PROXY STATEMENT
Annual Meeting of Stockholders
January 26, 2010

GENERAL INFORMATION ABOUT VOTING AND SOLICITATION OF PROXIES

These proxy materials are furnished in connection with the solicitation of proxies by the Board of Directors of NASB Financial, Inc. ("NASB" or the "Company") for the Annual Meeting of Stockholders (hereinafter called the "Meeting") to be held at the North American Savings Bank, Grandview branch office located at 12498 South 71 Highway, Grandview, Missouri on Tuesday, January 26, 2010, at 8:30 a.m. The Annual Report to stockholders for the 2009 fiscal year, including consolidated financial statements for the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, accompanies this statement. The Company is required to file an Annual Report and Form 10-K for its fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC").

This proxy statement and the accompanying proxy are first being sent to the stockholders on or about December 28, 2009.

Regardless of the number of shares you own, it is important that your stock be represented at the Meeting. No action can be taken unless a majority of the outstanding shares of Common Stock is represented. To make sure your shares are represented at the Meeting, please sign and date the proxy card and return it in the enclosed prepaid envelope.

The securities which can be voted at the Meeting consist of shares of Common Stock of NASB Financial, Inc. Each share entitles its owner to one vote on matters other than the election of directors, for which cumulative voting is permitted (see section entitled - PROPOSAL 1: ELECTION OF DIRECTORS). The Board of Directors has declared the close of business on December 18, 2009, as the record date for determination of stockholders entitled to vote at the meeting. The number of shares of Common Stock outstanding on the record date was 7,867,614.

For a quorum to exist at the annual meeting, at least a majority of the total number of outstanding shares of Common Stock must be present, either in person or by proxy, to constitute a quorum at the Meeting. In the event there are not sufficient votes represented for a quorum, management may adjourn the meeting in order to further solicitation enough proxies to establish a quorum.

If the enclosed proxy is properly executed and returned, and is not revoked, it will be voted according to the specifications you make as the stockholder. The proxy form provides a space for you to withhold your vote for the nominees for the Board of Directors, if you choose to do so. You may indicate the way you wish to vote on each matter in the space provided. Any executed but unmarked proxies will be voted FOR the election of the director nominees named in the proxy statement and FOR the ratification of the selection of auditors.

You may revoke your proxy at any time before the proxy is voted at the annual meeting. You can revoke your proxy or change your vote in any one of the following ways:

- by sending a signed notice of revocation to our corporate secretary that states your intent to revoke your proxy, or;
- by attending the annual meeting and revoking your proxy in person or voting in person, which will automatically cancel any proxy previously given, however, your attendance alone will not revoke any proxy that you have given previously unless you vote or state your specific intention to revoke a previously given proxy.

If you chose to revoke a proxy in either of the methods, above, you must do so no later than the beginning of the 2010 Annual Meeting. Once voting on a particular matter is completed at the Annual Meeting, you will not be able to revoke your proxy or change your vote as to that matter. If your shares are held in "street" name by a broker, bank, or other financial institution, you must contact that institution to change your vote.

The Company is assuming all the cost of soliciting the proxies. In addition to the solicitation of proxies by mail, proxies may be solicited by directors, officers or regular employees of the Company in person or by telephone, fax, or other methods of communication. The Company will also ask any firms or corporations that are holding shares in their names, or in the names of their nominees, which are beneficially owned by others, to forward proxy material to and obtain proxies from such beneficial owners. The Company will reimburse those forwarding proxies for their reasonable expenses in so doing. No additional compensation shall be paid to directors, officers and regular employees of the Company in consideration of services rendered to the solicitation of proxies.

The Company has not authorized any person to give any information or to make any representations other than those contained in this proxy statement. If any such information is given or representation is made, you should not rely upon it as having been authorized by the Company.

STRUCTURE AND PRACTICES OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

NASB's business is managed under the direction of its Board of Directors. The Board of Directors exercises general oversight toward the goal that NASB's management performs in the long-term best interest of stockholders. NASB's independent Directors have professional experience and expertise to capably oversee the functioning of the Company's management team. The Board of Directors is also committed to maintaining high standards of corporate governance.

