.

Subsequently, on January 3, 2007, Harbinger submitted to Applica a definitive binding offer to enter into an amendment to its merger agreement that provides for Applica's shareholders (other than Harbinger) to receive $7.75 in cash per share, without interest, if the Harbinger merger is completed.

On January 3, 2007, the Applica board held a meeting and discussed the offers from NACCO and Harbinger and its obligations under the Harbinger merger agreement. The meeting was attended by Applica's senior management and legal and financial advisors, as well as a representative of the Applica board's independent legal counsel. The Applica board reviewed and discussed the offers from NACCO and Harbinger with management and the legal and financial advisors and determined on January 3, 2007 that the merger agreement, as amended, is at least as favorable to Applica's shareholders as the offer made by NACCO. After lengthy discussions and a thorough review with management and the legal and financial advisors, the Applica board also determined (i) that the merger agreement, as amended, is advisable for, fair to and in the best interests of Applica's shareholders (other than Harbinger and its affiliates) and voted to approve and adopt, and authorized senior management to enter into, the amendment proposed by Harbinger and (ii) to recommend that Applica's shareholders (A) vote FOR the adoption of the Harbinger merger agreement, as amended and (B) reject the NACCO offer and not tender their shares in the NACCO offer.

On January 3, 2007, Applica executed Amendment No. 4 to the Agreement and Plan of Merger with Harbinger, as amended, and thereafter issued a press release announcing the amendment. On January 4, 2007, Applica filed with the SEC a supplement to the Harbinger merger proxy statement that describes, among other things, the amendment to the Harbinger merger agreement.

The Applica board has convened the special meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 4, 2007, as originally scheduled, and adjourned the special meeting until 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 10, 2007, without a vote on any proposal other than an adjournment. The proposals to be considered at the special meeting will be submitted to a vote of Applica's shareholders at the reconvened meeting at 11:00 a.m. Eastern Standard Time on January 10, 2007.

Item 4(c) is hereby amended and restated in its entirety to read as follows:

In evaluating NACCO's revised offer, the Applica board noted that other than the increase in the per share offer price to $7.75 and the amendment of certain conditions and the elimination of others, there were no other material changes made to the terms and conditions of the revised NACCO offer. The Applica board based its determination to recommend that Applica's shareholders reject the NACCO offer and not tender their shares in the revised NACCO offer on the following reasons:

No Premium. The $7.75 per share offer price of the NACCO offer does not offer any premium over the per share price, which is also $7.75, set forth in the Harbinger merger agreement, as amended on December 14, 2006, December 22, 2006, December 27, 2006 and January 3, 2007.

Harbinger Agreement at Least as Favorable. After consultation with its legal and financial advisors, the Applica board determined in accordance with the Harbinger merger agreement, that the Harbinger merger agreement, as amended, is at least as favorable to Applica's shareholders as the revised NACCO offer; accordingly, in accordance with the Harbinger merger agreement, the Applica board could not conclude that its fiduciary duties would require it to withdraw its recommendation that Applica's shareholders vote in favor of the merger with Harbinger, enter into negotiations with NACCO or terminate the Harbinger merger agreement.

The Revised NACCO Offer Contains Certain Significant Conditions. The Applica board noted that the revised NACCO offer included the amendment or elimination of a number of conditions. Despite these changes, the Applica board believes that the revised NACCO offer continues to include a number of conditions that create significant concerns as to whether the revised NACCO offer can be completed. While the conditions of the revised NACCO offer are no longer as extensive or as subjective as they originally were, unlike the closing conditions contained in the Harbinger merger agreement which are subject to enforcement by Applica on behalf of its shareholders, NACCO Sub, within its reasonable discretion, has the ability to determine whether certain of the closing conditions to the NACCO offer have been satisfied.

The Applica Board believes that the following conditions of the revised NACCO offer create significant concerns:

Minimum Condition. Applica's shareholders shall have validly tendered and not properly withdrawn prior to the expiration of the revised NACCO offer a number of shares of common stock that constitute a majority of the outstanding shares of Applica's common stock, calculated on a fully diluted basis as of the date the shares are accepted for payment pursuant to the revised NACCO offer.

Applica's board believes that there is a significant risk that this condition would not be fulfilled because Harbinger owns approximately 39% of Applica's common stock. As a result, there is a concern that if Harbinger were to refuse to tender its shares to NACCO and unless substantially all of Applica's remaining shareholders responded to the revised NACCO offer, the minimum condition would not be satisfied.

Takeover Statute Condition. The Applica board shall have irrevocably taken all action necessary to render sections 607.0901 and 607.0902 of the FBCA inapplicable to NACCO Sub.

The Applica board believes that these statutes assist the board in obtaining the highest price for Applica's shares. Accordingly, in the absence of a superior proposal from NACCO, it would not be in the shareholders best interests to make these statutes inapplicable to NACCO Sub.

