Item 1. Report to Stockholders

August 9, 2018

Dear Shareholder,

The semi-annual report for The New America High Income Fund (the "Fund") for the period ended June 30, 2018 contains important information about the Fund's portfolio investments, the Fund's performance and the investment adviser's market outlook. The Fund's net asset value (the "NAV") was $9.66 as of June 30th. The market price for the Fund's shares ended the period at $8.62, representing a market price discount of 10.8%. The Fund paid dividends totaling $0.283 per share from earnings during the six month period. The annualized dividend yield on a share of common stock purchased at the year-end 2017 price of $9.40 was 7%

As of June 30th, the Fund's outstanding borrowings through its credit facility (the "Facility") with the Bank of Nova Scotia was $91 million, unchanged from borrowings at year-end. The borrowings represented approximately 29% of the Fund's total assets. Amounts borrowed under the Facility bear interest at an adjustable rate based on a margin above LIBOR. The rate the Fund paid on the Facility increased throughout the six month period as LIBOR rose following two increases in the Federal Funds rate. The interest rate on the Facility as of June 30th was 2.93%. While the market value-weighted average current yield of 6.98% on the Fund's portfolio is attractive compared with the interest rate of 2.93% paid on the Facility, the yield spread is much less attractive than it was in recent prior periods. One year ago the Fund was paying 2.13% on its borrowings and earning a market value-weighted average current yield on the portfolio of 6.79% for a yield spread of 4.66 percentage points. As of June 30th, the yield spread between the cost of borrowing and the market value-weighted average current yield was 4.05 percentage points. The Fund's leverage contributed approximately 17% of the net income earned in the period, compared to 20% of the net income in 2017 and 23% of the net income earned in 2016.

The Federal Reserve (the "Fed") has indicated that, if economic trends continue, investors should expect further increases in the Fed Funds rate later in 2018. While increases in interest rates are one risk that bond investors face, it's important to remember that bonds react differently to changing rates. Duration is a measure of the sensitivity of a bond's price to a change in rates. Duration takes into account a bond's maturity and coupon. A relatively short maturity shortens duration as does a relatively high coupon. A short bond duration indicates less sensitivity to changes in interest rates. High yield bonds have relatively shorter durations compared to investment grade bonds, resulting in less price volatility in changing rate environments, although high yield bonds are more sensitive to credit risk, resulting in greater price volatility than investment grade bonds in changing economic conditions.

We remind our shareholders that there is no certainty that the dividend will remain at the current level. The dividend can be affected by portfolio results, the cost and amount of leverage, market conditions, the extent to which the portfolio is fully invested and operating expenses, among other factors. Leverage magnifies the effect of price movements on the Fund's net asset value per share. The Fund's leverage increases the Fund's total return in periods of positive high yield market performance. Of course the opposite is true in an unfavorable high yield market.

	Total Returns for the Periods Ending June 30, 2018
	1 Year	3 Years Cumulative
New America High Income Fund (Stock Price and Dividends)*	-2.09%	26.37%
New America High Income Fund (NAV and Dividends)*	1.29%	21.88%
Credit Suisse High Yield Index	2.75%	17.33%

Sources: Credit Suisse and The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results. Total return assumes the reinvestment of dividends.

The Credit Suisse High Yield Index is an unmanaged index. Unlike the Fund, the Index has no trading activity, expenses or leverage.

* Returns are historical and are calculated by determining the percentage change in net asset value or market value with all distributions reinvested. Distributions are assumed to be reinvested at prices obtained under the Fund's dividend reinvestment plan. Because the Fund's shares may trade at either a discount or premium to the Fund's net asset value per share, returns based upon the stock price and dividends will tend to differ from those derived from the underlying change in net asset value and dividends. The variance between the Fund's total return based on stock price and dividends and the total return based on the Fund's NAV and dividends is due to the widening of the stock price discount to the NAV over the last year.

