Nomura Holdings, Inc. and its consolidated subsidiaries (Nomura) reported a net revenue of ¥283 billion for the six months ended September 30, 2002, a decrease of 39% from the six months ended September 30, 2001. Non-interest expenses were ¥243 billion for the six months ended September 30, 2002, a decrease of 58% from the same period in the prior year.

The decline in net revenues and non-interest related expenses is due to the fact that the results of operation for the six months ended September, 2001 include the consolidated results of Principal Finance Group (PFG) entities, which were contributed to a limited partnership on March 27, 2002 in exchange for a limited partnership interest and, accordingly are not consolidated with our results of operation for the six months ended September 30, 2002. PFG accounted for ¥221 billion of net revenues and ¥243 billion of non-interest related expenses for the six months ended September 30, 2001. Excluding PFG from the consolidated results of operations for the six months ended September 30, 2001, net revenue increased ¥43 billion and non-interest related expenses decreased ¥98 billion for the six months ended September 30, 2002 compared to six months ended September 30, 2001.

Income before income taxes and net income were ¥41 billion and ¥131 billion for the six months ended September 30, 2002, respectively. This compares to a loss before income taxes and a net loss of ¥122 billion and ¥78 billion, respectively for the same period in the prior year.

Total assets were approximately ¥19.0 trillion at September 30, 2002, an increase of approximately ¥1.2 trillion from March 31, 2002 and total shareholders' equity increased by ¥128 billion from March 31, 2002 to approximately ¥1.7 trillion at September 30, 2002. Nomura's return on equity was 9.1% for the six months ended September 30, 2002 on an annualized basis.

Income before income taxes	¥6,092	¥15,348	$126,072	¥20,484

Net revenue increased by 9% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥123,777 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to an increase in selling commissions from medium term notes and foreign currency bonds resulting from personalized investment consultation services we provide. Non-interest expenses increased by 1% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥108,429 million for the six months ended September 2002. As a result, Income before income taxes increased by 152% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥15,348 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Operating Results of Global Wholesale

Income before income taxes	¥46,901	¥45,448	$373,321	¥191,278

Net revenue increased by 1% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥145,155 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, because Global Wholesale has made an effort to diversify its business portfolio under the adverse business circumstances and Fixed Income increased net gain on trading. However, Non-interest expenses increased by 3% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥99,707 for the six months ended September 2002. As a result, Income before income taxes decreased by 3% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥45,448 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Table of Contents

Fixed Income

Net revenue increased by 74% from ¥43,902 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥76,363 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to an increase in net gain on bond trading relating to medium term notes and foreign currency bonds. Non-interest expenses increased by 9% from ¥32,218 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥35,278 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. As a result, Income before income taxes increased by 252% from ¥11,684 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥41,085 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Equity

Net revenue decreased by 33% from ¥63,858 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥42,770 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to a decrease in net gain on equity trading resulting from the depressed global equity markets. Non-interest expenses increased by 3% from ¥31,868 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥32,670 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. Income before income taxes decreased by 68% from ¥31,990 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥10,100 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Investment banking and Merchant banking

Net revenue decreased by 28% from ¥36,119 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥26,022 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. Non-interest expenses decreased by 3% from ¥32,892 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥31,759 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. As a result, Income before income taxes was ¥3,227 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 and Loss before income taxes was ¥5,737 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Net revenue for Investment banking activities decreased by 22% from ¥42,456 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥33,283 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to a stagnant IPO and PO volume in capital markets. Non-interest expenses for Investment banking activities decreased by 6% from ¥29,186 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥27,487 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. As a result, Income before income taxes for Investment banking activities decreased by 56% from ¥13,270 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥5,796 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Net revenue for Merchant banking activities changed by 15% from (¥6,337) million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to (¥7,261) million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to an increase in loss on private equity investments due to sluggish global equity markets. Non-interest expenses for Merchant banking activities increased by 15% from ¥3,706 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥4,272 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. As a result, loss before income taxes for Merchant banking activities increased by 15% from ¥10,043 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥11,533 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Income before income taxes	¥7,068	¥2,429	$19,952	¥10,176

Net revenue decreased by 15% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥20,106 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, due to a decrease in asset management fees associated with a decrease in the outstanding balance of bond investment trusts caused mainly by the redemption of Medium-term Japanese Government Bond Fund. Non-interest expenses increased by 6% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥17,677 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002, mainly due to an increase in expenses for pension-related businesses. As a result, Income before income taxes decreased by 66% from the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥2,429 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002.

