To the Board of Directors and the Shareholder of Digital Micro Distribution Canada Inc.
Burlington, Ontario, Canada:

We have audited the balance sheet of Digital Micro Distribution Canada Inc. as of July 31, 2001 and 2000, and the related statements of income, shareholder's equity and cash flows for the years then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. DIGITAL MICRO DISTRIBUTION CANADA INC.
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Year Ended July 31, 2001

1. NATURE OF OPERATIONS

The Company disassembles and distributes used/refurbished and end-of-line personal computers, servers, peripherals and components.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

These financial statements have been prepared by management in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, applied on a basis consistent with prior years, and include the following significant accounting policies:

USE OF ESTIMATES

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amount of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from these estimates. These estimates are reviewed periodically and, as adjustments become necessary, they are reported in earnings in the period in which they become known.

INVENTORY

Inventory is valued at the lower of average cost, determined on a first-in, first-out basis, and net realizable value.

CAPITAL ASSETS AND AMORTIZATION

Capital assets are recorded at cost. Amortization is provided for at the following methods and rates which are designed to charge the cost of capital assets to income over their estimated useful lives:

Office equipment and computers	20% declining balance
Vehicles	30% declining balance
Warehouse equipment	20% declining balance
Web server equipment and software	30% declining balance

INTANGIBLE ASSETS AND AMORTIZATION

Intangible assets are comprised of customer lists. These lists are being amortized on a straight-line basis over three years.

IMPAIRMENT OF LONG-LIVED ASSETS

In the event that facts and circumstances indicate that the cost of an asset may be impaired, an evaluation of recoverability would be performed. If an evaluation is required, the estimated future undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset would be compared to the asset's carrying amount to determine if a write-down to market value is required. At July 31, 2001, the Company does not believe that any impairment has occurred.

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

REVENUE RECOGNITION

Revenue is recognized when the product is shipped to the customer. Allowances for estimated bad debts, sales returns and allowances are provided when sales are recorded.

TRANSLATION OF FOREIGN CURRENCIES

The Company's functional currency is the local currency, the Canadian dollar, and therefore assets and liabilities are translated into the U.S. dollar at current exchange rates. Revenue and expenses are translated at the weighted average exchange rate during the period. Accordingly, all gains and losses arising from the foreign currency translations have been recorded in the accompanying balance sheet as a currency translation adjustment, which is a component of shareholder's equity.

COMPREHENSIVE INCOME

The Company has adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 130 (SFAS 130), Reporting Comprehensive Income , which establishes standards for reporting and display of comprehensive income, its components and accumulated balances. Comprehensive income is defined to include all changes in equity except those resulting from investments by owners or distributions to owners. Among other disclosures, SFAS No. 130 requires that all items that are required to be recognized under current accounting standards as a component of comprehensive income be reported in a financial statement that is displayed with the same prominence as other financial statements. Comprehensive income is displayed in the statement of shareholder's equity and in the balance sheet as a component of shareholder's equity.

SEGMENT INFORMATION

SFAS No. 131, Disclosure About Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information (SFAS 131), defines operating segments as components of an enterprise for which separate financial information is available that is evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and in assessing performance. Based on the way it organizes its business for making operating decisions and assessing performance, the Company has determined that it has a single reportable operating segment.

ADVERTISING EXPENSES

Advertising expenses are charged to operations in the period in which they occurred. Advertising expenses for the years ended July 31, 2001 and 2000 were $54,782 and $20,961, respectively.

INCOME TAXES

The Company follows the asset and liability method for accounting for income taxes. Under this method, current income taxes are recognized for the estimated income taxes payable for the current year. Future income tax assets and liabilities are recognized for temporary differences between the tax and accounting bases of assets and liabilities as well as for the benefit that is likely to be realized from losses available to be carried forward to future years for tax purposes.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In July 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 141 Business Combinations and SFAS No. 142 Goodwill and Intangible Assets (SFAS No. 142). SFAS No. 141 requires that all business combinations initiated after June 30, 2001 be accounted for using the purchase method of accounting and prohibits the use of the pooling-of-interests method for such transactions. SFAS No. 142 applies to all goodwill and intangible assets acquired in a business combination. Under the new standard, all goodwill, including goodwill acquired before initial application of the standard, should not be amortized but should be tested for impairment at least annually at the reporting level, as defined in the standard. Intangible assets other than goodwill should be amortized over their useful lives and reviewed for impairment in accordance with SFAS no. 121. The new standard is effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001. The Company must adopt this standard on January 1, 2002. As of June 29, 2001, the Company had no unamortized goodwill.

In August 2001, the FASB issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144 (SFAS 144), accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-lived Assets . SFAS 144 superseded Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, accounting for the Impairment of Long-lived Assets and Assets to be Disposed of and the accounting and reporting provisions of Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 30, reporting the Results of Operations Reporting the Effects of Disposal of a Segment of a Business, and Extraordinary, Unusual and Infrequently Occurring Events and Transaction . SFAS 144 also amends Accounting Research Bulletin No. 51, Consolidated Financial Statements, to eliminate the exception to consolidation for a subsidiary for which control is likely to be temporary. The provision of SFAS 144 will be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2001.

16. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS

The Company's financial instruments consist primarily of cash, accounts receivable, accounts payable and accrued expenses, which approximate fair value because of their short maturities. The Company's bank indebtedness and long-term debt approximate the fair value of such instruments based upon management's best estimate of interest rates that would be available to the Company for similar financing arrangements as at July 31, 2001.

CREDIT RISK MANAGEMENT

The Company is exposed to credit risk on the accounts receivable from its customers. In order to reduce its credit risk, for selected customers the Company has obtained credit insurance for goods shipped. The Company has also adopted credit policies which include the regular review of the credit limits of its customers.

CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

The Company is subject to credit risk through trade receivables. At year end, 59% of the accounts receivable balance was from one customer. The Company has obtained credit insurance for this customer receivable. Although a substantial portion of its debtors' ability to pay is dependent upon the technology sector and one significant customer, credit risk with respect to other trade receivables is limited by its large customer base and its geographic dispersion.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE RISK

The Company sells its products to customers and purchases certain supplies from vendors located in the United States and is therefore subject to foreign exchange fluctuations. The Company manages this risk by monitoring its United States dollar cash flow. As at July 31, 2001, the Company has United States denominated accounts receivable of $5,118 and accounts payable of $26,937.

17. SUBSEQUENT EVENT

Subsequent to year-end, Innofone.com Inc. (a U.S. public company) signed a non-binding letter of intent to acquire all of the shares of Digital Micro Distribution Canada Inc. in exchange for shares of Innofone.com Inc. Completion of the transaction is subject to the negotiation of a stock purchase agreement, completion of due diligence, obtaining necessary regulatory and third party consents and satisfaction of customary conditions to closing. When the transaction is completed, Digital Micro Distribution Canada Inc. will become an operating subsidiary of Innofone.com Inc.