Market Review*

High yield bonds returned 0.20% in the first half of 2018 according to the Credit Suisse High Yield Index (the "Index"). The expectation of synchronized global growth came under pressure as the U.S economy accelerated relative to other areas in the first half of the year. The U.S. high yield market was relatively resilient compared with eurozone and emerging regions as those markets further succumbed to negative geopolitical developments. In the U.S., solid economic data seemed to bolster the Fed's confidence in its path toward normalizing monetary policy. The unemployment rate fell to an 18-year low of 3.8% and various inflation measures were at or slightly above the Fed's 2% target. Although first-quarter gross domestic product was revised down to a 2.0% annualized rate, preliminary data have pointed to a strong pickup in the second quarter. The Fed raised the target range for the Federal Funds rate to 1.75% 2.0% at its June meeting, the second increase this year. Trade tensions periodically weighed on market sentiment, as the U.S. imposed tariffs on various imports from China and other major trading partners, including Canada, Mexico, and the European Union. Many of these nations retaliated or threatened to do so, sparking fears that continued trade disputes could hamper global commerce and, thus, the worldwide economic expansion. Oil prices rallied to multiyear highs by the end of June due to OPEC's announcement of a much lower-than-anticipated production increase, reports of falling inventories, and the potential for supply disruptions.

In this environment, CCC rated bonds posted positive returns, outperforming higher quality issues within the high yield sector. The outperformance of lower quality bonds was largely a function of interest rates moving higher, as CCC securities typically have a shorter duration than higher quality bonds. A lower default environment was also supportive. Performance by industry was mixed. The food, retail and energy sectors outperformed the broad market. Conversely, transportation and forest products/containers industries declined over the period. The yield spread of the Index compared to U.S. Treasury notes widened a modest 5 basis points during the six months, ending the period at 399 basis points with a yield to worst of 6.64%. This compares with the ten year averages of approximately 635 basis points and 7.90 %, respectively.

Technical conditions were mixed. According to J.P. Morgan, high yield mutual funds saw outflows through the end of June. However, new issue activity also declined compared to the same period in 2017, with gross issuance of $126.3 billion. Even so, considering calls, tenders, and maturities, net supply registered as negative, helping to minimize declines in the asset class caused by outflows. Other than the expected bankruptcy filing of iHeartMedia in the first quarter, there were relatively few defaults in the period. The J.P. Morgan par-weighted default rate ended the period at 1.98% compared with the historical average of 3.75%.

Portfolio Review

Portfolio investments in regions outside of North America detracted from returns. Financials have been a top performer in recent years. However, several of the Fund's positions traded lower over the second quarter, particularly Italian banks, including Unicredit and Intesa Sanpaolo. While these banks remain well capitalized, the issues traded lower due to investors' concerns following the Italian election. The Fund continues to hold these securities, which we believe have stable to improving credit characteristics with high coupons that offer short, stable income and are likely to be refinanced at their coupon reset dates.

The portfolio's investments in the media/telecommunications sector detracted significantly from total return during the period. The investment team continues to have a positive outlook on cable operators due to the subscription-based nature of the business, attractive margins, stable cash flow and moderate growth prospects. Within the context of the overall high yield market, relative value of the industry on a risk-adjusted basis remains attractive. We expect most cable operators to exhibit stable credit profiles over the intermediate-term. Charter Communications and Altice remain top positions in the Fund. Charter is a crossover credit and benefits from significant scale as the second largest U.S. cable operator.

Security selection within the CCC rating tier was also a notable detractor from performance. The Fund's CCC rated securities are in issuers that we believe may be upgraded to B or are mis-rated by the credit rating agencies. However, the issuers that drove the outsized gains in that CCC sector were the weaker issuers of the rating category. On the higher end of the rating spectrum, the Fund's allocation to floating rate bank loans benefitted the portfolio. Bank debt composes 7.5% of Fund's assets as of June 30, 2018. In the current rising rate environment, the floating rate feature of bank loans is attractive.