On June 13, 2008, the Board accepted the resignation of Dr. Fletcher M. Lamkin and appointed Ms. Laura Brady to serve the remaining portion of Dr. Lamkin's term. On July 18, 2008, the Board accepted the resignation of Mr. A. Ray Cecrle. Both resignations of Dr. Lamkin and Mr. Cecrle were the result of out-of-town relocations of their personal residences and neither gentleman resigned as result of any disagreements with the Board or management. After a period of consideration, on October 28, 2008, the Board decided to amend the Company's Bylaws and reduce the number of the Company's directors to eight (8), in accordance with its authority as prescribed by the Company's Articles of Incorporation.

Currently, the Company's Board consists of eight (8) directors. Three employee directors are: David H. Hancock, Keith B. Cox, and Paul L. Thomas. Five non-employee directors are: Frederick V. Arbanas, Barrett Brady, Laura Brady, Linda S. Hancock, Fletcher M. Lamkin, and W. Russell Welsh.

Independence of Directors

The listing standards of NASDAQ require listed companies to have a Board of Directors that have a majority of independent directors. Within the listing standards, there is an exemption from this requirement for "controlled companies," those for which more than 50% of the voting power is held by one individual, a group of individuals, or another company. Controlled companies can be exempt from complying with the NASDAQ requirements for majority of independent directors and from Compensation and Nominating Committees that are composed entirely of independent directors. Because Mr. David H. Hancock beneficially owns 50.3% of the Company's outstanding shares, the Company qualifies as a "controlled company" under NASDAQ listing standards and chooses to rely on the exemption, since the Company has determined that a majority of directors are not independent. However, the Compensation and Nominating Committees of the Board are composed entirely of independent directors.

In evaluating the independence of each director, the Board takes into account the applicable laws and regulations, the listing standards of the NASDAQ, and criteria set forth by Company policy. These standards include evaluating any material relationships a director may have with NASB, if any, including vendor, supplier, consulting, legal, banking, accounting, charitable, and family relationships. Based on NASDAQ Marketplace Rule 4200(a)(15), the Board of Directors has identified the following non-employee directors that are "independent" of the Company: Frederick V. Arbanas, Barrett Brady, Laura Brady, and W. Russell Welsh. Specifically, because of her spousal relationship to David H. Hancock, the Board has determined that Ms. Linda S. Hancock is not independent of the Company.

Edgar Filing: NASB FINANCIAL INC - Form DEF 14A

Audit Committee

The Audit Committee has the responsibility of reviewing the scope and results of audits performed by the Company's independent auditors and reviewing the findings and recommendations of NASB's internal audit staff. The Audit Committee is comprised of Frederick V. Arbanas, Barrett Brady, and Laura Brady. Barrett Brady serves as the Audit Committee Chairman and, in accordance with NASDAQ regulations, has the appropriate background and experience to fully qualify him as the Audit Committee's financial expert.

The Company's Board of Directors has adopted an Audit Committee Charter, which, as most recently amended and ratified by the Board on September 22, 2009, is provided in Appendix A.

"Whistleblower" Policy

The Board of Directors has adopted a "Whistleblower" Policy, which outlines a procedure for any employee to submit confidential complaints, concerns, violations, or suspected violations for any and all matters pertaining to accounting, internal control, or auditing of the Company.

Nomination of Directors

The independent directors act as a Nominating Committee for selecting the nominees for election as directors. All nominees must be approved by a majority of independent directors. Except in the case of a nominee substituted as a result of the death or other incapacity of a management nominee, the Nominating Committee delivers its nominations to the secretary at least 20 days prior to the annual meeting date. Only those persons nominated for directors made by the Nominating Committee will be voted upon at the annual meeting, unless any shareholders make other nominations in writing and deliver them to the secretary of the Company at least one-hundred twenty days and not more than one-hundred eighty days prior to the annual meeting date. The Company will provide ballots with the names of all persons nominated by the Nominating Committee and those names nominated by shareholders (if any) for use at the annual meeting. However, if the Nominating Committee shall fail or refuse to make nominations for directors at least 20 days prior to the annual meeting, nominations for directors may be made at the annual meeting by any shareholder entitled to vote. Such recommendations must contain the name, age, business address, residence address, and the principal occupation or employment of each such recommended nominee as would be required under the rules of the SEC in a proxy statement soliciting proxies for the election of such recommended nominee as a director. Such recommendations shall include a signed consent from the nominated person to serve as a director of the Company, if elected.

