QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT THE MERGER AND THE SPECIAL MEETINGS

The following are answers to certain questions that you may have regarding the Denbury and Penn Virginia special meetings. Denbury and Penn Virginia urge you to read carefully the remainder of this document because the information in this section may not provide all the information that might be important to you in determining how to vote. Additional important information is also contained in the annexes to, and the documents incorporated by reference in, this document.

Q: Why am I receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus?

A: You are receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus because Denbury, Penn Virginia, Merger Sub and LLC Sub have entered into the Merger Agreement, pursuant to which, on the terms and subject to the conditions included in the Merger Agreement, Denbury has agreed to acquire Penn Virginia by means of a merger, pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into Penn Virginia, with Penn Virginia surviving the merger as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury (the Merger). Immediately following the effective time of the Merger, the surviving corporation in the Merger will merge with and into LLC Sub, with LLC Sub surviving the merger as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury (the LLC Sub Merger).

Your vote is required in connection with the Merger. The Merger Agreement, which governs the terms of the Merger, is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A.

Denbury. In order for the Merger to be consummated, Denbury stockholders must approve (i) the issuance of shares of Denbury Common Stock in connection with the Merger in accordance with the rules of the New York Stock Exchange (which we refer to as the NYSE) and (ii) an amendment to the Second Restated Certificate of Incorporation of Denbury (which we refer to as the Denbury certificate of incorporation) to increase the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock authorized for issuance thereunder. Denbury is holding a special meeting of its stockholders (which we refer to as the Denbury special meeting) to obtain that approval. Your vote is very important. We encourage you to submit a proxy to have your shares of Denbury Common Stock voted as soon as possible.

Penn Virginia. In order for the Merger to be consummated, Penn Virginia shareholders must approve the Merger Agreement in accordance with the Virginia Stock Corporation Act (which we refer to as the VSCA). Penn Virginia is holding a special meeting of its shareholders (which we refer to as the Penn Virginia special meeting) to obtain that approval. Your vote is very important. We encourage you to submit a proxy to have your shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Penn Virginia (Penn Virginia Common Stock) voted as soon as possible.

Q: When and where will the special meetings take place?

A: Denbury. The Denbury special meeting will be held at [], Central Time, on [], 2019, at 5320 Legacy Drive, Plano, Texas 75024.

Penn Virginia. Penn Virginia shareholders are being asked to consider and vote on:

a proposal to approve the Merger Agreement (which we refer to as the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal); and a proposal to approve, by a non-binding advisory vote, certain compensation that may be paid or become payable to Penn Virginia's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger contemplated by the Merger Agreement (which we refer to as the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal).

Q: Is my vote important?

A: Denbury. Yes. Your vote is very important. The Merger cannot be completed unless (i) the Denbury Issuance Proposal is approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock represented in person or by proxy at the Denbury special meeting and (ii) the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal is approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Only Denbury stockholders as of the close of business on the record date are entitled to vote at the Denbury special meeting. The board of directors of Denbury (which we refer to as the Denbury board or the Denbury board of directors) unanimously recommends that such Denbury stockholders vote FOR the approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and FOR the approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

Penn Virginia. Yes. Your vote is very important. The Merger cannot be completed unless the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal is approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of more than two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Q: If my shares of Denbury and/or Penn Virginia Common Stock are held in street name by my broker, bank or other nominee, will my broker, bank or other nominee automatically vote those shares for me?

A: If your shares are held through a broker, bank or other nominee, you are considered the beneficial holder of the shares held for you in what is known as street name. The record holder of such shares is your broker, bank or other nominee, and not you. If this is the case, this joint proxy statement/prospectus has been forwarded to you by your broker, bank or other nominee. You must provide the record holder of your shares with instructions on how to vote your shares. Otherwise, your broker, bank or other nominee may not vote your shares on any of the proposals to be considered at the Denbury special meeting or the Penn Virginia special meeting, as applicable. A so-called broker non-vote will result if your broker, bank or other nominee returns a proxy but does not provide instruction as to how shares should be voted on a particular matter.

Under stock exchange rules, brokers, banks or other nominees do not have discretionary authority to vote on the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal because they are non-routine proposals. If there are any broker non-votes, they will have (i) no effect on the Denbury Issuance Proposal and (ii) the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

Q: If I do not favor the approval of the Merger Agreement as a Denbury stockholder and/or Penn Virginia shareholder, what are my rights?

A: Denbury Stockholders. Under Delaware law, Denbury stockholders are not entitled to dissenters' or appraisal rights in connection with the Denbury Stock Issuance or the Denbury Charter Amendment. Denbury stockholders may vote against the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal if they do not favor the Merger.

Table of Contents

Penn Virginia Shareholders. Penn Virginia shareholders are not entitled to exercise dissenters' or appraisal rights under Virginia law in connection with the Merger. Penn Virginia shareholders may vote against the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal if they do not favor the Merger.

Q: Are there any risks that I should consider as a Denbury stockholder and/or Penn Virginia shareholder in deciding how to vote?

A: Yes. You should read and carefully consider the risk factors set forth in the section entitled "Risk Factors" beginning on page 51. You also should read and carefully consider the risk factors of Denbury and Penn Virginia contained in the documents that are incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Q: What happens if I sell my shares before the special meetings?

A: Denbury Stockholders. The record date for Denbury stockholders entitled to vote at the Denbury special meeting is earlier than the date of the Denbury special meeting. If you transfer your shares of Denbury Common Stock after the record date but before the Denbury special meeting, you will, unless special arrangements are made, retain your right to vote at the Denbury special meeting.

Penn Virginia Shareholders. The record date for Penn Virginia shareholders entitled to vote at the Penn Virginia special meeting is earlier than the date of the Penn Virginia special meeting. If you transfer your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock after the record date but before the Penn Virginia special meeting, you will, unless special arrangements are made, retain your right to vote at the Penn Virginia special meeting but will have transferred the right to receive the Merger Consideration to the person to whom you transferred your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock.

Q: What are the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to Penn Virginia shareholders?

A: Denbury and Penn Virginia intend for the Merger and the LLC Sub Merger (together, the "Integrated Mergers"), taken together, to qualify as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"). It is a condition to each of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's obligation to complete such mergers that it receive a written opinion from its counsel, Vinson & Elkins LLP ("Vinson & Elkins") and Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP ("Skadden"), respectively, to the effect that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, will qualify as a "reorganization" within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers, taken together, to a U.S. holder (as defined under "Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Integrated Mergers") generally will depend on whether such U.S. holder exchanges its Penn Virginia Common Stock for cash consideration, stock consideration or a combination of cash consideration and stock consideration. Assuming the receipt and accuracy of the opinions described above:

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Cash: A U.S. holder who receives solely cash consideration in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between (1) the amount of cash received and (2) such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered.

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Shares of Denbury Common Stock: A U.S. holder who receives solely shares of Denbury Common Stock in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will not recognize any gain or loss, except with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock.

U.S. Holders Who Receive a Combination of Shares of Denbury Common Stock and Cash: A U.S. holder who receives a combination of shares of Denbury Common Stock and cash in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the Denbury Common Stock and cash received by the U.S. holder exceeds such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder.

Holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are not U.S. holders and that receive cash pursuant to the Merger may be subject to U.S. withholding tax with respect to any cash received.

Penn Virginia shareholders should read the section entitled Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Integrated Mergers beginning on page 185 for a more complete discussion of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers. Tax matters can be complicated, and the tax consequences to a particular holder will depend on such holder's particular facts and circumstances. Penn Virginia shareholders should consult their tax advisors to determine the specific consequences to them of the Integrated Mergers.

Q: When is the Merger expected to be completed?

A: Denbury and Penn Virginia are working to complete the Merger as quickly as possible. Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions described in the section entitled The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Completion of the Merger beginning on page 178, including the approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal by Penn Virginia shareholders at the Penn Virginia special meeting and the approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal by Denbury stockholders at the Denbury special meeting, the Merger is expected to close in the first quarter of 2019. However, neither Denbury nor Penn Virginia can predict the actual date on which the Merger will be completed, nor can the parties assure that the Merger will be completed, because completion is subject to conditions beyond either company's control.

Q: If I am a Penn Virginia shareholder, how will I receive the Merger Consideration to which I am entitled?

A: You will be paid the Merger Consideration to which you are entitled (i) in the case of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are represented by certificates, upon surrender to the exchange agent of such certificates, by physical surrender of such certificates in accordance with the terms of the letter of transmittal and accompanying instructions, (ii) in the case of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are book-entry shares not held through DTC, upon the transfer of such shares in accordance with the terms of the letter of transmittal and accompanying instructions, or (iii) in the case of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are book-entry shares held through DTC, upon the transfer of such shares in accordance with DTC's customary procedures and such other procedures as agreed by Denbury, Penn Virginia, the exchange agent and DTC.

No interest will be paid or accrued on any amount payable for shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock eligible to receive the Merger Consideration pursuant to the Merger Agreement.

For additional information on the exchange of Penn Virginia Common Stock for the Merger Consideration, see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Payment for Securities; Exchange beginning on page 146.

Q: How and when do I make my Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election?

A: If you are a record holder of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, not less than 30 days prior to the anticipated effective time of the Merger, you will receive a form of election in a separate mailing. You should carefully review and follow the instructions accompanying that form of election. The election form will contain instructions for making your Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election and for surrendering your Penn Virginia Common Stock in exchange for the Merger Consideration. The exchange agent must receive your properly completed and signed election form and your stock certificates or book-entry shares, or an appropriate and customary guarantee of delivery thereof, and any additional documents specified in the election form, by no later than the election deadline in order for your choice as to the form of Merger Consideration to be considered with those timely made by the other Penn Virginia shareholders. The election deadline will be 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the second business day prior to the effective time of the Merger or such other time as mutually agreed by Denbury and Penn Virginia. Denbury will publicly announce the anticipated election deadline at least five business days prior to the election deadline in a press release.

If you do not properly complete and return your election form and letter of transmittal (along with any Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates) prior to the election deadline, your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be deemed No Election Shares, and the Merger Consideration to be received for such shares will depend on the number of other shares making a Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election. See The Merger Non-Electing Holders beginning on page 81. You will then receive a separate letter of transmittal following the effectiveness of the Merger with instructions on how to surrender your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock and to receive the Merger Consideration.

If your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are held in street name by your broker, bank or other nominee, contact the nominee and request that the nominee make your Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election for you. Penn Virginia shareholders who hold their shares in street name may be subject to an earlier deadline. Therefore, Penn Virginia shareholders should carefully read any materials received from their bank, broker, nominee, trust company or other fiduciary.

For more details on the election procedures, see The Merger Form of Election beginning on page 80.

Q: Can I change my election after the form of election has been submitted?

A: Yes, as long as you do so before the election deadline. If you are a record holder, you may revoke your election prior to the election deadline by submitting a written notice of revocation to the exchange agent or by submitting new later-dated form of election. Revocations must specify the name in which your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are registered on the share transfer books of Penn Virginia and such other information as the exchange agent may request. If you wish to submit a new election, you must do so in accordance with the election procedures described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and in the form of election that you will receive in a separate mailing. If you instructed a bank, broker, nominee, trust company or other fiduciary to submit an election for your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, you must follow the directions of your bank, broker, nominee, trust company or other fiduciary for changing those instructions. Whether you revoke your election by submitting a written notice of revocation or by submitting a new form of election, the notice of revocation or new form of election must be received by the exchange agent by the election deadline in order for the revocation or new form of election to be valid. See The Merger Election Revocation and Changes beginning on page 80.

Q: May I transfer my shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock after I make my election?

A: Yes. Penn Virginia shareholders who have made elections will be able to sell or otherwise transfer their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock after making the election. However, any election made with respect to a share of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be automatically revoked upon a sale or transfer of any such shares. See The Merger Impact of Selling Shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as to which an Election Has Already Been Made beginning on page 80.

Q: What if I do not send a form of election or it is not received?

- A: If the exchange agent does not receive a properly completed form of election from you before the election deadline and any additional documents required by the procedures set forth in the form of election, then you will have no control over the type of Merger Consideration you receive. Shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock for which no election is made will be deemed No Election Shares, and the Merger Consideration to be received for such shares will depend on the number of other shares making a Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election. See The Merger Non-Electing Holders beginning on page 81. You bear the risk of delivery and should send any form of election by courier or by hand delivery to the appropriate address shown in the form of election.
- If you do not make a valid election with respect to any shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock you own of record, you will receive written instructions from the exchange agent after completion of the Merger on how to exchange your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock for the Merger Consideration.

Q: May I submit a form of election even if I do not vote for the approval of the Merger Agreement?

A: Yes. You may submit a form of election even if you vote against the approval of the Merger Agreement or if you abstain from voting.

Q: If I am a holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates, do I need to send in my stock certificates at this time to receive the Merger Consideration?

A: No. Please DO NOT send your Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates with your Penn Virginia WHITE proxy card. You should carefully review and follow the instructions set forth in the letter of transmittal, which will be mailed to you, regarding the surrender of your stock certificates.

Q: If I am a Penn Virginia shareholder, will the shares of Denbury Common Stock issued in the Merger receive a dividend?

A: After the completion of the Merger, the shares of Denbury Common Stock issued in connection with the Merger will carry with them the right to receive the same dividends on shares of Denbury Common Stock as all other holders of shares of Denbury Common Stock, for any dividend the record date for which occurs after the Merger is completed.

For the past three years, Denbury has not paid a dividend on the shares of Denbury Common Stock, as described in greater detail in the section entitled Comparative Per Share Market Price and Dividend Information Denbury and Penn Virginia Historical Market Price and Dividend Information beginning on page 49. Any future Denbury dividends will remain subject to approval by the Denbury board.

Q: Who will solicit and pay the cost of soliciting proxies?

A: Denbury. Denbury has retained MacKenzie Partners, Inc. (which we refer to as MacKenzie Partners) to assist in the solicitation process. Denbury has paid MacKenzie Partners a retainer of $25,000 to be applied against a final fee to be mutually agreed between Denbury and MacKenzie Partners. Denbury also has agreed to indemnify MacKenzie Partners against various liabilities and expenses that relate to or arise out of its solicitation of proxies (subject to certain exceptions).

Penn Virginia. Penn Virginia has retained Okapi Partners LLC (which we refer to as Okapi Partners) to assist in the solicitation process. Penn Virginia has paid Okapi Partners an initial retainer fee of $15,000, and also agreed to pay Okapi Partners (a) fees for additional services that may be incurred, (b) a performance fee to be mutually agreed in light of effort expended and outcome achieved and (c) reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Penn Virginia also has agreed to indemnify Okapi Partners against various liabilities and expenses that relate to or arise out of its solicitation of proxies (subject to certain exceptions).

Q: What is householding ?

A: To reduce the expense of delivering duplicate proxy materials to Penn Virginia shareholders and Denbury stockholders who may have more than one account holding Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock but who share the same address, Penn Virginia and Denbury have each adopted a procedure approved by the SEC called householding. Under this procedure, certain shareholders of record or stockholders of record who have the same address and last name will receive only one copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus until such time as one or more of these shareholders or stockholders notifies Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, that they want to receive separate copies. In addition, the broker, bank or other nominee for any shareholder or stockholder who is a beneficial owner of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock may deliver only one copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus to multiple shareholders or stockholders who share the same address, unless that broker, bank or other nominee has received contrary instructions from one or more of the Penn Virginia shareholders or the Denbury stockholders, as applicable. This procedure reduces duplicate mailings and saves printing costs and postage fees, as well as natural resources. Penn Virginia shareholders and Denbury stockholders who participate in householding will utilize separate proxy voting instructions.

The Merger and the Merger Agreement (page 142)

Denbury and Penn Virginia encourage you to read the Merger Agreement carefully and in its entirety, as it is the legal document that governs the Merger.

Merger Consideration (page 79)

On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, upon the effective time of the Merger, each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger (other than as described in the Merger Agreement) will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder of such share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, either, (i) the Mixed Election Consideration ($25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock), (ii) the Cash Election Consideration ($79.80 in cash without interest) or (iii) the Stock Election Consideration (18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock). The Cash and Stock Elections will be subject to proration to ensure that the total amount of cash paid to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock is equal to $400 million. Shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock not making an election will be deemed No Election Shares, and the Merger Consideration to be received for such shares will depend on the number of other shares making a Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election. an amount in cash, without interest, equal to the product of (A) the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock subject to such Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock unit award or earned under such Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award, as applicable and (B) $25.86; and a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (A) the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock subject to such Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock unit award or earned under such Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award, as applicable, and (B) 12.4000, rounded up to the nearest whole share.

The number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock deemed earned under each Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award will be reasonably determined by the compensation committee of the Penn Virginia board after consultation with Denbury based on actual level of achievement. However, the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock deemed earned under any Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award with respect to any performance period scheduled to commence on or after January 1, 2019 will vest based on maximum level of achievement. Opinions of Financial Advisors (pages 97 and 115)

Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's financial advisor

Denbury retained Guggenheim Securities, LLC (which we refer to as "Guggenheim") as its financial advisor in connection with Denbury's possible acquisition of or merger with Penn Virginia. Guggenheim delivered an opinion to the Denbury board to the effect that, as of October 28, 2018 and based on and subject to the matters considered, the procedures followed, the assumptions made and various limitations of and qualifications to the review undertaken, the Merger Consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to Denbury. The full text of Guggenheim's written opinion, which is attached as Annex B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and which you should read carefully and in its entirety, is subject to the assumptions, limitations, qualifications and other conditions contained in such opinion and is necessarily based on economic, capital markets and other conditions, and the information made available to Guggenheim, as of the date of such opinion.

Guggenheim's opinion was provided to the Denbury board (in its capacity as such) for its information and assistance in connection with its evaluation of the Merger Consideration. Guggenheim's opinion and any materials provided in connection therewith did not constitute a recommendation to the Denbury board with respect to the Merger, nor does Guggenheim's opinion or the summary of its underlying financial analyses elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus constitute advice or a recommendation to any holder of Denbury Common Stock or Penn Virginia Common Stock as how to vote or act in connection with the Merger or otherwise or what form of Merger Consideration any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock should elect to receive pursuant to the Merger Consideration election mechanisms described in the Merger Agreement. Guggenheim's opinion addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of such opinion, of the Merger Consideration to Denbury to the extent expressly specified in such opinion. Guggenheim's opinion does not address (1) any other term, aspect or implication of (a) the Merger or the Merger Agreement (including, without limitation, the form or structure of the Merger or the Merger Consideration election procedures, adjustments, limitations or prorationing mechanisms contemplated by the Merger Agreement) or (b) the Voting Agreements or any other agreement, transaction document or instrument contemplated by the transaction documentation or to be entered into or amended in connection with the Merger.

For a description of the opinion that the Denbury board received from Guggenheim, see "The Merger Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's Financial Advisor" beginning on page 97. For the full text of Guggenheim's written opinion, see Annex B.

At a meeting of the Penn Virginia board on October 28, 2018, a representative of Jefferies rendered Jefferies' opinion to the Penn Virginia board to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken as set forth in its opinion, the Merger Consideration as set forth in the Merger Agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates), as more fully described in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor" beginning on page 115.

Virginia board (in its capacity as such) and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates) of the Merger Consideration as set forth in the Merger Agreement. It does not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement as compared to any alternative transaction or opportunity that might be available to Penn Virginia, nor does it address the underlying business decision by Penn Virginia to engage in the Merger or the terms of the Merger Agreement or the documents referred to therein. Jefferies' opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock should vote or act with respect to the Merger or any matter related thereto, including, without limitation, whether any shareholder should elect to receive the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration or the Stock Election Consideration or make no election in connection with the Merger.

beneficial owner otherwise fails to vote, will not be considered present and entitled to vote at the Denbury special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

A broker non-vote will result if your broker, bank or other nominee returns a proxy but does not provide instruction as to how shares should be voted on a particular matter. Under stock exchange rules, brokers, banks or other nominees do not have discretionary authority to vote on the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal because they are non-routine proposals. If there are any broker non-votes, the shares will not be considered present and entitled to vote at the Denbury special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

Executed but unvoted proxies will be voted in accordance with the recommendations of the Denbury board.

Required Vote to Approve the Denbury Issuance Proposal

Approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the shares of Denbury Common Stock represented in person or by proxy at the Denbury special meeting. Abstentions will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal, and broker non-votes will have no effect on the outcome of the vote.

The Denbury Issuance Proposal is described in the section entitled Denbury Proposals beginning on page 69.

Required Vote to Approve the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal

Approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal requires the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal. Failure to vote on the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

The Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal is described in the section entitled Denbury Proposals beginning on page 69.

Voting by Directors and Executive Officers

As of January 7, 2019, Denbury directors and executive officers, and their affiliates, as a group, owned and were entitled to vote 4,826,795 shares of Denbury Common Stock, or approximately 1.0% of the total outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock as of January 7, 2019.

Denbury currently expects that all of its directors and executive officers will vote their shares FOR the Denbury Issuance Proposal and FOR the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

Adjournment

In accordance with the Second Amended and Restated Bylaws of Denbury (which we refer to as the Denbury bylaws), whether or not a quorum is present, the chairman of the Denbury special meeting will have the power to adjourn the Denbury special meeting from time to time for the purpose of, among other things, soliciting additional proxies. If the Denbury special meeting is adjourned, Denbury stockholders who have already submitted their proxies will be able to revoke them at any time prior to their use. At any subsequent reconvening of the Denbury special meeting, all proxies will be voted in the same manner as the manner in which such proxies would have been voted at the original convening of the Denbury special meeting, except for any proxies that have been validly revoked or withdrawn prior to the subsequent meeting.

Table of Contents

In addition, the Merger Agreement provides that Denbury (1) will be required to adjourn or postpone the Denbury special meeting (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any required supplement or amendment to this joint proxy statement/prospectus is provided to the Denbury stockholders or (B) if, as of the time the Denbury special meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Denbury Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct business at the Denbury special meeting, or (2) may, and at Penn Virginia's request must, adjourn or postpone the Denbury special meeting if, as of the time for which the Denbury special meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Denbury Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to obtain the approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal. However, the Denbury special meeting will not be adjourned or postponed to a date that is more than 30 days after the date for which the Denbury special meeting was previously scheduled (though the Denbury special meeting may be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in (1)(A) and (1)(B) exist, and, upon Penn Virginia's request, every time the circumstances described in (2) exist) or to a date on or after two business days prior to April 30, 2019.

Quorum; Abstentions and Broker Non-Votes

A quorum of Penn Virginia shareholders is necessary to hold a valid meeting. If you submit a properly executed Penn Virginia WHITE proxy card, even if you do not vote for one or both of the proposals or vote to abstain in respect of one or both of the proposals, your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be counted for purposes of calculating whether a quorum is present for the transaction of business at the Penn Virginia special meeting.

Penn Virginia Common Stock held in street name with respect to which the beneficial owner fails to give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee will not be considered present and entitled to vote at the Penn Virginia special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

A broker non-vote will result if your broker, bank or other nominee returns a proxy but does not provide instruction as to how shares should be voted on a particular matter. Failure to vote on the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

The Penn Virginia Merger Proposal is described in the section entitled Penn Virginia Proposals beginning on page 77.

Approval of the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal requires that the number of votes cast FOR the proposal exceed the number of votes cast AGAINST the proposal. Abstentions, broker non-votes and failure to vote will not count as votes cast and will have no effect on the outcome of the vote. As an advisory vote, this proposal is not binding upon Penn Virginia or the Penn Virginia board or Denbury or the Denbury board, and approval of this proposal is not a condition to completion of the Merger.

Voting by Directors and Executive Officers

As of January 7, 2019, Penn Virginia directors and executive officers, and their affiliates, as a group, owned and were entitled to vote 46,655 shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, or approximately 0.3% of the total outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as of January 7, 2019 (excluding Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based stock).

However, the Penn Virginia special meeting will not be adjourned or postponed to a date that is more than 30 business days after the date for which the Penn Virginia special meeting was previously scheduled (though the Penn Virginia special meeting may be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in (1)(A) and 1(B) exist, and, with Denbury's consent, every time the circumstances described in (2) exist) or to a date on or after two business days prior to April 30, 2019.

Board of Directors and Management of Denbury Following Completion of the Merger (page 134)

Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, Denbury has agreed to take all necessary corporate action so that upon and after the effective time of the Merger, the size of the Denbury board is increased by two members, and two members of the Penn Virginia board who are mutually agreed by Denbury and Penn Virginia and would qualify as independent directors under Section 303A.02 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual are appointed to the Denbury board to fill the vacancies on the Denbury board created by such increase. Denbury, through the Denbury board and subject to the Denbury board's fiduciary duties to Denbury stockholders, has agreed to take all necessary action to recommend that the two applicable members of the Penn Virginia board be elected to the Denbury board in the proxy statement relating to the first annual meeting of Denbury stockholders following the completion of the Merger.

Upon completion of the Merger, the current directors and executive officers of Denbury are expected to continue in their current positions, other than as may be publicly announced by Denbury in the normal course.

These interests include, but are not limited to, the treatment in the Merger of awards of Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock held by Penn Virginia directors and executive officers, potential benefits upon a qualifying termination of employment in connection with the Merger and rights to ongoing indemnification and insurance coverage.

The members of the Penn Virginia board were aware of and considered these interests, among other matters, in evaluating and negotiating the Merger Agreement, in approving the Merger Agreement and in determining to recommend that Penn Virginia shareholders approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

Notwithstanding the agreements described above, prior to, but not after, Denbury stockholders have approved the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, in response to an unsolicited, bona fide, written, Denbury Takeover Proposal made after October 28, 2018, that did not result from or arise in connection with a material breach of Denbury's non-solicitation obligations in the Merger Agreement and that the Denbury board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside counsel and its financial advisor) constitutes or is reasonably expected to lead to a Superior Denbury Proposal (as such term is defined in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - No Solicitation; Adverse Recommendation Changes - Definition of Superior Denbury Proposal" beginning on page 166), and that the failure to do so would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties owed by the Denbury board to Denbury stockholders under applicable law, Denbury may (and may authorize its directors, officers, employees and representatives to) (x) furnish information with respect to Denbury and its subsidiaries to the person making such Denbury Takeover Proposal and its representatives and financing sources (provided that all such information has previously been provided to Penn Virginia or is provided to Penn Virginia prior to or substantially concurrently with the time it is provided to such person) pursuant to a customary confidentiality agreement that is not less restrictive of such person than the confidentiality agreement in place between Denbury and Penn Virginia (provided that such confidentiality agreement will not prohibit such counterparty from making any private proposal to the Denbury board) and that does not prohibit Denbury from complying with Denbury's non-solicitation obligations in the Merger Agreement, including the provision of any information to Penn Virginia in accordance with the Merger Agreement, and (y) participate in discussions regarding the terms of such Denbury Takeover Proposal and the negotiation of such terms with, and only with, the person making such Denbury Takeover Proposal (and such person's representatives and financing sources).

Denbury and Penn Virginia intend for the Integrated Mergers, taken together, to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. It is a condition to each of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's obligation to complete such mergers that it receive a written opinion from its counsel, Vinson & Elkins and Skadden, respectively, to the effect that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to a U.S. holder (as defined under Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Integrated Mergers) generally will depend on whether such U.S. holder exchanges its Penn Virginia Common Stock for cash consideration, stock consideration or a combination of cash consideration and stock consideration. Assuming the receipt and accuracy of the opinions described above:

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Cash: A U.S. holder who receives solely cash consideration in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between (1) the amount of cash received and (2) such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered.

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Shares of Denbury Common Stock: A U.S. holder who receives solely shares of Denbury Common Stock in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will not recognize any gain or loss, except with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock.

U.S. Holders Who Receive a Combination of Shares of Denbury Common Stock and Cash: A U.S. holder who receives a combination of shares of Denbury Common Stock and cash in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the Denbury Common Stock and cash received by the U.S. holder exceeds such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder.

Holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are not U.S. holders and that receive cash pursuant to the Merger may be subject to U.S. withholding tax with respect to any cash received.

Holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock should read the section entitled Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Integrated Mergers beginning on page 185 for a more complete discussion of the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers. Tax matters can be complicated, and the tax consequences to a particular holder will depend on such holder's particular facts and circumstances. Penn Virginia shareholders should consult their tax advisors to determine the specific consequences to them of the Integrated Mergers.

Denbury bylaws and the Delaware General Corporation Law (DGCL), rather than by the Second Amended and Restated Articles of Incorporation of Penn Virginia (which we refer to as the Penn Virginia articles of incorporation), the Penn Virginia bylaws and the VSCA. As a result, Penn Virginia shareholders will have different rights once they become Denbury stockholders due to the differences in the organizational documents of Penn Virginia and Denbury. The key differences are described in the section entitled Comparison of Stockholders Rights beginning on page 201.

Listing of Denbury Common Stock; Delisting and Deregistration of Penn Virginia Common Stock (page 140)

If the Merger is completed, the shares of Denbury Common Stock to be issued in the Merger will be listed for trading on the NYSE, shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be delisted from the Nasdaq and deregistered under the Exchange Act, and Penn Virginia will no longer be required to file periodic reports with the SEC pursuant to the Exchange Act.

The following table sets forth certain historical information with respect to Denbury's estimated oil and natural gas reserves and other data as of the dates indicated. The estimates of Denbury's net proved oil and natural gas reserves presented below were prepared by DeGolyer and MacNaughton, an independent petroleum engineering firm located in Dallas, Texas. Estimates of reserves were prepared using an average price equal to the unweighted arithmetic average of hydrocarbon prices on the first day of each month within the applicable fiscal 12-month period in accordance with rules and regulations of the SEC. Our oil and natural gas reserve estimates do not include any value for probable or possible reserves that may exist. The reserve estimates represent our net revenue interest in our properties. The estimates of proved CO₂ reserves presented below were also prepared by DeGolyer and MacNaughton.

The following information should be read in conjunction with the information contained in Denbury's 2017 consolidated financial statements and notes related thereto included in its Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017, incorporated herein by reference.

- (a) The reference prices were based on the arithmetic average of the first-day-of-the-month NYMEX commodity prices for each month during the respective year. These prices do not reflect adjustments for market differentials by field that are utilized in the preparation of our reserve report to arrive at the appropriate net price we receive.

- (b) Determined based on the average first-day-of-the-month prices for each month, adjusted to prices received by field in accordance with standards set forth in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Codification (FASC).
- (c) PV-10 Value is a non-GAAP measure and is different from the Standardized Measure in that PV-10 Value is a pre-tax number and the Standardized Measure is an after-tax number. The information used to calculate PV-10 Value is derived directly from data determined in accordance with FASC Topic 932, Extractive Industries Oil and Gas. The difference between these two amounts, the discounted estimated future income tax, was $301.4 million at December 31, 2017; $142.5 million at December 31, 2016; $428.4 million at December 31, 2015; $2.84 billion at December 31, 2014; and $3.51 billion at December 31, 2013. We believe that PV-10 Value is a useful supplemental disclosure to the Standardized Measure because the Standardized Measure can be impacted by a company's unique tax situation, and it is not practical to calculate the Standardized Measure on a property-by-property basis. Because of this, PV-10 Value is a widely used measure within the industry and is commonly used by securities analysts, banks and credit rating agencies to evaluate the estimated future net cash flows from proved reserves on a comparative basis across companies or specific properties. PV-10 Value is commonly used by us and others in our industry to evaluate properties that are bought and sold, to assess the potential return on investment in our oil and natural gas properties, and to perform our impairment testing of oil and natural gas properties. PV-10 Value is not a measure of financial or operating performance under GAAP, nor should it be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Standardized Measure. Our PV-10 Value and the Standardized Measure do not purport to represent the fair value of our oil and natural gas reserves.
- (d) Proved CO₂ reserves in the Gulf Coast region consist of reserves from our reservoirs at Jackson Dome and are presented on a gross or 8/8ths working interest basis, of which our net revenue interest was approximately 4.1 Tcf, 4.2 Tcf, 4.4 Tcf, 4.5 Tcf and 4.8 Tcf at December 31, 2017, 2016, 2015, 2014 and 2013, respectively, and include reserves dedicated to volumetric production payments of 7.6 Bcf, 12.3 Bcf, 25.3 Bcf, 9.3 Bcf and 28.9 Bcf at December 31, 2017, 2016, 2015, 2014 and 2013, respectively.
- (e) Proved CO₂ reserves in the Rocky Mountain region consist of our overriding royalty interest in LaBarge Field and our reserves at Riley Ridge (presented on a gross (8/8ths) basis), of which our net revenue interest was approximately 1.2 Tcf, 1.2 Tcf, 1.2 Tcf, 2.6 Tcf and 2.9 Tcf at December 31, 2017, 2016, 2015, 2014 and 2013, respectively. As of December 31, 2015, Riley Ridge CO₂ reserves were reclassified and are no longer considered proved reserves primarily as a result of the decline in average first-day-of-the-month natural gas prices utilized in preparing our December 31, 2015 reserve report.

This selected balance sheet data as of September 30, 2017 has been derived from Penn Virginia's unaudited consolidated financial statements as of September 30, 2017, which have not been incorporated by reference herein.

Accounting measurements at interim dates inherently involve greater reliance on estimates than at year end, and the results of operations for the interim periods presented herein are not necessarily indicative of results to be expected for the year. In management's opinion, the accompanying unaudited historical consolidated financial data include all adjustments of a normal recurring nature necessary for a fair statement of Penn Virginia's consolidated financial position as of September 30, 2018 and 2017, and its consolidated results of operations and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and 2017.

The consolidated historical financial information presented below reflect Penn Virginia's emergence from bankruptcy proceedings and fresh start accounting following relief under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code. On August 11, 2016, the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia confirmed Penn Virginia's Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Penn Virginia Corporation and its Debtor Affiliates, and subsequently emerged from bankruptcy on September 12, 2016, or the Effective Date. Upon the Effective Date, Penn Virginia adopted and applied the relevant guidance with respect to the accounting and financial reporting for entities that have emerged from bankruptcy proceedings, or Fresh Start Accounting. The adoption of Fresh Start Accounting resulted in a new reporting entity, the Successor, for financial reporting purposes. The reorganized company is referred to below as the Successor for periods subsequent to September 12, 2016, and the Predecessor for periods prior to September 13, 2016.

The information set forth below is only a summary and is not necessarily indicative of the results of future operations of Penn Virginia, nor does it include the effects of the Merger. This summary should be read together with the other information contained in Penn Virginia's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017 and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018, including the sections entitled Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations and the consolidated financial statements and related notes thereto. The following table sets forth certain historical information with respect to Penn Virginia's estimated oil and natural gas reserves and other data as of the dates indicated. The estimates of Penn Virginia's net proved oil and natural gas reserves presented below were prepared by DeGolyer and MacNaughton, an independent petroleum engineering firm located in Dallas, Texas for the years ended December 31, 2017, 2016 and 2015 and were prepared by Wright & Company, Inc., an independent petroleum engineering firm located in Brentwood, Tennessee for the years ended December 31, 2014 and 2013. Estimates of reserves were prepared using an average price equal to the unweighted arithmetic average of hydrocarbon prices on the first day of each month within the applicable fiscal 12-month period in accordance with rules and regulations of the SEC. Penn Virginia's oil and natural gas reserve estimates do not include any value for probable or possible reserves that may exist. The reserve estimates represent Penn Virginia's net revenue interest in its properties.

- (a) The reference prices were based on the arithmetic average of the first-day-of-the-month NYMEX commodity prices for each month during the respective year. These prices do not reflect adjustments for market differentials by field that are utilized in the preparation of our reserve report to arrive at the appropriate net price we receive.
- (b) Determined based on the average first-day-of-the-month prices for each month, adjusted to prices received by field in accordance with standards set forth in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Codification (FASC).
- (c) PV-10 Value is a non-GAAP measure and is different from the Standardized Measure in that PV-10 Value is a pre-tax number and the Standardized Measure is an after-tax number. The information used to calculate PV-10 Value is derived directly from data determined in accordance with FASC Topic 932, Extractive Industries Oil and Gas. The difference between these two amounts, the discounted estimated future income tax, was $18.5 million at December 31, 2017; $290.1 million at December 31, 2014; and $452.8 million at December 31, 2013. The Standardized Measures for 2016 and 2015 did not include any income tax effect; thus, PV-10 and Standardized Measure are equivalent as of those dates. We believe that PV-10 Value is a useful supplemental disclosure to the Standardized Measure because the Standardized Measure can be impacted by a company's unique tax situation, and it is not practical to calculate the Standardized Measure on a property-by-property basis. Because of this, PV-10 Value is a widely used measure within the industry and is commonly used by securities analysts, banks and credit rating agencies to evaluate the estimated future net cash flows from proved reserves on a comparative basis across companies or specific properties. PV-10 Value is commonly used by us and others in our industry to evaluate properties that are bought and sold, to assess the potential return on investment in our oil and natural gas properties, and to perform our impairment testing of oil and natural gas properties. PV-10 Value is not a measure of financial or operating performance under GAAP, nor should it be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the Standardized Measure. Our PV-10 Value and the Standardized Measure do not purport to represent the fair value of our oil and natural gas reserves.

The following table sets forth certain historical information with respect to Penn Virginia's production and other data for the periods indicated, and should be read in conjunction with the information contained in Penn Virginia's consolidated financial statements and notes thereto in Penn Virginia's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017 and Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018, which are incorporated by reference in this document.

Table of ContentsComparison of Denbury and Penn Virginia Market Prices and Implied Share Value of the Mixed Election Consideration

The following table sets forth the closing sale price per share of Denbury Common Stock and Penn Virginia Common Stock as reported on the NYSE and Nasdaq, respectively, on October 26, 2018, the last trading day prior to the public announcement of the Merger, and on [], 2019, the last practicable trading day prior to the mailing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. The table also shows the estimated implied value of the Mixed Election Consideration proposed for each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock as of the same two dates. This implied value was calculated by multiplying the closing price of a share of Denbury Common Stock on the relevant date by the exchange ratio for the Mixed Election Consideration of 12.4 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, plus $25.86 in cash, for each issued and outstanding share of Penn Virginia Common Stock.

Denbury stockholders and Penn Virginia shareholders are encouraged to obtain current market quotations for Denbury Common Stock and Penn Virginia Common Stock and to review carefully the other information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or incorporated by reference herein. The market value of shares of Denbury Common Stock has declined since the last trading day prior to the public announcement of the Merger, and may decline or fluctuate before or after the effective date of the Merger as a result of a variety of factors, including general market and economic conditions, changes in commodity prices, changes in Denbury's businesses, operations and prospects and regulatory considerations. You should read and carefully consider the risk factors set forth in the section entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 51, including the risk factor titled Because the exchange ratio is fixed and because the market price of Denbury Common Stock may continue to fluctuate, Penn Virginia shareholders cannot be certain of the precise value of any Merger Consideration they may receive in the Merger. No assurance can be given concerning the market price of Denbury Common Stock before or after the effective date of the Merger. For additional information, see the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 221.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to the other information contained in or incorporated by reference herein, including the matters addressed in the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 61, Penn Virginia shareholders should carefully consider the following risks before deciding how to vote with respect to the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal and Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal to be considered and voted on at the Penn Virginia special meeting, and Denbury stockholders should carefully consider the following risks before deciding how to vote with respect to the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal to be considered and voted on at the Denbury special meeting. Penn Virginia shareholders and Denbury stockholders should also consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference herein, particularly the risk factors contained in Denbury's and Penn Virginia's Annual Reports on Form 10-K and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q. For additional information, see the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 221.

Because the exchange ratio is fixed and because the market price of Denbury Common Stock may continue to decline or fluctuate, Penn Virginia shareholders cannot be certain of the precise value of any Merger Consideration they may receive in the Merger.

Penn Virginia shareholders who either make a Stock Election, Mixed Election or no election or who make a Cash Election that is prorated, as described in the section entitled The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures beginning on page 81 will receive Denbury Common Stock as part of the Merger Consideration. The market value of the Denbury Common Stock that such Penn Virginia shareholders will receive in the Merger will depend on the trading price of the Denbury Common Stock as of the effective time of the Merger. The exchange ratio that determines the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock that Penn Virginia shareholders will receive in the Merger is fixed. This means that there is no mechanism contained in the Merger Agreement that would adjust the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock that Penn Virginia shareholders will receive based on any change in the trading price of the Denbury Common Stock or Penn Virginia Common Stock.

If the Merger is completed, there will be a time lapse between each of the date on which the Merger Agreement was entered into, the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the dates on which Penn Virginia shareholders vote to approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal at the Penn Virginia special meeting and Denbury stockholders vote to approve the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal at the Denbury special meeting, and the date on which Penn Virginia shareholders entitled to receive the Merger Consideration actually receive the Merger Consideration. The market value of shares of Denbury Common Stock has declined from $4.35 per share on the trade date immediately prior to the public announcement of the Merger to $2.20 per share on January 7, 2019. The market value may decline or fluctuate during and after these periods as a result of a variety of factors, including general market and economic conditions, prevailing and expected commodity prices, changes in Denbury's businesses, operations and prospects and regulatory considerations. Such factors are difficult to predict and in many cases may be beyond the control of Denbury and Penn Virginia. For instance, the NYMEX-WTI oil price has declined from $67.04 per Bbl on October 29, 2018 to $48.52 per Bbl on January 7, 2019, and the NYMEX strip pricing with respect to future commodity prices for crude oil as of January 7, 2019 through 2022 is lower than the NYMEX strip pricing assumptions as of October 19, 2018 through 2022 reflected in the unaudited forecasted financial data used by Jefferies and Guggenheim in their respective financial analyses. Consequently, at the time Penn Virginia shareholders must decide whether to approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, they will not know the actual market value of any Merger Consideration they will receive when the Merger is completed. The actual value of any Merger Consideration received by Penn Virginia shareholders at the completion of the Merger will depend on the market value of the shares of Denbury Common Stock at that time. This market value may be lower, possibly materially, than the market value of shares of Denbury Common Stock at the time the Merger Agreement was entered into or at any other time. Penn

Virginia shareholders should obtain current stock quotations for shares of Denbury Common Stock before voting their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. For additional information about the Merger Consideration, see the sections entitled The Merger Consideration to Penn Virginia Shareholders, The Merger Agreement Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock; Merger Consideration and The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures beginning on pages 79, 144 and 81, respectively.

Penn Virginia shareholders may not receive the amount of cash consideration or stock consideration they elected to receive due to proration and adjustment, and therefore such shareholders may receive consideration having an aggregate value that is less than the aggregate value of the consideration they elected to receive.

Penn Virginia shareholders who make either a Cash Election, Stock Election or no election will be subject to proration if Penn Virginia shareholders, in the aggregate, elect to receive more or less cash consideration than the aggregate amount of $400 million cash consideration to be paid in the Merger. Accordingly, some of the consideration Penn Virginia shareholders receive in the Merger may differ from the type of consideration they elected to receive. The relative proportion of Denbury Common Stock and cash that a Penn Virginia shareholder receives in the Merger also may have an aggregate value that is higher or lower than the relative proportion of stock and cash that the Penn Virginia shareholder elected to receive. A discussion of the proration mechanism can be found under the heading The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures beginning on page 81.

The market price of Denbury Common Stock will continue to fluctuate after the Merger.

Upon completion of the Merger, Penn Virginia shareholders who either make a Stock Election or Mixed Election or who make a Cash Election that is prorated as described in the section entitled The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures beginning on page 81 will, and Penn Virginia shareholders who make no election may, become holders of shares of Denbury Common Stock. The market price of Denbury Common Stock may decline or fluctuate significantly following completion of the Merger, and holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock could lose some or all of the value of their investment in Denbury Common Stock. In addition, the stock market has experienced significant price and volume fluctuations in recent times which, if they continue to occur, could have a material adverse effect on the market for, or liquidity of, the Denbury Common Stock, regardless of Denbury's actual operating performance.

Penn Virginia shareholders will have a reduced ownership and voting interest in the combined company after the Merger compared to their ownership in Penn Virginia and will exercise less influence over management.

Currently, Penn Virginia shareholders have the right to vote in the election of the Penn Virginia board and the power to approve or reject any matters requiring shareholder approval under Virginia law and the Penn Virginia articles of incorporation and bylaws. Upon completion of the Merger, each Penn Virginia shareholder who receives shares of Denbury Common Stock in the Merger will become a stockholder of Denbury with a percentage ownership of Denbury that is smaller than the Penn Virginia shareholder's current percentage ownership of Penn Virginia. Based on the number of issued and outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock and shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as of January 7, 2019 and the exchange ratio of 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock and $25.86 of cash for each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, after the Merger Penn Virginia shareholders are expected to collectively own approximately 29% of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock, without giving effect to any shares of Denbury Common Stock held by Penn Virginia shareholders prior to the completion of the Merger. Even if all former Penn Virginia shareholders voted together on all matters presented to Denbury stockholders from time to time, the former Penn Virginia shareholders would exercise significantly less influence over Denbury after the completion of the Merger relative to their influence over Penn Virginia prior to the completion of the Merger, and thus would have a less significant impact on the election of the Denbury board and the approval or rejection of future Denbury proposals submitted to a stockholder vote.

The Merger may not be completed and the Merger Agreement may be terminated in accordance with its terms.

The Merger is subject to a number of conditions that must be satisfied or waived prior to the completion of the Merger, which are described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement - Conditions to the Completion of the Merger" beginning on page 178. These conditions to the completion of the Merger may not be satisfied or waived in a timely manner or at all, and, accordingly, the Merger may be delayed or may not be completed.

Table of Contents

In addition, if the Merger is not completed by April 30, 2019 either Denbury or Penn Virginia may choose not to proceed with the Merger, and the parties can mutually decide to terminate the Merger Agreement at any time, before or after stockholder and/or shareholder approval. In addition, Denbury and Penn Virginia may elect to terminate the Merger Agreement in certain other circumstances as further detailed in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination" beginning on page 180.

The Merger is subject to receipt of approvals from the Penn Virginia shareholders and the Denbury stockholders.

In order for the Merger to be completed, (i) the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal must be approved by the holders of more than two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal, (ii) the Denbury Issuance Proposal must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock represented in person or by proxy at the Denbury special meeting and (iii) the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. There can be no assurance that any such approvals will be obtained. In that regard, one shareholder of Penn Virginia has announced its intention to engage in a public campaign to prevent Penn Virginia shareholder approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, which campaign could include a proxy contest. Other Penn Virginia shareholders or Denbury stockholders could oppose the proposals for approval of the Merger. Any such campaign could result in substantial costs and divert each company's respective management's and directors' attention and resources from each company's respective business.

The Merger Agreement limits Denbury's ability and Penn Virginia's ability to pursue alternatives to the Merger.