Outlook

Steady economic growth is supportive to below investment-grade issuers, as they are typically more sensitive to macroeconomic factors. However, global geopolitics, including potential tariff wars, populist sentiment within the European Union, and ongoing rhetoric out of Washington D.C. create a notable level of uncertainty. Fed policy is also a concern. Thus far, the high yield bond market has held up reasonably well. Corporate fundamentals are largely stable, and we believe default activity will remain below the historical average this year into next. In addition, we continue to like bank loans for their floating rate feature as Fed officials have signaled the likelihood of two more short-term rate increases in 2018.

Absolute yields have risen to more attractive levels but remain below the long-term average. Higher-quality issuers in the high yield market are paying 6% to 7% on their new issuance versus less than 5% six months ago. We have also been able to buy bonds trading below par, but we do not expect capital appreciation to be a significant factor in our returns over the intermediate term. We remain cognizant of volatility, largely external to the high yield market, that could still impact the below investment-grade asset class.

As always, we aim to deliver high current income while seeking to contain volatility inherent in this market. Our team maintains a commitment to credit research and risk-conscious investing that has led to favorable returns for our high yield clients over various market cycles.

Sincerely,

Ellen E. Terry

Notes to Financial Statements
June 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

(1) Significant Accounting and Other Policies

The New America High Income Fund, Inc. (the Fund) was organized as a corporation in the state of Maryland on November 19, 1987 and is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission as a diversified, closed-end investment company under the Investment Company Act of 1940. The Fund follows the investment company accounting and reporting guidance of the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standard Codification Topic 946 "Financial Services Investment Companies". The Fund commenced operations on February 26, 1988. The investment objective of the Fund is to provide high current income while seeking to preserve stockholders' capital through investment in a professionally managed, diversified portfolio of "high yield" fixed-income securities.

The Fund invests primarily in fixed maturity corporate debt securities that are rated less than investment grade. Risk of loss upon default by the issuer is significantly greater with respect to such securities compared to investment grade securities because these securities are generally unsecured and are often subordinated to other creditors of the issuer and because these issuers usually have high levels of indebtedness and are more sensitive to adverse economic conditions, such as a recession, than are investment grade issuers. In some cases, the collection of principal and timely receipt of interest is dependent upon the issuer attaining improved operating results, selling assets or obtaining additional financing.

The Fund may focus its investments in certain industries, subjecting it to greater risk than a Fund that is more diversified. See the schedule of investments for information on individual securities as well as industry diversification and credit quality ratings.

The Fund's financial statements have been prepared in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States for investment companies that require the management of the Fund to, among other things, make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

The following is a summary of significant accounting policies consistently followed by the Fund, which are in conformity with those generally accepted in the investment company industry.

(a) Valuation of Investments Except as otherwise described below, the Fund's investments are valued based on evaluated bid prices provided by an independent pricing service. Independent pricing services provide prices based primarily on quotations from dealers and brokers, market transactions, data accessed from quotations services, offering sheets obtained from dealers and various relationships among similar securities. Investments whose primary market is on an exchange are valued at the last sale price on the day of valuation. Short-term investments with original maturities of 60 days or less are stated at amortized cost, which approximates the fair value of such investments. Following procedures approved by the Board of Directors, investments for which market prices are not yet provided by an independent pricing service (primarily newly issued fixed-income corporate bonds and notes) shall be valued at the most recently quoted bid price provided by a principal market maker for the security. Other investments for which market quotations are not readily available are valued in good faith at fair value using methods approved by the Board of Directors. Fair value measurement is further discussed in section (f) of this footnote.

(b) Foreign Currency Investment securities and other assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollar amounts at the date of valuation. Purchases and sales of investment securities and income and expense items denominated in foreign currencies are translated into U. S. dollar amounts on the respective dates of such transactions.

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments.

Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currencies, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transaction, and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains and losses arise from changes in the fair values of assets and liabilities, other than investments in securities at fiscal period end, resulting from changes in exchange rates.