Each nominee for director is an existing director standing for re-election. The Company did not receive any properly executed shareholder proposals for additional Board nominee(s) within the required timeframe.

Edgar Filing: NASB FINANCIAL INC - Form DEF 14A

Compensation of Directors and Committee Members

Non-employee directors are paid a directors' fee for each regular monthly board meeting and, where applicable, for each Audit Committee meeting that they attend. During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, non-employee director fees were $1,250 for each monthly board meeting attended, and $400 for each Audit Committee meeting attended. The Chairman of the Audit Committee received $750 for each Audit Committee meeting attended. These board meeting fees and Audit Committee meeting fees are the only compensation that the Company pays to its non-employee directors.

The following table provides compensation information for non-employee directors for their service to the Company during fiscal 2009. Those directors who are also executive officers of the company do not receive compensation for their service as a director, other than compensation they receive as an executive officer of the Company (see section entitled: Executive Compensation).

PROPOSAL 1: ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

Each time the Company elects directors, every stockholder entitled to vote has the right to vote the number of shares he or she owns multiplied by the number of directors that are to be elected. A stockholder may cumulate votes by voting the total number of votes for any one candidate or by distributing votes equally or unequally among the candidates. The total votes for all candidates cannot exceed the number of nominees multiplied by the number of shares owned by that stockholder.

For example, presuming a stockholder owns 1,000 shares of stock in the Company and there are three directors nominated for election at the Annual Meeting, the stockholder has 3,000 total votes to be spread among the nominees.

The stockholder may either cast a) 1,000 votes for each of the three nominees; b) 1,500 votes for each of two of the nominees; c) 3,000 votes for one of the nominees, or; d) votes for any combination of the nominees, provided the total votes cast for directors does not exceed 3,000 (the total cumulative votes for directors in this example). Stockholders may exercise their rights to cumulative voting by attaching instructions to their proxy card indicating how many votes their proxy should give each candidate. The Board of Directors reserves the right to cumulate votes with respect to proxies assigned to the Board unless authorization is expressly withheld or instruction is otherwise given.

The directors are divided into three classes. Three directors are to be elected at this meeting. All the nominees, David H. Hancock, Linda S. Hancock, and Paul L. Thomas, currently serve on the Company's Board of Directors and are seeking re-election to serve until the 2013 Annual Meeting; or until their successors are elected and qualified to serve.

The Board of Directors intends to vote the proxies for the election of all of the director nominees named below for directors, or, at their discretion, cumulatively vote for any one or more, unless the proxy is marked to indicate that such authorization is expressly withheld. Management believes that all such nominees will stand for election but, if any person nominated fails to stand for election, the Board of Directors reserves full discretion to vote for any other person who may be nominated. Management believes that each Director nominee named in this proxy statement will serve if elected.

Information as to Nominees and Continuing Directors

The nominees, their ages, principal occupations or employment positions with the Company's subsidiary, North American Savings Bank, F.S.B. (the "Bank"), and the year each was first elected as director of NASB are shown on the following table. Each director of the Company is also a member of the Board of Directors of the Bank.

EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

Compensation Discussion and Analysis

General

The Company's executive compensation programs are designed to attract and retain quality executives and to motivate them to a high level of performance. Executive compensation is administered by the Compensation Committee, which sets executive compensation and makes grants of stock options in accordance with the Company's Incentive Stock Option Plan. The non-employee Directors receive only fees for the monthly directors meetings and committee meetings. Non-employee Directors do not participate in any incentive programs, health insurance programs, retirement benefit programs, or incentive stock option programs. All compensation that the Company paid to non-employee Directors is presented in the Directors' compensation table provided on

The company did not participate in the TARP Capital Purchase Program and is not subject to the compensation restrictions or limitations required by the TARP Program rules or the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009.