The Merger Agreement contains provisions that may discourage a third party from submitting a Denbury Takeover Proposal or a Penn Virginia Takeover Proposal that might result in greater value to Denbury's stockholders or Penn Virginia's shareholders than the Merger, or may result in a potential acquirer of Denbury, or a potential competing acquirer of Penn Virginia, proposing to pay a lower per share price to acquire Denbury or Penn Virginia, respectively, than it might otherwise have proposed to pay. These provisions include a general prohibition on Denbury and Penn Virginia from soliciting or, subject to certain exceptions relating to the exercise of fiduciary duties by the Denbury board or Penn Virginia board, entering into discussions with any third party regarding any Denbury Takeover Proposal or Penn Virginia Takeover Proposal or offer for a competing transaction. Denbury has an unqualified obligation to submit the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal to a vote by its stockholders, unless the Merger Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms prior to such time. Penn Virginia also has an unqualified obligation to submit a Penn Virginia Merger Proposal to a vote, unless the Merger Agreement is terminated in accordance with its terms prior to such time. For additional information, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination" beginning on page 180.

Failure to complete the Merger could negatively impact the price of shares of Denbury Common Stock and the price of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, as well as Denbury's and Penn Virginia's respective future businesses and financial results.

The Merger Agreement contains a number of conditions that must be satisfied or waived prior to the completion of the Merger. There can be no assurance that all of the conditions to the completion of the Merger will be so satisfied or waived. If any of these conditions is not satisfied or waived, Denbury and Penn Virginia will be unable to complete the Merger.

If the Merger is not completed for any reason, including the failure to receive the required approvals of Denbury stockholders and Penn Virginia shareholders, Denbury's and Penn Virginia's respective businesses and financial results may be adversely affected, including as follows:

Denbury and Penn Virginia may experience negative reactions from the financial markets, including negative impacts on the market price of Denbury Common Stock and Penn Virginia Common Stock;

the manner in which customers, vendors, business partners and other third parties perceive Denbury and Penn Virginia may be negatively impacted, which in turn could affect Denbury's and Penn Virginia's marketing operations or their ability to compete for new business or obtain renewals in the marketplace more broadly;

Denbury and Penn Virginia may experience negative reactions from employees or other stakeholders; and Denbury and Penn Virginia will have expended time and resources that could otherwise have been spent on Denbury's and Penn Virginia's existing businesses and the pursuit of other opportunities that could have been beneficial to each company, and Denbury's and Penn Virginia's ongoing business and financial results may be adversely affected.

In addition to the above risks, if the Merger Agreement is terminated and either party's board seeks an alternative transaction, such party's stockholders or shareholders cannot be certain that such party will be able to find a party willing to engage in a transaction on more attractive terms than the Merger.

Required regulatory approvals may not be received, may take longer than expected to be received or may impose conditions that are not presently anticipated or cannot be met.

Completion of the Merger is conditioned upon the approval by the NYSE of the listing of the shares of Denbury Common Stock to be issued in the Merger upon official notice of issuance and the expiration or termination of the waiting period applicable to the Merger under the HSR Act. On December 27, 2018, Denbury and Penn Virginia received notice of the early termination of the applicable waiting period under the HSR Act. Although Denbury has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to obtain NYSE approval to list the shares issued in connection with the Denbury Stock Issuance, there can be no assurance that such approval will be obtained and that the other conditions to completing the Merger will be satisfied.

Denbury and Penn Virginia will be subject to business uncertainties while the Merger is pending, which could adversely affect their respective businesses.

Uncertainty about the effect of the Merger on employees, vendors and customers may have an adverse effect on Denbury and Penn Virginia. These uncertainties may impair Denbury's and Penn Virginia's ability to attract, retain and motivate key personnel until the Merger is completed and for a period of time thereafter and could cause vendors, customers and others that deal with Denbury and Penn Virginia to seek to change their existing business relationships with Denbury and Penn Virginia, respectively. Employee retention at Penn Virginia may be particularly challenging during the pendency of the Merger, as employees may experience uncertainty about their roles with Denbury following the Merger. In addition, the Merger Agreement restricts Denbury and Penn Virginia from entering into certain corporate transactions and taking other specified actions without the consent of the other party, and generally requires each party to continue its operations in the ordinary course, until completion of the Merger. These restrictions may prevent Denbury and Penn Virginia from pursuing attractive business opportunities that may arise prior to the completion of the Merger. For a description of the restrictive covenants to which Denbury and Penn Virginia are subject, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement—Interim Operations of Penn Virginia and Denbury Pending the Merger" beginning on page 152.

Directors and executive officers of Penn Virginia may have interests in the Merger that are different from, or in addition to, the interests of Penn Virginia shareholders.

Directors and executive officers of Penn Virginia have interests in the Merger that may be different from, or in addition to, the interests of Penn Virginia shareholders generally. These interests include, but are not limited to, the treatment in the Merger of awards of Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock units and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock units held by Penn Virginia directors and executive officers, potential payments and benefits upon a qualifying termination of employment in connection with the Merger, Denbury's agreement to appoint two mutually agreed upon directors of Penn Virginia as directors of Denbury, and rights to ongoing indemnification and insurance coverage. These interests are described in more detail in the section entitled "The Merger Interests of Penn Virginia Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" beginning on page 134.

The Merger may not be accretive, and may be dilutive, to Denbury's earnings per share, which may negatively affect the market price of Denbury Common Stock.

Because shares of Denbury Common Stock will be issued in the Merger, it is possible that, although Denbury currently expects the Merger to be accretive to earnings per share, the Merger may be dilutive to Denbury's earnings per share, which could negatively affect the market price of Denbury Common Stock.

In connection with the completion of the Merger, based on the number of issued and outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as of January 7, 2019 and the number of outstanding Penn Virginia equity awards currently estimated to be payable in Denbury Common Stock following the Merger, Denbury will issue up to approximately 191.8 million shares of Denbury Common Stock. The issuance of these new shares of Denbury Common Stock could have the effect of depressing the market price of Denbury Common Stock, through dilution of earnings per share or otherwise. Any dilution of, or delay of any accretion to, Denbury's earnings per share could cause the price of shares of Denbury Common Stock to decline or increase at a reduced rate.

Denbury and Penn Virginia will incur significant transaction and merger-related costs in connection with the Merger, which may be in excess of those anticipated by Denbury or Penn Virginia.

Each of Denbury and Penn Virginia have incurred and expect to continue to incur a number of significant non-recurring costs associated with negotiating and completing the Merger, combining the operations of the two companies and achieving desired synergies. These fees and costs have been, and will continue to be, substantial. The substantial majority of non-recurring expenses will consist of transaction costs related to the Merger and include, among others, employee retention costs, fees paid to financial, legal and accounting advisors, costs of soliciting shareholder approval, severance and benefit costs and filing fees.

Denbury and Penn Virginia will also incur transaction fees and costs related to formulating and implementing integration plans, including facilities and systems consolidation costs and employment-related costs. Denbury and Penn Virginia will continue to assess the magnitude of these costs, and additional unanticipated costs may be incurred in the Merger and the integration of the two companies' businesses. Although Denbury and Penn Virginia each expect that the elimination of duplicative costs, as well as the realization of other efficiencies related to the integration of the businesses, should allow Denbury and Penn Virginia to offset integration-related costs over time, this net benefit may not be achieved in the near term, or at all. For additional information, see the risk factor entitled "The integration of Penn Virginia into Denbury may not be as successful as anticipated" below.

The costs described above, as well as other unanticipated costs and expenses, could have a material adverse effect on the financial condition and operating results of Denbury following the completion of the Merger.

Many of these costs will be borne by Denbury or Penn Virginia even if the Merger is not completed.

The opinions of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's respective financial advisors will not reflect changes in circumstances between the signing of the Merger Agreement and the completion of the Merger.

Denbury and Penn Virginia have received opinions from their respective financial advisors in connection with the signing of the Merger Agreement, but have not obtained updated opinions from their respective financial advisors as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Changes in the operations and prospects of Denbury or Penn Virginia, general market and economic conditions, changes in commodity prices, and other factors that may be beyond the control of Denbury or Penn Virginia, and on which Denbury's and Penn Virginia's financial advisors' opinions were based, may significantly alter the value of Denbury or Penn Virginia or the prices of the shares of Denbury Common Stock or of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock by the time the Merger is completed. The opinions do not speak as of the time the Merger will be completed or as of any date other than the date of such opinions. Because Denbury and Penn Virginia do not currently anticipate asking their respective financial advisors to update their opinions, the opinions will not address the fairness of the Merger Consideration from a financial point of view at the time the Merger is completed. The Denbury board's recommendation that Denbury stockholders vote FOR approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal and the Penn Virginia board's recommendation that Penn Virginia shareholders vote FOR approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal and the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal, however, is made as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

For a description of the opinions that Denbury and Penn Virginia received from their respective financial advisors, see the sections entitled "The Merger Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's Financial Advisor" and "The Merger Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor" beginning on pages 97 and 115, respectively. A copy of the opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's financial advisor, is attached as Annex B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and a copy of the opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's financial advisor, is attached as Annex C to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and each is incorporated by reference herein in its entirety.

Completion of the Merger may trigger change in control or other provisions in certain agreements to which Penn Virginia is a party.

The completion of the Merger may trigger change in control or other provisions in certain agreements to which Penn Virginia is a party. If Denbury and Penn Virginia are unable to negotiate waivers of those provisions, the counterparties may exercise their rights and remedies under the agreements, potentially terminating the agreements or seeking monetary damages. Even if Denbury and Penn Virginia are able to negotiate waivers, the counterparties may require a fee for such waivers or seek to renegotiate the agreements on terms less favorable to Penn Virginia.

The combined company's debt may limit its financial flexibility.

As of September 30, 2018, Denbury had approximately $2.5 billion of outstanding indebtedness, consisting of $1,521 million of second lien notes, $183 million of pipeline capital lease obligations, $11 million of other capital lease obligations, and $826 million of senior subordinated indebtedness. As of September 30, 2018, Penn Virginia had approximately $483 million of outstanding indebtedness, consisting of $283 million outstanding under its bank credit facility and $200 million on its second lien term loan. Denbury continues to review the treatment of its and Penn Virginia's existing indebtedness and Denbury may seek to repay, refinance, repurchase, redeem, exchange or otherwise terminate its or Penn Virginia's existing indebtedness prior to, in connection with or following the completion of the Merger. If Denbury does seek to refinance its or Penn Virginia's existing indebtedness, there can be no guarantee that Denbury would be able to execute the refinancing on favorable terms or at all. Denbury has received a financing commitment letter (the "commitment letter") from JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. for a new $1.2 billion senior secured bank credit facility, replacing its current credit facility and a $400 million senior secured second lien bridge financing. The new debt financings will be used to fully or partially fund the $400 million cash portion of the consideration, potentially retire and replace Penn Virginia's $200 million second lien term loan, and replace Penn Virginia's existing bank credit facility, which had $283 million drawn and outstanding as of September 30, 2018, and pay fees and expenses. Upon consummation of the new debt financings and the repayment or replacement of Penn Virginia's indebtedness as described above, the combined company is expected to have outstanding indebtedness of approximately $3.40 billion following the closing of the Merger, based on Denbury's and Penn Virginia's outstanding indebtedness as of September 30, 2018.

Table of Contents

Any increase in Denbury's indebtedness could have adverse effects on its financial condition and results of operations, including:

imposing additional cash requirements on Denbury in order to support interest payments, which reduces the amount Denbury has available to fund its operations and other business activities;

increasing the risk that Denbury may default on its debt obligations; increasing Denbury's vulnerability to adverse changes in general economic and industry conditions, economic downturns and adverse developments in its business;

limiting Denbury's ability to sell assets, engage in strategic transactions or obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures, general corporate and other purposes; limiting Denbury's flexibility in planning for or reacting to changes in its business and the industry in which it operates; and increasing Denbury's exposure to a rise in interest rates, which will generate greater interest expense to the extent Denbury does not have applicable interest rate fluctuation hedges.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial information and unaudited forecasted financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not represent the actual financial position or results of operations of the combined company following the completion of the Merger. Future results of Denbury or Penn Virginia may differ, possibly materially, from the unaudited pro forma combined financial information and unaudited forecasted financial information presented in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial statements and unaudited forecasted financial information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is presented for illustrative purposes only, contains a variety of adjustments, assumptions and preliminary estimates and does not represent the actual financial position or results of operations of Denbury and Penn Virginia prior to the Merger or that of the combined company following the Merger for several reasons. Specifically, the unaudited pro forma combined financial statements do not reflect the effect of any potential divestitures that may occur prior to or subsequent to the completion of the Merger, integration costs or Denbury's projected reduction of its debt to capitalization ratio following the completion of the Merger. For additional information, see the section entitled "Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Financial Statements" beginning on page 189. In addition, the Merger and post-merger integration process may give rise to unexpected liabilities and costs, including costs associated with the defense and resolution of transaction-related litigation or other claims. Unexpected delays in completing the Merger or in connection with the post-merger integration process may significantly increase the related costs and expenses incurred by Denbury. The actual financial positions and results of operations of Denbury and Penn Virginia prior to the Merger and that of the combined company following the Merger may be different, possibly materially, from the unaudited pro forma combined financial statements or forecasted financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. In addition, the assumptions used in preparing the unaudited pro forma combined financial statements and forecasted financial information included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus may not prove to be accurate and may be affected by other factors. Any significant changes in the market price of Denbury Common Stock may cause a significant change in the purchase price used for Denbury's accounting purposes and the unaudited pro forma financial statements contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The integration of Penn Virginia into Denbury may not be as successful as anticipated.

The Merger involves numerous operational, strategic, financial, accounting, legal, tax and other risks, potential liabilities associated with the acquired businesses, and uncertainties related to design, operation and integration of Penn Virginia's internal control over financial reporting. Difficulties in integrating Penn Virginia into Denbury may result in the combined company performing differently than expected, in operational challenges or in the failure to realize anticipated expense-related efficiencies. Denbury's and Penn Virginia's existing businesses could also be negatively impacted by the Merger. Potential difficulties that may be encountered in the integration process include, among other factors:

the inability to successfully integrate the businesses of Penn Virginia into Denbury in a manner that permits Denbury to achieve the full financial benefits anticipated from the Merger;

complexities associated with managing the larger, more complex, integrated business;

not realizing anticipated synergies;

integrating personnel from the two companies and the loss of key employees; potential unknown liabilities and unforeseen expenses, delays or regulatory conditions associated with the Merger;

integrating relationships with customers, vendors and business partners; performance shortfalls at one or both of the companies as a result of the diversion of management's attention caused by completing the Merger and integrating Penn Virginia's operations into Denbury; and the disruption of, or the loss of momentum in, each company's ongoing business or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies.

Denbury's results may suffer if it does not effectively manage its expanded operations following the Merger.

Following completion of the Merger, Denbury's success will depend, in part, on its ability to manage its expansion, which poses numerous risks and uncertainties, including the need to integrate the operations and business of Penn Virginia into its existing business in an efficient and timely manner, to combine systems and management controls and to integrate relationships with customers, vendors and business partners.

Even if Denbury and Penn Virginia complete the Merger, Denbury may fail to realize all of the anticipated benefits of the Merger.

The success of the Merger will depend, in part, on Denbury's ability to realize the anticipated financial benefits from combining Denbury's and Penn Virginia's businesses, including synergies. The anticipated financial benefits of the Merger may not be realized fully or at all, may take longer to realize than expected or could have other adverse effects that Denbury does not currently foresee. Some of the assumptions that Denbury has made, such as the achievement of synergies, may not be realized. The integration process may, for each of Denbury and Penn Virginia, result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of ongoing businesses or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies. There could be potential unknown liabilities and unforeseen expenses associated with the Merger that were not discovered in the course of performing due diligence.

Uncertainties associated with the Merger may cause a loss of management personnel and other key employees, which could adversely affect the future business and operations of the combined company.

Denbury and Penn Virginia are dependent on the experience and industry knowledge of their officers and other key employees to execute their business plans. Each company's success until the Merger and the combined company's success after the Merger will depend in part upon the ability of Denbury and Penn Virginia to retain key management personnel and other key employees. Current and prospective employees of Denbury and Penn Virginia may experience uncertainty about their roles within the combined company following the Merger, which may have an adverse effect on the ability of each of Denbury and Penn Virginia to attract or retain key management and other key personnel. Accordingly, no assurance can be given that the combined company will be able to attract or retain key management personnel and other key employees of Denbury and Penn Virginia to the same extent that Denbury and Penn Virginia have previously been able to attract or retain their own employees.

The market price of Denbury Common Stock may decline in the future as a result of the sale of shares of Denbury Common Stock held by former Penn Virginia shareholders or current Denbury stockholders.

Based on the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock outstanding as of January 7, 2019 and the number of outstanding Penn Virginia equity awards currently estimated to be payable in Denbury Common Stock following the Merger, Denbury expects to issue approximately 191.8 million shares of Denbury Common Stock to Penn Virginia shareholders in the Merger. Following their receipt of shares of Denbury Common Stock as Merger Consideration in the Merger, former Penn Virginia shareholders may seek to sell the shares of Denbury Common Stock delivered to them, and the Merger Agreement contains no restriction on the ability of former Penn Virginia shareholders to sell such shares of Denbury Common Stock following completion of the Merger. Other Denbury stockholders may also seek to sell shares of Denbury Common Stock held by them following, or in anticipation of, completion of the Merger. These sales (or the perception that these sales may occur), coupled with the increase in the outstanding number of shares of Denbury Common Stock, may affect the market for, and the market price of, Denbury Common Stock in an adverse manner.

The combined company may record goodwill and other intangible assets that could become impaired and may result in material non-cash charges to the results of operations of the combined company in the future.

The Merger will be accounted for as an acquisition by Denbury in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (which we refer to as GAAP). Under the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of Penn Virginia and its subsidiaries will be recorded, as of completion, at their respective fair values and added to those of Denbury. The reported financial condition and results of operations of Denbury for periods after completion of the Merger will reflect Penn Virginia balances and results after completion of the Merger but will not be restated retroactively to reflect the historical financial position or results of operations of Penn Virginia and its subsidiaries for periods prior to the Merger. For additional information, see the section entitled Unaudited Pro Forma Combined Financial Statements beginning on page 189.

Under the acquisition method of accounting, the total purchase price will be allocated to Penn Virginia's tangible assets and liabilities and identifiable intangible assets based on their fair values as of the date of completion of the Merger. The excess, if any, of the purchase price over those fair values will be recorded as goodwill. Denbury and Penn Virginia expect that the Merger may result in the creation of goodwill based upon the application of the acquisition method of accounting. To the extent the value of goodwill or intangibles becomes impaired, the combined company may be required to incur material non-cash charges relating to such impairment. The combined company's operating results may be significantly impacted from both the impairment and the underlying trends in the business that triggered the impairment.

Shares of Denbury Common Stock received by Penn Virginia shareholders as a result of the Merger will have different rights from shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock.

Upon completion of the Merger, Penn Virginia shareholders will no longer be shareholders of Penn Virginia, and Penn Virginia shareholders who receive Merger Consideration will become Denbury stockholders. There will be important differences between the current rights of Penn Virginia shareholders and the rights to which such shareholders will be entitled as Denbury stockholders. For a discussion of the different rights associated with shares of Denbury Common Stock, see the section entitled Comparison of Stockholders' Rights beginning on page 201.

The market price of Denbury Common Stock may be affected by factors different from those that historically have affected Penn Virginia Common Stock.

Upon completion of the Merger, holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock who receive Merger Consideration (other than any holder that receives solely cash) will become holders of Denbury Common Stock. The businesses of Denbury differ from those of Penn Virginia in certain respects, and, accordingly, the financial position or results of operations and/or cash flows of Denbury after the Merger, as well as the market price of Denbury Common Stock, may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the financial position or results of operations and/or cash flows of Penn Virginia. Following the completion of the Merger, Penn Virginia will be part of a larger company, so decisions affecting Penn Virginia may be made in respect of the larger combined business as a whole rather than the Penn Virginia business individually. For a discussion of the businesses of Denbury and Penn Virginia and of some important factors to consider in connection with those businesses, see the section entitled

Information About the Companies and the documents incorporated by reference in the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on pages 63 and 221, respectively, including, in particular, in the sections entitled Risk Factors in each of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017 and in Penn Virginia's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018.

Following the completion of the Merger, Denbury may incorporate Penn Virginia's hedging activities into Denbury's business, and Denbury may be exposed to additional commodity price risks arising from such hedges.

To mitigate its exposure to changes in commodity prices, Penn Virginia hedges oil, natural gas and NGL prices from time to time, primarily through the use of certain derivative instruments. If Denbury assumes existing Penn Virginia hedges, then Denbury will bear the economic impact of all of Penn Virginia's current hedges following the completion of the Merger. Actual crude oil, natural gas and NGL prices may differ from the combined company's expectations and, as a result, such hedges may or may not have a negative impact on Denbury's business.

Denbury and Penn Virginia may be targets of securities class action and derivative lawsuits which could result in substantial costs and may delay or prevent the Merger from being completed.

Securities class action lawsuits and derivative lawsuits are often brought against public companies that have entered into merger agreements. Even if the lawsuits are without merit, defending against these claims can result in substantial costs and divert management time and resources. An adverse judgment could result in monetary damages, which could have a negative impact on Denbury's and Penn Virginia's respective liquidity and financial condition. Additionally, if a plaintiff is successful in obtaining an injunction prohibiting completion of the Merger, then that injunction may delay or prevent the Merger from being completed, which may adversely affect Denbury's and Penn Virginia's respective business, financial position and results of operation.

Risks Relating to Denbury's Business.

You should read and consider risk factors specific to Denbury's businesses that will also affect the combined company after the completion of the Merger. These risks are described in Part I, Item 1A of Denbury's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017 and in Part II, Item 1A of Denbury's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018, and in other documents that are incorporated by reference herein. For the location of information incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, see the section entitled Where You Can Find More Information beginning on page 221.

Risks Relating to Penn Virginia's Business.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This joint proxy statement/prospectus, and the documents to which Penn Virginia and Denbury refer you in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, as well as oral statements made or to be made by Penn Virginia and Denbury, include certain forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933 and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. All statements, other than statements of historical fact, included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus that address activities, events or developments that Denbury or Penn Virginia expects, believes or anticipates will or may occur in the future are forward-looking statements. Words such as estimate, project, predict, believe, expect, anticipate, potential, create, intend, could, may, foresee, plan, outlook, goal, future, assume, forecast, build, focus, work, continue or the negative of such terms or thereof and words and terms of similar substance used in connection with any discussion of future plans, actions, or events identify forward-looking statements. However, the absence of these words does not mean that the statements are not forward-looking. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements regarding the Merger, pro forma descriptions of the combined company and its operations, integration and transition plans, synergies, opportunities and anticipated future performance. There are a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. These include:

the expected timing and likelihood of completion of the Merger, including the timing, receipt and terms and conditions of any required governmental and regulatory approvals of the Merger that could reduce anticipated benefits or cause the parties to abandon the Merger;

the ability to successfully integrate the businesses;

the occurrence of any event, change or other circumstances that could give rise to the termination of or amendment to the Merger Agreement;

the possibility that Denbury stockholders may not approve the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal or that Penn Virginia shareholders may not approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal;

the risk that the parties may not be able to satisfy the conditions to the Merger in a timely manner or at all;

the risk that any announcements relating to the Merger by Denbury, Penn Virginia or others could have adverse effects on the market price of Denbury Common Stock or Penn Virginia Common Stock;

the risk that the Merger and its announcement could have an adverse effect on the ability of Denbury and Penn Virginia to retain customers and retain and hire key personnel and maintain relationships with their suppliers and customers and on their operating results and businesses generally;

the risk the pending Merger could distract management of both entities from ongoing business operations or cause them to incur substantial costs;

the risk that problems may arise in successfully integrating the businesses of the companies, which may result in the combined company not operating as effectively and efficiently as expected; and the risk that the combined company may be unable to achieve the anticipated financial benefits of the Merger or it may take longer than expected to achieve the anticipated financial benefits of the Merger and other important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected.

All such factors are difficult to predict and are beyond Denbury or Penn Virginia's control, including those detailed in Denbury's annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K that are available on its website at www.denbury.com and on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov, and those detailed in Penn Virginia's annual reports on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K that are available on Penn Virginia's website at www.pennvirginia.com and on the SEC's website at www.sec.gov. All forward-looking statements are based on assumptions that Denbury or Penn Virginia believe to be reasonable but that may not prove to be accurate. Any forward-looking statement speaks only as of the date on which such statement is made, and Denbury and Penn Virginia undertake no obligation to correct or update any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements that speak only as of the date hereof.

Vote of Denbury's Directors and Executive Officers

As of January 7, 2019, Denbury directors and executive officers, and their affiliates, as a group, owned and were entitled to vote 4,826,795 shares of Denbury Common Stock, or approximately 1.0% of the total outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock as of January 7, 2019.

Denbury currently expects that all of its directors and executive officers will vote their shares FOR the approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and FOR the approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

Attending the Denbury Special Meeting

You are entitled to attend the Denbury special meeting only if you were a stockholder of record of Denbury at the close of business on the record date or you held your shares of Denbury beneficially in the name of a broker, bank or other nominee as of the record date, or you hold a valid proxy for the Denbury special meeting.

If you were a stockholder of record of Denbury at the close of business on the record date and wish to attend the Denbury special meeting, so indicate on your Denbury proxy card or as prompted by the phone or Internet voting system. Your name will be verified against the list of stockholders of record prior to your being admitted to the Denbury special meeting.

If a broker, bank or other nominee is the record owner of your shares of Denbury Common Stock, you will need to have proof that you are the beneficial owner as of the record date to be admitted to the Denbury special meeting. A recent statement or letter from your broker, bank or other nominee confirming your ownership as of the record date, or presentation of a valid proxy from a broker, bank or other nominee that is the record owner of your shares, would be acceptable proof of your beneficial ownership.

You should be prepared to present government-issued photo identification for admittance. If you do not provide photo identification or comply with the other procedures outlined above upon request, you might not be admitted to the Denbury special meeting.

Results of the Denbury Special Meeting

Within four business days following the Denbury special meeting, Denbury intends to file the final voting results with the SEC on a Current Report on Form 8-K. If the final voting results have not been certified within that four business day period, Denbury will report the preliminary voting results on a Current Report on Form 8-K at that time and will file an amendment to the Current Report on Form 8-K to report the final voting results within four days of the date that the final results are certified.

DENBURY STOCKHOLDERS SHOULD CAREFULLY READ THIS JOINT PROXY STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS IN ITS ENTIRETY FOR MORE DETAILED INFORMATION CONCERNING THE DENBURY ISSUANCE PROPOSAL AND THE DENBURY CHARTER AMENDMENT PROPOSAL.

DENBURY PROPOSALS

Denbury Issuance Proposal

It is a condition to the completion of the Merger that Denbury stockholders approve the issuance of shares of Denbury Common Stock in the Merger. In the Merger, each Penn Virginia shareholder will receive, at its election and subject to proration, either, (i) $25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock, (ii) $79.80 in cash without interest or (iii) 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock, as further described in the sections entitled The Merger Consideration to Penn Virginia Shareholders and The Merger Agreement Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock; Merger Consideration beginning on pages 79 and 144, respectively.

Under NYSE rules, a company is required to obtain stockholder approval prior to the issuance of shares of common stock if the number of shares of common stock to be issued is, or will be upon issuance, equal to or in excess of 20% of the number of shares of common stock outstanding before the issuance of the shares of common stock. If the Merger is completed pursuant to the Merger Agreement, Denbury expects to issue up to approximately 191.8 shares of Denbury Common Stock in connection with the Merger based on the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock outstanding as of January 7, 2019. Accordingly, the aggregate number of shares of Denbury Common Stock that Denbury will issue in the Merger will exceed 20% of the shares of Denbury Common Stock outstanding before such issuance, and for this reason, Denbury is seeking the approval of Denbury stockholders for the issuance of shares of Denbury Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement. In the event the Denbury Issuance Proposal is not approved by Denbury stockholders, the Merger will not be completed.

In the event the Denbury Issuance Proposal is approved by Denbury stockholders, but the Merger Agreement is terminated, Denbury will not issue any shares of Denbury Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement as a result of the approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal.

Approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal requires the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the shares of Denbury Common Stock represented in person or by proxy at the Denbury special meeting. Abstentions will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal, and broker non-votes will have no effect on the outcome of the vote.

The Denbury board unanimously recommends a vote FOR the Denbury Issuance Proposal.

Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal

It is a condition to the completion of the Merger that Denbury stockholders approve the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal to increase the total number of authorized shares of Denbury Common Stock from 600,000,000 shares to 984,000,000 shares in order to enable Denbury to have sufficient shares of authorized but unissued Denbury Common Stock for the issuance of shares of Denbury Common Stock in the Merger, as further described in the sections entitled

The Merger Consideration to Penn Virginia Shareholders and The Merger Agreement Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock; Merger Consideration beginning on pages 79 and 144, respectively. The proposed Denbury Charter Amendment is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex D.

As of the close of business on the record date, [], 2019, Denbury had no shares of Denbury preferred stock and [] shares of Denbury Common Stock issued and outstanding. As of the close of business on the record date, [], 2019, there were approximately [] shares of Denbury Common Stock reserved for issuance under Denbury's Amended and Restated 2004 Omnibus Stock and Incentive Plan. Based on the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, service-based restricted stock and performance-based restricted stock outstanding as of such date, if the Merger is completed, Denbury would be required to issue approximately [] additional shares of Denbury Common Stock to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock, service-based restricted stock and performance-based restricted stock. Denbury has determined that the 600 million shares of Denbury Common Stock currently authorized under the Denbury certificate of incorporation will be insufficient to complete the Merger. It is estimated that following completion of the Merger, approximately [] million shares of Denbury Common Stock will be outstanding. The Denbury board believes that it is advisable to have additional authorized shares of Denbury Common Stock available for important corporate purposes, such as to provide the ability to react quickly to strategic opportunities and to attract and retain talented employees through the use of equity incentive compensation. Although there are no present plans or commitments for the issuance of any of the additional shares of Denbury Common Stock that would be authorized upon approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, other than the issuance of shares in connection with the Merger, such additional shares would be available for equity incentive plans, possible future stock splits and dividends, public or private offerings of Denbury Common Stock or securities convertible into Denbury Common Stock, equity-based acquisitions and other corporate purposes that might be proposed. The additional shares of Denbury Common Stock will not be entitled to preemptive rights nor will existing Denbury stockholders have any preemptive right to acquire any of those shares when issued.

In the event the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal is approved by Denbury stockholders, but the Merger Agreement is terminated, Denbury will not issue any shares of Denbury Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement as a result of the approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal. However, the newly authorized shares pursuant to the Denbury Charter Amendment will be available for future issuance.

Approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal requires the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Denbury Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal. Failure to vote on the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

The Denbury board unanimously recommends a vote FOR the approval of the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

If you submit a properly executed Penn Virginia WHITE proxy card, even if you do not vote for one or both of the proposals or vote to abstain in respect of one or both of the proposals, your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be counted for purposes of calculating whether a quorum is present for the transaction of business at the Penn Virginia special meeting.

Penn Virginia Common Stock held in street name with respect to which the beneficial owner fails to give voting instructions to the broker, bank or other nominee will not be considered present and entitled to vote at the Penn

Virginia special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

A broker non-vote will result if your broker, bank or other nominee returns a proxy but does not provide instruction as to how shares should be voted on a particular matter. Under stock exchange rules, brokers, banks or other nominees do not have discretionary authority to vote on any of the proposals at the Penn Virginia special meeting because they are non-routine proposals. Broker non-votes will not be considered present and entitled to vote at the Penn Virginia special meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum, unless the broker, bank or other nominee has been instructed to vote on at least one of the proposals.

Executed but unvoted proxies will be voted in accordance with the recommendations of the Penn Virginia board.

Required Vote

Approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of more than two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal. Failure to vote on the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

The Penn Virginia Merger Proposal is described in the section entitled Penn Virginia Proposals beginning on page 77.

Approval of the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal requires that the number of votes cast FOR the proposal exceed the number of votes cast AGAINST the proposal. Abstentions, broker non-votes and failure to vote will not count as votes cast and will have no effect on the outcome of the vote. As an advisory vote, this proposal is not binding upon Penn Virginia or the Penn Virginia, Denbury or their respective boards, and approval of this proposal is not a condition to completion of the Merger.

Agreements with Certain Penn Virginia Shareholders

Concurrently with the execution of the Merger Agreement, Denbury entered into voting and support agreements (each, a Voting Agreement and, collectively, the Voting Agreements) with (i) Strategic Value Partners, LLC on behalf of certain investment funds directly and indirectly managed by SVP, (ii) KLS Diversified Asset Management LP and (iii) each director and executive officer of Penn Virginia, pursuant to which each such shareholder has agreed, among other matters and upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Voting Agreements, to vote all of their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock in favor of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal and the other actions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and against any proposal that would reasonably be expected to impede, interfere with, delay, postpone, discourage or adversely affect the consummation of the Merger. As of January 7, 2019, such shareholders subject to the Voting Agreements held 2,286,252 shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock in the aggregate (excluding Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock), or approximately 15.1% of the voting power of Penn Virginia (excluding Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock). The Voting Agreements are attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex E, Annex F and Annex G, respectively.

Adjournment

In accordance with the Penn Virginia bylaws, whether or not a quorum is present, the chairman of the Penn Virginia special meeting will have the power to adjourn the Penn Virginia special meeting from time to time for the purpose of, among other things, soliciting additional proxies. If the Penn Virginia special meeting is adjourned, Penn Virginia shareholders who have already submitted their proxies will be able to revoke them at any time prior to their use. At any subsequent reconvening of the Penn Virginia special meeting, all proxies will be voted in the same manner as the manner in which such proxies would have been voted at the original convening of the Penn Virginia special meeting, except for any proxies that have been validly revoked or withdrawn prior to the reconvened meeting.

Table of Contents

In addition, the Merger Agreement provides that Penn Virginia (1) will be required to adjourn or postpone the Penn Virginia special meeting (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any required supplement or amendment to this joint proxy statement/prospectus is provided to the Penn Virginia shareholders or (B) if, as of the time the Penn Virginia special meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct business at the Penn Virginia special meeting, and (2) may, and at Denbury's request must, adjourn or postpone the Penn Virginia special meeting if, as of the time for which the Penn Virginia special meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to obtain the approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal. However, the Penn Virginia special meeting will not be adjourned or postponed to a date that is more than 30 business days after the date for which the Penn Virginia special meeting was previously scheduled (though the Penn Virginia special meeting may be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in (1)(A) and 1(B) exist, and, with Denbury's consent, every time the circumstances described in (2) exist) or to a date on or after two business days prior to April 30, 2019.

Revocability of Proxies

If you are a shareholder of record of Penn Virginia, whether you vote by phone, the Internet or mail, you can change or revoke your proxy before it is voted at the meeting in one of the following ways:

submit a new Penn Virginia WHITE proxy card bearing a later date;

Proxy Solicitation Costs

The enclosed Penn Virginia WHITE proxy card is being solicited on behalf of the Penn Virginia board. In addition to solicitation by mail, Penn Virginia's directors, officers and employees may solicit proxies in person, by phone or by electronic means. These persons will not be specifically compensated for conducting such solicitation.

Penn Virginia has retained Okapi Partners to assist in the solicitation process. Penn Virginia has paid Okapi Partners an initial retainer fee of $15,000, and also agreed to pay Okapi Partners (a) fees for additional services that may be incurred, (b) a performance fee to be mutually agreed in light of effort expended and outcome achieved and (c) reasonable out-of-pocket expenses. Penn Virginia also has agreed to indemnify Okapi Partners against various liabilities and expenses that relate to or arise out of its solicitation of proxies (subject to certain exceptions).

Penn Virginia will ask brokers, banks and other nominees to forward the proxy solicitation materials to the beneficial owners of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock held of record by such nominee holders. Penn Virginia will reimburse these nominee holders for their customary clerical and mailing expenses incurred in forwarding the proxy

PENN VIRGINIA PROPOSALS

Penn Virginia Merger Proposal

It is a condition to completion of the Merger that Penn Virginia shareholders approve the Merger Agreement, which is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A. In the Merger, each Penn Virginia shareholder will receive, at its election and subject to proration, either (i) $25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock, (ii) $79.80 in cash without interest or (iii) 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock, as further described in the sections entitled The Merger Consideration to Penn Virginia Shareholders and The Merger Agreement Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock; Merger Consideration beginning on pages 79 and 144, respectively.

The approval by such shareholders of this proposal is required by Virginia law and is a condition to the completion of the Merger.

Approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of more than two-thirds of the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to vote on the proposal. Abstentions and broker non-votes will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal. Failure to vote on the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

The Penn Virginia board unanimously recommends a vote FOR the approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal

As required by Section 14A of the Exchange Act and the applicable SEC rules issued thereunder, which were enacted pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, Penn Virginia is required to provide its shareholders the opportunity to vote to approve, on a non-binding, advisory basis, certain compensation that may be paid or become payable to Penn Virginia's named executive officers in connection with the Merger, as described in the section entitled The Merger Quantification of Potential Payments beginning on page 137. Accordingly, Penn Virginia shareholders are being provided the opportunity to cast an advisory vote on such payments.

As an advisory vote, this proposal is not binding upon Penn Virginia, Denbury or their respective boards, and approval of this proposal is not a condition to completion of the Merger and is a vote separate and apart from the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal. Accordingly, you may vote to approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal and vote not to approve the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal, and vice versa. Because the merger-related executive compensation to be paid in connection with the Merger is based on the terms of the Merger Agreement as well as the contractual arrangements with Penn Virginia's named executive officers, such compensation will be payable, regardless of the outcome of this advisory vote, if the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal is approved (subject only to the contractual conditions applicable thereto) and the Merger is completed. However, Penn Virginia seeks the support of its shareholders and believes that shareholders support is appropriate because Penn Virginia has a comprehensive executive compensation program designed to link the compensation of its executives with Penn Virginia's performance and the interests of Penn Virginia shareholders. Accordingly, holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are being asked to vote on the following resolution:

RESOLVED, that the shareholders of Penn Virginia Corporation approve, on an advisory, non-binding basis, certain compensation that may be paid or become payable to the named executive officers of Penn Virginia Corporation in connection with the Merger, as disclosed pursuant to Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K under the heading The Merger Quantification of Potential Payments.

Table of Contents

Approval of the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal requires that the number of votes cast FOR the proposal exceed the number of votes cast AGAINST the proposal. Abstentions, broker non-votes and failure to vote will not count as votes cast and will have no effect on the outcome of the vote.

The Penn Virginia board unanimously recommends a vote FOR the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal.

THE MERGER

This discussion of the Merger is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Merger Agreement, which is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A and incorporated by reference herein in its entirety. You should read the entire Merger Agreement carefully as it is the legal document that governs the Merger.

Transaction Structure

At the effective time of the Merger, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Penn Virginia and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub will cease, and Penn Virginia will continue as the surviving entity in the Merger as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury. Immediately following the effectiveness of the Merger, Penn Virginia will be merged with and into LLC Sub and the separate corporate existence of Penn Virginia will cease, and LLC Sub will continue as the surviving entity as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury.

Consideration to Penn Virginia Shareholders

On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, upon the effective time of the Merger, each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger (except for shares owned by Penn Virginia, which will be cancelled with no consideration being delivered therefor) will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder of such share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, either (i) the Mixed Election Consideration ($25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock), (ii) the Cash Election Consideration ($79.80 in cash without interest) or (iii) the Stock Election Consideration (18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock). The Cash and Stock Elections will be subject to proration to ensure that the total amount of cash paid to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock is equal to $400 million.

Penn Virginia shareholders will not be entitled to receive any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock in the Merger, and no Penn Virginia shareholder will be entitled to voting or other rights in respect of any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock. Each holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock converted pursuant to the Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Denbury Common Stock (after taking into account all shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock exchanged by such holder) will receive, in lieu thereof, cash in an amount equal to such fractional amount multiplied by the average of the volume weighted average price per share of Denbury Common Stock traded on the NYSE (as reported by Bloomberg, L.P. or, if not reported by Bloomberg, L.P., in another authoritative source mutually selected by Denbury and Penn Virginia) on each of the five consecutive trading days ending with the last complete trading day prior to the closing date.

Election Deadline

The election deadline will be 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the second business day prior to the effective time of the Merger or such other time as mutually agreed by Denbury and Penn Virginia. Denbury will publicly announce the anticipated election deadline at least five business days prior to the election deadline. If the effective time of the Merger is delayed to a subsequent date, the election deadline will be similarly delayed to a subsequent date (which will be the second business day prior to the new effective time of the Merger or such other time as mutually agreed by Denbury and Penn Virginia), and Denbury will promptly announce any such delay and, when determined, the rescheduled election deadline.

Penn Virginia shareholders who hold their shares in street name may be subject to an earlier deadline. Therefore, Penn Virginia shareholders should carefully read any materials received from their bank, broker, nominee, trust company or other fiduciary.

Table of Contents

Form of Election

The applicable form of election must be properly completed, signed and accompanied by:

duly endorsed original certificates representing all of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock to which such form of election relates, duly endorsed in blank or otherwise in a form acceptable for transfer on Penn Virginia's books (or appropriate evidence as to loss, theft or destruction, appropriate evidence as to the ownership of that certificate by the claimant, and appropriate and customary indemnification, as described in the form of election);

a properly completed and signed notice of guaranteed delivery, as described in the instructions accompanying the form of election, from a firm which is a member of a registered national securities exchange or commercial bank or trust company having an office or correspondent in the U.S., provided that the actual stock certificates are in fact delivered to the exchange agent by the time set forth in the notice of guaranteed delivery; or if the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are held in book-entry form, the documents specified in the instructions accompanying the form of election.

In order to make a Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election and/or no election, the properly completed and signed form of election, together with one of the items described above, must be actually received by the exchange agent at or prior to the election deadline in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form of election. Any shares with respect to which an election has not been properly made by the election deadline will be deemed No Election Shares.

Impact of Selling Shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as to which an Election Has Already Been Made

Any subsequent transfer of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock after an election has properly been made with respect to such shares will automatically revoke such election. Thus, any transferee of such shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock must properly make an election with respect to such shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. If a transfer occurs after the election deadline, the election will automatically be revoked and the transferee will be deemed to have made no election with respect to such shares. See Election Revocation and Changes below.

Election Revocation and Changes

An election may be revoked or changed with respect to all or a portion of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock covered by the election by the holder who submitted the applicable form of election, but only by written notice received by the exchange agent prior to the election deadline. If an election is revoked, or the Merger Agreement is terminated, and any share certificates have been transmitted to the exchange agent, the exchange agent will return those certificates to the Penn Virginia shareholder who submitted such certificates. Penn Virginia shareholders will not be entitled to revoke or change their elections following the election deadline, unless the Merger Agreement is thereafter terminated or the election deadline is thereafter delayed. As a result, Penn Virginia shareholders who have made elections will be unable to revoke their elections during the period between the election deadline and the date of completion of the Merger or termination of the Merger Agreement. Further, if a Penn Virginia shareholder transfers shares for which an election has been made following the election deadline, the election will automatically be revoked and, unless the election deadline is thereafter delayed, the transferee of such shares will not be permitted to make an election and such shares will be deemed No Election Shares.

Penn Virginia shareholders not making a valid election in respect of their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock prior to the election deadline, including as a result of revocation, will be deemed non-electing holders. If it is determined that any purported Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election was not properly made, the purported election will be deemed to be of no force or effect and the applicable shares will be deemed No

Election Shares, unless a proper election is subsequently made on a timely basis. The exchange agent has reasonable discretion to determine whether any election, revocation or change has been properly or timely made.

Non-Electing Holders

Penn Virginia shareholders who do not make the Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election, whose election form and letter of transmittals are not received by the exchange agent by the election deadline, or whose forms of election are revoked and not resubmitted, improperly completed or not signed will be deemed No Election Shares. Penn Virginia shareholders not making an election in respect of some or all of their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will receive consideration based on the number of Penn Virginia shareholders who make the Mixed Election, Cash Election and Stock Election. See Proration and Adjustment Procedures below.

Penn Virginia shareholders who do not make a valid election with respect to any shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will receive written instructions from the exchange agent after completion of the Merger on how to exchange their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock for the Merger Consideration.

Proration and Adjustment Procedures

Penn Virginia shareholders should be aware that any Cash Election or Stock Election they make, and any No Election Shares, may be subject to the proration and adjustment procedures provided in the Merger Agreement to ensure that the total amount of cash paid to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock is equal to $400 million.

Therefore, if the aggregate amount of cash to be paid by Denbury in the Merger taking into account all Cash Elections and Mixed Elections would be more than $400 million, then the amount of cash per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock to be received by holders making a Cash Election will be reduced (pro rata across all outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock subject to a Cash Election, which are referred to as the Cash Election Shares), so that the aggregate cash paid to all Penn Virginia shareholders is equal to $400 million, and the remainder of the consideration in respect of those shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock subject to a Cash Election will be payable in shares of Denbury Common Stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares as described below.

Alternatively, if the aggregate amount of cash to be paid by Denbury in the Merger taking into account all Cash Elections and Mixed Elections and the number of No Election Shares would be less than $400 million, then each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock subject to a Stock Election, which shares are referred to collectively as the Stock Election Shares, would receive such amount of cash as is necessary to make the aggregate amount of cash to be paid by Denbury in the Merger equal $400 million, and the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock per Stock Election Share would be reduced as described below.

The proration and adjustment procedures work as follows:

If (A) the product of the number of the Cash Election Shares and $79.80 (the Cash Election Consideration) (such product being referred to as the Cash Election Amount) exceeds (B) (1) $400,000,000 minus (2) the product of the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that have made the Mixed Election and $25.86 (such difference being referred to as the Available Cash Election Amount), then each Cash Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (y) an amount of cash without interest equal to the product of the Cash Election Consideration and a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Available Cash Election Amount and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Amount (such fraction, the Cash Fraction) and (z) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) one minus the Cash Fraction.

Table of Contents

If the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount and the number of No Election Shares is less than the Cash Election Shortfall Number (as defined below), then each Stock Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to (1) the Cash Election Shortfall Amount (as defined below) minus the product of the number of No Election Shares and the Cash Election Consideration, divided by (2) the number of Stock Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration.

If the Cash Election Amount equals or exceeds the Available Cash Election Amount, then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock. If the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount (the amount by which the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount referred to as the Cash Election Shortfall Amount), then (A) if the number of No Election Shares is less than or equal to an amount equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the Cash Election Consideration (such quotient referred to as the Cash Election Shortfall Number), then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive the Cash Election Consideration, and (B) if the number of No Election Shares is greater than the Cash Election Shortfall Number, then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the number of No Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration.