Other Operating Results

Other operating results include gain (loss) on investment securities, equity in earnings (losses) of affiliates and other financial adjustments. Please refer to Note 9 to the consolidated financial information for a reconciliation of segment results to income statement information. Loss before income taxes in Other decreased from ¥120,777 million for the six months ended September 30, 2001 to ¥1,587 million for the six months ended September 30, 2002. The main reason for the decrease was that impairment loss on investment in an affiliated company was ¥92,441 million for the six month ended September 30, 2001.

We introduced certain methodologies to allocate Headquarter s expenses to our three business segments effective April 1, 2002. We created global Headquarters accounts and allocate its expenses to business segments according to benefits received by each business segment. The improvement was made to better allocate the expenses based on benefits received by each segment, and it also included allocation of headquarter s expenses which previously were not allocated to segments. Had we not applied the current allocation methodologies for the six months ended September 30, 2002, income before income taxes for Domestic Retail, Global Wholesale and Asset Management would have been ¥19,388 million, ¥49,905 million and ¥2,768 million, respectively.

Cash Flow

Cash and cash equivalents at September 30, 2002 decreased by ¥196.9 billion compared with March 31, 2002. Net cash used in operating activities were ¥396.4 billion, due mainly to an increase in net trading activities and related assets/liabilities, despite income before cumulative effect of accounting change of ¥21.3 billion. Net cash provided by investing activities was ¥16.5 billion yen because of sales and redemption of investments in equity securities and non-trading debt securities. Net cash provided by financing activities was ¥192.9 billion owing to an increase in long-term borrowings.

NOMURA HOLDINGS, INC.
NOTES TO THE CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL INFORMATION
(UNAUDITED)

1. Description of Business:

Nomura Holdings, Inc. (the Company) and its broker-dealer, banking and other financial services subsidiaries provide investment, financing and related services to individuals, institutional and governmental customers on a global basis. Such services include equity and fixed income brokerage, trading, underwriting, distribution and clearance; trading of foreign exchange and futures contracts and other derivatives in a broad range of asset categories, rates and indices; investment banking, real estate, project finance and other corporate finance advisory activities; international merchant banking and other principal investment activities; and asset management, private banking, trust and custody services.

2. Basis of Financial Information:

The consolidated financial information includes the accounts of the Company, its majority-owned subsidiaries and other entities in which the Company has a controlling financial interest (collectively, referred to as Nomura). All material intercompany transactions have been eliminated in consolidation. The consolidated financial information has been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America (US GAAP), which requires management to make estimates regarding certain financial instrument valuation, the outcome of litigation, the recovery of the carrying value of certain assets, the allowance for loan loss reserves, the realization of deferred tax assets and other matters that affect the carrying value of reported assets and liabilities and the related disclosures. Estimates, by their nature are based on judgment and available information. Therefore, actual results may differ from estimates, which could have a material impact on the consolidated financial information.

The financial information as of and for the year ended March 31, 2002 has been derived from the audited March 31, 2002 financial statements included in Nomura's annual report filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission of Form 20-F. The interim consolidated financial information as of September 30, 2002 and 2001 and for the six-month periods then ended is unaudited; however, in the opinion of management, such information includes all adjustments, consisting only of normal and recurring items, necessary for a fair presentation. Certain footnote disclosures, including Nomura's significant accounting policy, which are normally required under U.S.GAAP have been omitted, accordingly, the unaudited interim financial information should be read in conjunction with the audited consolidated financial statements included in the Company's annual report. The nature of Nomura's business is such that the results of operation for any interim period are not necessarily indicative of the results for the entire fiscal year.