Overview of Compensation Philosophy

Executive officers of the Company (NASB Financial, Inc.) are also executive officers of the subsidiary Bank (North American Savings Bank, F.S.B.). All executive officers are considered employees of the Bank and all cash compensation paid to them is from the Bank. The various components of compensation that the Bank uses to pay its executive officers are: base salary, annual bonus awards, grants of stock options from the Company's incentive stock option plan, health and dental insurance, disability insurance, and company contributions to the Bank's 401(k) plan. The insurance and 401(k) contributions are offered to all executives under the same terms and conditions that they are offered to all employees. Cash bonuses and incentive stock options are awarded to executive officers at the discretion of the Compensation Committee but are not necessarily offered to all executives in every year.

The Company does not use any other types of incentive compensation, other than those listed above. The Company does not provide its executives any of the other types of compensation or arrangements that similar companies provide such as stock appreciation rights, stock awards, employee stock purchase plans, deferred compensation plans, employment agreements, termination agreements, change-in-control agreements, company vehicles, or club memberships.

The Company's compensation philosophy has several key objectives, including:

- to attract and retain quality executives that can understand and accomplish the Company's goals and objectives;
- to provide incentive for executives to assure the Company's (and the Bank's) compliance with various regulations;
- to provide incentive for executives to administer the assets of the Company in a manner that maximizes earnings, returns on assets, and returns on equity, and;
- to closely align the interests of management with those of stockholders, especially with regard to creating long-term shareholder value.

The Compensation Committee believes that, although one of the key objectives is to create shareholder value, this does not necessarily mean that stock performance, as measured in the short-term (i.e. year-to-year), is a clear indication of the shareholder value being built. Based on average daily trading volume, the Company's stock is somewhat illiquid compared to similar institutions. Therefore, the Compensation Committee makes executive compensation decisions based only on their view of each executive's contribution to long-term stockholder value.

The Board of Directors and the Compensation Committee believe that objective measures of executive performance may place too much emphasis on quantity of transaction volume over the quality of assets that executives are creating. For example, since the latter part of 2006 and continuing to this point, the banking industry has seen a slow down in the residential and commercial real estate markets, both for construction and existing properties. This is having a significant impact on the Company's opportunities to originate quality construction and commercial real estate loans. Certain borrowers, especially those in residential construction and commercial real estate investment, are also affected by the real estate slow down, hold more real estate inventory, and become lesser quality borrowers than during boom times. The Committee also believes that a formulaic compensation structure would have an undesired affect of motivating executive officers to sacrifice sustainable long-term profitability to achieve short-term earnings ratios. For these reasons, the Compensation Committee believes in using subjective measures for determining executive compensation, rather than formulating strict policies regarding levels and various elements of compensation. The Committee believes that purely objective, formulaic, and volume based measures would create incentives for executives to emphasize the quantity of new assets produced over the quality of those assets.

Since management has no control over how the Company's stock is traded in the marketplace, the Compensation Committee does not view price fluctuations in the Company's stock as a relevant factor with regard to setting executive compensation.

Compensation Setting Process

The Compensation Committee evaluates the performance of its executive officers, mostly using a subjective analysis. The Committee does not use any specifically predefined target levels of transaction volumes or quantitative measures when determining executive officer compensation each year. The Compensation Committee believes that using more subjective criteria to measure each executive's performance ensures that each executive will focus on the quality of assets that he or she is producing, rather than merely the quantity. The Compensation Committee generally attempts to set total compensation near the 75th percentile of the Bank's custom peer group.