Neither Denbury nor Penn Virginia is making any recommendation as to whether Penn Virginia shareholders should make a Cash Election, Stock Election, Mixed Election or no election in the Merger. You must make your own decision with respect to such election. No guarantee can be made that you will receive the amount of cash consideration or stock consideration you elect. As a result of the proration procedures and other limitations described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and in the Merger Agreement, you may receive stock consideration or cash consideration in amounts that are different from the amounts you elect to receive. Because the value of the stock consideration and cash consideration may differ, you may receive consideration having an aggregate value that is less than the aggregate value of the consideration you elected to receive.

Background of the Merger

On May 12, 2016, Penn Virginia and eight of its subsidiaries filed voluntary petitions (In re Penn Virginia Corporation, et al., Case No. 16-32395) seeking relief under Chapter 11 of Title 11 of the United States Bankruptcy Code in the United States Bankruptcy Court for the Eastern District of Virginia. On August 11, 2016, the bankruptcy court confirmed the Second Amended Joint Chapter 11 Plan of Reorganization of Penn Virginia Corporation and its debtor affiliates, and Penn Virginia subsequently emerged from bankruptcy on September 12, 2016. Upon emergence, the Penn Virginia board consisted of three directors: Messrs. Harry Quarls, Darin Holderness and Marc McCarthy, with Mr. Quarls serving as chairman of the Penn Virginia board. In October 2016, the size of the Penn Virginia board was expanded by one director, and Mr. Jerry Schuyler was appointed to the Penn Virginia board. On December 28, 2016, shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock began trading on the Nasdaq Global Select Stock Market.

In December 2016, the Penn Virginia board and senior management began an informal review and assessment of Penn Virginia's strategic alternatives and authorized the engagement of Jefferies to act as Penn Virginia's exclusive financial advisor in connection with the review and assessment. The Penn Virginia board considered other financial advisors and selected Jefferies based upon, among other things, Jefferies' reputation, experience in mergers and acquisitions and familiarity with Penn Virginia.

At the direction of the Penn Virginia board, Jefferies provided these parties with financial, operational and reserves data, as well as other data to help in their evaluation of a potential combination with Penn Virginia. At various times, representatives of Jefferies provided updates to the Penn Virginia board regarding the process. Three companies submitted indications of interest on June 1, 2017. At meetings of the Penn Virginia board in early June 2017, representatives of Jefferies and Gibson Dunn & Crutcher LLP (Gibson Dunn), counsel to Penn Virginia, reviewed with the Penn Virginia board the proposals. The Penn Virginia board discussed each submission and instructed Jefferies to clarify certain information with one bidder. Following further discussion, the Penn Virginia board ultimately determined it was in the best interests of Penn Virginia and its shareholders to not pursue such indications of interest further.

On June 5, 2017, another potential buyer entered into a nondisclosure agreement with Penn Virginia and was provided with data room access on June 13, 2017. Following joint management presentations in mid-June, the potential buyer submitted a merger proposal to Penn Virginia on June 30, 2017. Penn Virginia also engaged in discussions with certain private equity firms regarding potential alternatives for financing acquisitions by Penn Virginia.

In January 2018, Penn Virginia announced the acquisition from Hunt Oil Company of approximately 9,700 net acres in the Eagle Ford, increasing its working interest in, and operatorship of, existing Penn Virginia owned properties.

In addition, in January 2018, the size of the Penn Virginia board was increased by one, such that there were two vacancies. Pursuant to a support agreement between Penn Virginia and Penn Virginia shareholder, SVP, and funds affiliated with SVP, Mr. David Geenbergh was appointed to fill one of the vacancies. Mr. Michael Hanna, affiliated with Penn Virginia shareholder, KLS, was appointed to fill the other vacancy. Each of Messrs. Holderness and Geenberg was elected non-executive co-chairman of the Penn Virginia board, and the Penn Virginia bylaws were amended to provide for the co-chairman structure.

these companies contained a two-year standstill with customary "don't ask, don't waive" provisions prohibiting a party from requesting amendment, modification or waiver of any provision of the standstill. Each of the 12 parties conducted varying levels of preliminary due diligence. Guggenheim also reviewed the bid instructions provided by Penn Virginia to the prospective bidders, as well as reverse due diligence requests. Vinson & Elkins then reviewed with the Denbury board a presentation detailing the duties and responsibilities of the Denbury board relative to the potential transaction. Following discussion, Vinson & Elkins reviewed the structure and financial terms of the potential transaction, the key approvals required, the conditions to closing, and various other terms and covenants set forth in the draft merger agreement that Penn Virginia had made available in the virtual data room. After Guggenheim and Vinson & Elkins left the meeting, Denbury management and the Denbury board continued to discuss the potential transaction, including long-term strategy and rationale, as well as matters related to proposed merger consideration (including amount, potential premium, and the mix between Denbury stock and cash). premium to Penn Virginia's five-day volume weighted average price (VWAP), via a cash election merger, with the consideration comprised of 75% stock and 25% cash as of the date of signing a definitive merger agreement. Based on the respective closing prices of Denbury and Penn Virginia shares on September 21, 2018, Penn Virginia shareholders would have the right to elect to receive 16.53 shares of Denbury common stock or $92.40 in cash, both fixed at the time of signing a definitive agreement, for each share of Penn Virginia common stock they own, with Penn Virginia shareholders owning approximately 30% of the combined company on a net fully diluted basis upon completion of the transaction. The Denbury board, Denbury management and the Denbury advisors also discussed other matters included in the draft bid proposal, such as the requested list of reverse due diligence items, the potential acquisition timeline, and governance matters, including the potential expansion of the Denbury board to include one or more Penn Virginia directors. Vinson & Elkins reviewed the merger agreement issues list to be attached to the bid letter and noted the high-level contract issues based on a review of the draft merger agreement. Guggenheim also provided the Denbury board with a preliminary financial analysis of the proposed transaction and potential exchange ratios. After dismissing Guggenheim and Vinson & Elkins from the meeting, the Denbury board and Denbury management continued a discussion of the potential bid, following which the Denbury board unanimously approved moving forward with the non-binding bid pursuant to the terms set forth in the bid letter, as well as conditioning the proposal on Penn Virginia agreeing to negotiate exclusively with Denbury through November 1, 2018.

On September 25, 2018, Denbury submitted its non-binding proposal to Penn Virginia. Based on the five-day VWAP of $77.6124 on September 24, 2018, the date of Denbury's non-binding proposal, Denbury's non-binding proposal on the terms as indicated above represented an implied value of $93.13 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock. In lieu of a mark-up of the form merger agreement, Denbury submitted a detailed issues list with its non-binding proposal.

On September 26, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn to discuss initial reactions to three non-binding written proposals submitted by each of Denbury, a publicly-traded E&P company (Party B), and a privately held E&P portfolio company of a private equity firm (Party C), and one non-binding verbal proposal submitted by a publicly-traded E&P company (Party D).

Party B's non-binding proposal contemplated a merger transaction where each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock would receive between $76.61 and $80.51 in cash and common stock of Party B. Party B's proposal did not specify the percentage of cash or stock consideration or the method for valuing the stock component and did not provide the means by which Party B would finance all consideration necessary to fund the transaction, but did indicate that the transaction would be contingent upon Party B's divestiture of certain assets prior to a transaction with Penn Virginia. Party B did not submit a mark-up of the form merger agreement or a list of issues with respect to the form merger agreement.

Party C's non-binding proposal contemplated a transaction in which Party C would merge with a subsidiary of Penn Virginia in an up-c transaction structure, where the existing Penn Virginia shareholders would continue to own their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, and the equityholders of Party C would be entitled to approximately 50% of the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock on a pro forma basis. Party C's proposal did not provide detail supporting the pro forma ownership of Penn Virginia shareholders following the consummation of the proposed merger or the implied value to Penn Virginia shareholders. Party C did not submit a mark-up of the form merger agreement or a list of issues with respect to the form merger agreement.

Party D's non-binding proposal contemplated a merger transaction at an enterprise value of $1.3 billion, implying that each share of Penn Virginia common stock would receive an estimated value of approximately $56.36, with the consideration comprising 30% cash and 70% Party D common stock. Party D's proposal did not specify the method for valuing the stock component. Party D did not submit a mark-up of the form merger agreement or a list of issues with respect to the form merger agreement.

During the September 26 meeting of the Penn Virginia board, representatives of Jefferies reviewed with the Penn Virginia board the details of the four proposals, including the amount and form of consideration proposed, further due diligence requests, conditions and necessary approvals included in, and the implied value to Penn Virginia shareholders represented by, each proposal. The Penn Virginia board then discussed each proposal in detail but focused primarily on the Denbury proposal because the Denbury proposal represented the highest implied value and was the most fully developed proposal received. Following discussion, the Penn Virginia board decided to seek further information regarding Denbury and its proposal, given that Denbury's proposal included a significant amount of Denbury Common Stock as a form of consideration.

On September 28, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn to again review the non-binding proposals Penn Virginia had received from Denbury, Party B, Party C and Party D, which had further submitted its written non-binding proposal on September 27, 2018. The Penn Virginia board directed Jefferies to contact Party B and Party C with respect to their proposals and following discussions with Jefferies, concluded that Party D's offer was too low, and the likelihood of raising it meaningfully too remote, to warrant further discussion with Party D. At this meeting, representatives of Jefferies reviewed with the Penn Virginia board information relating to Denbury. The Penn Virginia board also discussed whether Denbury had the ability to increase the cash component of the consideration or otherwise reduce the exposure of Penn Virginia shareholders to declines in the Denbury share price between signing and closing. The Penn Virginia board decided to meet again on October 1, 2018 to provide each director with additional time to evaluate the proposals.

On October 1, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn to further discuss the non-binding proposals. Representatives of Jefferies updated the Penn Virginia board on its recent discussions with Guggenheim regarding the terms of Denbury's proposal. Jefferies informed the Penn Virginia board that, based on such discussions, it was unlikely that Denbury would be willing to substantially increase the cash component of the consideration or to include in its proposal a mechanism to reduce the exposure of Penn Virginia shareholders to declines in the Denbury share price between signing and closing. Representatives of Jefferies also discussed with Penn Virginia management and the Penn Virginia board Jefferies' ongoing review of Denbury's valuation.

On October 5, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn to discuss ongoing diligence of Denbury and the status of Jefferies' discussions with Denbury, Party B, Party C and Party D. During this meeting, representatives of Jefferies advised that, based on discussions with Party B and Party C, it was unlikely Party B and Party C would be able to significantly improve their respective proposals. After discussion, the Penn Virginia board instructed Jefferies to obtain further financial information with respect to Denbury and to make a counterproposal of $105 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock with at least 30% of the consideration consisting of cash. Following the Penn Virginia board meeting, representatives of Jefferies contacted Guggenheim and summarized the Penn Virginia counterproposal.

On October 7, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Mark Allen, Denbury's Chief Financial Officer, provided a status update on negotiations with Penn Virginia and Guggenheim and then summarized Penn Virginia's verbal counterproposal. Guggenheim also reviewed certain preliminary financial information related to the Penn Virginia counterproposal. After discussion, the Denbury board authorized Guggenheim to communicate to Jefferies a revised, non-binding proposal from Denbury to include a 25% premium to Penn Virginia's five-day VWAP as of October 5, 2018, and a cash component fixed at $400 million, with the remaining consideration to be in the form of Denbury Common Stock. As in the prior non-binding proposal, the offer would be conditioned upon Penn Virginia agreeing to negotiate exclusively with Denbury through November 1, 2018. Following the meeting, Guggenheim contacted Jefferies and detailed the Denbury counterproposal.

On October 8, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn. Representatives of Jefferies relayed to the Penn Virginia board the terms of a revised proposal from Denbury. The revised proposal contemplated a 25% premium to Penn Virginia's five-day VWAP as of Friday, October 5, 2018. Representatives of Jefferies also reported that Denbury had again rejected a request to include in the proposal a collar to reduce the exposure of Penn Virginia shareholders to declines in the Denbury share price between signing and closing. The Penn Virginia board discussed the revised proposal, as well as the proposals that had been received from Party B and Party C, and following discussion, concluded to continue discussions with Denbury. The Penn Virginia board then instructed Jefferies to make a counterproposal to Denbury of a 25% premium to Penn Virginia's five-day VWAP as of Monday, October 8, 2018, with the cash component fixed at $400 million. The counterproposal represented an implied value of $103.77 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock.

On October 10, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a meeting with Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn in attendance. Representatives of Jefferies provided an update on discussions with Denbury and Denbury's latest proposal, which reflected a 25% premium based on a 15-day VWAP immediately prior to signing a definitive agreement, with the aggregate cash component fixed at $400 million. Representatives of Skadden provided the Penn Virginia board with an overview of the fiduciary duties governing transactions of this nature. Representatives of Skadden also discussed the issues that Denbury had raised with respect to the draft merger agreement. After further discussion and consultation with Penn Virginia senior management and Penn Virginia's financial and legal advisors, the Penn Virginia board instructed Jefferies to make a counterproposal to Denbury based on an implied fixed exchange ratio of 16.2 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, instead of an exchange ratio based on a VWAP prior to execution of a merger agreement. The counterproposal retained the cash component of the consideration at an aggregate of $400 million. Subsequently, members of Denbury's senior management team made a presentation to the Penn Virginia board regarding Denbury's business.

On October 11, 2018, representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Skadden discussed Denbury's merger agreement issues list.

Also on October 11, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Chris Kendall, Denbury's President and Chief Executive Officer, provided the Denbury board with a status update on the negotiations with Penn Virginia, as well as a review of the management team's presentation to the Penn Virginia board the previous day. Mr. Kendall also provided a summary review of a revised bid proposal received from Jefferies, including a fixed exchange ratio of 12.094 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and a fixed cash component of $400 million, implying an aggregate fixed exchange ratio of 16.2 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Guggenheim then reviewed with the Denbury board preliminary financial analyses of the offer and potential counterproposals. Discussion and inquiry ensued, following which the Denbury board discussed a proposed counteroffer and revised draft bid letter providing for the acquisition of 100% of the equity interests in Penn Virginia via a cash election merger in which Denbury would issue in the aggregate 186.397 million shares and $400 million in cash to Penn Virginia's shareholders, or 12.094 Denbury shares and $25.88 in cash per Penn Virginia share. The Denbury board further discussed other aspects of the potential transaction, the proposed financing, the requested list of reverse due diligence items, the potential acquisition timeline, and governance matters, including the potential expansion of the Denbury board to include a certain number of current Penn Virginia directors. After such discussion, the Denbury board unanimously approved moving forward with the revised bid pursuant to the terms set forth in the bid letter presented to the Denbury board, including a condition that Penn Virginia agree to negotiate exclusively with Denbury through November 5, 2018, and authorized Guggenheim to communicate the terms of the revised bid to Penn Virginia's financial advisor. Later on October 11, Denbury delivered to Jefferies a revised proposal.

During the evening on October 11, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting attended by Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn. The Penn Virginia board discussed Denbury's revised proposal and the request for exclusivity and authorized Penn Virginia to enter into an

During the period from October 11 through October 28, 2018, the parties and their representatives conducted due diligence on each other.

On October 12, 2018, Vinson & Elkins sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Skadden. Among other things, the revised draft contained (i) an election mechanism whereby Penn Virginia shareholders would be given the option to elect to receive either all Denbury Common Stock, all cash or a mix of Denbury Common Stock and cash in exchange for their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, in each case subject to proration and adjustment based on the actual elections of Penn Virginia shareholders; (ii) a reciprocal termination fee of 3.75% of Penn Virginia's equity value payable under specified circumstances, including if the merger agreement was terminated in response to a party's breach of the no-shop provision; and (iii) a separate, reciprocal expense reimbursement fee of 1% of Penn Virginia's equity value payable by either party if such party's shareholders voted against the proposed merger without an alternative, competing proposal. The revised draft merger agreement prepared by Vinson & Elkins also provided that Penn Virginia would enforce its existing confidentiality agreements, with an exception that permitted the Penn Virginia board to waive the standstill to allow for confidential offers if the Penn Virginia board determined, in consultation with its outside counsel, that failing to do so would be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties.

On October 16, 2018, Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Skadden and Gibson Dunn discussed the key outstanding issues based on the latest revised draft of the merger agreement.

On October 17, 2018, Skadden sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Vinson & Elkins. The draft included a revised election consideration mechanism with a proration component, such that the amount of cash to be paid in the transaction would be $400 million. The revised draft contained a lower reciprocal termination fee of 3.40% of Penn Virginia's equity value payable under specified circumstances, not including termination for breach of the no-shop provision. It did not contain an expense reimbursement fee in the event of a stockholder's no vote.

On October 19, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a meeting with Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn in attendance. Representatives of Jefferies reviewed with the Penn Virginia board Jefferies' preliminary financial analysis regarding the merger consideration proposed to be paid by Denbury. Representatives of Skadden reviewed for the Penn Virginia board the open issues on the merger agreement.

On October 20, 2018, representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Skadden discussed open issues on the merger agreement.

On October 21, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Guggenheim to discuss the status of the negotiations with Penn Virginia. Jim Matthews, Denbury's General Counsel, reviewed with the Denbury board the status of negotiations on the draft merger agreement and noted certain of the high-level issues, as well as the status of due diligence and potential voting agreements from certain of Penn Virginia's significant shareholders. Guggenheim summarized the discussions it had held with Jefferies relating to an acquisition timeline and proposed signing date. Mr. Allen then provided the Denbury board with an overview of the proposed financing for the potential transaction.

Also on October 21, 2018, Vinson & Elkins sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Skadden. The revised draft included the higher termination fee percentage of 3.75% of Penn Virginia's equity value, payable for breach of the no-shop provision. It also contained an expense reimbursement fee of 1% of Penn Virginia's equity value, or approximately $12.6 million, in the event of a shareholder's no vote. The draft also rejected an acknowledgment that, in the event of a breach by Denbury, Penn Virginia's damages would include, to the extent proven, the loss by Penn Virginia's shareholders of the premium in the transaction and further provided that two Penn Virginia directors would be appointed to the Denbury board at closing.

On October 22, 2018, Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Skadden and Gibson Dunn discussed the key outstanding issues based on the latest revised draft of the merger agreement.

Also on October 22, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management, representatives of Vinson & Elkins and representatives of JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (JP Morgan) to discuss the proposed commitment of JP Morgan related to the financing of the transaction.

On October 23, 2018, Skadden sent a revised draft of the merger agreement to Vinson & Elkins. The revised draft (i) rejected the previously proposed termination fee of 3.75% of Penn Virginia's equity value (without including a specific counter-proposal), (ii) rejected the proposal that the termination fee be payable for a breach of the no-shop provisions, (iii) rejected the requirement of an expense reimbursement fee of 1% of Penn Virginia's equity value payable by a party whose shareholders fail to approve the transaction, (iv) included an acknowledgment that, in the event of a breach by Denbury, Penn Virginia's damages would include, to the extent proven, the loss by its shareholders of the premium in the transaction and (v) rejected Denbury's proposal that two members of the Penn Virginia board be appointed to the Denbury board at closing (without including a specific counter-proposal).

That evening, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Guggenheim advised the Denbury board that based on discussions with Jefferies, Guggenheim anticipated that Penn Virginia would make a counterproposal due to the volatility in Denbury's stock price. Mr. Matthews and Vinson & Elkins provided the Denbury board with a summary of the major legal issues in the negotiation of the merger agreement, including the amount of the termination fee and under what circumstances it would be due, the reimbursement of expenses, the calculation of damages and governance issues with respect to board seats.

On October 24, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a meeting with Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn in attendance. Representatives of Jefferies reviewed with the Penn Virginia board Jefferies' updated preliminary financial analysis regarding the merger consideration proposed to be paid by Denbury. The Penn Virginia board also discussed the greater decline in Denbury's stock price relative to the decline in price of Penn Virginia's stock, the effect of such declines on the implied price and premium represented by the Denbury proposal and the potential effect on Penn Virginia's ability to obtain the approval of its shareholders for a transaction with Denbury. Representatives of Skadden then reviewed for the Penn Virginia board the open issues on the merger agreement and provided a summary of the proposed voting agreements that Denbury was requiring from certain large shareholders of Penn Virginia, as well as the directors and officers of Penn Virginia (beneficially owning, in the aggregate, approximately 15% of the outstanding Penn Virginia Common Stock). Following discussion, the Penn Virginia board instructed Jefferies to make a counterproposal to Denbury that reflected a 25% premium to Penn Virginia's five-day VWAP as of the close of business on October 26, 2018, and a cash component fixed at $400 million, with the remaining consideration to be in the form of Denbury Common Stock.

Following the Penn Virginia board meeting, Jefferies contacted Guggenheim and detailed the terms of Penn Virginia's counterproposal.

Later that evening, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Mr. Kendall provided an overview for the Denbury board of Penn Virginia's counterproposal. Guggenheim informed the Denbury board that Jefferies had noted that the counterproposal was made following a Penn Virginia board meeting and due to the decline in stock prices since the initial bid proposal. Following discussion and feedback from each Denbury board member and Denbury management, as well as counsel and guidance from Denbury's financial and legal advisors, the Denbury board determined to monitor the market through its closing on Friday, October 26, 2018, following which a response to Penn Virginia's counterproposal would be formulated.

On October 26, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Mr. Kendall, together with Guggenheim, provided the Denbury board with an update on the negotiations with Penn Virginia and its advisors. Vinson & Elkins reviewed for the Denbury board the outstanding legal points in the merger agreement negotiations, and Mr. Matthews provided an update on ongoing due diligence. The Denbury board then authorized Guggenheim to provide Penn Virginia with Denbury's counterproposal in the form of a best and final offer and in line with the parameters discussed at the meeting, including an exchange ratio of 12.400 shares of Denbury Common Stock and $25.86 in cash per Penn Virginia share, together with, and conditioned upon, Penn Virginia's agreement and accommodation on the material outstanding legal issues in the draft merger agreement.

On October 26, 2018, after the market closed, Guggenheim provided Jefferies with the revised proposal from Denbury, which Guggenheim characterized as Denbury's best and final offer. Vinson & Elkins also distributed a revised draft of the merger agreement as part of Denbury's proposal. The draft merger agreement proposed (i) a termination fee of $45 million (3.575% of the equity value of Penn Virginia under the terms of the transaction), (ii) the payment of the termination fee by either party if it materially breaches the no-shop provisions and the other party terminates, (iii) a payment of a $9 million expense reimbursement by a party if such party's shareholders failed to approve the merger, (iv) a rejection of an acknowledgment that, in the event of a breach by Denbury, Penn Virginia's damages would be based on the loss by its shareholders of the premium in the transaction, and (v) that two members of the Penn Virginia board be appointed to the Denbury board at closing.

Later that day, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with senior management of Penn Virginia and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn. Representatives of Jefferies provided the Penn Virginia board with a summary of the revised proposal, which reflected an implied value of $83.77 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, representing a 21.2% premium, based on the five-day VWAPs of Denbury and Penn Virginia as of the close of business on October 26, 2018. After the Penn Virginia board's discussion of the revised proposal, representatives of Skadden reviewed for the Penn Virginia board the remaining open issues on the merger agreement. The Penn Virginia board then decided to adjourn until the following day to provide time for SVP and KLS to consider the revised proposal in light of Denbury's requirement that each sign a voting and support agreement in favor of the transaction and to provide the Penn Virginia board additional time to evaluate the revised proposal and the remaining open issues in the merger agreement.

At noon Houston time on October 27, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a telephonic meeting with senior management of Penn Virginia and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn. Mr. Geenbergh reported to the Penn Virginia board that SVP would agree to execute a voting agreement with Denbury at a 23% premium using a five-day VWAP calculated as of the close of business on Friday, October 26, 2018. Following discussion, the Penn Virginia board instructed Jefferies to make a counterproposal to Denbury that reflected a 23% premium using a five-day VWAP calculated as of the close of business on Friday, October 26, 2018. Jefferies communicated the counterproposal to Denbury.

On October 27, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Guggenheim updated the Denbury board on the discussions with Penn Virginia and its advisors, noting the Penn Virginia proposal of a 23% premium and a continued rejection of a mutual expense reimbursement of $9 million in the event either party's shareholders failed to approve the merger. After discussion, the Denbury board instructed Denbury management and Guggenheim to reject the Penn Virginia counterproposal of a 23% premium but to concede the expense reimbursement point. After Guggenheim left the meeting, Vinson & Elkins then reviewed the terms of the merger agreement and the voting agreements with the Denbury board and refreshed the Denbury board on its fiduciary obligations under Delaware law in considering the proposed transaction.

Later that day, the Penn Virginia board held another telephonic meeting with senior management of Penn Virginia and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn. Representatives of Jefferies reported Denbury's rejection of the counterproposal of a 23% premium and concession of the removal of the expense reimbursement provision from the merger agreement. Mr. Geenberg reported to the Penn Virginia board that he had relayed Denbury's position to SVP and that SVP had determined to support the transaction under the financial terms of Denbury's proposal. Following further discussion of the financial terms of Denbury's revised proposal, the Penn Virginia board instructed Jefferies to inform Denbury that it would support the general framework of the transaction under the proposed financial terms.

Thereafter, representatives of Skadden, Gibson Dunn and Vinson & Elkins finalized the terms of the proposed merger agreement, the voting and support agreements and related documents. The final draft of the merger agreement included a termination fee of $45 million.

On October 28, 2018, the Penn Virginia board held a special meeting, together with members of Penn Virginia senior management and representatives of Jefferies, Skadden and Gibson Dunn, to consider the proposed transaction. Representatives of Skadden provided an updated draft of the merger agreement and reviewed the terms thereof and the terms of the voting and support agreements related thereto with the Penn Virginia board. Jefferies reviewed with the Penn Virginia board Jefferies' financial analyses of the Merger Consideration set forth in the draft merger agreement and, following discussion thereof, rendered Jefferies' opinion to the Penn Virginia board (in its capacity as such) to the effect that, as of October 28, 2018 and based upon and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken as set forth in its opinion, the Merger Consideration was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates). Following additional discussion, the Penn Virginia board unanimously determined that the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Merger, were advisable and in the best interests of Penn Virginia and its shareholders, adopted the Merger Agreement and determined to recommend that Penn Virginia's shareholders approve the Merger Agreement. The final agreed upon merger consideration contemplated an exchange ratio of 12.400 shares of Denbury Common Stock and $25.86 in cash per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, which reflected an implied value of $83.77 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, representing a 21.2% premium, based on the five-day VWAPs of Denbury Common Stock and Penn Virginia Common Stock as of the close of business on October 26, 2018.

Also on October 28, 2018, the Denbury board held a telephonic meeting attended by Denbury management and representatives of Vinson & Elkins and Guggenheim. Mr. Kendall provided an overview of key terms for the proposed transaction and noted that all of the open issues had been resolved. Guggenheim then rendered its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of such date and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken by Guggenheim as set forth therein, the merger consideration to be paid by Denbury for the outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Denbury. Vinson & Elkins then reviewed material provisions in the merger agreement and the voting agreements and reviewed the fiduciary obligations of the Denbury board under Delaware law. Denbury management then recommended that the Denbury board approve the merger transactions and the Denbury board unanimously approved the merger transactions.

In the evening of October 28, 2018, the respective parties to the Merger Agreement and the Voting Agreements executed such agreements. Following such execution, Denbury and Penn Virginia issued a joint press release announcing the proposed merger. The following morning, Denbury, with participation of Penn Virginia management, hosted a conference call for the investment community to discuss the proposed merger.

Recommendation of the Denbury Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger

The Denbury board unanimously determined the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Denbury Issuance Proposal and Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, to be in the best interests of, and advisable to, Denbury and its stockholders and approved the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Denbury Issuance Proposal and Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal. The Denbury board unanimously recommends that Denbury stockholders vote FOR the Denbury Issuance Proposal and FOR the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

In evaluating the Merger, the Denbury board consulted with Denbury management, as well as Denbury's legal and financial advisors, and considered a number of factors, weighing both perceived benefits of the Merger as well as potential risks of the Merger.

In the course of its deliberations, the Denbury board considered a variety of factors and information that it believes support its determinations and recommendations, including the following (which are not necessarily presented in order of relative importance):

Denbury's expectation that the increased size, scale, and resources of Denbury following the Merger will create additional stockholder value and allow Denbury to be even more competitive in leveraging its operating capabilities and capturing strategic opportunities.

Denbury's expectation that the combined company would have core acreage positions in the Gulf Coast region, Rocky Mountain region and the Eagle Ford shale three prolific, high-quality oil-weighted plays in North America providing Denbury with regional diversity.

Denbury's expectation that its expertise in enhanced oil recovery techniques combined with Penn Virginia's knowledge of the Eagle Ford will create the opportunity to expand the combined company's asset potential.

Denbury's expectation that the Merger will be accretive in the first year to Denbury's key per-share metrics (before synergies), including net asset value and cash flow.

Denbury's expectation that the Merger will increase Denbury's operating margin.

Denbury's expectation that the cash flow of the combined company would provide additional capital investment flexibility, deleveraging capability, and potential future capacity to return capital to its stockholders.

Denbury's expectation that the Merger will be credit enhancing to Denbury, including in respect of reduced debt leverage, strengthened balance sheet and enhanced liquidity, which together with the combined company's increased size and scale, is expected to improve the combined company's access to capital and reduce its overall cost of capital.

The attractiveness of the Merger to Denbury in comparison to other acquisition opportunities reasonably available to Denbury, including the belief that Denbury and Penn Virginia have similar execution-focused cultures, values, businesses and operational models and exceptional technical teams with complementary skill sets, which will facilitate the integration of Penn Virginia into Denbury.

The Denbury board's knowledge of, and discussions with Denbury management and its advisors regarding, each of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's business operations, financial condition, earnings and prospects, taking into account Penn Virginia's publicly filed information and the results of Denbury's due diligence investigation of Penn Virginia.

The recommendation of the Merger by Denbury's senior management team.

The oral opinion of Guggenheim rendered on October 28, 2018 and the written opinion of Guggenheim, dated October 28, 2018, to the Denbury board to the effect that as of the date of such opinion, and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken by Guggenheim as set forth therein, the Merger Consideration pursuant to the Merger Agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Denbury. For additional information regarding the opinion of Guggenheim, see the section entitled The Merger Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's Financial Advisor beginning on page 97. The full text of the written opinion of Guggenheim is attached as Annex B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

That the Denbury board believes the restrictions imposed on Denbury's business and operations during the pendency of the Merger are reasonable and not unduly burdensome.

That the exchange ratio for the stock component of the Merger Consideration and the aggregate cash to be paid as part of the Merger Consideration is fixed and will not fluctuate in the event that the market price of Penn Virginia Common Stock or the market price of Denbury Common Stock changes between the date of the Merger Agreement and the completion of the Merger.

That Denbury will continue to be led by the current strong, experienced Denbury management team and that the addition of two current Penn Virginia directors to the Denbury board post-Merger will add further valuable expertise and experience and in-depth familiarity with Penn Virginia to the Denbury board, which will enhance the likelihood of realizing the strategic benefits that Denbury expects to derive from the Merger.

That the Denbury stockholders will have the opportunity to vote on the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, which is a condition precedent to the Merger.

That certain Penn Virginia shareholders holding, in the aggregate, approximately 15.1% of the issued and outstanding shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to vote at the Penn Virginia special meeting had entered into voting and support agreements with Denbury obligating such shareholders to vote all of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock held by them in favor of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, as more fully described in Voting and Support Agreements beginning on page 136.

The representations, warranties, covenants and conditions contained in the Merger Agreement, including the following (which are not necessarily presented in order of relative importance):

That Denbury has the ability, in specified circumstances, to provide information to and to engage in discussions or negotiations with a third party that makes an unsolicited takeover proposal, as further described in the section entitled The Merger Agreement No Solicitation; Adverse Recommendation Changes beginning on page 157.

That the Denbury board has the ability, in specified circumstances, to change its recommendation to Denbury stockholders in favor of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, as further described in the section entitled The Merger Agreement No Solicitation; Adverse Recommendation Changes Denbury: Permitted Adverse Recommendation Changes in Connection with Intervening Events beginning on page 163.

That there are limited circumstances in which the Penn Virginia board may terminate the Merger Agreement or change its recommendation that Penn Virginia shareholders approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, and if the Merger Agreement is terminated by Denbury as a result of a change in recommendation of the Penn Virginia board or because of a breach by Penn Virginia of its non-solicitation obligations or by Penn Virginia in order to enter into a definitive agreement with a third party providing for the consummation of a Penn Virginia superior proposal, then in each case Penn Virginia has agreed to pay Denbury a termination fee of $45 million. For additional information, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination" beginning on page 180.

In the course of its deliberations, the Denbury board also considered a variety of risks, uncertainties and other potentially negative factors, including the following (which are not necessarily presented in order of relative importance):

That the Merger may not be completed in a timely manner or at all and the potential consequences of non-completion or delays in completion.

The effect that the length of time from announcement of the Merger until completion of the Merger could have on the market price of Denbury Common Stock, Denbury's operating results and the relationship with Denbury's employees, stockholders, customers, suppliers, regulators and others who do business with Denbury.

That the anticipated benefits of the Merger may not be realized in full or in part or that the anticipated benefits may not be realized in the expected time frame.

That the attention of Denbury's senior management may be diverted from other strategic priorities to implement the Merger and make arrangements for the integration of Penn Virginia's and Denbury's operations, assets and employees following the Merger.

That Penn Virginia shareholders may not approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal or that Denbury stockholders may not approve the Denbury Issuance Proposal or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal.

That the exchange ratio for the stock component of the Merger Consideration is fixed and will not fluctuate in the event that the market price of Denbury Common Stock or the market price of Penn Virginia Common Stock changes between the date of the Merger Agreement and the completion of the Merger.

The possibility that changes in global economic conditions or oil and gas industry and fluctuations in exchange and interest rates could make Denbury's financing difficult to obtain on favorable terms.

That the Merger Agreement imposes restrictions on Denbury's ability to solicit alternative transactions and make certain acquisitions, which are described in the sections entitled "The Merger Agreement Interim Operations of Penn Virginia and Denbury Pending the Merger" and "The Merger Agreement No Solicitation; Adverse Recommendation Changes" beginning on page 152 and 157, respectively.

That there are limited circumstances in which the Denbury board may terminate the Merger Agreement or change its recommendation that Denbury stockholders approve the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, and if the Merger Agreement is terminated by Penn Virginia as a result of a change in recommendation of the Denbury board, then Denbury has agreed to pay Penn Virginia a termination fee of $45 million. For additional information, see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Termination beginning on page 180.

The transaction costs to be incurred by Denbury in connection with the Merger.

The risks associated with the occurrence of events that may materially and adversely affect the financial condition, properties, assets, liabilities, business or results of operations of Penn Virginia and its subsidiaries but that will not entitle Denbury to terminate the Merger Agreement.

The potential impact on the market price of Denbury Common Stock as a result of the issuance of the stock component of the Merger Consideration to Penn Virginia shareholders.

That forecasts of future financial results of the combined company are necessarily estimates based on assumptions and may vary significantly from future performance.

Various other risks described in the section entitled Risk Factors beginning on page 51. The Denbury board considered all of these factors as a whole and unanimously concluded that they supported a determination to approve the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Denbury Stock Issuance and Denbury Charter Amendment. The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the Denbury board is not exhaustive. In view of the wide variety of factors considered by the Denbury board in connection with its evaluation of the Merger and the complexity of these matters, the Denbury board did not consider it practical to, nor did it attempt to, quantify, rank or otherwise assign relative weights to the specific factors that it considered in reaching its decision. In considering the factors described above and any other factors, individual members of the Denbury board may have viewed factors differently or given different weight or merit to different factors.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the Denbury board is forward-looking in nature and should be read in light of the factors described in the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 61.

discussed with Denbury or Penn Virginia or obtained from public sources, data suppliers and other third parties.

Guggenheim (1) did not assume any responsibility, obligation or liability for the accuracy, completeness, reasonableness, achievability or independent verification of, and Guggenheim did not independently verify, any such information (including, without limitation, any of the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, any other estimates and any other forward-looking information), (2) expressed no view, opinion, representation, guaranty or warranty (in each case, express or implied) regarding the reasonableness or achievability of the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates or such other forward-looking information or the assumptions upon which they are based and (3) relied upon the assurances of Denbury's senior management and Penn Virginia's senior management (as the case may be) that they are unaware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information (including, without limitation, the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates and such other forward-looking information) incomplete, inaccurate or misleading.

Table of Contents

Specifically, with respect to (1) the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings and the combination benefits provided by or discussed with Denbury or Penn Virginia, (a) Guggenheim was advised by Denbury's senior management and Penn Virginia's senior management (as the case may be), and Guggenheim assumed, that the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates and such other forward-looking information utilized in its analyses had been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best then-currently available estimates and judgments of Denbury's senior management and Penn Virginia's senior management (as the case may be) as to the expected future performance of Denbury and Penn Virginia (as the case may be) and the expected amounts and realization of such combination benefits (and Guggenheim assumed that such combination benefits would be realized in the amounts and at the times projected) and (b) Guggenheim assumed that the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates and such other forward-looking information had been reviewed by the Denbury board with the understanding that such information would be used and relied upon by Guggenheim in connection with rendering its opinion, and (2) any financial projections, oil and gas reserve reports, other estimates and/or other forward-looking information obtained by us from public sources, data suppliers and other third parties, Guggenheim assumed that such information is reasonable and reliable.

Guggenheim also noted certain other considerations with respect to its engagement and the rendering of its opinion:

Guggenheim did not perform or obtain any independent appraisal of the assets or liabilities (including any contingent, derivative or off-balance sheet assets and liabilities) of Denbury or Penn Virginia or any other entity or the solvency or fair value of Denbury, Penn Virginia or any other entity, nor was Guggenheim furnished with any such appraisals.

Guggenheim's professionals are not legal, regulatory, tax, consulting, accounting, appraisal, actuarial or petroleum engineering experts and Guggenheim's opinion should not be construed as constituting advice with respect to such matters; accordingly, Guggenheim relied on the assessments of Denbury's senior management, Penn Virginia's senior management and Denbury's other professional advisors with respect to such matters. Guggenheim assumed that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, will qualify, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, as amended. Guggenheim did not express any view or render any opinion regarding the tax consequences of the Merger to Denbury, Penn Virginia or their respective securityholders.

Guggenheim further assumed that:

in all respects meaningful to its analyses, (1) the final executed forms of the Merger Agreement and the Voting Agreements would not differ from the drafts that Guggenheim reviewed, (2) each of the parties to the Merger Agreement and the Voting Agreements will comply with all terms and provisions of those agreements and (3) the representations and warranties of each party to the Merger Agreement and the Voting Agreements contained in the those agreements are true and correct and all conditions to the obligations of each party to consummate the Merger will be satisfied without any waiver, amendment or modification thereof; and the Merger will be consummated in a timely manner in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement and in compliance with all applicable laws, documents and other requirements, without any delays, limitations, restrictions, conditions, divestiture or other requirements, waivers, amendments or modifications (regulatory, tax-related or otherwise) that would have an effect on Denbury, Penn Virginia or the Merger (including its contemplated benefits) in any way meaningful to Guggenheim's analyses or opinion.

Summary of Financial Analyses

Overview

This Summary of Financial Analyses presents a summary of the principal financial analyses performed by Guggenheim and presented to the Denbury board in connection with the rendering of Guggenheim's opinion. Such presentation to the Denbury board was supplemented by Guggenheim's oral discussion, the nature and substance of which may not be fully described herein.

Some of the financial analyses summarized below include summary data and information presented in tabular format. In order to understand fully such financial analyses, the summary data and tables must be read together with the full text of the summary. Considering the summary data and tables alone could create a misleading or incomplete view of Guggenheim's financial analyses.

The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and involves various judgments and determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant financial analyses and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances involved. A fairness opinion therefore is not readily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description, and taking portions of the financial analyses set forth below, without considering such analyses as a whole, would in Guggenheim's view create an incomplete and misleading picture of the processes underlying the financial analyses considered in rendering Guggenheim's opinion.

In arriving at its opinion, Guggenheim:

based its financial analyses on various assumptions, including assumptions concerning general business, economic and capital markets conditions and industry-specific and company-specific factors, all of which are beyond the control of Denbury, Penn Virginia and Guggenheim;

did not form a view or opinion as to whether any individual analysis or factor, whether positive or negative, considered in isolation, supported or failed to support its opinion; considered the results of all of its financial analyses and did not attribute any particular weight to any one analysis or factor; and ultimately arrived at its opinion based on the results of all of its financial analyses assessed as a whole and believes that the totality of the factors considered and the various financial analyses performed by Guggenheim in connection with its opinion operated collectively to support its determination as to the fairness, from a financial point of view and as of the date of such opinion, of the Merger Consideration to Denbury.

With respect to the financial analyses performed by Guggenheim in connection with rendering its opinion:

Such financial analyses, particularly those based on estimates and projections, are not necessarily indicative of actual values or actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses.

None of the companies used in the selected publicly traded companies analysis described below is identical or directly comparable to Denbury or Penn Virginia, as the case may be, and none of the transactions used in the selected precedent merger and acquisition transactions analysis described below is identical or directly comparable to the Merger. However, such companies and transactions were selected by Guggenheim, among other reasons, because they involved publicly traded companies or represented target companies which may be considered broadly similar, for purposes of Guggenheim's financial analyses, to Penn Virginia and Denbury based on Guggenheim's familiarity with the oil and gas sector in the United States.

In any event, selected publicly traded companies analysis and selected precedent merger and acquisition transactions analysis and are not mathematical. Rather, such analyses involve complex considerations and judgments concerning the differences in business, operating, financial and capital markets-related characteristics and other factors regarding the selected publicly traded companies to which Denbury and Penn Virginia were compared and the selected precedent merger and acquisition transactions to which the merger was compared.

Such financial analyses do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which any securities may trade at the present time or at any time in the future.

Penn Virginia NAV Analysis: Guggenheim calculated the NAV of Penn Virginia by adding the present value of the pre-tax cash flows (after taking into account capital expenditures and operating expenses) generated by Penn Virginia's producing assets and development program, including the value associated with infill drilling, Generation 4 and Generation 5 oil drilling uplift and the anticipated benefits of enhanced oil recovery, less the book value of Penn Virginia's net debt, less the present value of unrealized hedging losses, less the present value of general and administrative expenses and less the present value of unlevered cash taxes (net of projected impacts from book and tax differences and tax attributes), in each case as provided by Denbury senior management.

In performing its NAV analyses with respect to Penn Virginia:

Guggenheim utilized the Penn Virginia Oil and Gas Information, the Penn Virginia Riskings and the Penn Virginia Projections for the full life of the asset base as provided and approved for Guggenheim's use by Denbury's senior management.

At the direction of Denbury's senior management, Guggenheim used Penn Virginia Projections which reflected two separate commodity pricing assumptions, including (1) NYMEX strip pricing as of October 19, 2018 through 2022, with crude oil held flat at $60/Bbl thereafter and natural gas held flat at $2.61/MMBtu thereafter and (2) Wall Street research consensus pricing estimates as of October 19, 2018 through 2022, with crude oil held flat at $64.99/Bbl thereafter and natural gas held flat at $2.94/MMBtu thereafter.

Guggenheim used a discount rate range of 9.0% to 11.0% based on its estimate of Penn Virginia's weighted average cost of capital.

Guggenheim's NAV analysis resulted in an overall reference range of (1) $87.80 to $102.82 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock on a stand-alone basis based on NYMEX strip pricing and (ii) $100.83 to $117.48 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock on a stand-alone basis based on Wall Street research consensus pricing.

Guggenheim's selected publicly traded companies analysis resulted in an overall reference range of $23.12 to $101.41 per share for purposes of evaluating Penn Virginia's Common Stock on a stand-alone public market trading basis.

Guggenheim noted that the foregoing evaluation of Penn Virginia's Common Stock did not reflect any acquisition premium that typically is paid in connection with change-of-control transactions such as the Merger.

Penn Virginia Selected Precedent Merger and Acquisition Transactions Analysis. Guggenheim reviewed and analyzed certain financial metrics in selected precedent merger and acquisition transactions that Guggenheim deemed relevant for purposes of this analysis, which generally included oil and gas transactions primarily in the Eagle Ford basin announced after January 1, 2013 with publicly available financial metrics and transaction values greater than $250 million, but excluding royalty transactions. Guggenheim calculated, to the extent publicly available, implied change-of-control transaction production multiples for the selected precedent merger and acquisition transactions (based on Wall Street equity research consensus estimates, each company's most recent publicly available financial filings and certain other publicly available information). In addition, given the significant volatility in commodity prices during the period in which the precedent transactions were completed, Guggenheim also calculated EV/production multiples adjusted for changes in the NYMEX strip pricing since the date of the announcement of each such transaction as summarized in the table below:

Table of Contents*Other Penn Virginia Supplemental Financial Analyses (Solely for Informational Reference Purposes)*

In order to provide certain context for the financial analyses in connection with its opinion as described above, Guggenheim undertook various supplemental financial reviews and analyses as summarized below solely for informational reference purposes. As a general matter, Guggenheim did not consider such additional financial reviews and analyses to be determinative methodologies for purposes of its opinion.

Penn Virginia Stock Price Trading History. Guggenheim reviewed Penn Virginia's stock price trading history over the twelve-month period prior to announcement of the merger. Guggenheim noted that from October 26, 2017 through October 26, 2018 (the last trading day prior to announcement of the Merger), Penn Virginia's Common Stock generally had traded in a range of approximately $33.39 to $93.62 per share. Guggenheim noted that volatility in commodity prices had resulted in significant volatility in the price of Penn Virginia's Common Stock during that period.

Premia Paid in Selected Precedent Merger and Acquisition Transactions. Guggenheim reviewed, based on publicly available information, the implied premia (discounts) paid or proposed to be paid in connection with public-to-public corporate U.S. E&P transactions announced since January 1, 2009 with transaction values in excess of $1.0 billion. The observed premia (discounts) paid or proposed to be paid in those transactions to the target company's unaffected spot closing stock price and the target company's unaffected 5-day VWAP are summarized in the table below:

Denbury NAV Analysis: Guggenheim calculated the NAV of Denbury by adding the present value of the pre-tax cash flows (after taking into account capital expenditures and other operating expenses) generated by Denbury's proved developed producing reserves, proved developed non-producing reserves and undeveloped reserves, less the book value of Denbury's net debt, plus the sum of the present values of hedges and less the sum of the present values of general and administrative expenses and unlevered cash taxes (net of the projected impacts from book and tax differences and tax attributes), plus the sum of the value of surface land sales and present values of industrial CO₂ contracts, third party CO₂ transportation income and Hartzog Draw field deep rights, in each case as estimated by Denbury senior management.

In performing its NAV analyses with respect to Denbury:

Guggenheim utilized the Denbury Oil and Gas Information, the Denbury Riskings and the Denbury Projections for the full life of the asset base as provided and approved for Guggenheim's use by Denbury's senior management.

At the direction of Denbury management, Guggenheim used Denbury Projections which reflected two separate commodity pricing assumptions, including (1) NYMEX strip pricing as of October 19, 2018 through 2022, with crude oil held flat at $60/Bbl thereafter and natural gas held flat at $2.61/MMBtu thereafter and (2) Wall Street research consensus pricing estimates as of October 19, 2018 through 2022, with crude oil held flat at $64.99/Bbl thereafter and natural gas held flat at $2.94/MMBtu thereafter.