3. Change in Method of Accounting for Stock Options:

Effective April 1, 2002 Nomura changed its method of accounting for stock-based compensation plans. Nomura has adopted the fair-value-based method of accounting for company stock options as outlined in SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation. Stock options awarded prior to April 1, 2002 will continue to be accounted for under the intrinsic value method of accounting under Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees. The effect of this change in accounting was to increase compensation and benefits expense and decrease income before income taxes by ¥87 million ($715 thousand) for the six-months ended September 30, 2002.

4. Cumulative Effect of Accounting Change:

In June 2001, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets (SFAS No. 142). SFAS No. 142 no longer permits the amortization of goodwill and intangible assets with indefinite lives. Instead these assets must be reviewed annually, or more frequently in certain circumstance, for impairment. Intangible assets that have determinable lives will continue to be amortized over their useful lives and reviewed for impairment. In addition, negative goodwill that arises in a business combination must be written off immediately. Nomura adopted SFAS No. 142 effective April 1, 2002, which resulted in writing off negative goodwill arising from a previous business combination of ¥109,799 million ($901,914 thousand), net of taxes.

Table of Contents5. New Accounting Pronouncements:

In June 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 146 Accounting for Costs Associated with Exit or Disposal Activities. This standard requires companies to recognize costs associated with the exit or disposal of activities when they are incurred rather than at the date of a commitment to an exit or disposal plan. SFAS No. 146 will replace the existing guidance provided in Emerging Issues Task Force Issue No. 94-3 Liability Recognition for Certain Employee Termination Benefits and Other Costs to Exit an Activity (including Certain Costs Incurred in a Restructuring). SFAS No.146 is to be applied prospectively to exit or disposal activities initiated after December 31, 2002.

In October 2002, the FASB issued SFAS No. 147 Acquisition of Certain Financial Institutions. This standard required the acquisitions of financial institutions to be accounted for under SFAS No. 141 Business Combinations and SFAS 142 Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets and removes the acquisition of financial institutions from the scope of SFAS No. 72 Accounting for Certain Acquisitions of Banking or Thrift Institutions and FASB Interpretation No. 9 Applying APB Opinion No.16 and 17 When a Savings and Loan Association or a Similar Institution Is Acquired in a Business Combination Accounted for by the Purchase Method.

The Company does not believe that the adoption of these two new standards will have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial information.

6. U.S. dollar amounts:

The U.S. dollar amounts are included solely for the convenience of the reader and have been translated at the rate of ¥121.74 = US$1, the noon buying rate in New York City for cable transfers in foreign currencies as certified for customs purposes by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York on September 30, 2002. This translation should not be construed to imply that the yen amounts actually represent, or have been or could be converted into, equivalent amounts in U.S. dollars.

7. Credit commitments and contingencies:

In the normal course of the company's banking and financing activities, we enter into contractual commitments to extend credit, standby letters of credit, underwriting commitments and issuance of financial guarantees, which generally have a fixed expiration date. Contractual amounts of these commitments outstanding at September 30, 2002 and March 31, 2002 were as follows:

Corporate Goals and Principles

Nomura Holdings, Inc. (the Company) and its consolidated subsidiaries (together with the Company, Nomura) are managed as a single entity under the Nomura Group.

Nomura identifies its core businesses as the securities and other closely related businesses. By concentrating our management resources on these areas we aim to become a globally competitive Japanese financial services group. This also enables us to play an active role as a financial services group supporting Japan's economic development.

Business Strategy

In formulating our business strategy we focus on global coordination of divisions rather than individual legal entities. Our business portfolio is composed of Domestic Retail, Global Wholesale and Asset Management. Global Wholesale consists of Fixed Income, Equity, Investment Banking and Merchant Banking.

Our group management strategies are formulated by the Company's Strategic Management Committee (SMC) from a company-wide perspective. The SMC is responsible for formulating group management strategy and the efficient and flexible allocation of management resources based on close examination of the business plans of each division. This enables us to respond in a prompt and accurate fashion to the changing business environment and increasing diversification of client needs.

Close coordination between our three business divisions is the source of Nomura's competitive strength. By capitalizing on this synergy effect to the fullest we aim to broaden our customer base in Japan and overseas as well as improve profitability.