The Compensation Committee reviewed peer data to compile a benchmarking analysis for the purpose of comparing NASB's operating results and performance ratios to that of other, similar institutions. The Committee reviewed the performance data from a custom peer group of 29 publicly traded and non-public institutions in the Midwest region of varying sizes and a greater-than 50% concentration of assets in mortgage lending. Data from the following financial institutions (and their holding companies, where applicable) was included:

Publicly Traded

BankFinancial, FSB (IL)
Bank Mutual (WI)
Bank of Blue Valley (KS)
Capitol Federal Savings Bank (KS)
Citizens Financial Bank (IN)
First Federal Bank (AR)
Great Southern Bank (MO)
Home Federal Savings Bank (MN)
MetaBank (IA)
Mutual Bank (IN)
Pulaski Bank (MO)

Non-public

Bank Midwest (MO)
Fidelity Bank (KS)
First Federal Bank, FSB (MO)
Guaranty Bank (WI)
Heartland Bank (MO)
Hillcrest Bank (KS)
Inter Savings Bank, fsb (MN)
Liberty Bank (IA)
MidCountry Bank (IL)
National Bank of Kansas City (KS)
Northwest Bank (IA)

Edgar Filing: NASB FINANCIAL INC - Form DEF 14A

TierOne Bank (NE)	Platte Valley Bank of Missouri (MO)
United Western Bank (CO)	Principal Bank (IA)
Vantus Bank (IA)	Security Savings Bank, FSB (KS)
	Think Mutual Bank (MN)

The Compensation Committee obtained peer performance data from SEC filings of the publicly traded companies and from Thrift Report and Call Report data published by the non-public companies. The institutions included in the custom peer group were deemed by the Committee as generally comparable in size, business focus, real estate lending concentration, and in the level of responsibility of the executive officers. All the institutions identified are located in the Midwest region, which the Committee believes is also a relevant factor for this analysis. The institutions included in the custom peer group may be changed from time to time based on each peer's relevancy to NASB. The Committee believes that operating results and performance ratios should be just one component of its overall decision process. The Committee recognizes a myriad of non-executive factors that can influence the Company's performance and cause it to differ from that of its peers in any given period.

In addition to this custom peer group, the Compensation Committee reviewed the weighted average performance ratios of all national thrift institutions and of those national thrift institutions with total assets between $1 billion and $5 billion. The Committee obtained the operating results and performance ratios from Call Report and Thrift Financial Report data presented on the FDIC website.

The Compensation Committee also reviewed a compensation analysis consisting of data from various sources so they could compare the total compensation practices for the Company's executive officers with those compensation practices of similar institutions. For this analysis, the Committee used data obtained from the proxies of the publicly-traded institutions. The Committee also reviewed data presented in the Bank Cash Compensation Survey provided by the Delves Group and originated by the Bank Administration Institute. In its review of compensation surveys and peer compensation data, the Committee recognizes that each institution has unique objectives. Also, because of those unique objectives, the responsibilities of any specific executive are likely to vary greatly from institution to institution, even though their titles may be exactly the same.

Typically, the Compensation Committee gives consideration to recommendations from the Company's CEO and majority stockholder, David H. Hancock, for all components of executive compensation. The CEO's recommendations are based on several factors including: individual performance evaluations of each of the Company's executive officers, an analysis of the Company's performance versus previous periods and versus peer performance, and executive pay compared to similar positions in the marketplace. The Compensation Committee reviews this evidence plus the recommendations from Mr. Hancock, as well as input from the Company's President, Chief Financial Officer, and Human Resources Director. The Committee then sets, for each of the executive officers, the base salary for the new fiscal year, the annual bonus payments (if any) for the recently completed fiscal year and the level of incentive stock option awards (if any) under the Company's Incentive Stock Option Plan. The Compensation Committee works with these officers in a collaborative nature with respect to decisions about compensation and benefits. However, regardless of the input from management, the Compensation Committee reserves the right to make final determinations on all compensation paid to executive officers.