Guggenheim used a discount rate range of 9.0% to 11.0% based on its estimate of Denbury's weighted average cost of capital.

Guggenheim's NAV analysis resulted in an overall reference range of (i) $4.75 to $6.11 per share of Denbury Common Stock on a stand-alone basis based on NYMEX strip pricing and (ii) $5.81 to $7.37 per share of Denbury Common Stock on a stand-alone basis based on the Wall Street research consensus pricing.

Denbury Selected Publicly Traded Companies Analysis. Guggenheim reviewed and analyzed Denbury's historical stock price performance, trading metrics and historical and projected/forecasted financial performance compared to corresponding data for selected publicly traded companies that Guggenheim deemed relevant for purposes of this analysis. Specifically, the selected publicly traded companies included E&P companies in U.S. shale basins with enterprise values between $2.0 billion and $8.0 billion, current production consisting of 70% or more liquids and excluding E&P companies with material operations in the DJ Basin due to the Proposition 112 ballot in Colorado. Guggenheim calculated, among other things, various public market trading multiples for Denbury and the selected publicly traded companies (in the case of the selected publicly traded companies, based on Wall Street equity research consensus estimates and each company's most recent publicly available financial filings), which are summarized in the table below:

Guggenheim's selected publicly traded companies analysis resulted in an overall reference range of $0.41 to $5.47 per share of Denbury Common Stock for purposes of evaluating Denbury's Common Stock on a stand-alone public market trading basis.

Other Denbury Supplemental Financial Information (Solely for Informational Reference Purposes)

In order to provide certain context for the financial analyses in connection with its opinion as described above, Guggenheim reviewed additional supplemental financial information relating to Denbury as summarized below solely for informational reference purposes. As a general matter, Guggenheim did not consider the review of such additional financial information to be determinative for purposes of its opinion.

Denbury Price Trading History. Guggenheim reviewed Denbury's stock price trading history over the twelve-month period prior to announcement of the Merger. Guggenheim noted that from October 26, 2017 through October 26, 2018, Denbury's Common Stock generally traded in a range of approximately $1.07 to $6.61 per share. Guggenheim noted that volatility in commodity prices had resulted in significant volatility in the price of Denbury's Common Stock during that period.

Denbury Wall Street Equity Research Analyst Stock Price Targets. Guggenheim reviewed selected Wall Street equity research analyst stock price targets for Denbury as of October 26, 2018, the last trading day prior to announcement of the Merger. Guggenheim noted that the high end of such Wall Street equity research analyst stock price target ranges for Denbury's Common Stock were $5.96 to $9.00 per share.

The results of the NAV accretion/(dilution) analysis are summarized in the table below:

In performing its pro forma NAV analyses:

Other Considerations

Except as described in the summary above, Denbury did not provide specific instructions to, or place any limitations on, Guggenheim with respect to the procedures to be followed or factors to be considered in performing its financial analyses or providing its opinion. The type and amount of consideration payable in the Merger were determined through negotiations between Denbury and Penn Virginia and were approved by the Denbury board. The decision to enter into the Merger Agreement was solely that of the Denbury board. Guggenheim's opinion was just one of the many factors taken into consideration by the Denbury board. Consequently, Guggenheim's financial analyses should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of the Denbury board with respect to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration to Denbury.

Pursuant to the terms of Guggenheim's engagement, Denbury has agreed to pay Guggenheim a cash transaction fee of $13.0 million payable upon closing of the Merger. In connection with Guggenheim's engagement, Denbury has previously paid Guggenheim a cash milestone fee of $2.0 million that became payable upon delivery of Guggenheim's opinion, which will be credited against the foregoing cash transaction fee. In addition, Denbury has agreed to reimburse Guggenheim for certain expenses and to indemnify Guggenheim against certain liabilities arising out of its engagement. Denbury has also granted Guggenheim the right to provide certain investment banking and other services to Denbury in the future on customary terms and conditions.

During the past two years prior to rendering its opinion, Guggenheim has not been engaged by Denbury or Penn Virginia to provide any financial advisory or other investment banking services for which Guggenheim received compensation. Guggenheim may seek to provide Denbury and Penn Virginia and their respective affiliates with certain financial advisory and investment banking services unrelated to the Merger in the future, for which services Guggenheim would expect to receive compensation.

Guggenheim and its affiliates and related entities engage in a wide range of financial services activities for its and their own accounts and the accounts of customers, including but not limited to: asset, investment and wealth management; insurance services; investment banking, corporate finance, mergers and acquisitions and restructuring; merchant banking; fixed income and equity sales, trading and research; and derivatives, foreign exchange and futures. In the ordinary course of these activities, Guggenheim and its affiliates and related entities may (1) provide such financial services to Denbury, Penn Virginia, other participants in the Merger and their respective affiliates, for which services Guggenheim and its affiliates and related entities may have received, and may in the future receive, compensation and (2) directly and indirectly hold long and short positions, trade and otherwise conduct such activities in or with respect to loans, debt and equity securities and derivative products of or relating to Denbury, Penn Virginia, other participants in the Merger and their respective affiliates.

Furthermore, Guggenheim and its affiliates and related entities and its or their respective directors, officers, employees, consultants and agents may have investments in Denbury, Penn Virginia, other participants in the Merger and their respective affiliates.

Consistent with applicable legal and regulatory guidelines, Guggenheim has adopted certain policies and procedures to establish and maintain the independence of its research departments and personnel. As a result, Guggenheim's research analysts may hold views, make statements or investment recommendations and publish research reports with respect to Denbury, Penn Virginia, other participants in the Merger and their respective affiliates, the Merger and the oil and gas sector generally that differ from the views of Guggenheim's investment banking personnel.

Recommendation of the Penn Virginia Board of Directors and Reasons for the Merger

At a meeting on October 28, 2018, the Penn Virginia board, by unanimous vote, (i) determined that the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Merger, were advisable and fair to, and in the best interests of Penn Virginia and its shareholders, (ii) approved and adopted the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the Merger, and (iii) determined to recommend that the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock vote to approve the Merger Agreement.

In evaluating the Merger, the Penn Virginia board consulted with Penn Virginia's management, as well as Penn Virginia's legal and financial advisors, and, in reaching its conclusion, considered the following factors:

The Penn Virginia board's knowledge of Penn Virginia's business, operations, financial condition, earnings and prospects and of Denbury's business, operations, financial condition, earnings and prospects, taking into account the results of Penn Virginia's due diligence review of Denbury.

The Merger Agreement provides that Penn Virginia shareholders will receive, in the aggregate, approximately 191.8 million shares of Denbury Common Stock and $400 million in cash. Subject to the election rights of Penn Virginia shareholders, each Penn Virginia shareholder will have the right to elect one of three forms of consideration: (i) 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock, subject to proration, (ii) $79.80 in cash, subject to proration, or (iii) 12.400 shares of Denbury Common Stock and $25.86 in cash for each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock held.

The Merger Consideration, with an implied value of $83.77 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock based on the closing price of Denbury Common Stock on October 26, 2018, represents:

a 24.3% premium to the closing price of Penn Virginia Common Stock on October 26, 2018; and a 21.2% premium to the volume weighted average price of Penn Virginia Common Stock for the five trading days ended October 26, 2018.

The stock-election exchange ratio and the mixed-election exchange ratio are fixed and therefore the value of the consideration payable to Penn Virginia shareholders will increase or decrease in the event that the market price of Denbury Common Stock increases or decreases prior to the closing of the Merger. Following the Merger, former Penn Virginia shareholders who continue to hold Denbury Common Stock will participate in future increases or decreases in the market price of Denbury Common Stock.

Based on the implied value of the Merger Consideration as of October 28, 2018, Penn Virginia shareholders would own approximately 29% of the combined company on a pro forma basis.

That the trading market for the Denbury Common Stock should provide Penn Virginia shareholders who receive Denbury shares in the Merger with greater trading liquidity than is currently available with respect to Penn Virginia shares.

Penn Virginia had explored a variety of strategic alternatives and the Penn Virginia board had conducted a strategic alternatives review which included an auction process to solicit interest from multiple potential buyers. This strategic alternatives review included analysis of a potential strategic transaction with a number of parties identified in the auction process, and, following discussions with its financial advisors, the Penn Virginia board concluded that the transaction with Denbury offered the greatest potential for Penn Virginia to engage in a strategic transaction at that time.

The Penn Virginia board retained financial and legal advisors with knowledge and experience with respect to public merger and acquisition transactions, Penn Virginia's and Denbury's industry generally and Penn Virginia particularly, as well as substantial experience advising other E&P companies with respect to transactions similar to the Merger.

The presentation of representatives of Jefferies to the Penn Virginia board on October 28, 2018 and the opinion of Jefferies, dated October 28, 2018, to the Penn Virginia board to the effect that, as of October 28, 2018, and based upon and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken as set forth in its opinion, the Merger Consideration set forth in the Merger Agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates), as more fully described in the section of this joint proxy statement/prospectus entitled "The Merger" Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor beginning on page 115.

The potential shareholder value that might result from other alternatives available to Penn Virginia, including the alternative of remaining as an independent public company, considering, in particular, the potential for Penn Virginia shareholders to share in future revenues, costs, earnings and cash flows and risks and uncertainties associated with continuing to operate as a public company, fluctuations in the availability of capital and the volatility of commodity prices.

The potential to leverage Denbury's enhanced oil recovery expertise to conduct enhanced oil recovery operations in the Eagle Ford. In this regard, the Penn Virginia board considered the characteristics of Penn Virginia's Eagle Ford assets that could make them attractive candidates for enhanced oil recovery.

The fact that the Merger would provide Penn Virginia shareholders with the benefits of ownership in a larger company with a more diversified asset base, a high oil weighting and greater financial capacity to explore, develop and exploit Penn Virginia's portfolio of assets. In that regard, the Penn Virginia board considered the potential benefits of the combination to Denbury, including the expanded free cash flow, the deleveraging that would be achieved by virtue of the Merger, the availability to Denbury of new, lower cost investment opportunities, the opportunity to act as a consolidator in the Eagle Ford and the prospect of having the ability to return capital to shareholders in the future.

The fact that 32% of the Merger Consideration will be paid in cash, based on the closing price of Denbury Common Stock on October 26, 2018, which provides Penn Virginia shareholders with some protection against the value of the Merger Consideration diminishing due to a decrease in the trading price of Denbury Common Stock before the closing of the Merger.

The Penn Virginia board's review, in consultation with Penn Virginia's legal advisors, of the structure of the Merger and the other terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, including the Merger Consideration, the Penn Virginia board's expectation that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code and the Penn Virginia board's view of the likelihood of completing the Merger on the anticipated schedule.

The belief that regulatory approvals and clearances necessary to complete the Merger will likely be obtained promptly without material cost or burden.

The terms of the Merger Agreement, principally:

the provisions allowing the Penn Virginia board to withdraw or change its recommendation of or to terminate the Merger Agreement, subject to the payment of a $45 million termination fee upon termination under certain circumstances, in the event of a superior proposal, or to change its recommendation in the event of certain intervening events, if the Penn Virginia board makes a good faith determination that the failure to change its recommendation or terminate the Merger Agreement would be inconsistent with its fiduciary duties under applicable law; and the provisions allowing the Denbury board to terminate the Merger Agreement or change its recommendation that Denbury stockholders approve the Denbury Stock Issuance or Denbury Charter Amendment, and if the Merger Agreement is terminated by Penn Virginia as a result of a change in recommendation by the Denbury board or by Denbury in order to enter into a definitive agreement with a third party providing for the consummation of a Denbury superior proposal, then in each case Denbury has agreed to pay Penn Virginia a termination fee of $45 million. For additional information, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Termination" beginning on page 180.

The Penn Virginia board's understanding of, and management's review of, overall market conditions, including then-current commodity prices and the current and historical trading prices for Penn Virginia and Denbury Common Stock, and the Penn Virginia board's determination that, in light of these factors, the timing of the potential transaction was favorable to Penn Virginia.

Penn Virginia management's recommendation in favor of the Merger.

The Penn Virginia board also considered potential risks and potentially negative factors concerning the Merger in connection with its deliberations of the proposed transaction, including:

The fact that the stock-election exchange ratio and the mixed-election exchange ratio are fixed and therefore the value of the consideration payable to Penn Virginia shareholders will decrease in the event that the market price of Denbury Common Stock decreases prior to the closing of the Merger.

The fact that, depending on the elections made by the Penn Virginia shareholders, there may be a proration of the Stock Election Consideration and the Cash Election Consideration to ensure that the aggregate amount of cash paid by Denbury equals $400 million, which may deprive some Penn Virginia shareholders of the immediate certainty of the cash-election consideration or may deprive some Penn Virginia shareholders of the opportunity to participate fully in the value of the combined company.

The possibility that the Merger may not be completed, or that completion may be unduly delayed, for reasons beyond the control of Penn Virginia and Denbury, which could result in significant costs and disruption to Penn Virginia's normal business.

Certain terms of the Merger Agreement, principally:

restrictions on the ability of Penn Virginia to solicit offers for alternative proposals or to engage in discussions regarding such proposals, subject to exceptions. The Penn Virginia board understood that these provisions, which the Penn Virginia board was advised were fairly standard, may have the effect of discouraging alternative proposals and may make it less likely that the transactions related to such proposals would be negotiated or pursued, even if potentially more favorable to the Penn Virginia shareholders than the Merger;

the termination fee that would be payable by Penn Virginia in connection with a termination of the Merger Agreement as a result of a superior proposal for Penn Virginia, which, although within the range of such fees normally seen in similar transactions, could have the effect of discouraging an alternative proposal for Penn Virginia; and restrictions on the conduct of Penn Virginia's business during the period between the signing of the Merger Agreement and completion of the Merger.

The fact that Penn Virginia's shareholders will be foregoing the potential benefits, if any, that could be realized by remaining as shareholders of Penn Virginia as a standalone entity.

The foregoing discussion is not intended to be exhaustive, but is intended to address the material information and principal factors considered by the Penn Virginia board in considering the Merger. In view of the number and variety of factors and the amount of information considered, the Penn Virginia board did not find it practicable to, and did not make specific assessments of, quantify or otherwise assign relative weights to, the specific factors considered in reaching its determination. In addition, the Penn Virginia board did not undertake to make any specific determination as to whether any particular factor, or any aspect of any particular factor, was favorable or unfavorable to its ultimate determination, and individual members of the Penn Virginia board may have given different weights to different factors.

The Penn Virginia board made its recommendation based on the totality of information presented to, and the investigation conducted by, the Penn Virginia board. It should be noted that certain statements and other information presented in this section are forward-looking in nature and, therefore, should be read in light of the factors discussed under the heading Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements beginning on page 61.

Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor

In July 2018, Penn Virginia retained Jefferies to act as Penn Virginia's financial advisor in connection with certain potential strategic transactions, including a possible sale, disposition or other business transaction or series of related transactions involving all or a majority of the voting securities or assets of Penn Virginia. At a meeting of the Penn Virginia board on October 28, 2018, a representative of Jefferies rendered Jefferies' opinion to the Penn Virginia board to the effect that, as of that date and based upon and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken as set forth in its opinion, the Merger Consideration set forth in the Merger Agreement was fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates).

The full text of the written opinion of Jefferies, dated as of October 28, 2018, is attached hereto as Annex C. Jefferies opinion sets forth, among other things, the assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered and limitations on the scope of the review undertaken by Jefferies in rendering its opinion. Penn Virginia encourages you to read Jefferies' opinion carefully and in its entirety. Jefferies' opinion was directed to the Penn Virginia board (in its capacity as such) and addresses only the fairness, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates) of the Merger Consideration set forth in the Merger Agreement. It does not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement as compared to any alternative transaction or opportunity that might be available to Penn Virginia, nor does it address the underlying business decision by Penn Virginia to engage in the Merger or the terms of the Merger Agreement or the documents referred to therein. Jefferies' opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock should vote or act with respect to the Merger or any matter related thereto, including, without limitation, whether any stockholder should elect to receive the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration or the Stock Election Consideration or make no election in connection with the Merger. The summary of the opinion of Jefferies set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion, a copy of which is attached as Annex C to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

In arriving at its opinion, Jefferies, among other things:

reviewed a draft dated October 28, 2018 of the Merger Agreement;

reviewed certain publicly available financial and other information about Penn Virginia and Denbury;

reviewed certain information furnished to Jefferies by Penn Virginia's management, including financial forecasts and analyses, relating to the business, operations and prospects of Penn Virginia, which we refer to as the Penn Virginia Forecasts ;

reviewed certain information furnished to Jefferies by Denbury's management, and approved for Jefferies' use by Penn Virginia's management, including financial forecasts and analyses, relating to the business, operations and prospects of Denbury, which we refer to as the Denbury Forecasts ;

reviewed alternative versions of the Denbury Forecasts incorporating certain adjustments thereto made by Penn Virginia's management, and approved for Jefferies' use by Penn Virginia's management, which we refer to as the Adjusted Denbury Forecasts, which, together with the Denbury Forecasts and the Penn Virginia Forecasts, we refer to as the Forecasts ; held discussions with members of senior management of Penn Virginia concerning the matters described in the second, third, fourth and fifth bullet points above and held discussions with members of senior management of Denbury concerning the Denbury Forecasts;

reviewed the share trading price history and valuation multiples for Penn Virginia Common Stock and Denbury Common Stock and compared them with those of certain publicly traded companies that Jefferies deemed relevant; compared the proposed financial terms of the Merger with the financial terms of certain other transactions that Jefferies deemed relevant; and conducted such other financial studies, analyses and investigations as Jefferies deemed appropriate.

In Jefferies' review and analysis and in rendering its opinion, Jefferies assumed and relied upon, but did not assume any responsibility to independently investigate or verify, the accuracy and completeness of all financial and other information that was supplied or otherwise made available by Penn Virginia or Denbury or that was publicly available to Jefferies (including, without limitation, the information described above) or that was or otherwise reviewed by Jefferies. Jefferies relied on assurances of the management of Penn Virginia (with respect to the information concerning Penn Virginia and Denbury) and Denbury (with respect to the information concerning Denbury) that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information inaccurate or misleading. In its review, Jefferies did not obtain any independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities of, nor did Jefferies conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of, Penn Virginia or Denbury, nor was Jefferies furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals, nor did Jefferies assume any responsibility to obtain any such evaluations or appraisals.

With respect to the Forecasts provided to and examined by Jefferies, Jefferies' opinion noted that projecting future results of any company is inherently subject to uncertainty. With respect to the Penn Virginia Forecasts, Penn Virginia informed Jefferies, and Jefferies assumed, that such Penn Virginia Forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Penn Virginia as to the future financial performance of Penn Virginia. With respect to the Denbury Forecasts, Denbury informed Jefferies, and Jefferies assumed, that such Denbury Forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Denbury as to the future financial performance of Denbury. With respect to the Adjusted Denbury Forecasts, Penn

Virginia informed Jefferies, and Jefferies assumed, that such Adjusted Denbury Forecasts were reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and good faith judgments of the management of Penn Virginia as to the future financial performance of Denbury. At the direction of Penn Virginia's management, Jefferies used and relied upon the Penn Virginia Forecasts and the Adjusted Denbury Forecasts in its review and analysis and in rendering its opinion. Jefferies expressed no opinion as to the Forecasts or the assumptions on which they were made and Jefferies' opinion assumed that the Penn Virginia Forecasts and the Adjusted Denbury Forecasts will be realized in the amounts and at the times projected.

Jefferies opinion was based on economic, monetary, regulatory, market and other conditions existing and which could be evaluated as of the date of its opinion. Jefferies expressly disclaimed any undertaking or obligation to advise any person of any change in any fact or matter affecting its opinion of which Jefferies becomes aware after the date of its opinion. The credit, financial and stock markets, the industry in which Penn Virginia and Denbury operate and the securities of Penn Virginia and Denbury have experienced and continue to experience volatility, and Jefferies expressed no view or opinion as to any potential effects of such volatility on Penn Virginia, Denbury or the Merger.

Jefferies made no independent investigation of, and expressed no view or opinion as to, any legal, regulatory, accounting or tax matters affecting Penn Virginia, Denbury or the Merger, and Jefferies assumed the correctness in all respects material to its analysis of all legal, regulatory, accounting and tax advice given to Penn Virginia and the Penn Virginia board, including, without limitation, advice as to the legal, regulatory, accounting and tax consequences of the terms of, and transactions contemplated by, the Merger Agreement to Penn Virginia and its stockholders. In addition, in preparing its opinion, Jefferies did not take into account any tax consequences of the transaction to any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Jefferies assumed that the final form of the Merger Agreement would be substantially similar to the last draft reviewed by Jefferies, and Jefferies assumed that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, would qualify as a tax-free reorganization for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Jefferies also assumed that the Merger would be consummated in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement without waiver, modification or amendment in any respect material to its analysis or opinion of any term, condition or agreement, and in compliance with applicable laws, documents and other requirements and that in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third-party approvals, consents and releases for the Merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition would be imposed that would have an adverse effect on Penn Virginia, Denbury or the contemplated benefits of the Merger.

Jefferies' opinion was rendered for the use and benefit of the Penn Virginia board (in its capacity as such) in its consideration of the Merger, and its opinion did not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement as compared to any alternative transaction or opportunity that might be available to Penn Virginia, nor did it address the underlying business decision by Penn Virginia to engage in the Merger or the terms of the Merger Agreement or the documents referred to therein. Jefferies' opinion did not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock should vote or act with respect to the Merger or any matter related thereto, including, without limitation, whether any stockholder should elect to receive the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration or the Stock Election Consideration or make no election in connection with the Merger.

In addition, Jefferies was not asked to address, and its opinion did not address, (i) the fairness to, or any other consideration of, the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of Penn Virginia, other than the holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock or (ii) the allocation of the Merger Consideration as between holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock who receive the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration or the Stock Election Consideration or (iii) the relative fairness of the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration and the Stock Election Consideration. Jefferies expressed no opinion as to what the value of the Denbury Common Stock would be when issued or the price at which shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock would trade at any time. Furthermore, Jefferies did not express any view or opinion as to the fairness, financial or otherwise, of the amount or nature of any compensation payable or to be received by any of Penn Virginia's officers, directors or employees, or any class of such persons, in connection with the Merger relative to the Merger Consideration to be received by holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Jefferies' opinion was authorized by the fairness committee of Jefferies.

In preparing its opinion, Jefferies performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant quantitative and qualitative methods of financial analysis and the applications of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description.

Jefferies believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole. Considering any portion of Jefferies' analyses or the factors considered by Jefferies, without considering all analyses and factors, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the process underlying the conclusion expressed in Jefferies' opinion. In addition, Jefferies may have given various analyses more or less weight than other analyses, and may have deemed various assumptions more or less probable than other assumptions, so that the range of valuations resulting from any particular analysis described below should not be taken to be Jefferies' view of Penn Virginia or Denbury's actual value. Accordingly, the conclusions reached by Jefferies are based on all analyses and factors taken as a whole and also on the application of Jefferies' own experience and judgment.

In performing its analyses, Jefferies made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, general business, economic, monetary, regulatory, market and other conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond Penn Virginia's, Denbury's and Jefferies' control. The analyses performed by Jefferies are not necessarily indicative of actual values or actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. In addition, analyses relating to the per share value of Penn Virginia Common Stock and Denbury Common Stock do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which the Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock may actually be sold. The analyses performed were prepared solely as part of Jefferies' analysis of the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the Merger Consideration set forth in the Merger Agreement to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury and its affiliates), and were provided to the Penn Virginia board in connection with the delivery of Jefferies' opinion.

The following is a summary of the material financial and comparative analyses performed by Jefferies in connection with Jefferies' delivery of its opinion and that was presented to the Penn Virginia board on October 28, 2018. The financial analyses summarized below include information presented in tabular format. In order to understand fully Jefferies' financial analyses, the tables must be read together with the text of each summary. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. Considering the data described below without considering the full narrative description of the financial analyses, including the methodologies and assumptions underlying the analyses, could create a misleading or incomplete view of Jefferies' financial analyses.

The following summary does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by Jefferies. The following quantitative information, to the extent that it is based on market data, is based on market data as it existed on or before October 28, 2018, and is not necessarily indicative of current or future market conditions.

Discounted Cash Flow AnalysisPenn Virginia DCF Analysis

Jefferies performed a discounted cash flow analysis to estimate the present value of the unlevered free cash flows (defined as estimated earnings before interest, tax, depreciation and amortization, and, where applicable, adjusted for certain non-cash expenses and non-recurring items (hereinafter referred to as Adjusted EBITDA), less capital expenditures and less taxes) of Penn Virginia from calendar year 2019 through calendar year 2022 using the Penn Virginia Forecasts. The terminal value of Penn Virginia was then calculated by applying a range of multiples of Adjusted EBITDA in the terminal year of 1.75x to 2.75x, which range was selected by Jefferies in its professional judgment. The present values of the unlevered free cash flows and the terminal value of Penn Virginia were then calculated using discount rates ranging from 10.8% to 12.8%, which rates were based on the estimated weighted average cost of capital for Penn Virginia. Jefferies determined ranges of implied enterprise values for Penn Virginia, then added total projected cash and cash equivalents as of December 31, 2018 and subtracted total projected debt as of December 31, 2018, in each case as provided by Penn Virginia's management, to determine ranges of implied equity values per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock. This analysis was based on commodity price assumptions using NYMEX pricing as of October 19, 2018 and an effective date of January 1, 2019. This analysis indicated a range of implied equity values per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock of $57.37 to $96.11, compared to the implied offer price of $83.77 per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, based on the five-day volume weighted average price of Denbury Common Stock ending October 26, 2018, the last trading day prior to announcement of the Merger, multiplied by the exchange ratio of 12.400 plus $25.86 in cash consideration.

General

Jefferies' opinion was one of many factors taken into consideration by the Penn Virginia board in making its determination to approve the Merger and the Merger Agreement and should not be considered determinative of the view of the Penn Virginia board or Penn Virginia management with respect to the Merger or the Merger Consideration.

Jefferies was selected by Penn Virginia based on Jefferies' qualifications, expertise and reputation. Jefferies is an internationally recognized investment banking and advisory firm. Jefferies, as part of its investment banking business, is regularly engaged in the valuation of businesses and securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements, financial restructurings and other financial services.

In July 2018, Penn Virginia retained Jefferies to act as Penn Virginia's financial advisor in connection with certain potential strategic transactions, including a possible sale, disposition or other business transaction or series of related transactions involving all or a majority of the voting securities or assets of Penn Virginia. For its services, Penn Virginia has agreed to pay Jefferies a transaction fee in an amount which is estimated to be approximately $13.8 million, based upon a percentage of the transaction value implied by the Merger Consideration, $750,000 of which became payable upon delivery of Jefferies' opinion and is creditable against the transaction fee, and the remainder of which is payable contingent upon the consummation of the Merger. No portion of the opinion fee was contingent on the conclusion expressed in Jefferies' opinion. Penn Virginia has agreed to reimburse Jefferies for certain of its expenses incurred. Penn Virginia has also agreed to indemnify Jefferies and its affiliates against liabilities as incurred, relating to or arising out of or in connection with the services rendered and to be rendered by Jefferies under its engagement. In the past, Jefferies has provided financial advisory and financing services to Penn Virginia and may continue to do so and has received, and may receive, fees for the rendering of such services. Specifically, during the two years prior to the date of its opinion, Jefferies received fees from Penn Virginia for financing and financial advisory services in the amount of approximately $9.513 million. During the two years prior to the date of its opinion, Jefferies did not receive any fees from Denbury for financing or financial advisory services. In the ordinary course of its business, Jefferies and its affiliates may trade or hold securities of Penn Virginia or Denbury and/or their respective affiliates for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold long or short positions in those securities. In addition, Jefferies may seek to, in the future, provide financial advisory and financing services to Penn Virginia, Denbury or entities that are affiliated with Penn Virginia or Denbury, for which Jefferies would expect to receive compensation.

Denbury Unaudited Forecasted Financial Information

Denbury does not, as a matter of course, publicly disclose long-term projections as to future revenues, earnings or other results due to, among other reasons, the uncertainty, unpredictability and subjectivity of the underlying assumptions and estimates. However, certain non-public financial forecasts covering multiple years which were prepared by Denbury management and not for public disclosure, were provided to the Denbury board and Penn Virginia in connection with their evaluations of the merger and to Jefferies, Penn Virginia's financial advisor, and Guggenheim, Denbury's financial advisor, for their use in advising their respective clients and reliance in connection with their separate financial analyses and opinions as described in the sections entitled "The Merger Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's Financial Advisor" and "The Merger Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor" beginning on pages 97 and 115, respectively.

A summary of certain of those financial forecasts is not being included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus to influence your decision whether to vote for or against the Denbury Issuance Proposal, the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal or the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, but is being included because they were made available to the Denbury board, Denbury's financial advisor and Penn Virginia and its financial advisor. The Denbury forecasted financial information was prepared by and is the responsibility of Denbury management.

The inclusion of this information should not be regarded as an indication that the Denbury board, Denbury (or any of its affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives) or any other person considered, or now considers, the Denbury forecasted financial information to be necessarily predictive of actual future events or results of Denbury's operations and should not be relied upon as such. Denbury management's internal financial forecasts, upon which the Denbury forecasted financial information was based, are subjective in many respects. There can be no assurance that the Denbury forecasted financial information will be realized or that actual results will not be significantly higher or lower than forecasted. The Denbury forecasted financial information covers multiple years and such information by its nature becomes less predictive with each successive year. As a result, the inclusion of the Denbury forecasted financial information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus should not be relied on as necessarily predictive of actual future events.

In addition, the Denbury forecasted financial information was not prepared with a view toward public disclosure or toward complying with GAAP and the use of non-GAAP measures or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of forecasted financial information. The forecasted financial information included in this document has been prepared by, and is the responsibility of, Denbury's management. PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP has not audited, reviewed, examined, compiled nor applied agreed-upon procedures with respect to the accompanying forecasted financial information and, accordingly, PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP does not express an opinion or any other form of assurance with respect thereto. The PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP report incorporated by reference in this document relates to Denbury's previously issued financial statements. It does not extend to the forecasted financial information and should not be read to do so.

The Denbury forecasted financial information was based on numerous variables and assumptions that were deemed to be reasonable as of the respective dates when such projections were finalized. However, such assumptions are inherently uncertain and difficult or impossible to predict or estimate and most of them are beyond Denbury's control. Assumptions that were used by Denbury in developing the Denbury forecasted financial information include, but are not limited to: organic growth and the amounts and timing of related costs (including capital costs) and potential economic returns; no unannounced acquisitions; outstanding debt during applicable periods; the availability and cost of capital; the cash flow from existing assets and business activities and the cash effect of income taxes; the level of production of crude oil and natural gas; and other general business, market and financial assumptions. The Denbury forecasted financial information also reflects assumptions regarding the continuing nature of certain business decisions that, in reality, would be subject to change.

Important factors that may affect actual results and cause the Denbury forecasted financial information not to be achieved include, but are not limited to, risks and uncertainties relating to Denbury's business (including its ability to achieve strategic goals, objectives and targets), industry performance, the legal and regulatory environment, general business and economic conditions and other factors described in this joint proxy/statement prospectus or described or referenced in Denbury's filings with the SEC, including Denbury's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017, subsequent quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K. This information constitutes forward-looking statements and actual results may differ materially and adversely from those projected. For more information, see the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 61. In addition, the Denbury forecasted financial information reflects assumptions that are subject to change and do not reflect revised prospects for Denbury's business, changes in general business or economic conditions, or any other transaction or event that has occurred or that may occur and that was not anticipated at the time the Denbury forecasted financial information was prepared.

The Denbury forecasted financial information was developed through Denbury's customary strategic planning and budgeting process utilizing reasonable available estimates and judgments at the time of its preparation. The Denbury forecasted financial information was developed on a standalone basis without giving effect to the Merger, and therefore the Denbury forecasted financial information does not give effect to the Merger or any changes to Denbury's operations or strategy that may be implemented after the effective time of the Merger if the Merger is completed, including potential synergies to be realized as a result of the Merger, or to any costs incurred in connection with the Merger. Furthermore, the Denbury forecasted financial information does not take into account the effect of any failure of the Merger to be completed and should not be viewed as accurate or continuing in that context.

Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Denbury forecasted financial information will be realized or that Denbury's future financial results will not vary materially from the Denbury forecasted financial information. None of Denbury, Penn Virginia nor any of their respective affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives can give any assurance that actual results will not differ from the Denbury forecasted financial information, and none of Denbury, Penn Virginia, nor any of their respective affiliates undertakes any obligation to update or otherwise revise or reconcile the Denbury forecasted financial information to reflect circumstances existing or developments and events occurring after the date of the Denbury forecasted financial information or that may occur in the future, even in the event that any or all of the assumptions underlying the Denbury forecasted financial information are not realized. Denbury does not intend to make available publicly any update or other revision to the Denbury forecasted financial information, except as otherwise required by applicable law. None of Denbury nor any of its affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives has made or makes any representation to any Denbury or Penn Virginia stockholder or any other person regarding the ultimate performance of Denbury compared to the information contained in the Denbury forecasted financial information or that the Denbury forecasted financial information will be achieved.

In light of the foregoing factors and the uncertainties inherent in the Denbury forecasted financial information, Denbury and Penn Virginia stockholders are cautioned not to place undue, if any, reliance on the information presented in this summary of the Denbury forecasted financial information.

The selected unaudited forecasted financial numbers shown in the tables above are not measures that have a standardized meaning prescribed by GAAP and may not be comparable with similar measures presented by other issuers.

- (1) Adjusted EBITDAX is a non-GAAP financial measure which management uses and is calculated based upon (but not identical to) a financial covenant related to Consolidated EBITDAX in Denbury's senior secured bank credit facility, which excludes certain items that are included in net income, the most directly comparable GAAP financial measure. Items excluded include interest, income taxes, franchise taxes, depletion, depreciation, and amortization, stock-based compensation, non-cash fair value (gains) losses on commodity derivatives, deferred rent, and (gains) losses on asset sales.
- (2) Adjusted cash flows from operations less interest treated as debt reduction is a non-GAAP measure that represents cash flows provided by operations before changes in assets and liabilities and removes interest associated with Denbury's senior secured second lien notes not reflected as interest expense for financial reporting purposes.
- (3) Capital expenditures excludes acquisitions and capitalized interest.

ACTUAL FINANCIAL RESULTS AND COMMODITY PRICES MAY DIFFER FROM THE ABOVE ASSUMPTIONS. DENBURY DOES NOT INTEND TO UPDATE OR OTHERWISE REVISE THE ABOVE UNAUDITED FINANCIAL FORECASTS TO REFLECT CIRCUMSTANCES EXISTING AFTER THE DATE WHEN MADE OR TO REFLECT THE OCCURRENCE OF FUTURE EVENTS, EVEN IN THE EVENT THAT ANY OR ALL OF THE ASSUMPTIONS UNDERLYING SUCH UNAUDITED FINANCIAL FORECASTS ARE NO LONGER APPROPRIATE, EXCEPT AS MAY BE REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW.

Non-GAAP Financial Information

The non-GAAP financial measures used in this section were relied upon by Denbury's financial advisor, at the direction of Denbury management, for purposes of its opinion, and by the Denbury board in connection with its consideration of the Merger. Financial measures provided to a financial advisor are excluded from the definition of non-GAAP financial measures and therefore are not subject to SEC rules regarding disclosures of non-GAAP financial measures, which would otherwise require a reconciliation of a non-GAAP financial measure to a GAAP financial measure. Reconciliations of non-GAAP financial measures were not relied upon by Denbury's financial advisor for purposes of its opinion or by the Denbury board in connection with its consideration of the Merger. Accordingly, reconciliation of the financial measures included in the financial projections have not been provided.

Penn Virginia Unaudited Forecasted Financial Information

Penn Virginia does not, as a matter of course, publicly disclose long-term projections as to future revenues, earnings or other results due to, among other reasons, the uncertainty, unpredictability and subjectivity of the underlying assumptions and estimates. However, certain non-public financial forecasts covering multiple years which were prepared by Penn Virginia management and not for public disclosure, were provided to the Penn Virginia board and Denbury in connection with their evaluations of the merger and to Jefferies, Penn Virginia's financial advisor, and Guggenheim, Denbury's financial advisor, for their use in advising their respective clients and reliance in connection with their separate financial analyses and opinions as described in the sections entitled The Merger Opinion of Guggenheim, Denbury's Financial Advisor and The Merger Opinion of Jefferies, Penn Virginia's Financial Advisor beginning on pages 97 and 115, respectively.

A summary of certain of those financial forecasts is not being included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus to influence your decision whether to vote for or against the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, the Denbury Issuance Proposal, or the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal, but is being included because they were made available to the Penn Virginia board, Penn Virginia's financial advisor and Denbury and its financial advisor. The Penn Virginia forecasted financial information was prepared by and is the responsibility of Penn Virginia management.

The inclusion of this information should not be regarded as an indication that the Penn Virginia board, Penn Virginia (or any of its affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives) or any other person considered, or now considers, the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information to be necessarily predictive of actual future events or results of Penn Virginia's operations and should not be relied upon as such. Penn Virginia management's internal financial forecasts, upon which the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information was based, are subjective in many respects. There can be no assurance that the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information will be realized or that actual results will not be significantly higher or lower than forecasted. The Penn Virginia forecasted financial information covers multiple years and such information by its nature becomes less predictive with each successive year. As a result, the inclusion of the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus should not be relied on as necessarily predictive of actual future events.

In addition, the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information was not prepared with a view toward public disclosure or toward complying with GAAP and the use of non-GAAP measures or the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of forecasted financial information. Neither Grant Thornton LLP, Penn Virginia's independent registered public accounting firm, nor any other independent accountants, have audited, compiled, examined or performed any procedures with respect to the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, nor have they expressed any opinion or any other form of assurance on such information or its achievability.

The Penn Virginia forecasted financial information also reflects assumptions regarding the continuing nature of certain business decisions that, in reality, would be subject to change.

Important factors that may affect actual results and cause the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information not to be achieved include, but are not limited to, risks and uncertainties relating to Penn Virginia's business (including its ability to achieve strategic goals, objectives and targets), industry performance, the legal and regulatory environment, general business and economic conditions and other factors described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or described or referenced in Penn Virginia's filings with the SEC, including Penn Virginia's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017, subsequent quarterly reports on Form 10-Q and current reports on Form 8-K. This information constitutes forward-looking statements and actual results may differ materially and adversely from those projected. For more information, see the section entitled "Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements" beginning on page 61. The Penn Virginia forecasted financial information was developed through Penn Virginia's customary strategic planning and budgeting process utilizing reasonable available estimates and judgments at the time of its preparation. result of the Merger, or to any costs incurred in connection with the Merger. Furthermore, the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information does not take into account the effect of any failure of the Merger to be completed and should not be viewed as accurate or continuing in that context.

Accordingly, there can be no assurance that the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information will be realized or that Penn Virginia's future financial results will not vary materially from the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information. None of Penn Virginia, Denbury nor any of their respective affiliates, officers, directors, advisors or other representatives can give any assurance that actual results will not differ from the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information, and none of Penn Virginia, Denbury, nor any of their respective affiliates undertakes any obligation to update or otherwise revise or reconcile the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information to reflect circumstances existing or developments and events occurring after the date of the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information or that may occur in the future, even in the event that any or all of the assumptions underlying the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information are not realized. Penn Virginia does not intend to make available publicly any update or other revision to the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information, except as otherwise required by applicable law. In light of the foregoing factors and the uncertainties inherent in the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information, Penn Virginia and Denbury stockholders are cautioned not to place undue, if any, reliance on the information presented in this summary of the Penn Virginia forecasted financial information.

Non-GAAP Financial Information

The non-GAAP financial measures used in this section were relied upon by Penn Virginia's financial advisor, at the direction of Penn Virginia management, for purposes of its opinion, and by the Penn Virginia board in connection with its consideration of the Merger. Financial measures provided to a financial advisor are excluded from the definition of non-GAAP financial measures and therefore are not subject to SEC rules regarding disclosures of non-GAAP financial measures, which would otherwise require a reconciliation of a non-GAAP financial measure to a GAAP financial measure. Reconciliations of non-GAAP financial measures were not relied upon by Penn Virginia's financial advisor for purposes of its opinion or by the Penn Virginia board in connection with its consideration of the Merger. Accordingly, reconciliation of the financial measures included in the financial projections have not been provided.

Financing of the Merger

Denbury expects to use a combination of the following to finance the Merger: (i) the issuance of Denbury Common Stock to Penn Virginia shareholders pursuant to the Denbury Stock Issuance and (ii) two new debt financings as described below.

Denbury has received the commitment letter from JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. providing for a new $1.2 billion senior secured bank credit facility, replacing its current credit facility and a $400 million senior secured second lien bridge financing that will be available to the extent Denbury does not secure alternate financing prior to the end of the bridge takedown period. The new debt financings will be used to fully or partially fund the $400 million cash portion of the consideration, potentially retire and replace Penn Virginia's $200 million second lien term loan, and replace Penn Virginia's existing bank credit facility, which had $283 million drawn and outstanding as of September 30, 2018, and pay fees and expenses.

The Merger is not contingent upon receipt by Denbury of the proceeds of any financing.

Regulatory Approvals

The completion of the Merger is subject to the receipt of antitrust clearance in the United States. Under the HSR Act and the rules promulgated thereunder, the Merger may not be completed until notification and report forms have been filed with the FTC and the DOJ, and the applicable waiting period (or any extensions of such waiting period) has expired or been terminated. On December 27, 2018, Denbury and Penn Virginia received notice of the early termination of the applicable waiting period under the HSR Act. For additional information regarding regulatory approvals in connection with the Merger, see the section entitled "The Merger Agreement Required Actions" beginning on page 170.

Neither Denbury nor Penn Virginia is aware of any material governmental approvals or actions that are required for completion of the Merger other than as described above. It is presently contemplated that if any such additional material governmental approvals or actions are required, those approvals or actions will be sought.

Board of Directors and Management of Denbury Following Completion of the Merger

Under the terms of the Merger Agreement, Denbury has agreed to take all necessary corporate action so that upon and after the effective time of the Merger, the size of the Denbury board is increased by two members, and two members of the Penn Virginia board who are mutually agreed by Denbury and Penn Virginia and would qualify as independent directors under Section 303A.02 of the NYSE Listed Company Manual are appointed to the Denbury board to fill the vacancies on the Denbury board created by such increase. Denbury, through the Denbury board and subject to the Denbury board's fiduciary duties to Denbury stockholders, has agreed to take all necessary action to recommend that the two applicable members of the Penn Virginia board be elected to the Denbury board in the proxy statement relating to the first annual meeting of Denbury stockholders following the completion of the Merger.

Upon completion of the Merger, the current directors and executive officers of Denbury are expected to continue in their current positions, other than as may be publicly announced by Denbury in the normal course.

Interests of Penn Virginia Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of the Penn Virginia board to approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal and the Penn Virginia Non-Binding Compensation Advisory Proposal, Penn Virginia shareholders should be aware that the executive officers and directors of Penn Virginia have interests in the Merger that may be different from, or in addition to, those of Penn Virginia's shareholders generally. The members of the Penn Virginia board were aware of and considered these interests, among other matters, in evaluating and negotiating the Merger Agreement, in approving the Merger Agreement and in determining to recommend that Penn Virginia shareholders approve the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal.

Virginia Common Stock deemed earned under any Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award with respect to any performance period scheduled to commence on or after January 1, 2019 will vest based on maximum level of achievement). Such shares deemed earned as described in this paragraph are referred to herein as the earned Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock units.

Executive Officer Severance Arrangements

Penn Virginia's executive officers do not currently have individual agreements providing for severance payments or benefits. Instead, such executive officers participate in the Penn Virginia Corporation 2017 Special Severance Plan (as amended and restated effective July 18, 2018) (the "Severance Plan"). The Severance Plan provides for the following payments and benefits in the event of a termination of employment without Cause or resignation for Good Reason (each as defined in the Severance Plan) within the six-month period following a qualifying transaction (which the Merger will constitute):

A lump-sum cash payment in an amount equal to a specified number of weeks of Base Pay with Mr. Brooks eligible to receive 130 weeks of Base Pay and the other executive officers eligible to receive 78 weeks of Base Pay. Base Pay refers to the base salary or base wages that the executive officer earns during a week, based upon rate of pay in effect for the participant immediately before the participant's termination of employment, excluding overtime, bonuses, incentive compensation or any other special payments.

An additional lump sum payment in an amount equal to the annual bonus, if any, earned by the executive officer for the year preceding the year of termination (based on the target level of performance) to the extent unpaid as of the executive's last day of employment.

If the executive officer elects continuation coverage under COBRA, continued coverage at the same contribution rate paid by Penn Virginia for active employees for the executive officer and his or her covered dependents following the executive officer's date of termination for the number of weeks indicated above (or such shorter period during which the executive is eligible to receive COBRA coverage).

The payments and benefits under the Severance Plan are subject to the executive's execution and non-revocation of a release of claims.

The following table shows, assuming the closing of the Merger occurs on January 7, 2019, the severance payments and benefits to which each executive officer of Penn Virginia (as identified in Penn Virginia's Proxy Statement on Schedule 14A filed with the SEC on March 28, 2018) and each other executive officer who served as an executive officer of Penn Virginia at any point in time on or following January 1, 2018, would be entitled upon a qualifying termination of employment immediately following the closing of the Merger.

280G Mitigation Actions

While Penn Virginia will be permitted to take certain actions to reduce the amount of any potential excess parachute payments for disqualified individuals (each as defined in Section 280G of the Code), with Denbury's consent, the compensation committee of the Penn Virginia board has not yet approved any specific actions to mitigate the expected impact of Section 280G of the Code on Penn Virginia and any disqualified individuals. Executives are not entitled to receive gross-ups or tax reimbursements from Penn Virginia with respect to any potential excise taxes.

Voting and Support Agreements

In connection with the execution of the Merger Agreement, Denbury entered into the Voting Agreements with (i) Strategic Value Partners, LLC on behalf of certain investment funds directly and indirectly managed by SVP, (ii) KLS Diversified Asset Management LP and (iii) each director and executive officer of Penn Virginia, pursuant to which each such shareholder has agreed, among other matters and upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Voting Agreements, to vote all of their shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock in favor of the Penn

Virginia Merger Proposal and the other actions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and against any proposal that would reasonably be expected to impede, interfere with, delay, postpone, discourage or adversely affect the consummation of the Merger. As of January 7, 2019, such shareholders subject to the Voting Agreements held 2,286,252 shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock in the aggregate (excluding Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock), or approximately 15.1% of the voting power of Penn Virginia (excluding Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock). The Voting Agreements are attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex E, Annex F and Annex G, respectively.