Strategies by Division

Domestic Retail

By effectively linking our domestic network comprising 128 branch offices nationwide and other domestic retail related departments, our business targets an enormous market of individual and corporate financial assets totaling approximately 2,100 trillion yen. Nomura's basic domestic retail strategy is growth oriented. Based on our unique business model that combines value-added personalized consulting services with IT-related services, we endeavor to continually grow our customer base by earning investors' trust and expand sustained revenues through investment consultation services that cater precisely to clients' implicit and explicit needs.

Global Wholesale

The Japanese economy has entered a phase of structural reform as evidenced by the country's financial and economic globalization as well as various efforts on the part of companies to extricate themselves from the prolonged slowdown. As a key player in the global capital markets, Global Wholesale provides value-added solution-finding services to establish a strong presence in Japan focusing on global business.

Asset Management

Asset Management broadly consists of two areas: asset management business based on investment trusts and investment advisory contracts, and the defined contribution pension plan business. Asset management plays a central function comprising financial and securities business. By further enhancing its asset management and product development capabilities, Nomura's Asset Management division is working to consistently increase its assets under management and establish a stable revenue source from those assets.

Target

The return on equity (ROE) of a securities company fluctuates widely due to the nature of the securities business. However, Nomura emphasizes maximizing shareholder value by achieving its target average ROE of 10-15% in the mid- to long-term.

In order to achieve this target, each business division operates utilizing the resources allocated to it by the SMC. The SMC monitors the performance of each business division using indicators such as Nomura Value Added (NVA: profit after tax and capital cost reduction).

Table of Contents

Dividend Policy

Achieving target ROE and increasing shareholders' equity by emphasizing ROE in our business management techniques remain most important to Nomura. Therefore, we will determine the dividend amount based on the level of ROE achieved while maintaining sufficient capital to avail ourselves of developing new businesses.

As for retained profits, we intend to invest in business areas where high profitability and growth are expected, including development and expansion of infrastructure, to increase ROE.

Reduction of the Size of Trading Units

Nomura acknowledges reduction of the size of trading units as important to allow greater access to investors and as conducive to expanding the securities market. We will consider such reductions following the revision of the Commercial Code, etc.

Recent Developments in Corporate Governance

Two of the Company's eleven directors were appointed from outside Nomura with a view to enhancing management accountability. We also established the Advisory Board as a consultative body to the SMC. This board consists of top management figures from global Japanese corporations who offer valuable management advice and recommendations.

We established the Executive Compensation Committee, which consists of two outside directors and the Company's President, to discuss modalities for Nomura Group compensation.

We set up the Audit Committee to promote increased corporate propriety across the entire Nomura Group and develop internal regulations. An outside director is a member of this committee.

Nomura is working to further strengthen its corporate governance with regard to enhancing management accountability and shareholder value in order to fully meet its obligations as a key player representing Japan in the global capital markets.

Current Challenges

Japan's socioeconomic structure is currently undergoing significant changes geared towards freeing itself from the protracted economic downturn. We believe contributing to this change through the capital markets is an important role Nomura cannot ignore. At the same time, we are also fully committed to continuing our company-wide challenge to broaden the public's knowledge of securities investment through sponsored lectures on securities business at universities as part of our efforts to broaden the number of market participants. The purpose behind this is development of Japan's capital markets, a key part of the nation's social infrastructure. Such growth is vital for achieving sustained economic development.

Notes to the Unconsolidated Financial Information

The financial statements for the six months ended September 30, 2002 were prepared under Japanese GAAP in accordance with Regulations Concerning the Terminology, Forms and Preparation Methods of Semi-Annual Financial Statements (Ministry of Finance Ordinance No. 38, 1977).

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Basis and Methods of Valuation for Financial Instruments

(1) Other securities

a. Securities with market value Recorded at market value.

The difference between the cost using the moving average method or amortized cost and market value less deferred taxes is recorded as Net unrealized gain on investments in shareholders equity on the balance sheet.

b. Securities with no market value Recorded at cost using the moving average method or amortized cost.

(2) Stocks of subsidiaries and affiliates Recorded at cost using the moving average method.

2. Depreciation and Amortization

(1) Depreciation of tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated primarily on the declining balance method, except for buildings acquired after March 31, 1998 which are depreciated on the straight-line method.