Company Performance Versus Peers

The following table presents the Bank's Return on Assets and Return on Equity during the nine-months ended September 30, 2009, and during each of the past two calendar years compared to its custom peer group (29 institutions), the group of national thrift institutions with total assets between $1 billion and $5 billion (averaging 119 institutions for the periods presented), the group of all national thrift institutions (averaging 1,219 for the periods presented), and the group of all national depository institutions (averaging 8,313 institutions for the periods presented). Data was obtained from the FDIC website that compiles information from call reports and thrift financial reports. Negative return ratios are shown with parentheses.

Components of Executive Compensation

Edgar Filing: NASB FINANCIAL INC - Form DEF 14A

Base Salary. This component is established and reviewed based on each executive's level of influence, scope of responsibility, prior experience, past accomplishments, individual performance, and competitive market practices. The Compensation Committee reviews and considers the range and allocation of total compensation (base salary, annual cash incentives, and long-term equity based compensation) that other companies pay their executives. The Compensation Committee sets base salary at a level that, when considered in combination with annual cash bonuses and equity based compensation, puts the level of total compensation near the 75th percentile compared to the custom peer group.

Annual Cash Bonus. In addition to base salary, the Compensation Committee awards annual cash bonuses to executive officers. The annual cash bonus awards are not administered as part of any formal cash bonus program. Executive officers are included, or excluded, each year at the sole discretion of the Compensation Committee, with input from a management committee that includes the Chief Executive Officer, President, Chief Financial Officer, and Human Resources Manager. The criteria for an annual cash bonus is subjective. However, the Compensation Committee does review the Company's earnings ratios versus peer data, including Return on Assets and Return on Equity.

Stock Option Awards. Incentive Stock Options ("ISOs") are granted at the sole discretion of the Compensation Committee. In general, ISOs are used to align the interest and goals of executive officers with those of the shareholders. Additionally, they are intended to foster long-term service and to motivate executives to make decisions that maximize long-term shareholder value.

ISOs are not necessarily granted every year and are not necessarily granted to every executive officer. The Compensation Committee makes ISO grants whenever it deems appropriate that such grant would properly help motivate and retain specific executive officers to achieve the long-term goals of the Company. The Compensation Committee intends that ISO grants function as long-term incentives.

Other Compensation. Executive officers are eligible to receive health insurance benefits and 401(k) retirement contributions in the same manner as all other employees of the Bank (See Benefits: Retirement Plan). There are no benefits or payments to executive officers that would qualify as "perquisites."

Employment Agreements

The Company has not entered into any employment agreements or any post-termination benefit agreements with any of its employees, officers, or executive officers.

BENEFITS

Retirement Plan

During the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, North American maintained a 401(k) Qualified Defined Contribution Plan ("Plan") for all employees who worked at least 1,000 hours per year, were 21 years of age, and had been employed for one year. This Plan complies with the requirements of the Employment Retirement Income Security Act ("ERISA") of 1974. The Plan provides, in general, that an employee may elect to contribute from 1% to 100% of annual salary on a pre-tax basis, subject to certain IRS dollar limits. The Bank will contribute 50% of the employee's contribution, up to a maximum of 3% of the employee's salary, also subject to IRS limits. Employees are 100% vested in the employer's contributions after three years of service to the Bank. Benefits under the Plan are determined by the contributions of the Bank and the participant. Normal retirement age is 65. Upon retirement, the participant elects the manner in which the accrued contributions plus earnings are to be received.

The aggregate contributions by the Bank under the Plan for named executive officers during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, were: David H. Hancock, $8,580; Rhonda Nyhus, $4,182; Keith B. Cox, $5,945; Paul L. Thomas, $5,945; Bruce Thielen, $7,500, and for all executive officers as a group were $52,350. Total accrued contributions by the Bank are: David H. Hancock, $100,034; Rhonda Nyhus, $31,731; Keith B. Cox, $79,458; Paul L. Thomas, $36,777; and Bruce Thielen, $84,569.

The Company does not offer any other pension benefits that would be considered either qualified or non-qualified defined benefit plans.

The Company does not offer any type of benefit plans that would be considered either qualified or non-qualified deferred compensation plans.