Recommendation Condition. The Applica board shall have either recommended that the holders of shares accept the NACCO offer and tender their shares in the NACCO offer, taken a neutral position with respect to the NACCO offer or not recommended against the NACCO offer.

The Applica board believes that modifying its position with respect to the revised NACCO offer would be inconsistent with its obligations under the Harbinger merger agreement because the revised NACCO offer does not constitute an Apple Superior Proposal, as defined therein. Accordingly, the Applica board is prohibited from satisfying this condition. Moreover, if the Applica board modifies or withdraws its recommendation that Applica's shareholders vote for the Harbinger merger, Harbinger has the right to terminate the merger agreement and Applica must pay APN Mergersub, Inc., or Harbinger Buyer, a fee equal to $4.0 million plus up to $2.0 million of reasonable, documented, third party, out-of-pocket expenses.

Termination of Harbinger Merger Condition. The Harbinger merger agreement shall have been terminated, or a court of competent jurisdiction shall have entered an order satisfactory to NACCO Sub that the Harbinger merger agreement is not legally valid and binding on the parties thereto.

Applica may only terminate the Harbinger merger agreement in connection with an Apple Superior Proposal. Because the board concluded that the revised NACCO offer does not constitute a superior proposal, this condition cannot be satisfied.

Conditional Financing. Although the revised NACCO offer is not subject to a financing closing condition, it is uncertain whether NACCO Sub will have access to sufficient cash to complete the revised NACCO offer. According to the Schedule TO, NACCO Sub, a newly created shell company apparently having no assets, will require approximately $193,750,767.25, plus any related transaction fees and expenses, to complete the revised NACCO offer. The Schedule TO further states that NACCO Sub will rely on two senior credit facilities to finance completion of the revised NACCO offer. According to the Schedule TO, NACCO Sub and certain of its affiliates as additional borrowers and certain of its affiliates as guarantors have obtained commitments from certain lenders to provide senior bank financing. Borrowings under the senior credit facilities are subject to various conditions. As copies of the commitment letters were not provided in the Schedule TO and have not been provided in any amendments thereto, the Applica board does not know the identity of the potential lenders, and it is uncertain whether NACCO Sub will have access to the senior credit facilities in time to consummate the revised NACCO offer. Even if NACCO Sub closes on the senior credit facilities, it is uncertain whether all of the conditions precedent to draw downs will be met. With respect to the Harbinger merger, the Harbinger Buyer received equity funding letters from the Harbinger Funds, that, subject to the conditions therein, provide for an aggregate amount of up to $275 million of equity financing for completion of the merger, including the approximately $117.6 million required to pay the merger consideration. Copies of the equity funding letters are attached as Annexes C1 and C2 to the Harbinger merger proxy statement.

Although certain conditions to the NACCO offer were amended or eliminated, given (i) the equal $7.75 price per share in cash being offered in each of the revised NACCO offer and the Harbinger merger agreement, as amended, (ii) that the Applica board has determined that the Harbinger merger agreement, as amended, is at least as favorable as the revised NACCO offer, (iii) the uncertainty as to whether certain of the conditions precedent to the revised NACCO offer can be satisfied, (iv) the risks to Applica associated with terminating the Harbinger merger agreement or the Applica board changing its recommendation with respect to the Harbinger merger agreement and (v) the questions surrounding NACCO Sub's access to sufficient cash to consummate the revised NACCO offer, the Applica board believes it serves the interests of Applica's shareholders to reject the revised NACCO offer.

In light of the above reasons, the Applica board determined that the revised NACCO offer is not in the best interests of Applica and Applica's shareholders. Accordingly, the Applica board recommends that Applica's shareholders reject the revised NACCO offer and not tender their shares pursuant to the NACCO offer.

The preceding discussion of the reasons for the Applica board's recommendation includes all material factors and information considered by the Applica board in making its recommendation, but is not, and is not intended to be, exhaustive. In light of the variety of factors considered in connection with its evaluation of the revised NACCO offer and the complexity of these matters, the Applica board did not find it practicable to, and did not, quantify or otherwise attempt to assign relative weights to the various factors considered in reaching its determination, and individual directors may have given different weight to different factors.

The Applica board reserves the right to revise this recommendation in the event of changed circumstances, if any. Any such change in the recommendation of the Applica board will be communicated to shareholders as promptly as practicable in the event that such a determination is reached.

Applica shareholders who have voted FOR adoption of the adoption of the Harbinger merger agreement can change their vote at any time prior to the special meeting on January 10, 2007 by:

1. Delivering a written notice to the corporate secretary of Applica before such special meeting that states that he or she revokes his or her proxy;
2. Delivering a signed and later dated new proxy card before such special meeting in accordance with the instructions included with the proxy card; or
3. Attending the special meeting and voting in person.

Applica shareholders retain the ability to tender their shares into the NACCO offer irrespective of whether or not they choose to revoke a previously executed proxy until January 17, 2007.