(c) Foreign Currency Forward Exchange Contracts The Fund may enter into foreign currency forward exchange contracts to hedge against foreign currency exchange rate risks on its non-U.S. dollar denominated investment securities. When entering into a forward currency contract, the Fund agrees to receive or deliver a fixed quantity of foreign currency for an agreed upon price on an agreed future date. The Fund's net equity therein, representing unrealized gain or loss on the contracts as measured by the difference between the forward foreign exchange rates at the dates of entry into the contracts and the forward rates at the reporting date, is included in the statement of assets and liabilities. Realized and unrealized gains and losses are included in the statement of operations. These instruments involve market risk, credit risk or both kinds of risks, in excess of the amount recognized in the statement of assets and liabilities. Risks arise from the possible inability of counterparties to meet the terms of their contracts and from movement in currency and securities values and interest rates.

(d) Securities Transactions and Net Investment Income Securities transactions are recorded on trade date. Realized gains or losses on sales of securities are calculated on the identified cost basis. Interest income is accrued on a daily basis. Discount on short-term investments is amortized to investment income. Premiums or discounts on corporate debt securities are amortized based on the interest method for financial reporting purposes. All income on original issue discount and step interest bonds is accrued based on the effective interest method. The Fund does not amortize market premiums or discounts for tax purposes. Dividend payments received in the form of additional securities are recorded on the ex-dividend date in an amount equal to the value of the security on such date.

(e) Federal Income Taxes It is the Fund's policy to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, applicable to regulated investment companies and to distribute substantially all of its taxable income to its shareholders each year. Accordingly, no federal income tax provision is required.

(f) Fair Value Measurement The Fund applies ASC 820 "Fair Value Measurements and Disclosures". This standard establishes the definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires additional disclosures about fair value measurements.

The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under ASC 820 are described below:

Level 1 Unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities that the Fund has the ability to access.

Level 2 Observable inputs other than quoted prices included in level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly. These inputs may include quoted prices for the identical instrument on an inactive market, prices for similar instruments, interest rates, prepayment speeds, credit risk, yield curves, default rates and similar data.

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability, to the extent relevant observable inputs are not available, representing the Fund's own assumptions about the assumptions a market participant would use in valuing the asset or liability, and would be based on the best information available.

The availability of observable inputs can vary from security to security and is affected by a wide variety of factors, including, for example, the type of security, whether the security is new and not yet established in the marketplace, the liquidity of markets, and other characteristics particular to the security. To the extent that valuation is based on models or inputs that are less observable or unobservable in the market, the determination of fair value requires more judgment. Accordingly, the degree of judgment exercised in determining fair value is greatest for instruments categorized in level 3.

The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety, is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

A description of the valuation techniques applied to the Fund's major asset and liability categories is as follows.

Debt securities (corporate, convertible & bank debt). The fair value of debt securities is provided by independent pricing services using quotations from dealers and brokers, market transactions, data from quotations services, offering sheets and various relationships between securities. While most corporate bonds are categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy, there may be instances where less observable inputs necessitate a level 3 categorization.

Equity securities (preferred and common stock). Equity securities for which the primary market is on an exchange will be valued at the last sale price on the day of valuation and are categorized in level 1 of the fair value hierarchy. Other equity securities traded in inactive markets or valued by independent pricing services using methods similar to debt securities are categorized in level 2. The fair value of equity securities in which observable inputs are unavailable are categorized in level 3.

Short-term investments. Short-term investments are valued using amortized cost, which approximates fair value. To the extent the inputs are observable and timely the values would be categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

Forwards are valued at the unrealized gain or loss on the contract as measured by the difference between the forward exchange rates at the date of entry into the contract and the forward rates at the reporting date. Forwards are categorized in level 2 of the fair value hierarchy.

The following is a summary of the inputs used as of June 30, 2018 in valuing the Fund's investments:

* Debt Securities Type of debt and industries are shown on the Schedule of Investments.