2004 Stock Option Plan

On January 27, 2004, stockholders of NASB approved a new equity stock option plan ("2004 Stock Option Plan"). Under the 2004 Stock Option Plan, options to purchase up to 250,000 shares of Common Stock may be granted to officers and employees of the Bank and its subsidiaries. As of September 30, 2009, there were 170,343 shares of Common Stock remaining available for issue under the 2004 Stock Option Plan.

The options granted are intended to be incentive stock options under Section 442A of the Internal Revenue Code as amended. Qualified stock options must be granted by the tenth anniversary of the effective date of the 2004 Stock Option Plan. The option price may not be less than 100% of the fair market value of the shares on the date of the grant. No option shall be exercisable after the expiration of ten years from its date of the grant.

Edgar Filing: NASB FINANCIAL INC - Form DEF 14A

The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors administers the 2004 Stock Option Plan. The Board selects the employees to whom options are to be granted and the number of shares to be granted based upon, among other things, an employee's length of service, the amount of compensation, and the nature of responsibilities, duties and functions.

The Board may, in its discretion, authorize NASB to accept the surrender by the optionee of the right to exercise an option in consideration for the payment by NASB of an amount equal to the excess of the fair market value of the shares of Common Stock subject to such option surrendered over the total exercise price. Such payment may be made in Common Stock and/or cash Incentive stock options are designed to result in beneficial tax treatment to the optionee and do not result in a tax deduction for the Company. The optionee is not taxed upon grant or exercise of an incentive stock option; rather, taxation is deferred until the sale or other disposition of the underlying shares.

During the year ended September 30, 2009, there were no new stock options issued by the Board.

As of September 30, 2009, none of the options granted under the 2004 Stock Option Plan have been exercised. Options held by executive officers who are directors are included in the table under beneficial ownership. The total of all named and non-named executive officers as a group hold options to purchase 43,819 shares.

The following table provides information about the shares of Common Stock that may be issued upon exercise of options granted in the 2004 Stock Option Plan.

Transactions Between the Company and its Directors, Officers, or Their Affiliates

Prior to the Financial Institutions Reform Recovery and Enforcement Act of 1989, the Company followed the policy of offering mortgage loans for the financing of personal residences and consumer loans to its officers, directors and employees. These loans were made in the ordinary course of business and on substantially the same terms and collateral, except for fees, as those of comparable transactions prevailing at the time. The loans did not involve more than the normal risk of collectibility or present other unfavorable features. NASB does not make portfolio loans to executive officers and directors.

As of September 30, 2009, there were no loans made on preferential terms, as explained above, to an executive officer or director of the Company that exceeded $60,000 in the aggregate. Loans to executive officers and directors or their associates, which were not made on preferential terms, if any, are disclosed in the notes to the consolidated financial statements in the 2009 Annual Report to Stockholders.

Section 16(a) of the Exchange Act requires the Company's directors and executive officers, and persons who own more than 10% of a registered class of NASB Financial, Inc. equity securities, to file reports of ownership and reports of changes in ownership with the SEC. The Company's officers, directors and greater than 10% stockholders are also required by SEC regulation to furnish the Company with copies of

To the best of the Company's knowledge, based solely on a review of the copies of such reports furnished to the Company and written representations that no other reports were required during the fiscal year ended September 30, 2009, all Section 16(a) filing requirements applicable to its officers, directors and greater than 10% beneficial owners were met. Where applicable, transactions were properly filed on Form 5 at the end of the Company's fiscal year-end.

PROPOSAL 2: RATIFICATION OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS

Each year, the Audit Committee evaluates and approves the scope and projected cost of services to be provided to the Company by the independent auditors. This appointment is being presented to stockholders for ratification. If the stockholders do not ratify the selection of KPMG LLP, the Board of Directors will reconsider the selection. KPMG LLP has advised NASB that neither the firm nor any present member or associate of the firm has any financial interest, direct or indirect, in the Company, nor any connection with NASB in the capacity of promoter, underwriter, voting trustee, director, officer or employee.