The Voting Agreement entered into with each director and executive officer of Penn Virginia will terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

the termination of the Merger Agreement;

the effective time of the Merger;

the date of any modification, waiver or amendment to the Merger Agreement effected without the Voting Agreement parties' consent that (i) decreases the amount or changes the form of consideration payable to all of the Penn Virginia shareholders pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement or (ii) otherwise materially adversely affects the interests of the Penn Virginia shareholders; and by mutual written consent of Denbury and the directors and executive officers party to such Voting Agreement.

The Voting Agreements entered into with SVP and KLS will terminate upon the earliest to occur of:

the termination of the Merger Agreement in compliance with its terms;

the effective time of the Merger;

the date of any modification, waiver or amendment to the Merger Agreement effected without the Voting Agreement parties' consent that (i) decreases the amount or changes the form of consideration payable to all of the Penn Virginia shareholders pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement or (ii) otherwise materially adversely affects the interests of the Penn Virginia shareholders;

by mutual written consent of Denbury and the respective party to such Voting Agreement;

April 30, 2019; and any material breach of the Merger Agreement by Denbury.

Quantification of Potential Payments

The information set forth in this section is intended to comply with Item 402(t) of the SEC's Regulation S-K, which requires disclosure of information about certain compensation that may become payable to each named executive officer of Penn Virginia in connection with the Merger. For additional details regarding the terms of the payments and benefits described below, see the section entitled "Interests of Penn Virginia Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger" above.

The amounts shown in the table below are estimates based on multiple assumptions that may or may not actually occur or be accurate on the relevant date, including the assumptions described below and in the footnotes to the table, and do not reflect certain compensation actions that may occur before completion of the transaction. For purposes of calculating such amounts, the following assumptions were used:

The effective time is January 7, 2019, which is the latest practicable date prior to this joint proxy statement/prospectus solely for purposes of the disclosure in this section.

Each Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock unit award and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit award held by each named executive officer of Penn Virginia as of immediately prior to the effective time will be accelerated in full and will be converted into the right to receive, per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock underlying such individual's Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock unit award or Penn Virginia earned performance-based restricted stock unit award, (i) $25.86 in cash and (ii) 12.4 shares of Denbury Common Stock (rounded up to the nearest whole share). For purposes of the following table, the value of a share of Denbury Common Stock is assumed to be $4.66, which is the average closing price per share of Denbury Common Stock over the five business days following the first public announcement of the transaction on October 28, 2018. For a description of the consideration payable to the named executive officers in connection with their Penn Virginia service-based restricted stock unit awards and Penn Virginia performance-based restricted stock unit awards, see

The employment of each named executive officer of Penn Virginia is terminated by Penn Virginia without Cause or by the named executive officer for Good Reason (each as defined in the Severance Plan) in connection with the Merger, in either case immediately following the assumed effective time of January 7, 2019.

As a result of the foregoing assumptions, the actual amounts, if any, to be received by a named executive officer may materially differ from the amounts set forth below. For purposes of this discussion, single-trigger refers to benefits that are payable solely as a result of the closing of the Merger and double-trigger refers to benefits that require the closing of the Merger, as well as the occurrence of another event (such as termination of employment or continued service), to become payable.

Indemnification and Insurance

Denbury and the surviving corporation have agreed to, jointly and severally, (i) indemnify and hold harmless each person who is now, or has been or becomes at any time prior to the effective time of the Merger, (A) an officer or director of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries or (B) a director, officer, member, trustee or fiduciary of another corporation, foundation, partnership, joint venture, trust, pension or other employee benefit plan or enterprise if such service was at the request or for the benefit of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries, together with such person's heirs, executors, trustees, fiduciaries and administrators (collectively, the Indemnified Parties) to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by applicable law from and against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs, indemnification expenses, judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement (including all interest, assessments and other charges paid or payable in connection with or in respect of any thereof) arising out of or in connection with any threatened, asserted, pending or completed action or proceeding, any governmental entity or any other person, whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or other, including any arbitration or other alternative dispute resolution mechanism arising out of or pertaining to matters that relate to such Indemnified Parties.

duties or service as a director or officer of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries or as a trustee of (or in a similar capacity with) any compensation and benefit plan of any thereof; and (ii) promptly pay on behalf of or, within 15 days after any request for advancement, advance to each of the Indemnified Parties, any indemnification expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred in defending, serving as a witness with respect to or otherwise participating with respect to any such action or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such claim or action, including payment on behalf of or advancement to the Indemnified Party of any indemnification expenses incurred by such Indemnified Party in connection with enforcing any rights with respect to such indemnification and/or advancement, in each case without the requirement of any bond or other security.

In the event that Denbury, the surviving corporation, LLC Sub or any of their successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, must cause proper provision to be made so that the successors and assigns of Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, assume the indemnification obligations set forth above contemporaneous with the closing of any such consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance.

On or prior to the effective time of the Merger, Denbury is required to purchase a tail directors and officers liability insurance policy covering the six-year period from and after the effective time of the Merger for Penn Virginia and its current and former directors and officers who are currently covered by the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia from a carrier with the same or better credit rating to Penn Virginia's current directors and officers liability insurance carrier on terms not less favorable to the insured persons than the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia as of the date of the Merger Agreement with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred on or before the effective time of the Merger, except that in no event will Denbury be required to pay with respect to such tail policy more than 300% of the aggregate annual premium currently paid by Penn Virginia for such insurance. For additional information, see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Indemnification; Directors and Officers Insurance beginning on page 173.

Listing of Denbury Common Stock; Delisting and Deregistration of Penn Virginia Common Stock

If the Merger is completed, the shares of Denbury Common Stock to be issued in the Merger will be listed for trading on the NYSE, shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will be delisted from the Nasdaq and deregistered under the Exchange Act, and Penn Virginia will no longer be required to file periodic reports with the SEC pursuant to the Exchange Act.

Accounting Treatment of the Merger

Denbury prepares its financial statements in accordance with GAAP. The accounting guidance for business combinations requires the use of the acquisition method of accounting for the Merger, which requires the determination of the acquirer, the purchase price, the acquisition date, the fair value of assets and liabilities of the acquiree and the measurement of goodwill. Denbury will be treated as the acquirer for accounting purposes.

Treatment of Indebtedness

As of September 30, 2018, Penn Virginia had outstanding borrowings of approximately $283 million under Penn Virginia's revolving credit facility. Completion of the Merger would constitute an event of default under the terms of Penn Virginia's revolving credit facility. In order to avoid an event of default, Denbury will need to either obtain waivers or consents from the lenders under the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility, or the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility will need to be repaid or refinanced in connection with the Merger. Denbury may draw on Denbury's new $1.2 billion senior secured revolving credit facility or $400 million senior secured second lien bridge facility and/or cash on hand to prepay in full the total outstanding amount under the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility and terminate the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility. Denbury may also choose to refinance the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility (including any hedges provided by hedge banks thereunder) effective at the completion of the Merger. In the event of a refinancing of the Penn Virginia revolving credit facility, prepayment would be at par with no prepayment premium, other than LIBOR breakage costs.

As of September 30, 2018, Penn Virginia had outstanding borrowings of $200 million under Penn Virginia's second lien term loan facility. Completion of the Merger would constitute an event of default under the terms of Penn Virginia's second lien term loan facility. In order to avoid an event of default, Denbury will need to either obtain waivers or consents from the lenders under the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility, or the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility will need to be repaid or refinanced in connection with the Merger. Denbury may draw on Denbury's new $1.2 billion senior secured revolving credit facility or $400 million senior secured second lien bridge facility and/or cash on hand to prepay in full the total outstanding amount under the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility and terminate the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility. Denbury may also choose to refinance the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility (including any hedges provided by hedge banks thereunder) effective at the completion of the Merger. In the event of a refinancing of the Penn Virginia second lien term loan facility, prepayment would be at par with (i) if before September 29, 2019, a prepayment premium of 2.0%, (ii) if between September 29, 2019 and September 29, 2020, a 1.0% prepayment premium and (iii) if on or after September 29, 2020, no prepayment premium, other than LIBOR breakage costs.

For a description of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's existing indebtedness see Denbury's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018, filed on November 9, 2018, and Penn Virginia's Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarter ended September 30, 2018, filed on November 8, 2018, each of which is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Litigation Relating to the Merger

As of the date of this registration statement, there are no pending legal proceedings relating to the Merger against Denbury or Penn Virginia.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

This section describes the material terms of the Merger Agreement, which was executed on October 28, 2018. The description of the Merger Agreement in this section and elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the complete text of the Merger Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Annex A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein in its entirety. This summary does not purport to be complete and may not contain all of the information about the Merger Agreement that is important to you. You are encouraged to read the Merger Agreement carefully and in its entirety because it is the legal document that governs the Merger.

Explanatory Note Regarding the Merger Agreement

The Merger Agreement and this summary are included solely to provide you with information regarding the terms of the Merger Agreement. Factual disclosures about Denbury, Penn Virginia, or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or in Denbury's or Penn Virginia's public reports filed with the SEC may supplement, update or modify the factual disclosures about Denbury or Penn Virginia, as applicable, contained in the Merger Agreement. The representations, warranties and covenants made in the Merger Agreement by Denbury, Penn Virginia and Merger Sub were made solely for the purposes of the Merger Agreement and as of specific dates and were qualified and subject to important limitations agreed to by Denbury, Penn Virginia and Merger Sub in connection with negotiating the terms of the Merger Agreement. In particular, in your review of the representations and warranties contained in the Merger Agreement and described in this summary, it is important to bear in mind that the representations and warranties were negotiated with the principal purposes of establishing the circumstances in which a party to the Merger Agreement may have the right not to complete the Merger if the representations and warranties of the other party prove to be untrue due to a change in circumstance or otherwise, and allocating risk between Denbury and Penn Virginia, rather than establishing matters as facts. The representations and warranties may also be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from those generally applicable to stockholders or shareholders and reports and documents filed with the SEC, and in some cases were qualified by the matters contained in the respective disclosure letters that Denbury and Penn Virginia delivered to each other in connection with the Merger Agreement, which disclosures were not reflected in the Merger Agreement. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties, which do not purport to be accurate as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, may have changed since October 28, 2018. You should not rely on the Merger Agreement representations, warranties, covenants or any descriptions thereof as characterizations of the actual state of facts of Denbury, Penn Virginia and Merger Sub or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates.

The Merger

On the terms and subject to the conditions of the Merger Agreement, at the effective time of the Merger and in accordance with the VSCA, Merger Sub will be merged with and into Penn Virginia and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub will cease, and Penn Virginia will continue as the surviving corporation and as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury.

Immediately following the effective time of the Merger, on the terms of the LLC Sub Merger and in accordance with the VSCA and the Virginia Limited Liability Company Act, as amended, the surviving corporation will merge with and into LLC Sub, with LLC Sub continuing as the surviving entity as a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Denbury. At the time of and immediately after the LLC Sub Merger, (i) all capital stock of the surviving corporation issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger will automatically be cancelled and extinguished and will cease to exist, and no consideration will be delivered in exchange therefor, (ii) all of the membership interests of LLC Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the LLC Sub

Merger will remain outstanding following the consummation of the LLC Sub Merger and will not be affected in any way by the LLC Sub Merger, (iii) Denbury will own all of the membership interests in LLC Sub and will be the sole member of LLC Sub, and (iv) LLC Sub will be treated as an entity disregarded as separate from Denbury for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

At the effective time of the Merger, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of Penn Virginia and Merger Sub will vest in the surviving corporation, and all debts, liabilities and duties of Penn Virginia and Merger Sub will become the debts, liabilities and duties of the surviving corporation and at the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger, all of the property, rights, privileges, powers and franchises of the surviving corporation and LLC Sub will vest in LLC Sub, and all debts, liabilities and duties of the surviving corporation and LLC Sub will become the debts, liabilities and duties of LLC Sub.

Closing and Effective Time of the Merger

Unless otherwise agreed to in writing between Denbury and Penn Virginia, the completion of the Merger will take place in Houston, Texas on a date to be mutually agreed upon by Denbury and Penn Virginia, which will be no later than the second business day following the satisfaction of the conditions to the completion of the Merger (the closing conditions); provided, however, that if the satisfaction or waiver of the closing conditions has occurred prior to the marketing period (as defined below), the completion of the Merger will occur instead on the second business day following the final day of the marketing period (provided that Denbury may elect in its sole discretion to terminate the marketing period early on no less than two business days notice to Penn Virginia). For more information on the conditions to the completion of the Merger, please see the section entitled The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Completion of the Merger beginning on page 178. We refer to the date on which the completion of the Merger occurs as the closing date.

For purposes of the Merger Agreement, marketing period means, subject to certain exceptions, a 15 consecutive business day period (starting with the first day of such period and continuing through and ending with the last day of such period) that begins on the later of (a) the date this joint proxy statement/prospectus is first mailed to each of the Penn Virginia shareholders and the Denbury stockholders and (b) the date that Penn Virginia has delivered certain financial information to Denbury.

Assuming timely satisfaction of the necessary closing conditions, Denbury and Penn Virginia currently expect the closing of the Merger to occur in the first quarter of 2019. The Merger will become effective at the time the State Corporation Commission of the Commonwealth of Virginia (the SCC) issues the certificate of merger in connection with the Merger, or at such later date or time as Denbury and Penn Virginia may agree in writing and specify in the articles of merger for the Merger. The LLC Sub Merger will become effective at the time the SCC issues the certificate of merger in connection with the LLC Sub Merger, or at such later date or time as Denbury and Penn Virginia may agree in writing and specify in the articles of merger for the LLC Sub Merger.

Organizational Documents; Directors and Officers

At the effective time of the Merger, the articles of incorporation and the bylaws of the surviving corporation will be amended and restated to be in the form of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of Merger Sub in effect as of the date of the Merger Agreement, except that the name of the surviving corporation will be changed, until such articles of incorporation and bylaws are thereafter amended and restated in accordance with their respective terms and applicable law.

At the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger, the certificate of formation and the limited liability company agreement of LLC Sub as in effect immediately prior to the LLC Sub Merger will remain unchanged and will be the certificate of formation and the limited liability company agreement of LLC Sub until duly amended in accordance with the terms thereof and applicable law.

Penn Virginia will use reasonable best efforts to obtain resignations, conditioned and automatically effective upon the effective time of the Merger, of each of its directors in office immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger. The parties will take all necessary action such that, from and after the effective time of the Merger, the directors and officers of Merger Sub will be the directors and officers of the surviving corporation, and such directors and officers will serve until their successors have been duly elected or appointed and qualified or until their death, resignation or removal in accordance with the organizational documents of the surviving corporation.

Effect of the Merger on Capital Stock; Merger Consideration

On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, upon the effective time of the Merger, each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger (other than as described in the Merger Agreement) will be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder of such share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, either, (i) the Mixed Election Consideration ($25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4000 shares of Denbury Common Stock), (ii) the Cash Election Consideration ($79.80 in cash without interest) or (iii) the Stock Election Consideration (18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock).

The Cash and Stock Elections will be subject to proration to ensure that the total amount of cash paid to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock is equal to $400 million. The proration and adjustment procedures are as follows:

If (A) the product of the number of Cash Election Shares and the Cash Election Consideration (such product, the Cash Election Amount) exceeds (B) (1) $400,000,000 minus (2) the product of the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that have made the Mixed Election and $25.86 (such difference being referred to as the Available Cash Election Amount), then each Cash Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (y) an amount of cash without interest equal to the product of the Cash Election Consideration and a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Available Cash Election Amount and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Amount (such fraction, the Cash Fraction) and (z) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) one minus the Cash Fraction.

If the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount and the number of No Election Shares is less than the Cash Election Shortfall Number (as defined below), then each Stock Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to (1) the Cash Election Shortfall Amount (as defined below) minus the product of the number of No Election Shares and the Cash Election Consideration, divided by (2) the number of Stock Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration.

If the Cash Election Amount equals or exceeds the Available Cash Election Amount, then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock. If the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount (the amount by which the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount referred to as the Cash Election Shortfall Amount), then (A) if the number of No Election Shares is less than or equal to an amount equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the Cash Election Consideration (such quotient referred to as the Cash Election Shortfall Number), then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive the Cash Election Consideration, and (B) if the number of No Election Shares is greater than the Cash Election Shortfall Number, then each No Election Share will be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the number of No Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Denbury Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio of 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock per share of Penn Virginia Common Stock and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) and the denominator of which will be the Cash Election Consideration.

Penn Virginia shareholders will not be entitled to receive any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock in the Merger, and no Penn Virginia shareholder will be entitled to voting or other rights in respect of any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock. Each holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock converted pursuant to the Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Denbury Common Stock (after taking into account all shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock exchanged by such holder) will receive, in lieu thereof, cash in an amount equal to such fractional amount multiplied by the average of the volume weighted average price per share of Denbury Common Stock on the NYSE (as reported by Bloomberg, L.P. or, if not reported by Bloomberg, L.P., in another authoritative source mutually selected by Denbury and Penn Virginia) on each of the five consecutive trading days ending with the last complete trading day prior to the closing date.

At the effective time, all shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will cease to be outstanding, will be cancelled and will cease to exist, and each Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate formerly representing any shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, and each non-certificated share of Penn Virginia Common Stock represented by book-entry (other than, in each case, those shares held by Penn Virginia immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger (each, an excluded share)) will thereafter represent only the right to receive, without interest, the applicable per share Merger Consideration, and (with respect to the Stock Election Consideration) the right, if any, to receive cash in lieu of fractional shares into which such shares have been converted and any distribution or dividend on shares of Denbury Common Stock issued in the Merger payable after the effective time of the Merger.

Each excluded share will, at the effective time of the Merger, be cancelled and cease to exist, with no consideration paid therefor.

Election Procedures

Not less than 30 days prior to the anticipated effective time of the Merger or on such other date as Denbury and Penn Virginia mutually agree (which we refer to as the mailing date), Penn Virginia has agreed to mail an election form and letter of transmittal, in such form as mutually acceptable to Denbury and Penn Virginia, to each holder of record of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Penn Virginia Common Stock owned by Penn Virginia prior to the effective time of the Merger) as of a record date that is five business days prior to the mailing date or such other date as mutually agreed to by Denbury and Penn Virginia.

To be effective, a form of election must be properly completed, signed and submitted to the exchange agent of Penn Virginia Common Stock for the Merger Consideration by the election deadline of 5:00 p.m. (Eastern Time) on the business day that is two trading days prior to the effective time of the Merger, or such other date as mutually agreed upon by Denbury and Penn Virginia. Each election form and letter of transmittal submitted to the exchange agent must specify (i) the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Mixed Election Consideration, (ii) the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Cash Election Consideration, (iii) the number of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Stock Election Consideration or (iv) that such holder makes no election with respect to such holder's shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Denbury will publicly announce the anticipated election deadline at least five business days prior to the election deadline. If the effective time of the Merger is delayed to a subsequent date, the election deadline will be similarly delayed to a subsequent date (which will be the second business day prior to the effective time of the Merger or such other date as mutually agreed to by Denbury and Penn Virginia), and Denbury will promptly announce any such delay and, when determined, the rescheduled election deadline.

Denbury will make available one or more election form and letter of transmittals as may reasonably be requested from time to time by all persons who become holders or beneficial owners of Penn Virginia Common Stock during the period between the mailing date and the election deadline (which we refer to as the election period), and Penn Virginia will provide the exchange agent all information reasonably necessary for it to perform its duties as specified herein.

Any election will be properly made only if the exchange agent actually receives a properly completed election form and letter of transmittal during the election period. After a Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election has been properly made with respect to any shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, any subsequent transfer of such shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock will automatically revoke such election. Any election form and letter of transmittal may be revoked or changed by the person submitting it, by written notice received by the exchange agent during the election period. In the event an election form and letter of transmittal is revoked during the election period, the holder of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock represented by such election form and letter of transmittal will be deemed to have not made an election, except to the extent a subsequent election is properly made during the election period. Subject to the terms of the Merger Agreement and of the election form and letter of transmittal, the exchange agent will have reasonable discretion to determine whether any election, revocation or change has been properly or timely made and to disregard immaterial defects in an election form and letter of transmittal, and any good faith decisions of the exchange agent regarding such matters will be binding and conclusive. None of Denbury or Penn Virginia or the exchange agent will be under any obligation to notify any person of any defect in an election form and letter of transmittal.

If your shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are held in street name by your broker, bank or other nominee, contact the nominee and request that the nominee make your Mixed Election, Cash Election or Stock Election for you. Penn Virginia shareholders who hold their shares in street name may be subject to an earlier deadline. Therefore, Penn Virginia shareholders should carefully read any materials received from their bank, broker, nominee, trust company or other fiduciary.

Payment for Securities; Exchange

Prior to the effective time of the Merger, Denbury has agreed to appoint a bank or trust company reasonably acceptable to Penn Virginia to act as exchange agent. At or prior to the effective time of the Merger, Denbury will deposit with the exchange agent, in trust for the benefit of the former holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock entitled to receive Merger Consideration (i) the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock issuable to such holders and (ii) an amount of cash sufficient in order for the exchange agent to distribute the cash amounts necessary to cover the cash consideration. Denbury has also agreed to deposit with the exchange agent cash sufficient to make payments in lieu of fractional shares.

Certificates

As promptly as practicable after the effective time of the Merger, Denbury has agreed to cause the exchange agent to deliver to each record holder, as of immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger, of a Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate a notice advising such holder of the effectiveness of the Merger and a form of letter of transmittal with instructions thereto.

Non-DTC Book-Entry Shares

As promptly as practicable after the effective time of the Merger, Denbury has agreed to cause the exchange agent to deliver to each record holder, as of immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger, of book-entry shares of Denbury Common Stock not held through DTC, (i) a notice advising such holders of the effectiveness of the Merger, (ii) a statement reflecting the number of shares of Denbury Common Stock (which must be in uncertificated book-entry form) representing, in the aggregate, the whole number of shares of Denbury Common Stock, if any, that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to the Merger Agreement (after taking into account all shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock then held by such holder) and (iii) a check in the amount equal to the aggregate amount of cash that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to the Merger Agreement, including cash payable in lieu of any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock.

With respect to book-entry shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock held through DTC, Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to cooperate to establish procedures with the exchange agent and DTC to ensure that the exchange agent will transmit to DTC or its nominees as soon as reasonably practicable on or after the closing date, upon surrender of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock held of record by DTC, the Merger Consideration and cash in lieu of fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock (as subject to the applicable provisions of the Merger Agreement), in each case, that DTC has the right to receive.

No Interest

No interest will be paid or accrued on any amount payable for shares of Denbury Common Stock eligible to receive the Merger Consideration pursuant to the Merger Agreement.

Merger Consideration Received in Connection with Exchange

After the effective time of the Merger, upon the surrender of a Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate for cancellation to the exchange agent together with a letter of transmittal, duly completed and validly executed in accordance with the applicable instructions, and such other documents as may reasonably be required pursuant to the instructions accompanying such letter of transmittal, the holder of such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate will be entitled to receive in exchange therefor the Merger Consideration into which the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock previously represented by such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate have been converted and any cash in lieu of fractional shares which such holder has the right to receive, pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement. With respect to book-entry shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, after the effective time of the Merger, payment of the Merger Consideration (including any cash in lieu of fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock) will only be made to the person in whose name such book-entry shares are registered in the stock transfer records of Penn Virginia as of the effective time of the Merger. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Penn Virginia Common Stock that is not registered in the transfer records of Penn Virginia, the proper number of shares of Denbury Common Stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares which the holder has the right to receive may be issued to a transferee if the Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate (or, for book-entry Penn Virginia Common Stock, proper evidence of such transfer) representing such Penn Virginia Common Stock is presented to the exchange agent, accompanied by all documents required to evidence and effect such transfer and by evidence that any applicable stock transfer taxes have been paid. Until such surrender, each Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate will be deemed at any time after the effective time of the Merger to represent only the right to receive upon such surrender the Merger Consideration which the holder of such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates were entitled to receive (and cash in lieu of fractional shares).

Treatment of Unexchanged Shares

No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to shares of Denbury Common Stock with a record date after the effective time of the Merger will be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate with respect to the shares of Denbury Common Stock issuable upon surrender thereof, and no cash payment in lieu of fractional shares will be paid to any such holder, until the surrender of such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate. Subject to abandoned property, escheat, tax or other applicable law, following surrender of any such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate, there will be paid to the holder of the shares of Denbury Common Stock issued in exchange therefor (i) at the time of such surrender, the amount of any cash payable in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock to which such holder is entitled and the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the effective time of the Merger previously paid with respect to such whole shares of Denbury Common Stock and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the effective time of the Merger but prior to such surrender and a payment date subsequent to such surrender payable with respect to such whole shares of Denbury Common Stock.

No Further Ownership Rights in Penn Virginia Common Stock

The shares of Denbury Common Stock issued and cash paid upon conversion of any shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock (including any cash paid in lieu of fractional shares) will be deemed to have been issued and paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to such shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. From and after the effective time, there will be no further registration of transfers on the stock transfer books of the surviving corporation of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock that were outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger. If, subject to certain limitations, after the effective time of the Merger, any Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates or book-entry shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock are presented for transfer to the surviving corporation, Denbury or the exchange agent for any reason, they will be cancelled and exchanged.

No Fractional Shares of Denbury Common Stock

No Penn Virginia Common Stock certificates or scrip representing fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock will be issued upon the conversion of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, and such fractional share interests will not entitle the owner of such fractional share interests to vote or to any rights of a holder of Denbury Common Stock. Each holder of a share of Penn Virginia Common Stock converted pursuant to the Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Denbury Common Stock (after taking into account all shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock exchanged by such holder) will receive, in lieu thereof, cash in an amount equal to such fractional amount multiplied by the average of the volume weighted average price per share of Denbury Common Stock on the NYSE (as reported by Bloomberg, L.P. or, if not reported by Bloomberg, L.P., in another authoritative source mutually selected by Denbury and Penn Virginia) on each of the five consecutive trading days ending with the last complete trading day prior to the closing date of the Merger.

Termination of Exchange Fund

Any portion of the exchange fund that remains undistributed to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock for six months after the effective time of the Merger will be delivered to Denbury, upon demand, and any former holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock who has not previously complied with the terms of the Merger Agreement thereafter will look only to Denbury for, and Denbury will remain liable for, payment of its claim for Merger Consideration, any cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends and other distributions.

No Liability

None of the surviving corporation, Denbury, Merger Sub, or the exchange agent will be liable to any holder of Denbury Common Stock for any amount of Merger Consideration properly delivered to a public official pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat, or similar law.

Investment of Exchange Fund

The exchange agent will invest any cash in the exchange fund as directed by Denbury; provided, that (i) such investments must be in (A) short-term obligations of the United States with maturities of no more than 30 days or guaranteed by the United States and backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, (B) commercial paper obligations of issuers organized under the law of a state of the United States of America, rated A1 or P1 or better by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or Standard & Poor's Corporation, respectively or (C) certificates of deposit, bank repurchase agreements or banker's acceptances of commercial banks with capital exceeding $1 billion, and (ii) no such investment shall have a maturity of more than 30 days. Any interest and other income resulting from such investments will be paid to Denbury; provided, however, that no investment of the exchange fund will relieve Denbury or the exchange agent from promptly making the payments required by the Merger Agreement, and following any losses from any such investment, Denbury will promptly provide additional cash funds to the exchange agent for the benefit of the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock at the effective time of the Merger in the amount of such losses, which additional funds will be deemed to be part of the exchange fund.

Any such amounts so deducted or withheld must be paid over to the relevant governmental entity by Denbury, Penn Virginia, Merger Sub, LLC Sub, the surviving corporation or the exchange agent, as the case may be, and such deducted or withheld amounts must be treated for all purposes of the Merger Agreement as having been paid to the person in respect of which such deduction or withholding was made.

Lost Certificates

If any Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the person claiming such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Denbury, the posting by such person of a bond, in such reasonable and customary amount as Denbury may direct, as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate, the exchange agent (or, if subsequent to the termination of the exchange fund, Denbury) will deliver and pay, in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Penn Virginia Common Stock certificate, the Merger Consideration, any cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends or other distributions in respect thereof.

From and after October 28, 2018 and continuing until the earlier of the effective time of the Merger and termination of the Merger Agreement, Penn Virginia must not (and it must cause its subsidiaries not to) terminate, amend, modify or waive any provision of any confidentiality, standstill or similar agreement to which it or any of its subsidiaries is a

Required Actions

Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to consummate and make effective, as soon as reasonably possible, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated in the Merger Agreement.

Denbury and the Denbury board and Penn Virginia and the Penn Virginia board, as the case may be, have agreed to use their respective reasonable best efforts to (x) take all action reasonably appropriate to ensure that no takeover statute or similar statute or regulation is or becomes applicable to the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement and (y) if any takeover statute or similar statute or regulation becomes applicable to the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement, take all action reasonably appropriate to ensure that the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement may be consummated as promptly as practicable on the terms contemplated by the Merger Agreement (such actions we refer to as the anti-takeover actions).

Denbury has agreed to take reasonable best efforts to obtain the expiration or early termination of the HSR Act waiting period, including but not limited to (i) jointly proposing with Penn Virginia to negotiate, commit to and effect, by consent decree, hold separate order or otherwise, the sale, divestiture, transfer, license, or disposition of, or prohibition or limitation on the ownership or operation by Denbury, Penn Virginia or any of their respective subsidiaries of, any portion of the business, properties or assets of Denbury, Penn Virginia or any of their respective subsidiaries, (ii) terminating, modifying, or assigning existing relationships, contracts, or obligations of Denbury or its subsidiaries or affiliates or those relating to any assets, properties, or businesses to be acquired pursuant to the Merger Agreement, (iii) changing or modifying any course of conduct regarding future operations of Denbury or its subsidiaries or affiliates or the assets, properties, or businesses to be acquired pursuant to the Merger Agreement, or (iv) otherwise taking or committing to take any other action that would limit Denbury's or its subsidiaries' or affiliates' freedom of action with respect to, or their ability to retain, one or more of their respective operations, divisions, businesses, product lines, customers, assets or rights or interests, or their freedom of action with respect to the assets, properties, or businesses to be acquired pursuant to the Merger Agreement (which we refer to as, a divestiture action); provided that Denbury or any Denbury subsidiaries are not obligated to take any divestiture action or other action unless such action is expressly conditioned upon and is only effective after the closing of the Merger and such action would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on the business, financial condition or operations of Denbury and its subsidiaries from and after the effective time of the Merger, taken as a whole. Penn Virginia has agreed to agree to take any divestiture action requested by Denbury if such actions are only effective after the effective time of the Merger and conditioned upon the consummation of the Merger. In the event that any divestiture action is proposed by or acceptable to a governmental entity, Denbury will have the right to determine the manner in which to implement the requirement of such governmental entity; provided, that in no event will Denbury or Penn Virginia (or any of their respective subsidiaries or other affiliates) be required to take or effect any such action that is not conditioned upon the consummation of the Merger; provided, further, that Denbury must consult with Penn Virginia and give consideration to the views of Penn Virginia on all matters relating to any possible divestiture action.

In addition, if any action or proceeding is instituted (or threatened) challenging the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement as violating any antitrust, competition, foreign investment, trade regulation or similar law or if any decree, order, judgment, or injunction (whether temporary, preliminary, or permanent) is entered, enforced, or attempted to be entered or enforced by any governmental entity that would make the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement illegal or otherwise delay or prohibit the consummation of the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement, Denbury, its affiliates and subsidiaries and Penn Virginia, its affiliates and subsidiaries, have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to contest and defend any such claim, cause of action, or proceeding to avoid entry of, or to have vacated, lifted, reversed, repealed, rescinded, or terminated, any decree, order, judgment, or injunction (whether temporary, preliminary, or permanent) that prohibits, prevents, or restricts consummation of the Merger or any other transaction contemplated by the Merger Agreement. Denbury will be entitled to direct any such action or proceeding provided, however, that it must afford Penn Virginia a reasonable opportunity to participate therein.

Indemnification; Directors and Officers Insurance

Denbury and the surviving corporation, jointly and severally, have agreed to: (i) indemnify and hold harmless each person who is now, or has been or becomes at any time prior to the effective time of the Merger,

Table of Contents

(A) an officer or director of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries or (B) a director, officer, member, trustee or fiduciary of another corporation, foundation, partnership, joint venture, trust, pension or other employee benefit plan or enterprise if such service was at the request or for the benefit of the Indemnified Parties (as defined above) to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by applicable law from and against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs, indemnification expenses, judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement (including all interest, assessments and other charges paid or payable in connection with or in respect of any thereof) arising out of or in connection with any claim or action; and (ii) promptly pay on behalf of or, within 15 days after any request for advancement, advance to each of the Indemnified Parties, any indemnification expenses incurred in defending, serving as a witness with respect to or otherwise participating with respect to any claim or action in advance of the final disposition of such claim or action, including payment on behalf of or advancement to the Indemnified Party of any indemnification expenses incurred by such Indemnified Party in connection with enforcing any rights with respect to such indemnification and/or advancement, in each case without the requirement of any bond or other security. The indemnification and advancement obligations of Denbury and the surviving corporation pursuant to the Merger Agreement extend to acts or omissions occurring at or before the effective time of the Merger in the capacity as a director or officer of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries and any claim or action relating thereto (including with respect to any acts or omissions occurring in connection with the adoption or approval of the Merger Agreement and the consummation of the transactions contemplated thereby, including the consideration and approval thereof and the process undertaken in connection therewith and any claim or action relating thereto), and all rights to indemnification and advancement conferred under the Merger Agreement continue as to any Indemnified Party who has ceased to be a director or officer of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries after October 28, 2018 (with respect to acts or omissions occurring prior to such cessation) and inure to the benefit of such Indemnified Party's heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives.

In the event that Denbury, the surviving corporation, LLC Sub or any of their successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, must cause proper provision to be made so that the successors and assigns of Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, assume the obligations set forth in the Merger Agreement contemporaneous with the closing of any such consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance.

On or prior to the effective time of the Merger, Denbury has agreed to purchase a tail directors and officers liability insurance policy covering the six-year period from and after the effective time of the Merger for Penn Virginia and its current and former directors and officers who are currently covered by the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia from a carrier with the same or better credit rating to Penn Virginia's current directors and officers liability insurance carrier on terms not less favorable to the insured persons than the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia as of October 28, 2018 with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred on or before the effective time of the Merger, except that in no event will Denbury be required to pay with respect to such tail policy more than 300% of the aggregate annual premium currently paid by Penn Virginia for such insurance (which we refer to as the maximum amount). If Denbury is unable to obtain the tail policy described in the foregoing sentence as of the effective time of the Merger, Denbury must cause the surviving corporation or LLC Sub to provide the current and former directors and officers of Penn Virginia and subsidiaries of Penn Virginia with an insurance and indemnification policy (from an insurance carrier with the same or better credit rating as the current insurer) that provides directors and officers liability insurance for events, acts and omissions occurring at or prior to the effective time of the Merger for an aggregate period of no less than six years from the effective time of the Merger that is not materially less favorable than Penn Virginia's existing policy or, if such coverage is unavailable, the best available coverage; provided, however, that in no event will Denbury or the surviving corporation be required to expend for such policies an aggregate premium amount greater than the maximum amount.

Fees and Expenses

Except as provided below in the section entitled Termination beginning on page 180, all fees and expenses incurred in connection with the Merger Agreement, the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement will be paid by the party incurring such fees or expenses, whether or not the Merger or such transactions are consummated.

Each of Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Integrated Mergers, taken together, to qualify, and will not take (and will use its reasonable best efforts to prevent any affiliate of such party from taking) any actions that would reasonably be expected to prevent the Integrated Mergers, taken together, from qualifying as a reorganization under the provisions of Section 368(a) of the Code. Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to cooperate with one another and use their respective reasonable best efforts to obtain the opinions of counsel referred to in the section entitled The Merger Agreement Conditions to the Completion of the Merger beginning on page 178, including, in connection therewith with obtaining such opinions in each case dated as of the closing date of the Merger (and, if requested, dated as of the date on which the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus forms a part is declared effective by the SEC) and providing such other information as reasonably requested by counsel for purposes of rendering the opinions.

Transaction Litigation

In the event that any litigation or other legal proceedings by any governmental entity or other person are commenced or, to the knowledge of Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, threatened, that questions the validity or legality of the Merger or other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement or seeks damages or injunctive relief in connection with the Merger or other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including stockholder litigation (we refer to such litigation as the transaction litigation), Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, must promptly (and in any event, within one business day) notify the other party orally and in writing of such litigation and must keep the other party reasonably informed with respect to its status. Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, must give the other party a reasonable opportunity to participate in the defense or settlement of any transaction litigation at the other party's sole cost and expense and must consider in good faith the other party's advice with respect to such transaction litigation; provided, that Penn Virginia or Denbury may not cease to defend any such transaction litigation without the prior written consent of the other party; provided, further, that Penn Virginia may not consent to the entry of any judgment, offer or agree to settle, or take any other material action with respect to such transaction litigation without the prior written consent of Denbury. Each of Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to cooperate and cause the Denbury subsidiaries and subsidiaries of Penn Virginia, as applicable, to cooperate, and have agreed to use their reasonable best efforts to cause its representatives to cooperate in the defense against any transaction litigation.

Denbury, through the Denbury board and subject to the Denbury board's fiduciary duties to the stockholders of Denbury, has agreed to take all necessary action to recommend that the Penn Virginia Appointed Directors be elected to the Denbury board in the proxy statement relating to the first annual meeting of the stockholders of Denbury following the closing of the Merger.

Public Announcements

Except with respect to (i) any Denbury Adverse Recommendation Change or Penn Virginia Adverse Recommendation Change made in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement or (ii) any action taken by Denbury or the Denbury board, or by Penn Virginia or the Penn Virginia board pursuant to, and in accordance with, certain terms described in the Merger Agreement, Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed to consult with each other before issuing, and give each other the opportunity to review and comment upon, any press release or other public statements with respect to the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement and may not issue any such press release or make any such public statement without the prior written approval of the other party, except as such party may reasonably conclude may be required by applicable law, court process or by obligations pursuant to any listing agreement with any national securities exchange or national securities quotation system; provided, in each case, such party uses reasonable best efforts to afford the other party an opportunity to first review the content of the proposed disclosure and provide reasonable comments thereon which the disclosing party must consider in good faith. Penn Virginia has agreed to cooperate with Denbury in connection with the foregoing, including the provision of information reasonably requested by Denbury in connection therewith.

Stock Exchange De-Listing

Each of Denbury and Penn Virginia has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Penn Virginia Common Stock and any other securities of Penn Virginia specified by Denbury to be de-listed from the Nasdaq and de-registered under the Exchange Act as soon as reasonably practicable following the effective time of the Merger.

Employee Matters

For a period of one year following the effective time of the Merger, Denbury has agreed to provide each individual who is actively employed by Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger and who continues employment with the surviving corporation, LLC Sub or any of their respective subsidiaries as of the closing date of the Merger (such employee we refer to as a Penn Virginia employee) with (i) a base salary or wage rate and target incentive compensation opportunity (including equity-based compensation) that, in each case, is no less favorable than the base salary or wage rate and target incentive compensation opportunity (including equity-based compensation) in effect for such Penn Virginia employee immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger and (ii) health, welfare and retirement benefits that are no less favorable, in the aggregate, than the health, welfare and retirement benefits provided to such Penn Virginia employee immediately prior to the effective time of the Merger.

For purposes of each benefit plan of Denbury or its subsidiaries, Denbury and its subsidiaries have agreed to use best efforts to (i) cause all pre-existing condition exclusions and actively-at-work requirements of such plans to be waived for each Penn Virginia employee and their covered dependents, to the extent such conditions were inapplicable or waived under the comparable benefits plans of Penn Virginia or any subsidiary of Penn Virginia in which such Penn Virginia employee participated immediately prior to the closing date of the Merger and (ii) give full credit for all co-payments, coinsurance, maximum out-of-pocket requirements and deductibles to the extent satisfied in the plan year in which the effective time of the Merger occurs (or the year in which the Penn Virginia employee and its dependents commence participation in the benefit plans of Denbury and its subsidiaries, if later) as if there had been a single continuous employer.

The Merger Agreement may also be terminated by either Denbury or Penn Virginia at any time prior to the effective time of the Merger in any of the following situations:

if the Merger is not consummated on or before April 30, 2019 (the "end date"), so long as the failure of the Merger to occur on or before the end date is not the result of a breach of the Merger Agreement by the terminating party or the failure of any representation or warranty of the terminating party contained in the Merger Agreement to be true and correct (which we refer to as the "end date termination event");

if any applicable law is in effect or any court or tribunal of competent jurisdiction issues a final and non-appealable order that prevents, makes illegal or prohibits the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including the Merger, so long as such law or order are not the result of a breach by the terminating party of its obligations under the Merger Agreement;

In addition, the Merger Agreement may be terminated by Denbury:

if Penn Virginia breaches or fails to perform any of its obligations under the Merger Agreement, or if any of the representations or warranties of Penn Virginia contained in the Merger Agreement fails to be true and correct, which breach or failure (i) would give rise to the failure of the closing conditions related to Penn Virginia's representations and warranties and covenants and (ii) is not reasonably capable of being cured by Penn Virginia by the end date or is not cured by Penn Virginia within 45 days after receiving written notice from Denbury (provided that Denbury is not then in breach of any covenant or agreement contained in the Merger Agreement and no representation or warranty of Denbury contained in the Merger Agreement then fails to be true and correct such that the closing conditions related to Denbury's representations and warranties and covenants could not then be satisfied) (which we refer to as a Penn Virginia breach termination event);

if a Penn Virginia Adverse Recommendation Change has occurred (whether or not such Penn Virginia Adverse Recommendation Change is permitted by the Merger Agreement);

if Penn Virginia, any of its subsidiaries or any of its or their representatives has materially breached its non-solicitation obligations under the Merger Agreement (which are described in the section entitled "The Merger Agreement No Solicitation; Adverse Recommendation Changes" beginning on page 157); and if Denbury or Merger Sub breaches or fails to perform any of their obligations under the Merger Agreement, or if any of the representations or warranties of Denbury or Merger Sub contained in the Merger Agreement fails to be true and correct, which breach or failure (i) would give rise to the failure of the closing conditions related to Denbury and Merger Sub's representations and warranties and covenants and (ii) is not reasonably capable of being cured by Denbury by the end date or is not cured by Denbury within 45 days after receiving written notice from Penn Virginia (provided that Penn Virginia is not then in breach of any covenant or agreement contained in the Merger Agreement and no representation or warranty of Penn Virginia contained in the Merger Agreement then fails to be true and correct such that the closing conditions related to Penn Virginia's representations and warranties and covenants could not then be satisfied) (which we refer to as a Denbury breach termination event);

However, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Merger Agreement, no termination of the Merger Agreement will relieve any party to the Merger Agreement of any liability for fraud or knowing and intentional breach of the Merger Agreement.

Specific Performance; Remedies

Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed that irreparable damage would occur in the event that any of the provisions of the Merger Agreement were not performed in accordance with their specific terms or were otherwise breached, and that monetary damages, even if available, would not be an adequate remedy therefor. Denbury and Penn Virginia have also agreed that, prior to the termination of the Merger Agreement, Denbury and Penn Virginia will be entitled to an injunction or injunctions to prevent breaches of the Merger Agreement and to enforce specifically the performance of terms and provisions of the Merger Agreement in court, without proof of actual damages (and each party waived any requirement for the securing or posting of any bond in connection with such remedy), in addition to any other remedy to which they are entitled at law or in equity. Denbury and Penn Virginia have agreed not to assert that a remedy of specific enforcement is unenforceable, invalid, contrary to law or inequitable for any reason, nor to assert that a remedy of monetary damages would provide an adequate remedy for any such breach.

Each of Denbury and Penn Virginia has (i) consented to submit for itself and its property to the exclusive personal jurisdiction of the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware and any appellate court thereof, or, if the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or the Delaware Supreme Court determines that, notwithstanding section 111 of the DGCL, the Court of Chancery does not have or should not exercise subject matter jurisdiction over such matter, any Delaware state court or any federal court located in the State of Delaware and any appellate court thereof in the event any dispute arises out of the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, (ii) agreed that it will not attempt to deny or defeat such personal jurisdiction by motion or other request for leave from any such court, (iii) agreed that it will not bring any action relating to the Merger Agreement, the Merger or any of the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement in any court other than as provided in the Merger Agreement, (iv) agreed that service of process or summons by registered mail addressed to them at their respective addresses will be effective service of process against them for any such proceeding brought in any such court, (v) agreed to waive, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, any objection which any of them may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of, and the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of, any such proceeding in any such court, and (vi) agreed that a final and non-appealable judgment in any such proceeding will be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by applicable law.

Amendment

Prior to the effective time of the Merger, the Merger Agreement may be amended by Denbury or Penn Virginia at any time before or after receipt of approval of the Denbury Issuance Proposal and the Denbury Charter Amendment Proposal by Denbury stockholders or approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal by Penn Virginia shareholders. However, after receipt of approval of the Denbury Stock Issuance and Denbury Charter Amendment from the Denbury stockholders, there may be made no amendment that by law requires further approval by the Denbury stockholders without the further approval of such stockholders, and after receipt of approval of the Penn Virginia Merger Proposal, there may be made no amendment that by law requires further approval by Penn Virginia shareholders without the further approval of such shareholders.

Governing Law

The Merger Agreement (other than certain financing related provisions) is governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of Delaware, regardless of the laws that might otherwise govern under any applicable principles of conflicts of laws of the State of Delaware, except to the extent that the VSCA is mandatorily applicable to any provision of the Merger Agreement.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE INTEGRATED MERGERS

The following is a general discussion of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to U.S. holders (as defined below) of Penn Virginia Common Stock that exchange their Penn Virginia Common Stock for Merger Consideration in the Merger. This discussion is limited to U.S. holders who hold their Penn Virginia Common Stock as a capital asset (generally, property held for investment). The discussion is based on current provisions of the Code, its legislative history, U.S. Treasury Regulations promulgated under the Code, judicial interpretations thereof and administrative rulings and published positions of the Internal Revenue Service (the IRS), each as in effect as of the date hereof and all of which are subject to change or differing interpretations, possibly with retroactive effect, and any such change or differing interpretation could affect the accuracy of the statements and conclusions set forth herein.

For purposes of this discussion, a U.S. holder is a beneficial owner of Penn Virginia Common Stock that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, is:

an individual who is a citizen or resident of the United States;

a corporation (or other entity treated as a corporation for U.S. federal income tax purposes) created or organized in or under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia;

an estate the income of which is subject to U.S. federal income taxation regardless of its source; or a trust (i) the administration of which is subject to the primary supervision of a U.S. court and which has one or more United States persons who have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (ii) which has made a valid election under applicable U.S. Treasury Regulations to be treated as a United States person.