(2) Amortization of intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortized over their estimated useful lives primarily on the straight-line method.

3. Provisions

To provide for bad loans, the Company made provisions for doubtful accounts based on an estimate of the uncollectable amount calculated using historical loss ratios or a reasonable estimate based on financial condition of individual borrowers.

4. Translation of Accounts Denominated in Foreign Currencies

Financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen using exchange rates as of the balance sheet date. Gains and losses resulting from translation are reflected in the statement of operations.

5. Leasing Transactions

Financing leases other than those for which the ownership of the leased property are deemed as transfers to the lessee are accounted for primarily as ordinary rental transactions.

6. Hedging Activities

Mark-to-market profits and losses on hedging instruments are deferred as assets or liabilities until the profits or losses on the underlying hedged securities are realized.

7. Accounting for Consumption Taxes

Consumption taxes are accounted for based on the tax exclusion method.

8. Application of Consolidated Tax Return System

Edgar Filing: NOMURA HOLDINGS INC - Form 6-K

The Company intends to apply for consolidated tax return system and the accounting and financial representation of the six months ended September 30, 2002 was prepared according to Temporary Treatment of Tax Effect in Applying Consolidated Tax Return System (1) (The Audit Committee of the Japanese Institute of Certified Public Accountants, October 9, 2002).

Notes to the Unconsolidated Financial Information

The financial statements for the six months ended September 30, 2002 were prepared in accordance with the Cabinet Office Ordinance Regarding Securities Companies (Prime Minister's Office Ordinance and the Ministry of Finance Ordinance, No. 32, 1998) and the Uniform Accounting Standards of Securities Companies (Japan Securities Dealers Association, September, 2001) based on Regulations Concerning the Terminology, Forms and Preparation Methods of Semi-Annual Financial Statements (Ministry of Finance Ordinance No. 38, 1977).

Significant Accounting Policies

1. Basis and Methods of Valuation for Financial Instruments

(1) For trading purposes

Securities, derivative contracts, and other financial instruments classified as trading assets and liabilities are accounted for at fair value based on the mark-to-market method.

(2) For non-trading purposes

Securities with no market value are recorded at cost using the moving average method.

2. Depreciation and Amortization

(1) Depreciation of tangible fixed assets

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated primarily on the declining balance method, except for buildings acquired after March 31, 1998 which are depreciated on the straight-line method.

(2) Amortization of intangible assets

Intangible assets are amortized primarily over their estimated useful lives on the straight-line method.

3. Provisions

(1) Allowance for doubtful accounts

To provide for loan losses, Nomura Securities Co., Ltd. (Nomura Securities) made provisions for doubtful accounts based on an estimate of the uncollectable amount calculated using historical loss ratios or a reasonable estimate based on financial condition of individual borrowers.

(2) Accrued bonuses

To provide for employee bonus payments, an estimated accrual is recorded in accordance with the prescribed calculation method.

(3) Reserve for retirement benefits

To provide for the payment of lump-sum retirement benefits and funding the qualified retirement pension plan in the future, the estimated future obligations less the fair value of current pension assets is recorded as a reserve for employee retirement benefits.

4. Translation of Accounts Denominated in Foreign Currencies

Financial assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Japanese yen using exchange rates as of the balance sheet date. Gains and losses resulting from translation are reflected in the statement of income.

5. Leasing Transactions

Lease contracts for which the title of the leased property has not been transferred are accounted for as operating lease transactions.

Table of Contents

6. Hedging Activities

Mark-to-market profits and losses on hedging instruments are deferred as assets or liabilities until the profits or losses on the underlying hedged securities are realized.

7. Accounting for Consumption Taxes

Consumption taxes are accounted for based on the tax exclusion method.

8. Application of Consolidated Tax Return System

Nomura Securities intends to apply for consolidated tax return system and the accounting and financial representation of the six months ended September 30, 2002 was prepared according to Temporary Treatment of Tax Effect in Applying Consolidated Tax Return System (1) (The Audit Committee of the Japanese Institute of Certified Public Accountants, October 9, 2002).