The Fund owned two Level 3 securities at June 30, 2018. They are identified on the Schedule of Investments with a footnote (i) and have a value of $969,000. The value was determined by the Valuation Committee of the Fund's investment advisor, T. Rowe Price, under procedures approved by the Board of Directors. The techniques used to arrive at this valuation take into account the occurrence of company specific or industry events, liquidity, and other market factors. The value for Felix Energy Unfunded Commitment also takes into account whether the committed amount is funded, canceled or expired.

The following is a reconciliation of Fund investments using Level 3 inputs for the period:

	Securities (000's)
Balance, December 31, 2017	$ 1,136
Net purchases/(sales)	(148)
Change in unrealized appreciation (depreciation)	7
Realized gain (loss)	(26)
Transfers to Level 3 from Level 2
Balance, June 30, 2018	$ 969

Level 1 and Level 2 assets are evaluated on a quarterly basis for changes in listings or delistings on national exchanges.

Transfers between levels are recognized at the value at the end of the reporting period. During the six months ended June 30, 2018, the Fund recognized transfers between Levels 1 and 2 totaling $196,000.

(2) Tax Matters and Distributions

At June 30, 2018, the total cost of securities (including temporary cash investments) for federal income tax purposes was approximately $330,901,000. Aggregate gross unrealized gain on securities in which there was an excess of value over tax cost was approximately $2,982,000. Aggregate gross unrealized loss on securities in which there was an excess of tax cost over value was approximately $11,088,000. Net unrealized loss on investments for tax purposes at June 30, 2018 was approximately $8,106,000.

At December 31, 2017, the Fund had approximate capital loss carryforwards available to offset future capital gains, if any, to the extent provided by regulations:

Carryover Available	Character	Expiration Date
$ 3,607,000	Short-term	None
4,074,000	Long-term	None
$ 7,681,000

As a result of the passage of the Regulated Investment Company Modernization Act of 2010 (the "Act"), losses incurred in the 2011 fiscal year and beyond retain their character as short-term or long-term, have no expiration date and are utilized before the capital losses incurred prior to the enactment of the Act. At December 31, 2017, the Fund had total capital loss carryforwards of $7,681,000. For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Fund utilized $3,061,000 and $3,406,000 of short-term and long-term capital loss carryforwards. At December 31, 2017, $26,830,000 of capital loss carryforwards expired.

It is the policy of the Fund to reduce future distributions of realized gains to shareholders to the extent of the unexpired capital loss carryforwards.

The tax character of distributions paid to common shareholders in 2017 and 2016 of approximately $16,357,000 and $17,702,000, respectively, was from ordinary income.

As of December 31, 2017, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were approximately:

Unrealized Gain Investments	$ 6,500,000
Capital Loss Carryforwards	(7,681,000)
Other Temporary Differences	(421,000)
	$ (1,602,000)

The New America High Income Fund, Inc.

June 30, 2018 (Unaudited)

The difference between components of distributable earnings on a tax basis and the amounts reflected in the Statement of Assets and Liabilities are primarily due to market discount and premium adjustments, wash sales, deferral of late year losses, dividends payable and the recognition of unrealized loss on currency forward contracts. For the year ended December 31, 2017, the Fund incurred $257,000 of qualified late year losses. The Fund has recorded several reclassifications in the capital accounts to present undistributed net investment income and accumulated net realized losses on a tax basis. These reclassifications have no impact on the net asset value of the Fund. For the year ended December 31, 2017, permanent differences between book and tax accounting have been reclassified as follows:

Increase (decrease) in:

Undistributed net investment income	$ (1,097,000)
Capital in excess of par value	$(26,830,000)
Accumulated net realized loss from securities transactions	$ 27,927,000

Distributions on common stock are declared based upon annual projections of the Fund's investment company taxable income. The Fund records all dividends and distributions payable to shareholders on the ex-dividend date and declares and distributes income dividends monthly.

The Fund is required to amortize market discounts and premiums for financial reporting purposes. This results in additional interest income in some years and decreased interest income in others for financial reporting purposes only. The Fund does not amortize market discounts or premiums for tax purposes. Therefore, the additional or decreased interest income for financial reporting purposes does not result in additional or decreased common stock dividend income.