If a partnership (including an entity or arrangement treated as a partnership for U.S. federal income tax purposes) holds Penn Virginia Common Stock, the tax treatment of a partner in such partnership generally will depend upon the status of the partner, upon the activities of the partnership and upon certain determinations made at the partner level. Accordingly, persons that, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, are treated as a partner in a partnership holding Penn Virginia Common Stock should consult their tax advisors regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to them.

This discussion is for general information only and does not purport to address all aspects of U.S. federal income taxation that may be relevant to a U.S. holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock in light of that U.S. holder's particular circumstances or to a U.S. holder subject to special rules under the U.S. federal income tax laws (such as, for example, dealers or brokers in securities, commodities or foreign currencies; traders in securities that elect to apply a mark-to-market method of accounting; banks and certain other financial institutions; insurance companies; mutual funds; tax-exempt organizations; holders subject to the alternative minimum tax; partnerships, S corporations or other pass-through entities (or investors in such partnerships, S corporations or such other passthrough entities); regulated investment companies; real estate investment trusts; certain former citizens or long-term residents of the United States; holders whose functional currency is not the U.S. dollar; holders who hold shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale or conversion transaction or other integrated investment; holders who acquired Penn Virginia Common Stock pursuant to the exercise of employee stock options, through a tax qualified retirement plan or otherwise as compensation; or holders who actually or constructively own more than 5% of Penn Virginia Common Stock). This discussion does not address any considerations under U.S. federal tax laws other than those pertaining to the income tax, nor does it address any considerations under the Medicare tax on certain net investment income or any state, local or non-U.S. tax laws. Furthermore, except as noted in the paragraph below, it does not address any tax consequences to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock who are not U.S. holders.

The actual tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to a holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock may be complex and will depend on such holder's specific situation and on factors that are not within Denbury's or Penn Virginia's control. Holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock should consult their tax advisors with respect to the particular tax consequences to them of the Integrated Mergers, including the applicability and effect of any U.S. federal, U.S. state or local or non-U.S. tax laws or any applicable tax treaty. Holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock that are not U.S. holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the possibility that, in the event the applicable withholding agent is unable to determine whether any cash consideration paid in the Merger should be treated as a dividend for applicable U.S. federal income tax purposes, such withholding agent may withhold U.S. federal tax at a rate of 30% (or such lower rate as may be specified by an applicable income tax treaty) on the entire amount of cash consideration payable to such non-U.S. holder in the Merger.

Treatment of the Integrated Mergers

Denbury and Penn Virginia intend for the Integrated Mergers, taken together, to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. It is a condition to each of Denbury's and Penn Virginia's obligation to complete such mergers that it receive a written opinion from its counsel, Vinson & Elkins and Skadden, respectively, to the effect that the Integrated Mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. These opinions will be based on representations made by Denbury and Penn Virginia and on customary factual assumptions, as well as certain covenants and undertakings of Denbury and Penn Virginia. If any of such representations, assumptions, covenants or undertakings is or becomes incorrect, incomplete, inaccurate or is violated, the validity of the opinions described above may be affected and the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers could differ materially from those described below. In addition, neither of the opinions described above will be binding on the IRS or any court. Denbury and Penn Virginia have not sought and will not seek any ruling from the IRS regarding any matters relating to the Integrated Mergers. There can be no assurance that the IRS will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the conclusions set forth below. The following assumes the receipt and accuracy of the above-described opinions.

U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Integrated Mergers to U.S. Holders

The U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to a U.S. holder generally will depend on whether such U.S. holder exchanges its Penn Virginia Common Stock for cash consideration, stock consideration or a combination of cash consideration and stock consideration.

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Cash

A U.S. holder who receives solely cash consideration in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain or loss in an amount equal to the difference, if any, between (1) the amount of cash received and (2) such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered. Subject to the discussion below under Possible Dividend Treatment, any such gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the Merger, the U.S. holder's holding period in the Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered is more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

U.S. holders electing to receive only cash in the Merger may be subject to proration (see the discussion under The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures beginning on page 81), which may result in the receipt of a portion of the Merger Consideration in Denbury Common Stock in addition to cash. See the discussion under U.S. Holders Who Receive a Combination of Shares of Denbury Common Stock and Cash for a general description of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. holders of the receipt of Denbury Common Stock and cash.

U.S. Holders Who Receive Solely Shares of Denbury Common Stock

A U.S. holder who receives solely shares of Denbury Common Stock in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will not recognize any gain or loss, except with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock (as discussed below in the section titled "Receipt of Cash Upon the Deemed Sale of a Fractional Share"). Each U.S. holder will have an aggregate tax basis in the shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger (including any fractional shares deemed received and redeemed for cash as discussed below) equal to such U.S. holder's aggregate adjusted tax basis in the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered in the Merger and a holding period for the shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger (including any fractional shares deemed received and redeemed for cash as discussed below) that includes the holding period of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered in the Merger. If a U.S. holder has differing tax bases and/or holding periods in respect of its shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock, such U.S. holder should consult its tax advisor with respect to the determination of the tax bases and holding periods of the shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger.

U.S. holders electing to receive only Denbury Common Stock in the Merger may be subject to proration (see the discussion under "The Merger Proration and Adjustment Procedures"), which may result in the receipt of a portion of the Merger Consideration in cash in addition to Denbury Common Stock. See the discussion under "U.S. Holders Who Receive a Combination of Shares of Denbury Common Stock and Cash" for a general description of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences to U.S. holders of the receipt of Denbury Common Stock and cash.

U.S. Holders Who Receive a Combination of Shares of Denbury Common Stock and Cash

A U.S. holder who receives a combination of shares of Denbury Common Stock and cash (other than cash in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock) in exchange for Penn Virginia Common Stock in the Merger generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (i) the amount by which the sum of the fair market value of the Denbury Common Stock and cash received by the U.S. holder exceeds such U.S. holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered and (ii) the amount of cash received by such U.S. holder (in each case excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock, which will be treated as discussed below). Subject to the discussion below under "Possible Dividend Treatment," any recognized gain generally will be long-term capital gain if, as of the effective date of the Merger, the U.S. holder's holding period with respect to the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered is more than one year.

Each U.S. holder will have an aggregate tax basis in the shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger (including any fractional shares deemed received and redeemed for cash, as discussed below) equal to such U.S. holder's aggregate adjusted tax basis in the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered in the Merger, (i) decreased by the amount of cash received (excluding any cash received in lieu of fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock), and (ii) increased by the amount of gain recognized with respect to the exchange (regardless of whether such gain is classified as capital gain or dividend income, as discussed below, but excluding any gain recognized with respect to any fractional shares of Denbury Common Stock for which cash is received, as discussed below). Each U.S. holder will have a holding period for the shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger (including any fractional shares deemed received and redeemed for cash as discussed below) that includes the holding period of the shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock surrendered in the Merger.

If a U.S. holder acquired different blocks of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock at different times or at different prices, any gain or loss will be determined separately with respect to each block of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock and such U.S. holder's basis and holding period in its shares of Denbury Common Stock may be determined with reference to each block of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Any such U.S. holder should consult its tax advisor regarding the manner in which cash and shares of Denbury Common Stock received in the Merger should be allocated among different blocks of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock and with respect to identifying the bases and holding periods of the particular shares of Denbury Common Stock received.

Receipt of Cash Upon the Deemed Sale of a Fractional Share

A U.S. holder who receives cash in lieu of a fractional share of Denbury Common Stock generally will be treated as having received such fractional share pursuant to the Merger and then as having sold such fractional share to Denbury for cash. As a result, such U.S. holder will generally recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the tax basis allocated to such fractional share of Denbury Common Stock (as described above). Subject to the discussion below under Possible Dividend Treatment, such gain or loss generally will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the Merger, the U.S. holder's holding period for such fractional share (as described above) is more than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitation.

Possible Dividend Treatment

In some cases described above, if a U.S. holder actually or constructively owns Denbury Common Stock after the Integrated Mergers, the gain recognized by such U.S. holder could be treated as having the effect of the distribution of a dividend under the tests set forth in Section 302 of the Code, in which case such U.S. holder may have dividend income up to the amount of the cash received. Because the possibility of dividend treatment depends primarily upon the particular circumstances of a U.S. holder, including the application of certain constructive ownership rules, U.S. holders should consult their tax advisors regarding the potential tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to them.

Backup Withholding and Information Reporting

Payments of cash to a U.S. holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock in connection with the Merger generally will be subject to information reporting and may, under certain circumstances, be subject to backup withholding, unless the U.S. holder provides proof of an applicable exemption or furnishes its taxpayer identification number and otherwise complies with all applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules. Backup withholding is not an additional tax. Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will be allowed as a refund or credit against a U.S. holder's U.S. federal income tax liability, if any, provided that certain required information is timely furnished to the IRS.

The preceding discussion is intended only as a summary of the material U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers. It is not a complete analysis or discussion of all potential tax effects that may be important to a particular U.S. holder. All holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock are strongly encouraged to consult their tax advisors as to the specific tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers to them, including tax reporting requirements, and the applicability and effect of any federal, state, local and non-U.S. tax laws.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The following unaudited pro forma combined financial information is based on the historical consolidated financial statements of Denbury Resources Inc. (Denbury) and Penn Virginia Corporation (Penn Virginia), adjusted to reflect the proposed acquisition of Penn Virginia by Denbury and the related financing transactions.

The unaudited pro forma combined balance sheet gives effect to the acquisition of Penn Virginia by Denbury and the related financing transactions, as if they had occurred on September 30, 2018. The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations combine the results of operations of Denbury and Penn Virginia for the year ended December 31, 2017 and the nine months ended September 30, 2018. The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations give effect to the following events as if they had occurred on January 1, 2017:

Denbury's acquisition of Penn Virginia. The acquisition of Penn Virginia will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. The unaudited pro forma combined financial information reflects the allocation of (1) the fair value of the consideration transferred and (2) the fair value of the underlying assets acquired and liabilities assumed of Penn Virginia based upon their estimated fair values;

Borrowings under Denbury's newly committed $1.2 billion senior secured bank credit facility (approximately $411.8 million) and $400 million senior secured second lien bridge financing (approximately $400.0 million). The newly committed credit facility and bridge facility borrowings and proceeds will be used as follows:

fund the aggregate cash consideration of $400.0 million to Penn Virginia shareholders upon conversion of their Penn Virginia Common Stock; repay a portion of Penn Virginia's credit facility ($282.5 million) and second lien term loan ($200.0 million); and pay debt and equity issuance costs (approximately $22.6 million) and transaction expenses (approximately $23.4 million) related to the acquisition.

Adjustments to conform the classification of revenues and expenses in Penn Virginia's historical statements of operations to Denbury's classification of similar revenues and expenses; and Estimated tax impact of pro forma adjustments.

The unaudited pro forma combined statements of operations exclude the impact of nonrecurring expenses Denbury and Penn Virginia will incur as a result of the acquisition and related financings, primarily non-capitalizable banking and legal fees.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the respective Form 10-K of Denbury and Penn Virginia for the year ended December 31, 2017, the respective Form 10-Q of Denbury and Penn Virginia for the quarter ended September 30, 2018 and other information that both companies have filed with the SEC and incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

The unaudited pro forma combined financial information is for informational purposes only and is not intended to represent or to be indicative of the combined results of operations or financial position that Denbury or the pro forma combined company would have reported had the Penn Virginia acquisition been completed as of the dates set forth in this unaudited pro forma combined financial information and should not be taken as indicative of Denbury's future combined results of operations or financial position. The actual results may differ significantly from those reflected in the unaudited pro forma combined financial information for a number of reasons, including, but not limited to, differences between the assumptions used to prepare the unaudited pro forma combined financial information and actual results.

On October 28, 2018, Denbury and Penn Virginia entered the Merger Agreement pursuant to which Denbury will acquire Penn Virginia in a stock and cash transaction valued (based upon Denbury's per share closing price on the NYSE on October 26, 2018) at approximately $1.7 billion, including the assumption of Penn Virginia debt.

On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, each share of Penn Virginia Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the merger effective time (other than as described in the Merger Agreement) shall be converted into the right to receive, at the election of the holder of such share of Penn Virginia Common Stock, either, (i) $25.86 in cash without interest and 12.4 shares of Denbury Common Stock (the Mixed Election Consideration), (ii) $79.80 in cash without interest (the Cash Election Consideration), or (iii) 18.3454 shares of Denbury Common Stock (the Stock Election Consideration). The Cash Election Consideration and the Stock Election Consideration will be subject to proration to ensure that the total amount of cash paid to holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock is equal to $400 million. Based on the closing price of Denbury Common Stock on October 26, 2018, the overall mix of consideration to be received by Penn Virginia shareholders was expected to be approximately 68% Denbury Common Stock (approximately 191.8 million shares of Denbury Common Stock) and approximately 32% cash ($400 million cash) in the aggregate. Upon closing of the Merger, Denbury stockholders are expected to own approximately 71% of the outstanding equity of the combined company, and Penn Virginia shareholders are expected to own approximately 29%.

In connection with the Merger Agreement, Denbury received the commitment letter from JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., subject to certain funding conditions, for a proposed new $1.2 billion senior secured revolving credit facility with a maturity date of December 9, 2021 and a $400 million senior secured second lien bridge facility that will be available to the extent Denbury does not secure alternate financing prior to the end of the bridge takedown period. The two new debt financings will be used to fully or partially fund the $400 million cash portion of the consideration in the Merger, potentially retire and replace Penn Virginia's $200 million second lien term loan, replace Penn Virginia's existing bank credit facility, which had $283 million drawn and outstanding as of September 30, 2018, and pay fees and expenses. The unaudited pro forma combined financial information assumes that only a portion of the senior secured revolving credit facility and bridge facility have been drawn upon to effect the transaction described herein.

Penn Virginia's second lien term loan has a prepayment premium in the event of a change in control of 102%, which requires Denbury to repay the loan at 102% of par value within a specified period after consummation of the merger.

Proceeds from Denbury's borrowings under the new senior secured revolving credit facility and senior secured second lien bridge loan will be used as follows:

Note 2. Unaudited Pro forma Combined Balance Sheet

The acquisition of Penn Virginia will be accounted for using the acquisition method of accounting. Denbury will receive carryover tax basis in Penn Virginia's assets and liabilities because the Integrated Mergers will be a tax-deferred transaction under the Code. The sum of the estimated fair value of consideration transferred was allocated based on a preliminary assessment of the estimated fair value of the assets acquired and liabilities assumed at September 30, 2018 using currently available information. Denbury expects to finalize the determination and allocation of the purchase consideration as soon as practicable after completion of the proposed acquisition. The final value of the purchase consideration and purchase price allocation and the resulting effect on results of operations and financial position may significantly differ from the pro forma amounts included herein.

The purchase price allocation is preliminary and is subject to change due to several factors, including:

changes in the estimated fair value of the stock consideration transferred depending on its estimated fair value at the date of closing (i.e., last trading price);

changes in the estimated fair values of Penn Virginia's assets and liabilities as of the acquisition date, which could result from changes in NYMEX oil and natural gas futures, changes in reserve estimates as well as other changes; and the tax basis of Penn Virginia's assets and liabilities at the acquisition date.

The consideration to be transferred, fair value of assets acquired and liabilities assumed was calculated as follows:

(1) Represents 191.8 million Denbury common shares at $2.10 per share (closing price as of December 11, 2018). From the date prior to the initial public announcement of the Merger to December 11, 2018, the preliminary value of Denbury's purchase consideration to be transferred has decreased approximately $432 million as a result of the decrease in the price of Denbury Common Stock from $4.35 to $2.10. The final value of Denbury's purchase consideration will be determined based on the actual number of shares of Denbury Common Stock issued and the market price of Denbury Common Stock on the closing date of the Merger. A ten percent increase or decrease in the closing price of Denbury Common Stock, as compared to the December 11, 2018 closing price of $2.10, would increase or decrease the purchase price and the assigned value of oil and natural gas properties by approximately $40 million, with a corresponding increase or decrease to depletion, depreciation, and amortization of approximately $2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2018, assuming all other factors are held constant.

(2) Total amount of cash consideration payable to Penn Virginia shareholders under the Merger Agreement.

Pro forma interest expense under the Newly Committed Credit Facility assumes an interest rate of 4.96% which was calculated using LIBOR rates at December 11, 2018. Each 1/8% fluctuation in the credit facility interest rate would change pro forma interest expense by approximately $0.4 million and $0.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and the year ended December 31, 2017, respectively.

Table of Contents

Pro forma borrowings at September 30, 2018 under the Bridge Facility are $400 million. Interest on the Bridge Facility will initially accrue interest at the Eurodollar rate on the closing date of the acquisition plus 5.25%. Pro forma interest expense under the Bridge Facility was calculated using LIBOR rates at December 11, 2018 and assumes an interest rate of 7.67%. Each 1/8% fluctuation in the credit facility interest rate would change pro forma interest expense by approximately $0.4 million and $0.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2018 and the year ended December 31, 2017, respectively.

- (c) Represents the change in depreciation, depletion, and amortization primarily resulting from the recalculation of the combined entity's depletion expense. Depreciation, depletion, and amortization was calculated using the unit of production method under the full cost method of accounting, and includes adjustments for (1) the increase in depreciation, depletion, and amortization reflecting the fair values and production volumes attributable to the acquired properties and (2) the revision to Denbury's DD&A rate reflecting the proved reserve volumes acquired and future development costs associated with the acquisition. The effective tax rate of the combined company could be significantly different (either higher or lower) depending on post-merger activities.
- (e) Reflects Denbury Common Stock estimated to be issued to Penn Virginia shareholders.

- (b) Improved recovery reflects reserve additions that result from the application of secondary recovery methods such as water flooding, or tertiary recovery methods such as CO₂ flooding. In order to recognize proved tertiary oil reserves, Denbury must either have an oil production response to CO₂ injections or the field must be analogous to an existing tertiary flood. The magnitude of proved reserves that can be booked in any given year will depend on progress with new floods and the timing of the production response.

In no event shall the public announcement of an adjournment or postponement of an annual meeting of stockholders commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice.

Stockholder Action by Written Consent

Any action that may be authorized or taken at a meeting of Penn Virginia's shareholders may be authorized or taken without a meeting only by unanimous written consent of the shareholders who would be entitled to vote on the action.

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that the Penn Virginia board shall consist of a number more than one and that the number of directors may be changed from time to time by resolution of a majority of the Penn Virginia board.

Denbury's certificate of incorporation provides that the number of directors which must constitute the whole Denbury board shall be fixed from time to time by the board.

The Denbury bylaws provide that directors shall be elected at each annual meeting of stockholders to hold office until the next annual meeting and until their successors are elected and qualified or until their earlier resignation or removal. At least two-thirds of the directors must be independent under the rules of the NYSE.

Limitation on Liability of Directors

Under the VSCA, to the extent provided in its articles of incorporation or its shareholder-approved bylaws, a corporation may eliminate a director's or an officer's personal liability for monetary damages in any proceeding brought by or in the right of the corporation or brought by or on behalf of shareholders, except for liability resulting from such director's or officer's willful misconduct or a knowing violation of criminal law or of any federal or state securities law.

Denbury's certificate of incorporation provides that no director will be personally liable to Denbury or to its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, provided that the certificate of incorporation does not eliminate or limit the liability of a director: (i) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to Denbury or its stockholders, (ii) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (iii) under Section 174 of the DGCL, as it may be subsequently amended from time to time, or (iv) for any transaction from which the

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that, to the fullest extent permitted by the VSCA, as it exists or as it may be amended, a director or officer will not be personally liable to Penn Virginia or its shareholders for monetary damages with respect to any transaction, occurrence or course of conduct, whether prior or subsequent to the date of the articles of incorporation. director derived an improper personal benefit.

Indemnification of Directors and Officers

Under the VSCA, a corporation is permitted to indemnify its directors and officers in connection with certain actions, suits and proceedings brought against them if they acted in good faith and believed their conduct to be in the best interests of the corporation and, in the case of criminal actions, had no reasonable cause to believe that the conduct was unlawful.

Denbury's certificate of incorporation provides that Denbury must, to the fullest extent permitted by law, indemnify any person threatened to be made or made a party to any action or proceeding by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director or officer of Denbury or served any other enterprise as a director, officer, employee or agent at the request of Denbury or any predecessor.

The VSCA requires such indemnification when a director or officer entirely prevails in the defense of any proceeding to which he or she was a party because he or she is or was a director or officer of the corporation.

Under the DGCL, a Delaware corporation must indemnify its present or former directors and officers against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred to the extent that the officer or director has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action, suit or proceeding brought against him or her by reason of the fact that he or she is or was a director or officer of the corporation.

The VSCA further provides that the corporation may make any other or further indemnity (including indemnity with respect to a proceeding by or in the right of the corporation), and may make additional provision for advances and reimbursement of expenses, if authorized by the corporation's articles of incorporation or shareholder-adopted bylaws, except an indemnity against willful misconduct or a knowing violation of criminal law.

The DGCL generally permits a Delaware corporation to indemnify directors and officers against expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement of any action or suit for actions taken in good faith and in a manner they reasonably believed to be in, or not opposed to, the best interests of the corporation and, with respect to any criminal action, which they had no reasonable cause to believe was unlawful; provided, that in an action by or in the right of the corporation such indemnification is limited to expenses (including attorneys' fees).

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that, to the fullest extent permitted by the VSCA, Penn Virginia must indemnify any individual who is, was or is threatened to be made a party to a proceeding because such individual is or was a director or officer of Penn Virginia, or because such individual is or was serving Penn Virginia or any other legal entity in any capacity at the request of Penn Virginia, against all liabilities and reasonable expenses incurred in the proceeding.

Certificate/Articles of Incorporation

The VSCA generally requires that any amendment to a corporation's articles of incorporation be approved by each voting group entitled to vote on the proposed amendment by more than two-thirds of all the votes entitled to be cast by the voting group, unless the VSCA otherwise requires a greater vote or such corporation's articles of incorporation

The DGCL provides that an amendment to a corporation's certificate of incorporation must be adopted by the Denbury board through a resolution setting for the proposed amendment, declaring its advisability and either calling a special meeting of the stockholders or directing that the amendment proposed be considered at the next annual meeting of provide for a greater or lesser vote, or a vote by separate voting groups, so long as the vote provided for is not less than a majority of all the votes cast on the amendment by each voting group entitled to vote.

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that the affirmative vote of the holders of at least 67% of the total voting power of all the shares entitled to vote generally in the election of directors will be required to amend, alter, change or repeal, or adopt any provision inconsistent with Article X of the articles of incorporation, which provides that, among other things, a director who is also an employee, officer or director of a shareholder does not have a duty to offer Penn Virginia the opportunity to participate in a corporate transaction of which it has knowledge except in certain specified instances.

Amendments to Bylaws

Under the VSCA, a corporation's shareholders or board of directors may amend or repeal bylaws, except to the extent that the corporation's articles of incorporation or the VSCA reserve the power exclusively to the shareholders.

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that the Penn Virginia board is expressly authorized to make, repeal, alter, amend or rescind the bylaws by a majority vote at any regular or special meeting of the Penn Virginia board at which a quorum is present or by written consent, in accordance with the terms of the bylaws.

The Penn Virginia shareholders also have the power to make, repeal, alter, amend or rescind the bylaws, including the bylaws made by the Penn Virginia board, in the stockholders. At the meeting, the stockholders must approve the amendment by a majority of outstanding shares entitled to vote (and a majority of outstanding shares of each class entitled to vote, if any). Additionally, if the amendment adversely affects any class of shares, the stockholders holding a majority of the outstanding shares of such class must affirmatively vote to adopt the amendment.

Denbury's certificate of incorporation provides that the Denbury board is expressly authorized to adopt, amend or repeal the bylaws, or adopt new bylaws, without any action on the part of the stockholders, except as may be otherwise provided by applicable law or the bylaws.

The Denbury bylaws provide that the bylaws may be altered, amended or repealed, or new bylaws may be adopted, by the affirmative vote of a majority of directors then in office, voting in favor thereof, at any meeting of the Denbury board, unless otherwise provided by the certificate of incorporation, the bylaws, or applicable law.

The Denbury stockholders also have the power to adopt, amend, or repeal any provisions of the bylaws by an affirmative accordance with the terms of the bylaws. vote of the majority of stockholders who have voting power.

Penn Virginia's bylaws provide that the Penn Virginia board is expressly authorized and empowered to amend and repeal the bylaws and adopt new bylaws, subject to the power of the shareholders of Penn Virginia to adopt, amend or repeal any of the bylaws, except for Section 3.12(b) (actions requiring two thirds majority vote) of the bylaws, which may only be amended by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the directors present at a meeting of the Penn Virginia board at which there is a quorum.

The affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the total voting power of the shares of Penn Virginia entitled to vote generally in the election of directors, voting together as a single class, is required for the shareholders to alter, amend or repeal, or adopt any provision inconsistent with, the provisions of the bylaws.

Vote on Certain Fundamental Issues

The VSCA provides that, unless a corporation's articles of incorporation provide for a higher or lower vote, certain significant corporate actions must be approved by the affirmative vote of the holders of more than two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter. Corporate actions requiring a two-thirds vote include approvals of an amendment to a corporation's articles of incorporation, plans of merger or exchange, sales of all or substantially all of the corporation's assets other than in the ordinary course of business, conversions, domestications and plans of dissolution.

The DGCL provides that to amend the articles of incorporation, the Denbury board must adopt a board resolution setting forth the amendment and declare its advisability, and either call a special stockholder meeting or declare that the amendment will be considered at the next annual meeting. An affirmative vote of the majority of the outstanding stock and a majority of each class entitled to a vote is required. The DGCL also requires an affirmative vote of the majority of stockholders if there is an increase in the aggregate number of authorized shares of any class of stock.

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation do not provide for a higher or lower vote.

Penn Virginia's bylaws provide that the following actions may not be taken without the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the directors present at a meeting: (i) any merger, consolidation, reorganization or equity recapitalization; (ii) any sale, assignment, or other transfer of all or substantially all of the assets of Penn Virginia; (iii) any increase in the number of authorized shares of common stock or any issuance of preferred stock;

(iv) any liquidation, dissolution, winding up or consenting to the entry of a decree or order appointing a trustee, custodian, receiver, liquidator, assignee or similar official.

Table of ContentsAnti-Takeover Provisions and Other Stockholder Protections

Under the VSCA anti-takeover provision regulating affiliated transactions, material acquisition transactions between a Virginia corporation and any holder of more than 10% of any class of its outstanding voting shares are required to be approved by the holders of at least two-thirds of the remaining voting shares. Affiliated transactions subject to this approval requirement include mergers, share exchanges, material dispositions of corporate assets not in the ordinary course of business, any dissolution proposed by or on behalf of a 10% holder or any reclassification, including reverse stock splits, recapitalization or merger of the corporation with its subsidiaries, that increases the percentage of voting shares owned beneficially by a 10% holder by more than five percent. For three years after a shareholder becomes an interested shareholder, a Virginia corporation cannot engage in an affiliated transaction with the interested shareholder without approval of two-thirds of the disinterested voting shares and a majority of the disinterested directors. The provisions of this statute do not apply if a majority of disinterested directors approve the acquisition of shares making a person an interested shareholder. The VSCA permits a corporation to opt out of the affiliated transactions statute by placing a statement to that effect in its articles of incorporation.

Penn Virginia has opted out of the application of the VSCA's affiliated transactions provisions.

Under the VSCA control share acquisitions statute, shares acquired in an acquisition that would cause an acquiror's voting strength to meet or exceed any of three specified thresholds (20%, 33 $\frac{1}{3}$ % or 50%) have no voting rights unless (1) those rights are granted by a majority vote of all outstanding

Under Section 203 of the DGCL, a corporation may not engage in certain business combinations, including mergers, sales and leases of assets, issuances of securities and other similar transactions, with any stockholder that owns 15% or more of the outstanding voting stock of a corporation (an interested stockholder) for three years following the date such stockholder became an interested stockholder unless one of the following exceptions applies: (i) the Denbury board approved the business combination or the transaction that resulted in the person becoming an interested stockholder prior to the time that the person became an interested stockholder, (ii) upon consummation of the transaction that resulted in the person becoming an interested stockholder such person owned at least 85% of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation, excluding, for purposes of determining the voting stock outstanding, voting stock owned by directors who are also officers and certain employee stock plans or (iii) the transaction is approved by the Denbury board and by the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the outstanding voting stock which is not owned by the interested stockholder. An interested stockholder also includes the affiliates and associates of a 15% or more owner and any affiliate or associate of the corporation who was the owner of 15% or more of the outstanding voting stock within the preceding three-year period (subject to certain exceptions). The DGCL permits a corporation to opt out of the business combinations statute.

acquisitions statute do not apply. An acquiring person who owns five percent or more of the corporation's voting stock may require that a special meeting of the shareholders be held to consider the grant of voting rights to the shares acquired in the control share acquisition. The VSCA permits a corporation to opt out of the control share acquisition statute.

Penn Virginia has not opted out of the application of the VSCA's control share acquisitions provisions.

Exclusive Forum Provision

Penn Virginia's articles of incorporation provide that unless Penn Virginia consents in writing to the selection of an alternative forum, to the fullest extent permitted by law, the sole and exclusive forum for: (a) any derivative action or proceeding brought on behalf of Penn Virginia; (b) any action asserting a claim of breach of a fiduciary duty owed by any director, officer or other employee of Penn Virginia to Penn Virginia or Penn Virginia's shareholders; (c) any action asserting a claim arising pursuant to any provision of the VSCA; or (d) any action asserting a claim governed by the internal affairs doctrine; will be the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, (or, if United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia lacks subject matter jurisdiction, another state or federal court located within the Commonwealth of Virginia).

Neither Denbury's certificate of incorporation nor bylaws provide for an exclusive forum.

EXPERTS

Denbury Resources Inc.

The financial statements and management's assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting (which is included in Management's Report on Internal Control over Financial Reporting) incorporated in this joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference to the Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017 have been so incorporated in reliance on the report of PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, given on the authority of said firm as experts in auditing and accounting.

Certain estimates of Denbury's oil and natural gas reserves and related future net cash flows related to Denbury's properties as of December 31, 2017 incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and elsewhere in the registration statement were based upon reserve reports prepared by independent petroleum engineers, DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Inc. Denbury has included these estimates in reliance on the authority of such firms as experts in such matters.

Penn Virginia Corporation

The audited financial statements as of December 31, 2017 and 2016, and for the year ended December 31, 2017, the period from September 13, 2016 through December 31, 2016, the period from January 1, 2016 through September 12, 2016 and management's assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting of Penn Virginia Corporation incorporated by reference in this prospectus and elsewhere in the registration statement have been so incorporated by reference in reliance upon the reports of Grant Thornton LLP, independent registered public accountants, upon the authority of said firm as experts in accounting and auditing.

The consolidated financial statements of Penn Virginia Corporation for the year ended December 31, 2015 included in Penn Virginia's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2017, incorporated herein by reference, have been included in reliance on the report of KPMG LLP, or KPMG, an independent registered public accounting firm, given on the authority of said firm as experts in auditing and accounting. Penn Virginia Corporation has agreed to indemnify and hold KPMG harmless against and from any and all legal costs and expenses incurred by KPMG in successful defense of any legal action or proceeding that arises as a result of KPMG's consent to the incorporation by reference of its audit report on Penn Virginia's past financial statements incorporated by reference in this registration statement.

The audit report covering the December 31, 2015 consolidated financial statements contains an explanatory paragraph that states that Penn Virginia has suffered recurring losses from operations and is dependent on obtaining additional financing to continue its planned principal business operations. These factors raise substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern. The consolidated financial statements do not include any adjustments that might result from the outcome of that uncertainty.

The information incorporated by reference herein regarding our estimated quantities of proved reserves, the future net revenues from those reserves and their present value is based, in part, on the estimated reserve evaluations and related calculations of DeGolyer and MacNaughton, Inc. and Wright & Company, Inc., independent firms of petroleum engineers, geologists, geophysicists and petrophysicists. These estimates are aggregated and the sums are incorporated by reference herein in reliance upon the authority of those firms as experts in petroleum engineering.

HOUSEHOLDING OF PROXY MATERIALS

To reduce the expense of delivering duplicate proxy materials to Penn Virginia shareholders and Denbury stockholders who may have more than one account holding Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock but who share the same address, Penn Virginia and Denbury have each adopted a procedure approved by the SEC called householding. Under this procedure, certain shareholders or certain stockholders of record who have the same address and last name will receive only one copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus until such time as one or more of these shareholders or stockholders notifies Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, that they want to receive separate copies. In addition, the broker, bank or other nominee for any shareholder or stockholder who is a beneficial owner of Penn Virginia stock or Denbury stock may deliver only one copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus to multiple shareholders or stockholders who share the same address, unless that broker, bank or other nominee has received contrary instructions from one or more of the Penn Virginia shareholders or Denbury stockholders, as applicable. This procedure reduces duplicate mailings and saves printing costs and postage fees, as well as natural resources. Shareholders who participate in householding will utilize separate proxy voting instructions.

If, now or in the future, you no longer wish to participate in householding and would prefer to receive a separate joint proxy statement/prospectus or other proxy materials, Penn Virginia shareholders should notify Penn Virginia by calling Penn Virginia's Investor Relations Department at (713) 722-6500 or by sending a written request to Penn Virginia's Vice President, Chief Legal Counsel and Corporate Secretary at 16285 Park Ten Place, Suite 500, Houston, Texas 77084, and Denbury stockholders should notify Denbury by calling Denbury's Investor Relations Department at (972) 673-2000 or by sending a written request to Denbury's Executive Vice President, Chief Administrative Officer, General Counsel and Secretary at 5320 Legacy Drive, Plano, TX 75024, and Penn Virginia or Denbury, as applicable, will promptly deliver a separate copy of these materials. Record owners who are receiving multiple copies and wish to receive only one should call Penn Virginia's Investor Relations Department or Denbury's Investor Relations Department, as applicable, at the numbers listed above or send a written request to Penn Virginia's Vice President, Chief Legal Counsel and Corporate Secretary at the address listed above or Denbury's Executive Vice President, Chief Administrative Officer, General Counsel and Secretary at the address listed above.

Penn Virginia Shareholder Proposals

If the Merger Agreement is not approved by the requisite vote of the Penn Virginia shareholders or if the Merger is not completed for any reason, Penn Virginia intends to hold an annual meeting of its shareholders in 2019 (the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting).

Shareholder proposals submitted for inclusion in Penn Virginia's proxy statement and proxy card for the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act would have to have been received by Penn Virginia's Corporate Secretary no later than November 28, 2018 if the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting were to be held within 30 days of May 1, 2019. In the event that Penn Virginia were to determine to hold the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting more than 30 days before or after May 1, 2019, such shareholder proposals would have to be received by Penn Virginia a reasonable time before Penn Virginia begins to print and send its proxy materials for the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting.

If the Penn Virginia 2019 annual meeting occurs, pursuant to the Penn Virginia bylaws Penn Virginia shareholders of record may present proposals that are proper subjects for consideration at an annual meeting and/or nominate persons to serve on the Penn Virginia board at an annual meeting or special meeting of Penn Virginia shareholders at which directors are to be elected. ARTICLE I

(a) On the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement and in accordance with the VSCA, at the Effective Time, Merger Sub shall be merged with and into the Company and the separate corporate existence of Merger Sub shall cease, and the Company shall continue as the surviving entity in the Merger (the Surviving Corporation) as a wholly owned Subsidiary of Parent.

(b) Immediately following the Effective Time, on the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement and in accordance with the VSCA and the VLLCA, the Surviving Corporation shall merge with and into LLC Sub, with LLC Sub continuing as the surviving entity in the LLC Sub Merger as a wholly owned Subsidiary of Parent. At the time of and immediately after the LLC Sub Merger, (i) all capital stock of the Surviving Corporation issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the LLC Merger shall automatically be cancelled and extinguished and will cease to exist, and no consideration will be delivered in exchange therefor, (ii) all of the membership interests of LLC Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time shall remain outstanding following the consummation of the LLC Sub Merger and shall not be affected in any way by the LLC Sub Merger, (iii) Parent shall own all of the membership interests in LLC Sub and shall be the sole member of LLC Sub, and (iv) LLC Sub shall be treated as an entity disregarded as separate from Parent for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

SECTION 1.02 Closing. The closing (the Closing) of the Merger shall take place at the offices of Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP, 1000 Louisiana, 68th Floor, Houston, Texas 77002 on a date to be mutually agreed upon by Parent and the Company, which shall be no later than the second Business Day following the satisfaction or (to the extent permitted by Law) waiver by the party or parties entitled to the benefits thereof of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than those conditions that by their nature are to be satisfied at the Closing, but subject to the satisfaction or (to the extent permitted by Law) waiver of those conditions), or at such other place, time and date as may be agreed in writing between Parent and the Company; provided, however, that if the Marketing Period has not ended at the time of the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article VII (other than those conditions that by their nature or pursuant to the terms of this Agreement are to be satisfied at or immediately prior to Closing but that remain capable of satisfaction), then, subject to the continued satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Article VII at such time, the Closing shall occur instead on the second Business Day following the final day of the Marketing Period (provided that

The Merger shall become effective at the time that the SCC issues its certificate of merger with respect to the Articles of Merger, or at such later time or date as Parent and the Company shall agree in writing and specify in the Articles of Merger; provided, however, that in no event shall such time or date be more than 15 days following the filing of the Articles of Merger with the SCC (the time the Merger becomes effective being the Effective Time).

(b) Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, as soon as practicable after the Effective time, but no later than two Business Days following the Effective Time, (i) file with the SCC articles of merger relating to the LLC Sub Merger containing this Agreement attached as an exhibit thereto (the LLC Sub Articles of Merger), executed and acknowledged in accordance with the relevant provisions of the VSCA and the VLLCA, and (ii) make all other filings required under the VSCA, the VLLCA or by the SCC in connection with the LLC Sub Merger. The LLC Sub Merger shall become effective at the time that the SCC issues its certificate of merger with respect to the LLC Sub Articles of Merger, or at such later time or date as Parent and the Company shall agree in writing and specify in the LLC Sub Articles of Merger; provided, however, that in no event shall such time or date be more than 15 days following the filing of the LLC Sub Articles of Merger with the SCC.

SECTION 1.04 Effects. The Merger and the LLC Sub Merger shall have the effects set forth in this Agreement and the applicable provisions of the VSCA and the VLLCA.

SECTION 1.05 Articles of Incorporation and Bylaws.

(a) At the Effective Time, the articles of incorporation and the bylaws of the Surviving Corporation shall be amended and restated to be in the form of the articles of incorporation and bylaws of Merger Sub as of the date of this Agreement, except that the name of the Surviving Corporation shall be changed, until such articles of incorporation and bylaws are thereafter amended and restated in accordance with their respective terms and applicable Law.

ARTICLE II

Effect on the Capital Stock of the Constituent Entities: Exchange of Certificates

SECTION 2.01 Effect on Capital Stock. At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of Parent, Merger Sub, the Company or any holder of any capital stock thereof:

(a) Cancellation of Company-Owned Shares; Conversion of Parent-Owned Shares. Each share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company (each, a Company Common Share) that is owned by the Company immediately prior to the Effective Time shall no longer be issued and outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and shall cease to exist, and no consideration shall be delivered in exchange therefor. Each Company Common Share held by any wholly owned Subsidiary of Parent (other than Merger Sub) or any wholly owned Subsidiary of the Company immediately prior to the Effective Time shall automatically be converted into a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the Exchange Ratio.

(b) Conversion of Company Common Shares. Subject to Section 2.03, each Company Common Share issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than shares to be canceled or converted in accordance with Section 2.01(a)) shall be converted into and shall thereafter represent the right to receive, at the election of the holder of such Company Common Shares pursuant to the procedures set forth in Section 2.02, any of the following forms of consideration (the Merger Consideration):

(i) Mixed Election Shares. Each Company Common Share with respect to which an election to receive a combination of stock and cash (a Mixed Election) has been properly made and has not been properly revoked (each, a Mixed Consideration Election Share) shall be converted into the right to receive the combination (which combination shall hereinafter be referred to as the Mixed Consideration) of (A) $25.86 in cash without interest (the Mixed Election Cash Consideration) and (B) 12.4000 shares of Parent Common Stock (the Mixed Election Stock Exchange Ratio), subject, in the case of clauses (A) and (B), to adjustment in accordance with Section 2.01(d).

(ii) Cash Election Shares. Each Company Common Share with respect to which an election to receive cash (a Cash Election) has been properly made and has not been properly revoked (each, a Cash Election Share) shall be converted (provided that the Available Cash Election Amount equals or exceeds the Cash Election Amount) into the right to receive $79.80 in cash without interest (the Cash Election Consideration), subject to adjustment in accordance with Section 2.01(d); provided, however, that if (A) the product of the number of Cash Election Shares and the Cash Election Consideration (such product, the Cash Election Amount) exceeds (B) (1) $400,000,000 minus (2) the product of the number of Mixed Consideration Election Shares and the Mixed Election Cash Consideration (such results of the calculations in this clause (B) being the Available Cash Election Amount), then each Cash Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive (y) an amount of cash without interest equal to the product of the Cash Election Consideration and a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the Available Cash Election Amount and the denominator of which shall be the Cash Election Amount (such fraction, the Cash Fraction) and (z) a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio and (2) one (1) minus the Cash Fraction.

(iii) Stock Election Shares. Each Company Common Share with respect to which an election to receive stock consideration (a Stock Election) has been properly made and has not been properly revoked (each, a Stock Election Share) shall be converted (provided that the Cash Election Amount equals or exceeds the Available Cash Election Amount) into the right to receive 18.3454 (the Exchange Ratio) shares of Parent Common Stock, subject to adjustment in accordance with Section 2.01(d) (the Stock Election Consideration and, together with the stock portion of the Mixed Consideration, the Stock Consideration); provided, however, that if the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount and the number of No Election Shares is less than the Cash Election Shortfall Number (as defined below), then each Stock Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to the Cash Proration Amount divided by the number of Stock Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) above and the denominator of which shall be the Cash Election Consideration. The Cash Proration Amount means an amount equal to (a) the Cash Election Shortfall Amount (as defined below) minus (b) the product of the number of No Election Shares and the Cash Election Consideration. For the avoidance of doubt, if the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount but the number of No Election Shares is greater than or equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Number, each Stock Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive the Stock Election Consideration.

(iv) No Election Shares. If the Cash Election Amount equals or exceeds the Available Cash Election Amount, then each No Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive the Stock Election Consideration. If the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount (the amount by which the Available Cash Election Amount exceeds the Cash Election Amount is referred to herein as the Cash Election Shortfall Amount), then (A) if the number of No Election Shares is less than or equal to an amount equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the Cash Election Consideration (such quotient is referred to herein as the Cash Election Shortfall Number), then each No Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive the Cash Election Consideration, and (B) if the number of No Election Shares is greater than the Cash Election Shortfall Number, then each No Election Share shall be converted into the right to receive (A) an amount of cash (without interest) equal to the Cash Election Shortfall Amount divided by the number of No Election Shares and (B) a number of shares of Parent Common Stock equal to the product of (1) the Exchange Ratio and (2) a fraction, the numerator of which shall be the Cash Election Consideration minus the amount calculated in clause (A) above and the denominator of which shall be the Cash Election Consideration.

All such Company Common Shares, when so converted, shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and shall cease to exist, and each holder of a certificate that immediately prior to the Effective Time represented any such Company Common Shares (each such certificate, a Certificate) or Company Common Shares held in direct registration form (Book-Entry Shares) shall cease to have any rights with respect thereto, except the right to receive the Merger Consideration, any cash in lieu of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued or paid in consideration therefor, and any distributions in accordance with Section 2.03(f), in each case, without interest.

(c) Conversion of Merger Sub Stock. Each share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of Merger Sub issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall be converted into and become one validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Surviving Corporation and shall constitute the only outstanding shares of capital stock of the Surviving Corporation. From and after the Effective Time, all certificates representing the common stock of Merger Sub shall be deemed for all purposes to represent the number of shares of common stock of the Surviving Corporation into which they were converted in accordance with the immediately preceding sentence.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing, if between the date of this Agreement and the Effective Time the outstanding shares of Parent Common Stock or Company Common Shares shall have been changed into a different number of shares or a different class, by reason of any stock dividend, recapitalization, split, reverse split, combination, consolidation, subdivision, reclassification or exchange of shares, or any similar event shall have occurred (or any record date occurs with respect to any of the foregoing), then the Merger Consideration, the number of shares of Parent Common Stock to be delivered in the Merger, the Mixed Consideration, the Mixed Election Stock Exchange Ratio, the Cash Election Consideration, the Stock Election Consideration and the Exchange Ratio, as the case may be, will be appropriately adjusted to provide to Parent and the holders of Company Common Shares the same economic effect as contemplated by this Agreement prior to such event; provided, however, that this sentence shall not be construed to permit Parent or the Company to take any action with respect to its securities that is prohibited by Section 5.01(a) or 5.01(b), as applicable.

SECTION 2.02 Election Procedures.

(a) Election Form. Not less than 30 days prior to the anticipated Effective Time or on such other date as Parent and the Company mutually agree (the Mailing Date), the Company shall mail an election form and other appropriate and customary transmittal materials, in such form mutually acceptable to Parent and the Company (the Election Form), to each holder of record of Company Common Shares (other than shares of Company Common Shares described in Section 2.01(a)) as of a record date that is five Business Days prior to the Mailing Date or such other date as mutually agreed to by Parent and the Company.

(b) Choice of Election. Each Election Form shall permit the holder (or the beneficial owner through customary documentation and instructions) to specify (i) the number of Company Common Shares with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Mixed Consideration, (ii) the number of Company Common Shares with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Stock Election Consideration, (iii) the number of Company Common Shares with respect to which such holder elects to receive the Cash Election Consideration or (iv) that such holder makes no election with respect to such holder's Company Common Shares. Any Company Common Shares with respect to which the Exchange Agent does not receive a properly completed Election Form during the period (the Election Period) from the Mailing Date to 5:00 p.m., New York time, on the second Business Day prior to the Effective Time or such other time as mutually agreed by Parent and the Company (the Election Deadline) shall be deemed to be No Election Shares. Parent shall publicly announce the anticipated Election Deadline at least five Business Days prior to the Election Deadline. If the Effective Time is delayed to a subsequent date, the Election Deadline shall be similarly delayed to a subsequent date (which shall be the second Business Day prior to the Effective Time or such other date as mutually agreed to by Parent and the Company), and Parent shall promptly announce any such delay and, when determined, the rescheduled Election Deadline. For the purposes of this Agreement, No Election Share means each Company Common Share for which no election to receive Mixed Consideration, Cash Election Consideration or Stock Election Consideration has been properly made in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.02 or for which such election has been properly revoked in accordance with the terms of this Section 2.02.