The Fund recognizes the tax benefits of uncertain tax positions only where the position is "more likely than not" to be sustained assuming examination by tax authorities. Management has analyzed the Fund's tax positions, and has concluded that no liability for unrecognized tax benefits should be recorded related to uncertain tax positions taken on returns filed for open tax years 2014-2016, or expected to be taken in the Fund's 2017 tax returns. The Fund is not aware of any tax positions for which it is reasonably possible that the total amounts of unrecognized tax benefits will change materially in the next twelve months.

(3) Investment Advisory Agreement

T. Rowe Price Associates, Inc. (T. Rowe Price), the Fund's Investment Advisor, earned approximately $556,000 in management fees during the six months ended June 30, 2018. Management fees paid by the Fund to T. Rowe Price were calculated at 0.50% on the first $50,000,000 of the Fund's average weekly net assets, 0.40% on the next $50 million and 0.30% on average weekly net assets in excess of $100 million. T. Rowe Price's fee is calculated based on assets attributable to the Fund's common stock and senior securities. At June 30, 2018, the fee payable to T. Rowe Price was approximately $91,000, which was included in accrued expenses on the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities.

(4) Bank Credit Agreement

The Fund has a credit agreement with The Bank of Nova Scotia pursuant to which the Fund may borrow up to an aggregate amount of $100,000,000. On June 30, 2018 the total amount outstanding on the loan was $91,000,000. The term of the facility has been extended to October 2018. Amounts borrowed under the credit facility bear interest at an adjustable rate based on a margin above LIBOR. The rate paid on these borrowings is approximately 2.93% and will be in effect until July 6, 2018 at which time the rate will be reset. For the six months ended June 30, 2018 the weighted average rate on the loan was approximately 2.70% and the maximum amount borrowed during the period was $91,000,000.

The Fund pays a commitment fee to The Bank of Nova Scotia at a rate of .15% per annum for any unused

Supplemental Information (Unaudited)

Availability of Portfolio Holdings

The Fund provides a complete schedule of its portfolio holdings quarterly. The lists of holdings as of the end of the second and fourth quarters appear in the Fund's semi-annual and annual reports to shareholders, respectively. The schedules of portfolio holdings as of the end of the first and third quarters are filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on Form N-Q (the "Forms") within 60 days of the end of the first and third quarters. Shareholders can look up the Forms on the SEC's web site at www.sec.gov. The Forms may also be reviewed and copied at the SEC's public reference room in Washington, D.C. You may call the SEC at 1-800-SEC-0330 for information about the SEC's web site and their public reference room. In addition, the Forms may be reviewed on the Fund's web site at www.newamerica-hyb.com.

Compliance with CFTC Regulation of Transactions in Commodity Interests

The Fund does not currently intend to engage in transactions in commodity interests such as futures contracts, options on futures contracts, and swaps. However, the Fund may in the future enter into interest rate transactions, such as swaps, caps, collars and floors for the purpose or with the effect of hedging its portfolio and/or its payment obligations with respect to senior securities. In addition, the Fund has reserved the right, subject to the approval of the Board of Directors, to purchase and sell financial futures contracts and options on such futures contracts for the purpose of hedging its portfolio securities (or portfolio securities which it expects to acquire) against anticipated changes in prevailing interest rates. To the extent it engages in transactions in commodity interests, the Fund expects their use to be limited such that the Fund may claim the exclusion from the definition of the term "commodity pool operator" available under Regulation 4.5 of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission under the Commodity Exchange Act, and will not therefor be subject to regulation as a pool operator under the Commodity Exchange Act.

Common Stock Transactions

The Fund may purchase shares of its Common Stock in the open market when the Common Stock trades at a discount to net asset value or at other times if the Fund determines such purchases are advisable. There can be no assurance that the Fund will take such action in the event of a market discount to net asset value or that Fund purchases will reduce a discount.