(c) New Holders. Parent shall make available one or more Election Forms as may reasonably be requested from time to time by all persons who become holders or beneficial owners of Company Common Shares during the Election Period, and the Company shall provide the Exchange Agent all information reasonably necessary for it to perform its duties as specified herein.

(d) Revocations; Exchange Agent. Any election shall have been properly made only if the Exchange Agent shall have actually received a properly completed Election Form during the Election Period. After a Cash Election, a Stock Election or a Mixed Election has been properly made with respect to any Company Common Shares, any subsequent transfer of such Company Common Shares shall automatically revoke such election. Any Election Form may be revoked or changed by the person submitting it, by written notice received by the Exchange Agent during the Election Period. In the event an Election Form is revoked during the Election Period, the Company Common Shares represented by such Election Form shall be deemed to be No Election Shares, except to the extent a subsequent election is properly made during the Election Period. Subject to the terms of this Agreement and of the Election Form, the Exchange Agent shall have reasonable discretion to determine whether any election, revocation or change has been properly or timely made and to disregard immaterial defects in the Election Forms, and any good faith decisions of the Exchange Agent regarding such matters shall be binding and conclusive. None of Parent or the Company or the Exchange Agent shall be under any obligation to notify any person of any defect in an Election Form.

(a) Exchange Agent. Prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall appoint a bank or trust company reasonably acceptable to the Company to act as exchange agent (the Exchange Agent) for the exchange of Company Common Shares for Merger Consideration. At or prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall deposit with the Exchange Agent, in trust for the benefit of the former holders of Company Common Shares entitled to receive Merger Consideration under Section 2.01(b), for exchange in accordance with this Article II through the Exchange Agent, (i) the number of shares of Parent Common Stock issuable to such holders and (ii) an amount of cash sufficient in order for the Exchange Agent to distribute the cash amounts described in Section 2.01(b). The Exchange Agent will, pursuant to irrevocable instructions from Parent and the Company, deliver the Merger Consideration contemplated to be paid for Company Common Shares pursuant to this Agreement out of the Exchange Fund. Subject to Section 2.03(k), the Exchange Fund will not be used for any other purpose.

(b) Certificates. As promptly as practicable after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause the Exchange Agent to deliver to each record holder, as of immediately prior to the Effective Time, of Certificates a notice advising such holder of the effectiveness of the Merger and a form of letter of transmittal (the Letter of Transmittal), which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to any Certificates shall pass, only upon delivery of such Certificates to the Exchange Agent and shall be in customary form and agreed to by Parent and the Company prior to the Effective Time, together with instructions thereto (in customary form and agreed to by Parent and the Company prior to the Effective Time).

(c) Non-DTC Book-Entry Shares. As promptly as practicable after the Effective Time, Parent shall cause the Exchange Agent to deliver to each record holder, as of immediately prior to the Effective Time, of Company Common Shares represented by Book-Entry Shares not held through the Depository Trust Company (DTC), (i) a notice advising such holders of the effectiveness of the Merger, (ii) a statement reflecting the number of shares of Parent Common Stock (which shall be in uncertificated book-entry form) representing, in the aggregate, the whole number of shares of Parent Common Stock, if any, that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.01(b) (after taking into account all Company Common Shares then held by such holder) and (iii) a check in the amount equal to the aggregate amount of cash that such holder has the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.01(b) and this Article II, including cash payable in lieu of any fractional shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 2.03(h).

(d) DTC Book-Entry Shares. With respect to Book-Entry Shares held through DTC, Parent and the Company shall cooperate to establish procedures with the Exchange Agent and DTC to ensure that the Exchange Agent will transmit to DTC or its nominees as soon as reasonably practicable on or after the Closing Date, upon surrender of Company Common Shares held of record by DTC or its nominees in accordance with DTC's customary surrender procedures, the Merger Consideration pursuant to Section 2.01(b) and cash in lieu of fractional shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 2.03(h), in each case, that DTC has the right to receive pursuant to this Article II.

(e) Merger Consideration Received in Connection with Exchange. After the Effective Time, upon the surrender of a Certificate for cancellation to the Exchange Agent together with the Letter of Transmittal, duly completed and validly executed in accordance with the instructions thereto, and such other documents as may reasonably be required pursuant to the instructions accompanying the Letter of Transmittal, the holder of such Certificate shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor (A) the Merger Consideration into which the Company Common Shares previously represented by such Certificate have been converted pursuant to Section 2.01(b) and (B) any cash in lieu of fractional shares which such holder has the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.03(h). Section 2.03(h) shall only be made to the Person in whose name such Book-Entry Shares are registered in the stock transfer records of the Company as of the Effective Time. In the event of a transfer of ownership of Company Common Shares that is not registered in the transfer records of the Company, the proper number of shares of Parent Common Stock pursuant to Section 2.01(b) and cash in lieu of fractional shares which the holder has the right to receive pursuant to Section 2.03(h) may be issued to a transferee if the Certificate (or, for Book-Entry Shares, proper evidence of such transfer) representing such Company Common Shares is presented to the Exchange Agent, accompanied by all documents required to evidence and effect such transfer and by evidence that any applicable stock transfer Taxes have been paid. Until surrendered as contemplated by this Section 2.03(e), each Certificate shall be deemed at any time after the Effective Time to represent only the right to receive upon such surrender the Merger Consideration which the holder of such Certificates were entitled to receive pursuant to Section 2.01(b) (and cash in lieu of fractional shares pursuant to Section 2.03(h)). No interest shall be paid or shall accrue on the cash payable under this Section 2.03(e) or under Section 2.03(f) or Section 2.03(h).

(f) Treatment of Unexchanged Shares. No dividends or other distributions declared or made with respect to shares of Parent Common Stock with a record date after the Effective Time shall be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered Certificate with respect to the shares of Parent Common Stock issuable upon surrender thereof, and no cash payment in lieu of fractional shares shall be paid to any such holder pursuant to Section 2.03(h), until the surrender of such Certificate in accordance with this Article II. Subject to abandoned property, escheat, Tax or other applicable Law, following surrender of any such Certificate, there shall be paid to the holder of the shares of Parent Common Stock issued in exchange therefor (i) at the time of such surrender, the amount of any cash payable in lieu of a fractional share of Parent Common Stock to which such holder is entitled pursuant to Section 2.03(h) and the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time previously paid with respect to such whole shares of Parent Common Stock and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time but prior to such surrender and a payment date subsequent to such surrender payable with respect to such whole shares of Parent Common Stock.

(g) No Further Ownership Rights in Company Common Shares. The shares of Parent Common Stock issued and cash paid in accordance with the terms of this Article II upon conversion of any Company Common Shares (including any cash paid pursuant to Section 2.03(h)) shall be deemed to have been issued and paid in full satisfaction of all rights pertaining to such Company Common Shares. From and after the Effective Time, there shall be no further registration of transfers on the stock transfer books of the Surviving Corporation of Company Common Shares that were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. Subject to the last sentence of Section 2.03(j), if, after the Effective Time, any Certificates or Book-Entry Shares are presented for transfer to the Surviving Corporation, Parent or the Exchange Agent for any reason, they shall be canceled and exchanged as provided in this Article II.

(h) No Fractional Shares. No certificates or scrip representing fractional shares of Parent Common Stock shall be issued upon the conversion of Company Common Shares pursuant to Section 2.01, and such fractional share interests shall not entitle the owner thereof to vote or to any rights of a holder of Parent Common Stock. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, each holder of Company Common Shares converted pursuant to the Merger who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of Parent Common Stock (after taking into account all Company Common Shares exchanged by such holder) shall receive, in lieu thereof, cash in an amount equal to such fractional amount multiplied by the average of the volume weighted average price per share of Parent Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) (as reported by Bloomberg, L.P. or, if not reported by Bloomberg, L.P., in another authoritative source mutually selected by Parent and the Company) on each of the five consecutive trading days ending with the last complete trading day prior to the Closing Date.

(i) Termination of Exchange Fund. Any portion of the Exchange Fund (including any interest or other amounts received with respect thereto) that remains undistributed to the holders of Company Common Shares for six months after the Effective Time shall be delivered to Parent, upon demand, and any former holder of Company Common Shares who has not previously complied with this Article II shall thereafter look only to Parent for, and Parent shall remain liable for, payment of its claim for Merger Consideration, any cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends and other distributions to which such holder is entitled pursuant to this Article II.

(j) No Liability. None of Parent, the Company or the Exchange Agent shall be liable to any Person in respect of any portion of the Exchange Fund delivered to any Governmental Entity pursuant to any applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Law. If any Certificate shall not have been surrendered or transferred prior to the date on which any Merger Consideration in respect thereof would otherwise escheat to or become the property of any Governmental Entity pursuant to applicable Law, any Merger Consideration in respect of such Certificate shall, to the extent permitted by applicable Law, become the property of Parent, free and clear of all claims or interests of any Person previously entitled thereto.

(k) Investment of Exchange Fund. The Exchange Agent shall invest any cash in the Exchange Fund as directed by Parent; provided, that (i) such investments shall be in (A) short term obligations of the United States with maturities of no more than 30 days or guaranteed by the United States and backed by the full faith and credit of the United States, (B) commercial paper obligations of issuers organized under the Law of a state of the United States of America, rated A1 or P1 or better by Moody's Investors Service, Inc. or Standard & Poor's Corporation, respectively or (C) certificates of deposit, bank repurchase agreements or banker's acceptances of commercial banks with capital exceeding $1 billion, and (ii) no such investment shall have a maturity of more than 30 days. Any interest and other income resulting from such investments shall be paid to Parent; provided, however, that no investment of the Exchange Fund shall relieve Parent or the Exchange Agent from promptly making the payments required by this Article II, and following any losses from any such investment, Parent shall promptly provide additional cash funds to the Exchange Agent for the benefit of the holders of Company Common Shares at the Effective Time in the amount of such losses, which additional funds will be deemed to be part of the Exchange Fund.

(l) Withholding Rights. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, Parent, the Company, Merger Sub, the Surviving Corporation, LLC Sub and the Exchange Agent (without duplication) shall be entitled to deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement such amounts as may be required to be deducted and withheld under the Code or any similar provisions of state, local or foreign Tax law. Any such amounts so deducted or withheld shall be paid over to the relevant Governmental Entity by Parent, the Company, Merger Sub, the Surviving Corporation or the Exchange Agent, as the case may be, and such deducted or withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the Person in respect of which such deduction or withholding was made.

(m) Lost Certificates. If any Certificate has been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the Person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and, if required by Parent, the posting by such Person of a bond, in such reasonable and customary amount as Parent may direct, as indemnity against any Claim that may be made against it with respect to such Certificate, the Exchange Agent (or, if subsequent to the termination of the Exchange Fund and subject to Section 2.03(i), Parent) shall deliver and pay, in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate, the Merger Consideration, any cash in lieu of fractional shares and any dividends or other distributions in respect thereof pursuant to this Section 2.03.

SECTION 2.04 Further Action. If, at any time after the Effective Time, any further action is determined by Parent to be necessary or desirable to carry out the purposes of this Agreement or to vest the Surviving Corporation with full right, title and possession of and to all rights and property of Merger Sub and the Company, the officers and directors of the Surviving Corporation and Parent shall be fully authorized (in the name of Merger Sub, in the name of the Company and otherwise) to take such action. Parent, Merger Sub and the Surviving Corporation also shall take such further actions as may be necessary or desirable to ensure that the Exchange Agent sends out the Letters of Transmittal to the Company Shareholders and issues certificates or evidence of shares in book-entry form representing shares of Parent Common Stock to such shareholders in accordance with Section 2.03.

ARTICLE III

Representations and Warranties of Parent and Merger Sub

Parent and Merger Sub jointly and severally represent and warrant to the Company that the statements contained in this Article III are true and correct, except (i) as set forth in the Parent Reporting Documents publicly available and filed with or furnished to the SEC since January 1, 2017 (the Filed Parent Reporting Documents) (excluding any disclosures in the Filed Parent Reporting Documents under the heading Risk Factors and in any section related to forward-looking statements and in any other disclosures that are similarly predictive or forward-looking in nature (other than any historical factual information contained within such headings, statements or disclosure)) or (ii) as set forth in the disclosure letter delivered by Parent and Merger Sub to the Company prior to the execution and delivery by Parent and Merger Sub of this Agreement (the Parent Disclosure Letter). As of the date of this Agreement, there is no suit, action or other Proceeding pending or, to the Knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent or any Parent Subsidiary that, individually or in the aggregate, has had and would reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, nor is there any Judgment outstanding against or, to the Knowledge of Parent, written demand or investigation by any Governmental Entity involving Parent or any Parent Subsidiary or any of their respective properties or assets that, individually or in the aggregate, has had and would reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.13 Compliance with Applicable Laws. Except for matters that, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries are in, and since January 1, 2017 have been in, compliance with all applicable Laws and the Parent Permits. To the Knowledge of Parent, except for matters that, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, as of the date of this Agreement, there is no demand or investigation by or before any Governmental Entity pending or, to the Knowledge of Parent, threatened alleging that Parent or any Parent Subsidiary is not in compliance with any applicable Law or Parent Permit. This Section 3.13 does not relate to Tax matters or environmental matters, which are the subjects of Section 3.09 and Section 3.16, respectively.

SECTION 3.14 Rights-of-Way. Each of Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries has such Consents, easements, rights-of-way, Permits and licenses from each Person (collectively Rights-of-Way) as are sufficient to conduct its business in the manner currently conducted, except for such Rights-of-Way the absence of which have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect. Each of Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries has fulfilled and performed all its material obligations with respect to such Rights-of-Way and conduct their business in a manner that does not violate any of the Rights-of-Way and no event has occurred that allows, or after notice or lapse of time would allow, revocation or termination thereof or would result in any impairment of the rights of the holder of any such Rights-of-Way, except for such violations, revocations, terminations and impairments that would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect. All pipelines operated by Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries are subject to Rights-of-Way or are located on real property owned or leased by Parent, and there are no gaps (including any gap arising as a result of any breach by Parent or any of its Subsidiaries of the terms of any Rights-of-Way) in the Rights-of-Way other than gaps that would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 3.15 Oil and Gas Matters.

(a) Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, and except for property (i) sold or otherwise disposed of in the ordinary course of business since the date of the reserve report prepared by DeGolyer and MacNaughton (the Parent Independent Petroleum Engineers) relating to Parent interests referred to therein as of December 31, 2017 (the Parent Reserve Report) or (ii) reflected in the Parent Reserve Report or in the Filed Parent Reporting Documents as having been sold or otherwise disposed of, other than sales or dispositions after the date hereof in accordance with Section 5.01, Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries have good and defensible title to all Oil and Gas Properties forming the basis for the reserves reflected in the Parent Reserve Report and in each case as attributable to interests owned by Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries, free and clear of all conditions, encroachments, easements, rights of way, restrictions and Liens, except for Permitted Liens and conditions, encroachments, easements, rights of way, restrictions or Liens which, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to materially impair the continued use and operation of the Oil and Gas Properties to which they relate by Parent and each Parent Subsidiary. For purposes of the foregoing sentence, good and defensible title means that title of Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries in and to the Oil and Gas Properties set forth on the Parent Reserve Report that, as of the Closing Date, and subject to Permitted Liens (1) entitles Parent (or one or more of the Parent Subsidiaries, as applicable) to receive (after satisfaction of all Production Burdens applicable thereto), not less than the net revenue interest percentage shown for such Oil and Gas Property in the Parent Reserve Report, except, in each case, (i) any decreases in connection with those operations in which Parent or a Parent Subsidiary may elect after the date hereof to be a non-consenting co-owner, and (ii) any decreases resulting from the establishment or amendment, after the date hereof, of pools or units, and (iii) decreases required to allow other working interest owners to make up past underproduction or pipelines to make up past under deliveries, (2) as to any Well, obligates Parent (or one or more of the Parent Subsidiaries, as applicable), in the aggregate, to bear a working interest no greater than the working interest shown for such Well in the Parent Reserve Report, except (i) increases that are accompanied by at least a proportionate increase in Parent's and the Parent Subsidiaries' aggregate net revenue interest therein, and (ii) for increases resulting from contribution requirements with respect to defaulting or non-consenting co-owners under applicable operating agreements or Laws that are accompanied by at least a proportionate increase in Parent's and the Parent Subsidiaries' aggregate net revenue interest therein and (3) is free and clear of all Liens, conditions, encroachments, easements, rights of way, restrictions, burdens and/or irregularities which, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to materially impair the continued use and operation of the Oil and Gas Properties to which they relate in the conduct of the business of Parent and each Parent Subsidiary as presently conducted.

(b) Except for any such matters that, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, the factual, non-interpretive data supplied to the Parent Independent Petroleum Engineers, by or on behalf of Parent and its Subsidiaries that was material to such firm's estimates of proved oil and gas reserves attributable to the Oil and Gas Properties of Parent and its Subsidiaries in connection with the preparation of the Parent Reserve Report was, as of the time provided, accurate in all respects. Except for any such matters that, individually or in the aggregate, would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, the oil and gas reserve estimates of Parent set forth in the Parent Reserve Report are derived from reports that have been prepared by the Parent Independent Petroleum Engineers, and such reserve estimates fairly reflect, in all respects, the oil and gas reserves of Parent at the dates indicated therein and are in accordance with SEC guidelines applicable thereto applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods involved. Except for changes generally affecting the oil and gas exploration, development and production industry (including changes in commodity prices) and normal depletion by production, as of the date of this Agreement there has been no change in respect of the matters addressed in the Parent Reserve Report that would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(c) Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) all rentals, shut-ins and similar payments owed to any Person or individual under (or otherwise with respect to) any Oil and Gas Leases of Parent or any Parent Subsidiary have been properly and timely paid, (ii) all Production Burdens with respect to any Oil and Gas Properties owned or held by Parent or any of the Parent Subsidiaries have been timely and properly paid (in each case, except such Production Burdens (x) as are being currently paid prior to delinquency in the ordinary course of business or (y) the amount or validity of which is being contested in good faith by appropriate proceeding and for which appropriate reserves have been established) and (iii) none of Parent or any of the Parent Subsidiaries (and, to Parent's Knowledge, no third-party operator) has violated any provision of, or taken or failed to take any act that, with or without notice, lapse of time, or both, would constitute a default under the provisions of any Oil and Gas Lease (or entitle the lessor thereunder to cancel or terminate such Oil and Gas Lease) included in the Oil and Gas Properties owned or held by Parent or any of the Parent Subsidiaries.

(d) Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect, all proceeds from the sale of Hydrocarbons produced from the Oil and Gas Properties of Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries are being received by them in a timely manner other than awaiting preparation and approval of division order title opinions for recently drilled Wells.

(e) All of the Wells and all water, CO₂, injection or other wells located on the Oil and Gas Leases of Parent and its Subsidiaries or otherwise associated with an Oil and Gas Property of Parent or the Parent Subsidiaries have been drilled, completed and operated within the limits permitted by the applicable contracts entered into by Parent or any of the Parent Subsidiaries related to such wells and applicable Law, and all drilling and completion (and plugging and abandonment) of such wells and all related development, production and other operations have been conducted in compliance with all applicable Law except, in each case, as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(f) Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect, none of the Oil and Gas Properties of Parent or the Parent Subsidiaries is subject to any preferential purchase, consent or similar right that would become operative as a result of the consummation of the Transactions.

SECTION 3.16 Environmental Matters. Except as, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (a) each of Parent and each Parent Subsidiary has been and is in compliance with all applicable Environmental Laws, and neither Parent nor any Parent Subsidiary has received any written communication alleging that Parent or any Parent Subsidiary is in violation of, or has any liability under, any Environmental Law; (b) each of Parent and each Parent Subsidiary possesses and is in compliance with all Permits required under Environmental Laws (Environmental Permits) for the conduct of its respective operations and all such Environmental Permits are valid and in good standing; (c) there are no Environmental Claims pending or, to the Knowledge of Parent, threatened against Parent or any Parent Subsidiary; (d) neither Parent nor any Parent Subsidiary is subject to any Judgment pursuant to or in connection with any Environmental Law; (e) there has been no Release of any Hazardous Material at any of the properties that are owned, leased or operated by Parent or any Parent Subsidiary, or to the Knowledge of Parent, any properties formerly owned, leased or operated by Parent or any Parent Subsidiary, that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of any Environmental Claim against Parent or any Parent Subsidiary; and (f) neither Parent nor any Parent Subsidiary has retained or assumed, either contractually or by operation of Law, any liabilities or obligations that would reasonably be expected to form the basis of any Environmental Claim against Parent or any Parent Subsidiary.

(b) A complete and correct copy of each of the Parent Material Contracts existing as of the date of this Agreement has been made available to the Company prior to the date hereof. Except for matters which, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Parent Material Adverse Effect, (i) each Parent Material Contract is a valid, binding and legally enforceable obligation of Parent or one of the Parent Subsidiaries, as the case may be, and, to the Knowledge of Parent, of the other parties thereto, except, in each case, as enforcement may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar Laws affecting creditors' rights generally and by general principles of equity, (ii) each such Parent Material Contract is in full force and effect (except for expiration in accordance with the terms thereof) and (iii) neither Parent nor any Parent Subsidiary is (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) in breach or default under any such Parent Material Contract and, to the Knowledge of Parent, no other party to any such Parent Material Contract is, as of the date of this Agreement, (with or without notice or lapse of time, or both) in breach or default thereunder, and no event has occurred that with the lapse of time or the giving of notice or both would constitute a default thereunder by Parent or its Subsidiaries, or, to the Knowledge of Parent, any other party thereto. There are no disputes pending or, to the Knowledge of Parent, threatened with respect to any Parent Material Contract and neither Parent nor any of its Subsidiaries has received any written notice of the intention of any other party to any Parent Material Contract to terminate for default, convenience or otherwise any Parent Material Contract, nor to the Knowledge of Parent, is any such party threatening to do so, in each case except as has not had or would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Except as has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Parent Material Adverse Effect, Parent and each of the Parent Subsidiaries have duly performed in all respects all of their respective obligations under the Derivative Transactions to the extent that such obligations to perform have accrued, and there are no breaches, violations, collateral deficiencies, requests for collateral or demands for payment, or defaults or allegations or assertions of such by any party thereunder.

JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A. (the Lender) and Parent, and (b) the related fee letter (the Fee Letter and, together with the Commitment Letter, the Debt Letters) redacted in a customary manner solely with respect to the fees, pricing caps and certain economic terms (including economic flex terms), which redacted information does not adversely affect the amount, availability or conditionality of the funding of the Financing, in each case, including all exhibits, schedules, annexes and amendments to such letters in effect as of the date hereof, pursuant to which and subject to the terms and conditions thereof, the Lender has committed to lend the amounts set forth therein to Parent (the provision of such funds as set forth therein, the Financing) for the purposes set forth in such Commitment Letter. The Commitment Letter (i) has not been amended, restated or otherwise modified or waived prior to the execution and delivery of this Agreement, and the respective commitments contained in the Commitment Letter have not been withdrawn, rescinded, amended, restated or otherwise modified in any respect prior to the execution and delivery of this Agreement and (ii) to the Knowledge of Parent, no such withdrawal, rescission, amendment, restatement, modification or waiver is contemplated (other than any such amendment, modification, or restatement to add lenders, lead arrangers, bookrunners, syndication agents or similar entities who have not executed the Commitment Letter as of the date hereof). As of the date of this Agreement, the Commitment Letter is in full force and effect and constitutes the legal, valid and binding obligation of each of Parent and the other parties thereto, subject in each case to the bankruptcy and principles of equity exceptions. There are no conditions precedent or contingencies directly or indirectly related to the funding of the Financing pursuant to the Commitment Letter, other than as expressly set forth in the Commitment Letter. At the Closing, assuming the accuracy of the representations and warranties in Article IV and the satisfaction of the conditions precedent set forth in Article VII, after giving effect to the Financing, Parent and Merger Sub will have sufficient funds to pay all of Parent's and Merger Sub's obligations under this Agreement, including the payment of the aggregate Merger Consideration and all fees and expenses expected to be incurred in connection therewith. As of the date of this Agreement, no event has occurred or circumstance exists which, with or without notice, lapse of time or both, would reasonably be expected to constitute a breach or default on the part of Parent under the Commitment Letter or any other party to the Commitment Letter or, to the Knowledge of Parent, otherwise result in any portion of the Financing to be unavailable. As of the date of this Agreement there are no side letters or other agreements, Contracts, arrangements or understandings (written or oral) directly or indirectly related to the funding of the Financing that could affect the availability of the Financing other than as expressly set forth in the Commitment Letter. Parent has paid in full any and all commitment fees and other fees required to be paid on or prior to the date hereof under the terms of the Commitment Letter and will pay all other commitment fees and other fees as required to be paid at Closing under the terms of the Commitment Letter upon the Closing. As of the date of this Agreement, Parent is not aware of any fact, event or other occurrence that, with or without notice, lapse of time or both could reasonably be expected to result in any of the conditions in the Commitment Letter not being satisfied.

SECTION 3.29 Solvency. Assuming the accuracy, in all material respects, of the representations and warranties of the Company in Article IV that relate to Solvency, after giving effect to the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement, the payment of all amounts required to be paid in connection with the consummation of the transactions contemplated in this Agreement and the payment of all related fees and expenses, Parent and its consolidated Subsidiaries (including the Surviving Corporation) shall be Solvent as of the Closing Date and as of the Effective Time.

SECTION 3.30 No Additional Representations.

(a) Parent acknowledges that, except for the representations and warranties of the Company expressly set forth in Article IV, none of the Company or the Company Subsidiaries nor any of their respective Representatives makes any representation or warranty, either express or implied, as to the accuracy or completeness of any of the information provided or made available to Parent or any of its Representatives, and that Parent is not executing or authorizing the execution of this Agreement in reliance upon any such representation or warranty not explicitly set forth in Article IV. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Parent acknowledges that none of the Company or the Company

Subsidiaries nor any of their respective Representatives or any other Person has made any express or any implied representations or warranties to Parent with respect to (i) the Company or the Company Subsidiaries, their respective businesses, operations, assets, liabilities, financial condition, results of operations, future operating or financial results, estimates, projections, forecasts, plans or prospects (including the reasonableness of the assumptions underlying such estimates, projections, forecasts, plans or prospects) or the accuracy or completeness of any information regarding the Company or the Company Subsidiaries or (ii) any material, documents or information relating to the Company or the Company Subsidiaries furnished or provided to Parent or its Representatives or made available to Parent or its Representatives in any data rooms, virtual data rooms, management presentations or in any other form in expectation of, or in connection with, this Agreement or the Transactions, except as expressly and specifically covered by a representation or warranty set forth in Article IV.

(b) Parent has received from the Company and its Representatives certain projections and other forecasts, including projected financial statements, cash flow items and other data of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries and certain business plan information of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries. Parent acknowledges that there are uncertainties inherent in attempting to make such projections and other forecasts and plans and accordingly is not relying on them, that Parent is familiar with such uncertainties, that Parent is taking full responsibility for making its own evaluation of the adequacy and accuracy of all projections and other forecasts and plans so furnished to it, and that Parent and its Representatives shall have no Claim against any Person with respect thereto. Accordingly, Parent acknowledges that, without limiting the generality of this Section 3.30, neither the Company nor any Person acting on behalf of the Company has made any representation or warranty with respect to such projections and other forecasts and plans.

ARTICLE IV

Representations and Warranties of the Company

The Company represents and warrants to Parent and Merger Sub that the statements contained in this Article IV are true and correct, except (i) as set forth in the Company Reporting Documents publicly available and filed with or furnished to the SEC since January 1, 2017 (the Filed Company Reporting Documents) (excluding any disclosures in the Filed Company Reporting Documents under the heading Risk Factors and in any section related to forward-looking statements and in any other disclosures that are similarly predictive or forward-looking in nature (other than any historical factual information contained within such headings, statements or disclosure)) or (ii) as set forth in the disclosure letter delivered by the Company to Parent and Merger Sub prior to the execution and delivery by the Company of this Agreement (the Company Disclosure Letter). The Company Disclosure Letter shall be arranged in numbered and lettered sections corresponding to the numbered and lettered sections contained in this Article IV, and the disclosure in any section shall be deemed to qualify other sections in this Article IV to the extent (and only to the extent) that it is reasonably apparent from the face of such disclosure that such disclosure also qualifies or applies to such other sections. The mere inclusion of an item in the Company Disclosure Letter as an exception to a representation or warranty is not deemed an admission that such item represents a material exception or material fact, event or circumstance or that such item has had or would reasonably be expected to have, individually or in the aggregate, a Company Material Adverse Effect.

SECTION 4.01 Organization, Standing and Power. Each of the Company and each of the Company's Subsidiaries (the Company Subsidiaries) is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the jurisdiction in which it is organized (in the case of good standing, to the extent such jurisdiction recognizes such concept), with all requisite entity power and authority to own, operate or lease its properties and assets and to carry on its business as now being conducted except where the failure to be so organized, existing or in good standing, or to have such power or authority, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. The Company and each Company Subsidiary is duly qualified or licensed to do business in each jurisdiction where the nature of its business or the ownership, operation or leasing of its properties and assets makes such qualification necessary, other than in such jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified or licensed, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and would not reasonably be expected to have a Company Material Adverse Effect. The Company has made available to Parent and Merger Sub, prior to execution of this Agreement, true and correct copies of the articles of incorporation of the Company in effect as of the date of this Agreement (the Company Charter) and the bylaws of the Company in effect as of the date of this Agreement (the Company Bylaws), as well as the Organizational Documents of each of the Company Subsidiaries. Neither the Company nor any Company Subsidiary is in material violation of any of the provisions of such Organizational Documents.

SECTION 4.02 Company Subsidiaries.

(a) All the outstanding shares of capital stock or voting securities of, or other equity interests in, each Company Subsidiary have been validly issued and are fully paid and nonassessable and are (other than qualifying shares and shares held by natural persons pursuant to requirements of Law of non-U.S. jurisdictions) wholly owned by the Company, by another Company Subsidiary or by the Company and another Company Subsidiary, free and clear of all Liens, and free of any other restriction (including any restriction on the right to vote, sell or otherwise dispose of such capital stock, voting securities or other equity interests) except for restrictions imposed by applicable securities Laws and, in each case, except for Permitted Liens. Section 4.02(a) of the Company Disclosure Letter sets forth, as of the date of this Agreement, a true and complete list of the Company Subsidiaries, together with (i) the jurisdiction of incorporation or organization, as the case may be, of each Company Subsidiary, (ii) the type of and percentage of interest held (including capital account balances for any entity treated as a partnership for income tax purposes from the most recently filed relevant Tax Return), directly or indirectly, by the Company in each Company Subsidiary, (iii) the names of and the type of and percentage of interest held (including capital account balances for any entity treated as a partnership for income tax purposes from the most recently filed relevant Tax Return) by any Person other than the Company or a Company Subsidiary in each Company Subsidiary and (iv) the classification for U.S. federal income tax purposes of each Company Subsidiary.

however, that the Parent Board may not make any such Parent Adverse Recommendation Change unless and until: (i) the Parent Board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that such Parent Takeover Proposal is a Superior Parent Proposal; (ii) the Parent Board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel) that the failure to take such action in response to such Superior Parent Proposal would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties owed by the Parent Board to the Parent Stockholders under applicable Law; (iii) Parent provides the Company with written notice of such proposed action and the basis thereof five Business Days in advance, which notice shall set forth in writing that the Parent Board intends to take such action, and include a copy of the available proposed Parent Takeover Proposal (a Parent Notice of Superior Proposal); (iv) after giving such Parent Notice of Superior Proposal and prior to effecting such Parent Adverse Recommendation Change or terminating this Agreement, Parent negotiates (and causes its officers, employees, financial advisor and outside legal counsel to negotiate) in good faith with the Company (to the extent the Company wishes to negotiate) to make such adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement as would permit the Parent Board not to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change or terminate this Agreement in response thereto; and (v) at the end of the five Business Day period, prior to taking action to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change, the Parent Board takes into account any adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement proposed by the Company in writing and any other information offered by the Company in response to the Parent Notice of Superior Proposal and determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that the Parent Takeover Proposal remains a Superior Parent Proposal and that the failure to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Superior Parent Proposal would be inconsistent with the duties owed by the Parent Board to the Parent Stockholders under applicable Law; provided, that any amendment to the financial terms or any other material term of such Superior Parent Proposal shall require a new Parent Notice of Superior Proposal, except that references to the five Business Day period above shall be deemed to be references to the longer of the remaining Business Days in the initial five Business Day period and a new three Business Day period.

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, prior to, but not after, obtaining the Parent Stockholder Approval, in response to a Parent Intervening Event that did not arise from or in connection with a material breach of this Agreement by Parent, the Parent Board may make a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change; provided, however, that the Parent Board may not make any such Parent Adverse Recommendation Change unless and until: (i) the Parent Board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that the failure to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Parent Intervening Event would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties owed by the Parent Board to the Parent Stockholders under applicable Law; (ii) Parent provides the Company with written notice of such proposed action and the basis thereof five Business Days in advance, which notice shall set forth in writing that the Parent Board intends to take such action and includes a reasonable description of the facts and circumstances of the Parent Intervening Event (a Parent Notice of Intervening Event); (iii) after giving such Parent Notice of Intervening Event and prior to effecting such Parent Adverse Recommendation Change, Parent negotiates (and causes its officers, employees, financial advisor and outside legal counsel to negotiate) in good faith with the Company (to the extent the Company wishes to negotiate) to make such adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement as would permit the Parent Board not to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change in response thereto; and (iv) at the end of the five Business Day period, prior to taking action to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change, the Parent Board takes into account any adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement proposed by the Company in writing and any other information offered by the Company in response to the Parent Notice of Intervening Event and determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that the failure to effect a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Parent Intervening Event would be inconsistent with the duties owed by the Parent Board to the Parent Stockholders under applicable Law.

(g) Nothing contained in this Section 5.02 shall prohibit Parent from after consultation with its outside legal counsel, making such disclosures as the Parent Board thereof determines in good faith are necessary to comply with Rule

14d-9 or Rule 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act; provided, however, that if such disclosure has the effect of withdrawing or adversely modifying or qualifying the Parent Recommendation,

The Company shall keep Parent informed in all material respects on a prompt basis (and in any event within 24 hours) with respect to any material development regarding the status or terms of any such Company Takeover Proposal (including any change to the terms of any such Company Takeover Proposal) or inquiry or request. The Company shall provide to Parent as soon as practicable after receipt or delivery thereof (and in any event within 24 hours) copies of all correspondence and other written materials sent by or provided to the Company or its Representatives to or from any Person making a Company Takeover Proposal, as applicable, with respect to any material development regarding the status or terms of any such Company Takeover Proposal.

(d) Except as set forth below, neither the Company Board nor any committee thereof shall (i) (A) withdraw (or modify or qualify in any manner adverse to Parent), or propose publicly to withdraw (or modify or qualify in any manner adverse to Parent), the Company Recommendation, (B) fail to include the Company Recommendation in the Joint Proxy Statement or (C) adopt, approve, recommend or declare advisable, or propose publicly to adopt, approve, recommend or declare advisable, any Company Takeover Proposal (any action in this clause (i) being referred to as a Company Adverse Recommendation Change), (ii) approve, recommend or declare advisable, or propose publicly to approve, recommend or declare advisable, or allow the Company or any of its Affiliates to execute or enter into, any Acquisition Agreement (other than a Company Acceptable Confidentiality Agreement) constituting or that could reasonably be expected to lead to a Company Takeover Proposal, or requiring the Company to abandon, terminate, delay or fail to consummate the Transactions, (iii) in the case of a Company Takeover Proposal that is structured as a tender offer or exchange offer for outstanding Company Common Shares, fail to recommend, in a Solicitation/Recommendation Statement on Schedule 14D-9, against acceptance of such tender offer or exchange offer by the Company Shareholders on or prior to ten Business Days after commencement of such tender offer or exchange offer, or (iv) if a Company Takeover Proposal shall have been publicly announced (other than pursuant to the foregoing clause (iii)) or publicly known (including through media reports and/or market rumors), fail to publicly reaffirm the Company Recommendation within five Business Days after Parent so requests in writing.

(e) Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time prior to, but not after, obtaining the Company Shareholder Approval, in response to an unsolicited, bona fide, written, Company Takeover Proposal that did not result from or arise in connection with a breach of this Section 5.03, the Company Board may make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change and/or terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(i); provided, however, that the Company Board may not make any such Company Adverse Recommendation Change or terminate this Agreement unless and until: (i) the Company Board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that

(f) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, prior to, but not after, obtaining the Company Shareholder Approval, in response to a Company Intervening Event that did not arise from or in connection with a material breach of this Agreement by the Company, the Company Board may make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change; provided, however, that the Company Board may not make any such Company Adverse Recommendation Change unless and until: (i) the Company Board determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that the failure to effect a Company Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Company Intervening Event would be inconsistent with the fiduciary duties owed by the Company Board to the Company Shareholders under applicable Law, (ii) the Company provides Parent with written notice of such proposed action and the basis thereof five Business Days in advance, which notice shall set forth in writing that the Company Board intends to take such action and includes a reasonable description of the facts and circumstances of the Company Intervening Event (a Company Notice of Intervening Event); (iii) after giving such Company Notice of Intervening Event and prior to effecting such Company Adverse Recommendation Change, the Company negotiates (and causes its officers, employees, financial advisor and outside legal counsel to negotiate) in good faith with Parent (to the extent Parent wishes to negotiate) to make such adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement as would permit the Company Board not to effect a Company Adverse Recommendation Change in response thereto; and (iv) at the end of the five Business Day period, prior to taking action to effect a Company Adverse Recommendation Change, the Company Board takes into account any adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement proposed by Parent in writing and any other information offered by Parent in response to the Company Notice of Intervening Event and determines in good faith (after consultation with outside legal counsel and its financial advisor) that the failure to effect a Company Adverse Recommendation Change in response to such Company Intervening Event would be inconsistent with the duties owed by the Company Board to the Company Shareholders under applicable Law.

(g) During the period commencing with the execution and delivery of this Agreement and continuing until the earlier of the Effective Time and termination of this Agreement in accordance with Article VIII, the Company shall not (and it shall cause the Company Subsidiaries not to) terminate, amend, modify or waive any provision of any confidentiality, standstill or similar agreement to which it or any of the

The Company represents and warrants to Parent that it has not taken any action that (i) would be prohibited by this Section 5.03(g) or (ii) but for the ability to avoid actions inconsistent with the fiduciary duties owed by the Company Board to the Company Shareholders under applicable Law, would have been prohibited by this Section 5.03(g) during the 30 days prior to the date of this Agreement.

(h) Nothing contained in this Section 5.03 shall prohibit the Company from after consultation with its outside legal counsel, making such disclosures as the Company Board thereof determines in good faith are necessary to comply with Rule 14d-9 or Rule 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act; provided, however, that if such disclosure has the effect of withdrawing or adversely modifying or qualifying the Company Recommendation, such disclosure shall be deemed to be a Company Adverse Recommendation Change and Parent shall have the right to terminate this Agreement as set forth in Section 8.01(e); provided further, that (i) issuing a stop-look-and-listen communication pursuant to Rule 14d-9(f) promulgated under the Exchange Act or taking and disclosing to Company stockholders positions required by Rule 14d-9 or Rule 14e-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act, in each case after the commencement of a tender offer (within the meaning of Rule 14d-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act), and (ii) issuing a statement in connection with a Company Takeover Proposal that does not involve the commencement of a tender offer (within the meaning of Rule 14d-2 promulgated under the Exchange Act), so long as the statement includes no more information than would be required for a stop-look-and-listen communication under Rule 14d-9(f) promulgated under the Exchange Act if such provision was applicable shall not be deemed to be a Company Adverse Recommendation Change.

Each of Parent and the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to respond as promptly as practicable to any comments from the SEC with respect to the Form S-4 or Joint Proxy Statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, prior to filing the Form S-4 (or any amendment or supplement thereto) or mailing the Joint Proxy Statement (or any amendment or supplement thereto) or responding to any comments of the SEC with respect thereto, each of Parent and the Company (i) shall provide the other an opportunity to review and comment on such document or response (including the proposed final version of such document or response), (ii) shall include in such document or response all comments reasonably proposed by the other and (iii) shall not file or mail such document or respond to the SEC prior to receiving the approval of the other, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed. Each of Parent and the Company shall advise the other, promptly after receipt of notice thereof, of the time of effectiveness of the Form S-4, the issuance of any stop order relating thereto or the suspension of the qualification of the Stock Consideration for offering or sale in any jurisdiction, and each of Parent and the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to have any such stop order or suspension lifted, reversed or otherwise terminated. Each of Parent and the Company shall also take any other action (other than qualifying to do business in any jurisdiction in which it is not now so qualified) required to be taken under the Securities Act, the Exchange Act and any applicable foreign or state securities or blue sky Laws in connection with the Merger and the issuance of the Stock Consideration.

(b) If prior to the Effective Time, any event occurs with respect to Parent or any Parent Subsidiary, or any change occurs with respect to other information supplied by Parent for inclusion in the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4, which is required to be described in an amendment of, or a supplement to, the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4, Parent shall promptly notify the Company of such event, and Parent and the Company shall cooperate in the prompt filing with the SEC of any necessary amendment or supplement to the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4 and, as required by Law, in disseminating the information contained in such amendment or supplement to the Parent Stockholders and the Company Shareholders. Nothing in this Section 6.01(b) shall limit the obligations of any party under Section 6.01(a).

(c) If prior to the Effective Time, any event occurs with respect to the Company or any Company Subsidiary, or any change occurs with respect to other information supplied by the Company for inclusion in the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4, which is required to be described in an amendment of, or a supplement to, the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4, the Company shall promptly notify Parent of such event, and Parent and the Company shall cooperate in the prompt filing with the SEC of any necessary amendment or supplement to the Joint Proxy Statement or the Form S-4 and, as required by Law, in disseminating the information contained in such amendment or supplement to the Parent Stockholders and the Company Shareholders. Nothing in this Section 6.01(c) shall limit the obligations of any party under Section 6.01(a).

(d) Parent shall, as soon as reasonably practicable following the date of this Agreement, establish a record date for, duly call, give notice of, convene and hold the Parent Stockholders Meeting for the purpose of seeking the Parent Stockholder Approval. Parent shall use its reasonable best efforts to (x) cause the Joint Proxy Statement to be mailed to the Parent Stockholders and (y) hold the Parent Stockholders Meeting as soon as reasonably practicable after the Form S-4 is declared effective under the Securities Act, in each case in accordance with applicable Law, the Parent Charter and the Parent Bylaws. Parent shall, through the Parent Board, recommend to its stockholders that they give the Parent Stockholder Approval, shall include such recommendation in the Joint Proxy Statement and shall use reasonable best efforts to solicit the Parent Stockholder Approval (which shall include hiring a proxy solicitor), except to the extent that the Parent Board has made a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change as permitted by Section 5.02(e) or Section 5.02(f). Except as expressly contemplated by the immediately preceding sentence and subject to Parent's right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(h), Parent agrees that its obligations pursuant to this Section 6.01 shall not be affected by the commencement, public proposal, public disclosure or communication to Parent of any Parent Takeover Proposal or by the making of any Parent Adverse Recommendation Change by the Parent Board. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, Parent (i) shall be required to adjourn or postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any required supplement or amendment to the Joint Proxy Statement is provided to the Parent Stockholders or (B) if, as of the time for which the Parent Stockholders Meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Parent Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct business at such Parent Stockholders Meeting or (ii) may, and at the Company's request shall, adjourn or postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting if, as of the time for which the Parent Stockholders Meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient shares of Parent Common Stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to obtain the Parent Stockholder Approval; provided, however, that unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, the Parent Stockholders Meeting shall not be adjourned or postponed to a date that is more than 30 days after the date for which the meeting was previously scheduled (it being understood that such Parent Stockholders Meeting shall be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in the foregoing clauses (i)(A) and (i)(B) exist, and such Parent Stockholders Meeting may be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in the foregoing clause (ii) exist); and provided further that the Parent Stockholders Meeting shall not be adjourned or postponed to a date on or after two Business Days prior to the End Date. In the event that during the five Business Days prior to the date that the Parent Stockholders Meeting is then scheduled to be held, Parent delivers a notice of an intent to make a Parent Adverse Recommendation Change, the Company may direct Parent to postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting for up to six Business Days and Parent shall promptly, and in any event no later than the next Business Day, postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting in accordance with the Company's direction, subject to Parent's right to postpone the Parent Stockholders Meeting for a longer period pursuant to the immediately preceding sentence. (e) The Company shall, as soon as reasonably practicable following the date of this Agreement, establish a record date for, duly call, give notice of, convene and hold the Company Shareholders Meeting for the purpose of seeking the Company Shareholder Approval. The Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to (x) cause the Joint Proxy Statement to be mailed to the Company Shareholders and (y) hold the Company Shareholders Meeting as soon as reasonably practicable after the Form S-4 is declared effective under the Securities Act, in each case in accordance with applicable Law, the Company Charter and the Company Bylaws. The Company shall, through the Company Board, recommend to its shareholders that they give the Company Shareholder Approval, shall include such recommendation in the Joint Proxy Statement and shall use reasonable best efforts to solicit the Company Shareholder Approval (which shall include hiring a proxy solicitor), except to the extent that the Company Board has made a Company Adverse Recommendation Change as permitted by Section 5.03(e) or Section 5.02(f). Except as expressly contemplated by the immediately preceding sentence and subject to the Company's right to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(i), the Company agrees that its obligations pursuant to this Section 6.01 shall not be affected by the commencement, public proposal, public disclosure or communication to the Company of any Company Takeover Proposal or by the making of any Company Adverse Recommendation Change by the Company Board. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the Company (i) shall be required to adjourn or postpone the Company Shareholders Meeting (A) to the extent necessary to ensure that any required supplement or amendment to the Joint Proxy Statement is provided to the Company Shareholders or (B) if, as of the time for which the Company Shareholders Meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient Company Common Shares represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct business at such Company Shareholders Meeting or (ii) may, and at Parent's request shall, adjourn or postpone the Company Shareholders Meeting if, as of the time for which the Company Shareholders Meeting is scheduled, there are insufficient Company Common Shares represented (either in person or by proxy) to obtain the Company Shareholder Approval; provided, however, that unless otherwise agreed to by the parties, the Company Shareholders Meeting shall not be adjourned or postponed to a date that is more than 30 days after the date for which the meeting was previously scheduled (it being understood that such Company Shareholders Meeting shall be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in the foregoing clauses (i)(A) and (i)(B) exist, and such Company Shareholders Meeting may be adjourned or postponed every time the circumstances described in the foregoing clause (ii) exist); and provided further that the Company Shareholders Meeting shall not be adjourned or postponed to a

In the event that during the five Business Days prior to the date that the Company Shareholders Meeting is then scheduled to be held, the Company delivers a notice of an intent to make a Company Adverse Recommendation Change, Parent may direct the Company to postpone the Company Shareholders Meeting for up to six Business Days and the Company shall promptly, and in any event no later than the next Business Day, postpone the Company Shareholders Meeting in accordance with Parent's direction, subject to the Company's right to postpone the Company Shareholders Meeting for a longer period pursuant to the immediately preceding sentence. If requested by Parent, the Company shall promptly provide Parent with all voting tabulation reports relating to the Company Shareholders Meeting that have been prepared by the Company or the Company's transfer agent, proxy solicitor or other Representative.

(f) Each of Parent and the Company shall use their reasonable best efforts to hold the Parent Stockholders Meeting and the Company Shareholders Meeting, respectively, at the same time and on the same date as the other party.

All information exchanged pursuant to this Section 6.02 shall be subject to the confidentiality agreement dated July 26, 2018 between Parent and the Company (the Confidentiality Agreement); provided, that, prior to the termination of this Agreement, nothing in Section 14 of the Confidentiality Agreement shall restrict (i) Parent from taking actions contemplated by this Agreement to consummate the Transactions, (ii) Parent from complying with its obligations under this Agreement or (iii) the ability of Parent to propose adjustments or revisions to the terms of this Agreement to the Company Board. From and after the date of this Agreement until the earlier of the Effective Time and termination of this Agreement in accordance with Article VIII, each party shall continue to provide access to the other party and its Representatives to the electronic data room relating to the Transactions maintained by or on behalf of it to which the other party and its Representatives were provided access prior to the date of this Agreement.

SECTION 6.05 Indemnification, Exculpation and Insurance.

(a) Without limiting any additional rights that any director, officer, trustee, or fiduciary may have under any employment or indemnification agreement or under the Company Charter or Company Bylaws, resolution of the Company Board or Company Shareholders, this Agreement or, if applicable, similar Organizational Documents, resolutions or agreements of any of the Company's Subsidiaries, subject to the terms and conditions set forth herein, from and after the Effective Time, Parent and the Surviving Corporation, jointly and severally, will: (i) indemnify and hold harmless each Person who is now, or has been or becomes at any time prior to the Effective Time, (A) an officer or director of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries or (B) a director, officer, member, trustee or fiduciary of another corporation, foundation, partnership, joint venture, trust, pension or other employee benefit plan or enterprise if such service was at the request or for the benefit of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries, together with such Person's heirs, executors, trustees, fiduciaries and administrators (collectively, the Indemnified Parties) to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by applicable Law from and against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs, Indemnification Expenses, judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement (including all interest, assessments and other charges paid or payable in connection with or in respect of any thereof) arising out of or in connection with any Claim or Action; and (ii) promptly pay on behalf of or, within 15 days after any request for advancement, advance to each of the Indemnified Parties, any Indemnification Expenses incurred in defending, serving as a witness with respect to or otherwise participating with respect to any Claim or Action in advance of the final disposition of such Claim or Action, including payment on behalf of or advancement to the Indemnified Party of any Indemnification Expenses incurred by such Indemnified Party in connection with enforcing any rights with respect to such indemnification and/or advancement, in each case without the requirement of any bond or other security. The indemnification and advancement obligations of Parent and the Surviving Corporation pursuant to this Section 6.05(a) extend to acts or omissions occurring at or before the Effective Time in the capacity as a director or officer of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries and any Claim or Action relating thereto (including with respect to any acts or omissions occurring in connection with the adoption or approval of this Agreement and the consummation of the Transactions, including the consideration and approval thereof and the process undertaken in connection therewith and any Claim or Action relating thereto), and all rights to indemnification and advancement conferred hereunder continue as to any Indemnified Party who has ceased to be a director or officer of the Company or any of its Subsidiaries after the date hereof (with respect to acts or omissions occurring prior to such cessation) and inure to the benefit of such Indemnified Party's heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives. As used in this Section 6.05: (x) the term Claim means any threatened, asserted, pending or completed action or Proceeding, whether instituted by any party hereto, any Governmental Entity or any other person, whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or other, including any arbitration or other alternative dispute resolution mechanism (Action) arising out of or pertaining to matters that relate to such Indemnified Party's duties or service as a director or officer of the Company or of any of its Subsidiaries or as a trustee of (or in a similar capacity with) any compensation and benefit plan of any thereof; (y) the term Indemnification Expenses means reasonable attorneys' fees and all other reasonable costs, expenses and obligations (including reasonable experts' fees, travel expenses, court costs, retainers, transcript fees, duplicating, printing and binding costs, as well as reasonable telecommunications, postage and courier charges) paid or incurred in connection with investigating, defending, being a witness in or participating in (including on appeal), or preparing to investigate, defend, be a witness in or participate in, any Claim for which indemnification or advancement is sought pursuant to this Section 6.05(a), including any Action relating to a claim for indemnification or advancement brought by an Indemnified Party; and (z) the phrase "to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by applicable Law" includes, but is not limited to (1) to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by any provision of the VSCA, that authorizes or permits additional indemnification by agreement or otherwise, or the corresponding which an entity may indemnify its directors, officers, trustees, employees, agents, or fiduciaries or persons serving in any capacity in which any Indemnified Party serves. To the extent permitted by Law, any amendment, alteration or repeal of the VSCA, that adversely affects any right of any Indemnified Party will be prospective only and does not limit or eliminate any such right with respect to any Claim or Action involving any occurrence or alleged occurrence of any action or omission to act that took place prior to such amendment or repeal.

(b) In the event that Parent, the Surviving Corporation, LLC Sub or any of their successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other Person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any Person, then, Parent, the Surviving Corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, shall cause proper provision to be made so that the successors and assigns of Parent, the Surviving Corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, assume the obligations set forth in this Section 6.05 contemporaneous with the closing of any such consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance.

(c) On or prior to the Effective Time, Parent shall purchase a tail directors and officers liability insurance policy covering the six-year period from and after the Effective Time for the Company and its current and former directors and officers who are currently covered by the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by the Company from a carrier with the same or better credit rating to the Company's current directors and officers liability insurance carrier on terms not less favorable to the insured persons than the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by the Company as of the date of this Agreement with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred on or before the Effective Time, except that in no event shall Parent be required to pay with respect to such tail policy more than 300% of the aggregate annual premium currently paid by the Company for such insurance (the Maximum Amount). If Parent is unable to obtain the tail policy described in the foregoing sentence as of the Effective Time, Parent shall cause Surviving Corporation or LLC Sub to provide the current and former directors and officers of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries with an insurance and indemnification policy (from an insurance carrier with the same or better credit rating as the current insurer) that provides directors and officers liability insurance for events, acts and omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time for an aggregate period of no less than six years from the Effective Time that is not materially less favorable than the Company's existing policy or, if such coverage is unavailable, the best available coverage; provided, however, that in no event shall Parent or the Surviving Corporation be required to expend for such policies an aggregate premium amount greater than the Maximum Amount.

(d) The provisions of this Section 6.05 (i) shall survive consummation of the Merger and the LLC Sub Merger, (ii) are intended to be for the benefit of, and will be enforceable by, each Indemnified Party, his or her heirs, executors and personal and legal representatives and (iii) are in addition to, and not in substitution for, any other rights to indemnification, advancement, exculpation or contribution that each Indemnified Party may have by contract or otherwise, including under the terms of the respective Organizational Documents of the Company and the Company Subsidiaries.

(iv) (A) prior to the Company Shareholders Meeting, a Company Takeover Proposal is made to the Company or is made directly to the Company Shareholders or otherwise becomes publicly known or any Person has publicly announced an intention (whether or not conditional) to make a Company Takeover Proposal, and such Company Takeover Proposal or intended Company Takeover Proposal has not been publicly withdrawn without qualification at least five Business Days prior to (1) the Company Shareholders Meeting or (2) if such Company Shareholders Meeting has not been held at the time of termination, the date of such termination, (B) Parent or the Company, as applicable, terminates this Agreement pursuant to (1) Section 8.01(b)(i) (End Date) (if the Company Shareholders Meeting has not been held), (2) Section 8.01(b)(iv) (Company No Vote) or (3) Section 8.01(c) (Company Terminable Breach), and (C) within 12 months of such termination, the Company enters into a definitive Contract (other than a confidentiality agreement) with respect to a Company Takeover Proposal (or the Company publicly approves or recommends to the Company Shareholders or otherwise does not oppose, in the case of a tender or exchange offer, a Company Takeover Proposal which is ultimately consummated regardless of whether outside such 12-month period) or consummates a Company Takeover Proposal. For purposes of this Section 6.06(b)(iv)(C) only, the term Company Takeover Proposal shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 9.03 except that all references to 15% therein shall be deemed to be references to 50%.

Any Termination Fee due under this Section 6.06(b) shall be paid by wire transfer of same-day funds to an account designated by Parent (x) in the case of clauses (i) and (ii) above, on the second Business Day immediately following the date of termination of this Agreement, (y) in the case of clause (iii) above, immediately prior to or concurrently with the termination of this Agreement, and (z) in the case of clause (iv) above, on the date of the first to occur of the events referred to in clause (iv)(C) above.

(c) Parent shall pay to the Company the Termination Fee if:

(i) the Company terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(f) (Parent Adverse Recommendation Change) or Section 8.01(j) (Breach of Non-Solicitation Covenant);

(ii) Parent terminates this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(b)(iii) (Parent No Vote) at any time at which the Company would have been permitted to terminate this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01(f) (Parent Adverse Recommendation Change);

(iv) (A) prior to the Parent Stockholders Meeting, a Parent Takeover Proposal is made to Parent or is made directly to the Parent Stockholders or otherwise becomes publicly known or any Person has publicly announced an intention (whether or not conditional) to make a Parent Takeover Proposal, and such Parent Takeover Proposal or intended Parent Takeover Proposal has not been publicly withdrawn without qualification at least five Business Days prior to (1) the Parent Stockholders Meeting or (2), if such Parent Stockholders Meeting has not been held at the time of termination, the date of such termination, (B) Parent or the Company, as applicable, terminates this Agreement pursuant to (1) Section 8.01(b)(i) (End Date) (if the Parent Stockholders Meeting has not been held), (2) Section 8.01(b)(iii) (Parent No Vote) or (3) Section 8.01(d) (Parent Terminable Breach), and (C) within 12 months of such termination Parent enters into a definitive Contract (other than a confidentiality agreement) with respect to a Parent Takeover Proposal (or Parent publicly approves or recommends to the Parent Stockholders or otherwise does not oppose, in the case of a tender or exchange offer, a Parent Takeover Proposal which is ultimately consummated regardless of whether outside such 12-month period) or consummates a Parent Takeover Proposal. For purposes of this Section 6.06(c)(iv)(C) only, the term Parent Takeover Proposal shall have the meaning assigned to such term in Section 9.03 except that all references to 40% and 60% therein shall be deemed to be references to 50%.

Any Termination Fee due under this Section 6.06(c) shall be paid by wire transfer of same-day funds to an account designated by the Company (x) in the case of clauses (i) and (ii) above, on the second Business Day immediately following the date of termination of this Agreement, (y) in the case of clause (iii) above, immediately prior to or concurrently with the termination of this Agreement, and (z) in the case of clause (iv) above, on the date of the first to occur of the events referenced in clause (iv)(C) above.

(d) Parent and the Company acknowledge and agree that the agreements contained in Section 6.06(b) and Section 6.06(c) are an integral part of the Transactions, and that, without these agreements, neither the Company nor Parent would enter into this Agreement. Accordingly, if Parent fails promptly to pay the amount due pursuant to Section 6.06(c) or the Company fails promptly to pay the amount due pursuant to Section 6.06(b) and, in order to obtain such payment, the Person owed such payment commences a suit, action or other Proceeding that results in a Judgment in its favor for such payment, the Person owing such payment shall pay to the Person owed such payment its costs and expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees and expenses) in connection with such suit, action or other Proceeding, together with interest on the amount of such payment from the date such payment was required to be made until the date of payment at the prime rate as published by The Wall Street Journal in effect on the date such payment was required to be made. In no event shall either party be obligated to pay more than one Termination Fee pursuant to this Section 6.06. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, in the event that the Termination Fee becomes due and payable and is actually paid to Parent or the Company in accordance with this Section 6.06, payment of such Termination Fee, as applicable, shall be the sole and exclusive remedy of the non-terminating party and its Affiliates against any other party or such other party's Affiliates and other Representatives, for any loss or damage based upon, arising out of or relating to this Agreement or the negotiation, execution or performance hereof or the Transactions, except in the case of fraud or Knowing and Intentional Breach of this Agreement. Solely for purposes of establishing the basis for the amount thereof, and without in any way increasing the amount of the Termination Fee, expanding the circumstances in which the Termination Fee is to be paid or restricting or modifying the other rights of any party hereunder, in the event of the valid termination of this Agreement under circumstances in which the Termination Fee is due and payable pursuant to this Section 6.06 and is actually paid, it is agreed that such Termination Fee is liquidated damages, and not a penalty, and the payment thereof in such circumstances is supported by due and sufficient consideration; provided that no payment of a Termination Fee shall be considered in lieu of, or a replacement or substitution for, damages incurred in the event of any fraud or Knowing and Intentional Breach of this Agreement.

SECTION 6.07 Certain Tax Matters. For U.S. federal income Tax purposes, it is intended that (a) the Integrated Mergers, taken together, qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of section 368(a) of the Code, (b) with respect to the Integrated Mergers, this Agreement constitutes a plan of reorganization within the meaning of Treasury Regulations §§ 1.368-2(g) and 1.368-3(a) and (c) with respect to the Integrated Mergers, Parent, Merger Sub, LLC Sub and the Company each be a party to a reorganization within the meaning of section 368(b) of the Code. Each of Parent and the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Integrated Mergers to qualify, and will not take (and will use its reasonable best efforts to prevent any Affiliate of such party from taking) any actions that would reasonably be expected to prevent the Integrated Mergers from qualifying, as a reorganization under the provisions of section 368(a) of the Code. Parent and the Company will cooperate with one another and use their respective reasonable best efforts to obtain the opinions of counsel referred to in Section 7.02(c) and Section 7.03(c). In connection with obtaining such opinions, (i) Parent shall deliver to such counsel a duly executed certificate substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B (the Parent Tax Certificate) and (ii) the Company shall deliver to such counsel a duly executed certificate substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C (the Company Tax Certificate), in each case dated as of the Closing Date (and, if requested, dated as of the date on which the Form S-4 is declared effective by the SEC).

SECTION 6.08 Transaction Litigation. Notwithstanding anything in Section 5.01 of this Agreement to the contrary, in the event any Proceeding by any Governmental Entity or other Person is commenced or, to the Knowledge of the Company or Parent, as applicable, threatened, that questions the validity or legality of the Transactions or seeks damages or injunctive relief in connection therewith, including stockholder litigation (Transaction Litigation), the Company or Parent, as applicable, shall promptly (and in any event, within one Business Day) notify the other party orally and in writing of such Transaction Litigation and shall keep the other party reasonably informed with respect to the status thereof. The Company or Parent, as applicable, shall give the other party a reasonable opportunity to participate in the defense or settlement of any Transaction Litigation at the other party's sole cost and expense and shall consider in good faith the other party's advice with respect to such Transaction Litigation; provided, that the Company or Parent shall not cease to defend any such Transaction Litigation without the prior written consent of the other party; provided, further, that the Company shall not consent to the entry of any judgment, offer or agree to settle, or take any other material action with respect to such Transaction Litigation without the prior written consent of Parent. Without limiting in any way the parties' obligations under Section 6.03, each of Parent and the Company shall cooperate, shall cause the Parent Subsidiaries and the Company Subsidiaries, as applicable, to cooperate, and shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause its Representatives to cooperate in the defense against any Transaction Litigation.

Parent, through the Parent Board and subject to the Parent Board's fiduciary duties to the stockholders of Parent, shall take all necessary action to recommend that the Company Directors be elected to the Parent Board in the proxy statement relating to the first annual meeting of the stockholders of Parent following the Closing.

SECTION 6.11 Public Announcements. Except with respect to (i) any Parent Adverse Recommendation Change or Company Adverse Recommendation Change made in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, (ii) any action taken by the Company or the Company Board pursuant to, and in accordance with, Section 5.03, or (iii) any action taken by Parent or the Parent Board pursuant to, and in accordance with, Section 5.02, Parent and the Company shall consult with each other before issuing, and give each other the opportunity to review and comment upon, any press release or other public statements with respect to the Merger and the other Transactions and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement without the prior written approval of the other party, except as such party may reasonably conclude may be required by applicable Law, court process or by obligations pursuant to any listing agreement with any national securities exchange or national securities quotation system; provided, in each case, such party uses reasonable best efforts to afford the other party an opportunity to first review the content of the reasonable comments thereon which the disclosing party shall consider in good faith. Prior to initiating any written material communications to all employees of the Company or any of the Company Subsidiaries pertaining to the effect of the Transaction on compensation or benefit matters, the Company shall provide Parent with a copy of the intended communication, the Company shall provide Parent a reasonable period of time to review and comment on the communication, and the Company shall consider any timely comments in good faith. The initial press release to be issued with respect to the Transactions shall be a joint press release to be reasonably agreed to by the parties.

SECTION 6.12 Stock Exchange Listing. Parent shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the shares of Parent Common Stock to be issued in the Merger and upon the settlement of Company RSU Awards and Company PSU Awards following the Effective Time, to be approved for listing on the NYSE, in each case subject to official notice of issuance, prior to the Closing Date. The Company shall cooperate with Parent in connection with the foregoing, including the provision of information reasonably requested by Parent in connection therewith.

SECTION 6.13 Stock Exchange De-listing. Each of Parent and the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to cause the Company Common Shares and any other securities of the Company specified by Parent to be de-listed from the NASDAQ and de-registered under the Exchange Act as soon as reasonably practicable following the Effective Time.

SECTION 6.14 Employee Matters.

(a) For a period of one year following the Effective Time, Parent shall provide each individual who is actively employed by the Company or any of the Company Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time and who continues employment with the Surviving Corporation, LLC Sub or any of their respective Subsidiaries as of the Closing Date (each a Company Employee) with (i) a base salary or wage rate and target incentive compensation opportunity (including equity-based compensation) that, in each case, is no less favorable than the base salary or wage rate and target incentive compensation opportunity (including equity-based compensation) in effect for such Company Employee immediately prior to the Effective Time and (ii) health, welfare and retirement benefits that are no less favorable, in the aggregate, than the health, welfare and retirement benefits provided to such Company Employee immediately prior to the Effective Time.

(c) Parent shall, or shall cause the Surviving Corporation or LLC Sub to, provide severance benefits to each Company Employee who is terminated during the period commencing on the Closing Date and ending on the one year anniversary thereof that are at least equal to the severance benefits provided pursuant to the applicable severance benefits plan, agreement, practice or arrangement maintained by the Company or any of the Company Subsidiaries for the benefit of such Company Employee immediately prior to the Effective Time.

(d) For purposes of each benefit plan of Parent or the Parent Subsidiaries, Parent and the Parent Subsidiaries shall use best efforts to (i) cause all pre-existing condition exclusions and actively-at-work

(e) This Section 6.14 shall be binding upon and shall inure solely to the benefit of each of the parties to this Agreement, and nothing in this Section 6.14, express or implied, (i) is intended to confer upon any other person (including any current or former directors, officers, consultants or employees of any of the Company or any Company Subsidiary or, on or after the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation or any of its Subsidiaries) any rights or remedies of any nature whatsoever, (ii) is intended to be, or shall constitute or be construed as, an amendment to or modification of any employee benefit plan, program, policy, agreement or arrangement of Parent, the Company, the Surviving Corporation or any respective Subsidiary thereof or (iii) obligates Parent or any of the Parent Subsidiaries to retain the employment of any particular employee of the Company or any Company Subsidiary following the Effective Time.

SECTION 6.15 [Reserved]

SECTION 6.16 Financing.

(a) Parent shall use, and shall cause its Affiliates to use, their reasonable best efforts to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary or advisable to consummate the Financing as promptly as possible following the date of this Agreement (and, in any event, no later than the Closing Date), including:

(i) (A) maintaining in effect the Commitment Letter and complying with all of their respective obligations thereunder and (B) negotiating, entering into and delivering definitive agreements with respect to the Financing reflecting the terms contained in the Commitment Letter (or with other terms agreed by Parent and the Financing Parties, subject to the restrictions on amendments of the Commitment Letter set forth below), so that such agreements are in effect no later than the Closing Date; and

(ii) satisfying on a timely basis all the conditions to the Financing and the definitive agreements related thereto that are applicable to Parent and its Affiliates.

(b) In the event that all conditions set forth in Section 7.01 and Section 7.03 have been satisfied or waived or, upon funding shall be satisfied or waived, Parent and its Affiliates shall cause the Financing Parties to fund on the Closing Date the Financing, to the extent the proceeds thereof are required to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby, and shall enforce its rights under the Commitment Letter. Parent shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, take or refrain from taking, directly or indirectly, any action that would reasonably be expected to result in a failure of any of the conditions contained in the Commitment Letter or in any definitive agreement related to the Financing. Parent shall not, and shall cause its Affiliates not to, object to the utilization of any market flex provisions by any Financing Party.

(c) Parent shall keep the Company reasonably informed, promptly upon request by the Company (and in any event within two Business Days of such request), of the status of Parent's efforts to obtain the Financing and to satisfy the conditions thereof. Without limiting the foregoing, Parent shall notify the Company promptly (and in any event within two Business Days) if at any time prior to the Closing Date:

(i) the Commitment Letter expires or is terminated for any reason (or if any Person attempts or purports to terminate or repudiate the Commitment Letter, whether or not such attempted or purported termination or repudiation is valid);

(ii) Parent obtains Knowledge of any breach or default, or any event or circumstance that, with or without due notice, lapse of time or both, would reasonably be expected to give rise to any breach or default, by any party to the Commitment Letter or any definitive document related to the Financing of any provisions of the Commitment Letter or any definitive document related to the Financing;

(iii) Parent receives any written communication from any Person with respect to any actual, potential or threatened breach, default, termination or repudiation by any party to the Commitment Letter or any definitive document related to the Financing; or

(iv) any Financing Party refuses to provide or expresses in writing an intent to refuse to provide all or any portion of the Financing contemplated by the Commitment Letter on the terms set forth therein (or expresses in writing that such Person does not intend to enter into all or any portion of definitive documentation related to the Financing or to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby).

(d) Parent may amend, modify, terminate, assign or agree to any waiver under the Commitment Letter without the prior written approval of the Company; provided, that Parent shall not, without the Company's prior written consent, permit any such amendment, modification, termination, assignment or waiver to be made to any provision of or remedy under the Commitment Letter which would (i) reduce the aggregate amount of the Financing (including by increasing the amount of fees to be paid or original issue discount), (ii) impose new or additional conditions to the Financing or otherwise expand, amend or modify any of the conditions to the Financing or (iii) otherwise expand, amend, modify or waive any provision of the Commitment Letter in a manner that in any such case would reasonably be expected to (A) delay or make less likely the funding of the Financing (or satisfaction of the conditions to the Financing) on the Closing Date, (B) adversely impact the ability of Parent to enforce its rights against the Financing Parties or (C) timely consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby. In the event that new commitment letters or fee letters are entered into in accordance with any amendment, replacement, supplement or other modification of the Commitment Letter permitted pursuant to this Section 6.16(d), Parent shall promptly deliver to the Company a true, complete and accurate copy thereof (and in the case of the Fee Letter, redacted in a manner consistent with Section 3.28). For purposes of this Agreement, the terms Commitment Letter and Fee Letter shall include and mean such documents as amended, supplemented, modified, waived or replaced in compliance with this Section 6.16(d), and references to Financing shall include and mean the financing contemplated by the Commitment Letter as so amended, supplemented, modified, waived or replaced, as applicable.

(e) Parent shall pay, or cause to be paid, as the same shall become due and payable, all fees and other amounts that become due and payable under the Commitment Letter.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement to the contrary, Parent and Merger Sub expressly acknowledge and agree that neither Parent's, Merger Sub's nor any of their respective Affiliates' obligations hereunder are conditioned in any manner upon Parent, Merger Sub or any of their respective Affiliates obtaining the Financing or any other financing.

SECTION 6.17 Financing Cooperation.

(a) From the date hereof until the Closing (or the earlier termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.01), subject to the limitations set forth in this Section 6.17, and unless otherwise agreed by Parent, the Company shall use its reasonable best efforts to and to cause its Representatives to, and shall cause each of its Subsidiaries to use their respective reasonable best efforts to and to cause their respective Representatives to, provide all cooperation reasonably requested by Parent, or as Parent may reasonably determine necessary or advisable, in connection with Parent's arrangement and closing of the Financing and the satisfaction of the conditions in the Commitment Letter,

Each party (i) certifies that no representative, agent or attorney of any other party has represented, expressly or otherwise, that such party would not, in the event of any action, suit or other Proceeding, seek to enforce the foregoing waiver, (ii) understands and has considered the implications of this waiver, (iii) makes this waiver voluntarily and (iv) acknowledges that it and the other parties have been induced to enter into this Agreement by, among other things, the mutual waiver and certifications in this Section 9.11.

No party to this Agreement or any of their respective Affiliates, or any of its Affiliates nor any of their respective Representatives, shall (i) have any rights or claims against any Financing Related Party (solely in their respective capacities as Financing Parties) in connection with this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated by, or entered into in connection with, the acquisitions contemplated by this Agreement or otherwise, including any commitments by the Financing Related Parties in respect of financing the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (ii) seek to enforce this Agreement against any Financing Related Party (solely in their respective capacities as Financing Parties) or (iii) bring any claim or cause of action against any Financing Related Party (solely in their respective capacities as Financing Parties) under this Agreement or any other agreement contemplated by, or entered into in connection with, the acquisitions contemplated by this Agreement or otherwise, including any commitments by the Financing Parties in respect of financing the Transactions; provided that nothing in this Section 9.12 shall limit the liability or obligations of the Financing Parties to Parent (and its successors and assigns) under the Debt Letters. In addition, in no event will any Financing Related Party be liable for consequential, special, exemplary, punitive or indirect damages (including any loss of profits, business or anticipated savings) or damages of a tortious nature in connection with the Financing.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, to the extent the provisions of Section 9.12(a) are determined by a court of competent jurisdiction to not be enforceable, the parties hereto acknowledge and irrevocably agree (i) that any Proceeding, whether involving claims in law or in equity, whether in contract or in tort or otherwise, involving the Financing Related Parties and relating to the Transactions or any related document or agreement, the Financing or the performance of services thereunder or related thereto shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of any state or federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, New York, New York, and any appellate court thereof and each party hereto submits for itself and its property with respect to any such Proceeding to the exclusive jurisdiction of such court, (ii) not to bring or permit any of their Affiliates to bring or support anyone else in bringing any such Proceeding in any other court, (iii) that service of process or summons by registered mail addressed to them at their respective addresses provided herein shall be effective service of process against them for any such Proceeding brought in any such court, (iv) to waive and hereby waive, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable Law, any objection which any of them may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of, and the defense of an inconvenient forum to the maintenance of, any such Proceeding in any such court, (v) that a final and unappealable judgment in any such Proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in other jurisdictions by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by applicable Law; and (vi) that any such Proceedings shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York without regard to the conflicts of law rules of such State that would result in the application of the laws of any other State.

SECTION 9.13 Waiver of Immunity. To the extent that any party has or hereafter may acquire any immunity from jurisdiction of any court or from any legal process (whether through service or notice, attachment prior to judgment, attachment in aid of execution, execution or otherwise) with respect to itself or its property, each such party hereby irrevocably waives such immunity in respect of its obligations with respect to this Agreement; provided, however, that this provision does not, and shall not be deemed to, modify the exclusive jurisdiction provisions in Section 9.10(b) and Section 9.12(b) of this Agreement.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In connection with the opinions (the "Opinions") to be delivered by Vinson & Elkins LLP ("Vinson & Elkins") and Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP ("Skadden") pursuant to Section 7.02(c) and Section 7.03(c), respectively, of the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Agreement" dated as of October 28, 2018, by and among Denbury Resources Inc., a Delaware corporation ("Parent"), Dragon Merger Sub, Inc., a Virginia corporation ("Merger Sub"), DR Sub LLC, a Virginia limited liability company ("LLC Sub"), and Penn Virginia Corporation, a Virginia corporation ("Company"), regarding certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers, you have requested certain representations from Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub. This officer's certificate (the "Officer's Certificate") is being provided to you in response to that request. Except as otherwise provided, all "section" references are to the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and all "Treasury Regulations" section references are to the Treasury regulations promulgated under the Code.

Recognizing and acknowledging that Vinson & Elkins and Skadden will rely on the representations and statements set forth in this Officer's Certificate in delivering their respective Opinions, and that such Opinions will be based upon an assumption that all of the representations and statements set forth herein are true, accurate, and complete without regard to any qualification as to knowledge, belief, or otherwise, the undersigned, an officer of Parent, hereby represents and certifies, on behalf of Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub, that the statements and representations contained herein are true, correct and complete in all respects as of the date hereof, and will be true, correct and complete in all respects through the subsequent periods specified herein (except that, with respect to any facts or statements regarding Company, whether or not such facts or statements are qualified by knowledge, the undersigned hereby certifies and represents on behalf of Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub only that the undersigned is not aware that such facts or statements are not true, correct, or complete):

1. The undersigned is authorized to make all of the representations set forth herein on behalf of Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub. The undersigned is familiar with the matters set forth herein and has made such investigations of factual matters as the undersigned has deemed reasonably necessary for the purpose of making the representations and statements herein.

2. The information and facts relating to the Integrated Mergers and all related transactions (including all representations, warranties, covenants and undertakings) set forth in the Agreement and the registration statement (File No. []) of Parent on Form S-4, including the joint proxy statement/prospectus contained therein, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (as amended through the date hereof, the Registration Statement), insofar as such information relates to (i) Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub and (ii) the plans or intentions of Parent, Merger Sub and LLC Sub, are true, correct and complete in all material respects.

3. The Agreement (including exhibits and schedules thereto), the Registration Statement and the other documents described in the Registration Statement represent the entire understanding of Parent, Merger Sub, LLC Sub and Company with respect to the Integrated Mergers, and there are no other written or oral agreements regarding the Integrated Mergers other than those expressly referred to in the Agreement, the Registration Statement and the other documents described in the Registration Statement. The Integrated Mergers will be consummated solely in compliance with the Agreement, and neither Parent, Merger Sub nor LLC Sub has any plan or intention to waive or modify, and has not waived or modified, any of the material terms or conditions in the Agreement. The Integrated Mergers are being effected for the business reasons described in the Registration Statement. The Integrated Mergers form part of, and are being undertaken pursuant to, an integrated overall plan.
4. The Merger Consideration was arrived at as a result of arm's length negotiations between the board of directors of Parent and the board of directors of Company.
5. At the signing date of the Agreement, the aggregate fair market value of the Parent common stock provided in the Merger will be at least 45 percent of the fair market value of the total consideration to be received by the holders of Company common stock pursuant to the Merger, including, for purposes of this representation, amounts payable in lieu of fractional shares (such determination to be calculated using the price $[] per Parent common stock, which is the average of the high and low sales prices of Parent common stock on []).
6. Neither Parent nor any corporation related² to Parent has any plan, intention, obligation, agreement or understanding to, and will not in connection with the Integrated Mergers, directly or indirectly through any transaction, agreement or arrangement with any other person (including by derivative transactions such as equity swaps which would have the economic effect of an acquisition) redeem or repurchase any Parent common stock issued to shareholders of Company in the Merger or make any extraordinary distribution in respect of such Parent common stock. Additionally, prior to and in connection with the Integrated Mergers, neither Parent nor any corporation related to Parent has acquired Company common stock. For purposes of this representation, a corporation that owns an interest in an entity that is taxed as a partnership or is a disregarded entity will be treated as owning or acquiring its share of any stock owned or acquired, as the case may be, by the partnership or disregarded entity and as having furnished its share of any consideration furnished by the partnership or disregarded entity to acquire the stock, in each case, in accordance with its interest in the partnership or disregarded entity. Notwithstanding the foregoing, consistent with Revenue Ruling 99-58, 1999-2 C.B. 701, Parent may modify a pre-existing open market stock repurchase program that is effected through brokers with the repurchases made at the prevailing market price under the following conditions: (i) after the modification, repurchases will continue to be made only on the open market through brokers at the prevailing market price; (ii) neither the program nor the modification was a matter negotiated with Company or former Company stockholders; (iii) there is no understanding between Parent and any stockholder of Company that such stockholder's ownership of Parent common stock received in the Merger will be transitory; (iv) Parent does not know the identity of a seller of Parent common stock; (v) a former Company stockholder who received Parent common stock in the Merger and subsequently sold such stock would not know, to the knowledge of Parent, whether Parent was the buyer, and Parent will use its best efforts to ensure that such Company stockholders would not know whether Parent was the buyer; (vi) without regard to the repurchase program, a market exists for the Parent common stock issued to the former Company stockholders in the Merger and there will be sales of Parent common stock on such open market; and (vii) the number of shares repurchased will not exceed the total number of shares of Parent common stock issued and outstanding prior to the Integrated Mergers or the number of shares of Parent common stock received by Company stockholders in the Merger.

- ² For purposes of this Officer's Certificate, a related corporation is a corporation that either (i) is in a group of corporations where the common parent owns at least 80% of the voting power and value of the stock of one member and every other corporation in the group (except the common parent) is owned at least 80% by vote and value by another corporation in the group or (ii) has at least 50% of its total voting power or total equity value directly or indirectly owned by Parent (applying the attribution rules of section 318 of the Code as modified pursuant to section 304(c)(3)(B) of the Code). Corporations will be treated as related if the relationship described in (i) or (ii) above exists immediately before or immediately after the acquisition in question or where the relationship is created in connection with the Integrated Mergers.

7. There is no understanding between Parent or any person related to Parent, on the one hand, and Company, any person related to Company or any of their respective stockholders, on the other hand, that any Company stockholder's ownership of Parent common stock issued in the Merger would be transitory.
8. In connection with the Integrated Mergers, no dividends or distributions will be made to the former Company shareholders by Parent other than regular, normal dividends or distributions made to all holders of Parent common stock.
9. Parent has no plan or intention (i) to merge LLC Sub with or into another corporation or entity (other than Parent or an entity that is disregarded as separate from Parent for U.S. federal income tax purposes); (ii) to sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of the membership interests of LLC Sub; or (iii) to cause LLC Sub to sell, distribute, transfer or otherwise dispose of any of its assets following the Integrated Mergers (except for dispositions of such assets (a) made in the ordinary course of business and/or (b) transfers permitted by Treasury Regulations section 1.368-2(k)).
10. Except as otherwise provided in Section 6.06 of the Agreement, Parent, Merger Sub, LLC Sub, Company, and the stockholders of Company will each pay their respective expenses, if any, incurred in connection with the Integrated Mergers.
11. There is no intercorporate indebtedness existing between Parent or any of its subsidiaries (including Merger Sub and LLC Sub), on the one hand, and Company or any of its subsidiaries, on the other hand, that was issued, acquired or will be settled at a discount.
12. Following the Integrated Mergers, Parent (or a member of its qualified group as defined in Treasury Regulations section 1.368-1(d)(4)(ii)) will continue the historic business of Company or use a significant portion of Company's historic business assets in a business, in each case as such terms are used in Treasury Regulations section 1.368-1(d).
13. Neither Parent nor Merger Sub is an investment company, as defined in sections 368(a)(2)(F)(iii) and (iv) (i.e., a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or a corporation 50 percent or more of the value of whose total assets (excluding cash and cash equivalents) are stock and securities and 80 percent or more of whose total assets are assets held for investment). In making the 50 percent and 80 percent determinations, (i) stock and securities in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets, and (ii) a corporation shall be considered to be a subsidiary if the parent owns 50 percent or more of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock outstanding.

14. None of Parent, Merger Sub or LLC Sub is, or will be at the Effective Time, under the jurisdiction of a court in a title 11 or similar case within the meaning of section 368(a)(3)(A).
15. Immediately after the Integrated Mergers, the aggregate fair market value of the assets of Company will equal or exceed the sum of its liabilities, plus (without duplication) the amount of liabilities, if any, to which such assets are subject.
16. Merger Sub will have no liabilities assumed by Company and will not transfer to Company any assets subject to liabilities in the Merger. To the knowledge of Parent, the liabilities of Company to be assumed by LLC Sub and the liabilities to which the transferred assets of Company are subject have been incurred by Company in the ordinary course of business.

17. The payment of cash, if any, in lieu of fractional shares of Parent common stock represents a mere mechanical rounding off solely for the purpose of avoiding the expense and inconvenience to Parent of issuing fractional shares and does not represent separately bargained-for consideration. The total cash consideration that will be paid in the Merger to Company stockholders instead of issuing fractional shares of Parent common stock will not exceed one percent of the total consideration that will be issued in the Merger to Company stockholders in exchange for their shares of Company common stock. The fractional share interests of each Company stockholder will be aggregated, and no Company stockholder, with the possible exception of stockholders whose holdings are in multiple accounts or with multiple brokers, will receive cash in lieu of fractional shares in an amount equal to or greater than the value of one full share of Parent common stock.
18. None of the compensation received (or to be received) by any stockholder-employee of Company will be separate consideration for, or allocable to, any Company common stock held by such stockholder-employee; none of the shares of Parent common stock received in the Merger by any stockholder-employees was (or will be) separate consideration for, or allocable to, any employment agreement; and the compensation paid (or to be paid) to any stockholder-employees of Company was (or will be) for services actually rendered or to be rendered and was (or will be) commensurate with amounts paid to third parties bargaining at arm's-length for similar services.
19. Merger Sub and LLC Sub are entities newly-formed for purposes of participating in the Integrated Mergers, and, at no time prior to the Effective Time, have Merger Sub or LLC Sub owned any assets (other than nominal assets contributed upon formation), incurred any indebtedness for money borrowed, issued equity to any person other than Parent or engaged in any trade or business activities or operations.
20. Merger Sub and LLC Sub are, and at all times through the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger and immediately following the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger will be, direct, wholly-owned subsidiaries of Parent.
21. LLC Sub is, and at all times through the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger and immediately following the effective time of the LLC Sub Merger will be, disregarded as separate from Parent for U.S. federal income tax purposes. Neither Parent nor LLC Sub will file an election pursuant to Treasury Regulations section 301.7701-3 to cause LLC Sub to be treated as other than an entity disregarded as separate from Parent for U.S. federal income tax purposes. In addition, Parent has no plan or intention to take any other action (or cause LLC Sub to take any other action) that would cause LLC Sub to be treated as other than an entity disregarded as separate from Parent for U.S. federal income tax purposes.
22. No equity interests in Merger Sub or LLC Sub will be issued pursuant to the Integrated Mergers.
23. There will be no dissenter or appraisal rights in connection with the Integrated Mergers under the VSCA or the VLLCA.
- 24.

Parent will not (and will cause its Affiliates, including, after the Merger, Company, not to) take any position on any U.S. federal, state or local income or franchise tax return, or take any other tax reporting position, that is inconsistent with the treatment of the Integrated Mergers, taken together, as a single integrated transaction qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of section 368(a) and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, except to the extent required by a determination (as defined in section 1313(a)(1) or any comparable provision of applicable state or local income or franchise tax law).

The undersigned acknowledges that the Opinions will be (i) based on the accuracy of the facts, representations, and covenants set forth herein, all of which will be assumed to be true, correct and complete without regard to any qualification as to knowledge or belief, on the accuracy of the Form S-4 and on the accuracy of the facts, representations, and covenants and the satisfaction of the covenants and obligations contained in the Agreement and the other documents related thereto and (ii) subject to certain limitations and qualifications, including that they may not be relied upon if any such facts, representations, or covenants are not accurate or if any such covenants or obligations are not satisfied.

The undersigned recognizes that the Opinions will not address any tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers or any action taken in connection therewith except as expressly set forth in the Opinions.

Ladies and Gentlemen:

In connection with the opinions (the Opinions) to be delivered by Vinson & Elkins LLP (Vinson & Elkins) and Skadden, Arps, Slate, Meagher & Flom LLP (Skadden) pursuant to Section 7.02(c) and Section 7.03(c), respectively, of the Agreement and Plan of Merger (the Agreement) dated as of October 28, 2018, by and among Denbury Resources, Inc., a Delaware corporation (Parent), Dragon Merger Sub Inc., a Virginia corporation (Merger Sub), DR Sub LLC, a Virginia limited liability company (LLC Sub), and Penn Virginia Corporation, a Virginia corporation (the Company), regarding certain U.S. federal income tax consequences of the Integrated Mergers, you have requested certain representations from the Company. 3. The Agreement (including exhibits and schedules thereto), the Registration Statement and the other documents described in the Registration Statement represent the entire understanding of Parent, Merger Sub, LLC Sub and the Company with respect to the Integrated Mergers, and there are no other written or oral agreements regarding the Integrated Mergers other than those expressly referred to in the Agreement, the Registration Statement and the other documents described in the Registration Statement. The Integrated Mergers will be consummated solely in compliance with the Agreement, and the Company has no plan or intention to waive or modify, and has not waived or modified, any of the material terms or conditions in the Agreement. 4. The Merger Consideration was arrived at as a result of arm's length negotiations between the board of directors of Parent and the board of directors of the Company.
5. At the signing date of the Agreement, the aggregate fair market value of the Parent common stock provided in the Merger will be at least 45 percent of the fair market value of the total consideration to be received by the holders of Company common stock pursuant to the Merger, including, for purposes of this representation, amounts payable in lieu of fractional shares (such determination to be calculated using the price $[] per Parent common stock, which is the average of the high and low sales prices of Parent common stock on []).
6. None of the Company, any corporation related to the Company,² and any person acting as an intermediary for the Company or a related person has redeemed or acquired, nor will it redeem or acquire, any Company common stock, directly or indirectly. The Company has not made, and in connection with or in contemplation of the Integrated Mergers or otherwise as part of a plan of which the Integrated Mergers are a part will not cause to be made, directly or indirectly, any distributions on its stock (other than dividends made in the ordinary course of business). For purposes of this representation, a corporation that owns an interest in an entity that is taxed as a partnership or disregarded entity will be treated as owning or acquiring its share of any stock owned or acquired, as the case may be, by the partnership or disregarded entity and as having furnished its share of any consideration furnished by the partnership or disregarded entity to acquire the stock, in each case, in accordance with its interest in the partnership or disregarded entity.
7. 8. There is no understanding between the Company or any person related to the Company (or, to the knowledge of the Company, any of their respective stockholders), on the one hand, and Parent or any person related to Parent, on the other hand, that any Company stockholder's ownership of Parent common stock issued in the Merger would be transitory.
9. Except as otherwise provided in Section 6.06 of the Agreement, Parent, Merger Sub, LLC Sub, the Company, and the stockholders of the Company will each pay their respective expenses, if any, incurred in connection with the Integrated Mergers.

The Company conducts a historic business for purposes of Treasury Regulations section 1.368-1(d), and no assets of the Company have been sold, transferred, or otherwise disposed of that would prevent Parent or a member of its qualified group (as defined in Treasury Regulations section 1.368-1(d)(4)(ii)) from continuing such historic business or from using a significant portion of the Company's historic business assets in a business (in each case as such terms are used in Treasury Regulations section 1.368-1(d)) following the Integrated Mergers.
13. The Company is not an investment company, as defined in sections 368(a)(2)(F)(iii) and (iv) (i.e., a regulated investment company, a real estate investment trust, or a corporation 50 percent or more of the value of whose total assets (excluding cash and cash equivalents) are stock and securities and 80 percent or more of whose total assets are assets held for investment). In making the 50 percent and 80 percent determinations, (i) stock and securities in any subsidiary corporation shall be disregarded and the parent corporation shall be deemed to own its ratable share of the subsidiary's assets, and (ii) a corporation shall be considered to be a subsidiary if the parent owns 50 percent or more of the combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote, or 50 percent or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock outstanding.

14. The Integrated Mergers are not occurring pursuant to a plan of reorganization approved by a court in a title 11 or similar case within the meaning of section 368(a)(3)(A).
15. The liabilities of the Company to be assumed by LLC Sub and the liabilities to which the transferred assets of the Company are subject have been incurred by the Company in the ordinary course of business.
16. On the date of the Merger, the aggregate fair market value of the assets of the Company will equal or exceed the sum of its liabilities, plus (without duplication) the amount of liabilities, if any, to which such assets are subject.

18. The Company has no (and, at the time of the Merger, will not have any) issued and outstanding stock (or any other interest treated as stock for U.S. federal income tax purposes) other than Company common stock.
19. All of the Company's currently outstanding financial positions that it has ever treated as debt for U.S. federal income tax purposes (by deducting interest or otherwise) are properly classified as debt rather than as equity for such purposes and have not been treated as other than debt for any other purpose.

22. There will be no dissenter or appraisal rights in connection with the Integrated Mergers under the VSCA or the VLLCA.
23. The Company will not (and will cause its Affiliates not to), prior to the Effective Time, take any position on any U.S. federal, state or local income or franchise tax return, or take any other tax reporting position, that is inconsistent with the treatment of the Integrated Mergers, taken together, as a single integrated transaction qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of section 368(a) and the Treasury Regulations promulgated thereunder, except to the extent required by a determination (as defined in section 1313(a)(1) or any comparable provision of applicable state or local income or franchise tax law).

information (including, without limitation, the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, any other estimates and any other forward-looking information) provided by or discussed with Denbury or Penn Virginia or obtained from public sources, data suppliers and other third parties.

We (i) do not assume any responsibility, obligation or liability for the accuracy, completeness, reasonableness, achievability or independent verification of, and we have not independently verified, any such information (including, without limitation, any the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, any other estimates and any other forward-looking information), (ii) express no view, opinion, representation, guaranty or warranty (in each case, express or implied) regarding the reasonableness or achievability of the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates or such other forward-looking information or the assumptions upon which they are based and (iii) have relied upon the assurances of Denbury's senior management and Penn Virginia's senior management (as the case may be) that they are unaware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information (including, without limitation, the Oil and Gas Information, the Projections, the Riskings, the combination benefits, such other estimates and such other forward-looking information) incomplete, inaccurate or misleading.

- (viii) compared the proposed financial terms of the Merger with the financial terms of certain other transactions that we deemed relevant; and

- (ix) conducted such other financial studies, analyses and investigations as we deemed appropriate.

In our review and analysis and in rendering this opinion, we have assumed and relied upon, but have not assumed any responsibility to independently investigate or verify, the accuracy and completeness of all financial and other information that was supplied or otherwise made available by Penn Virginia or Denbury or that was publicly available to us (including, without limitation, the information described above) or that was or otherwise reviewed by us. We have relied on assurances of the management of Penn Virginia (with respect to the information concerning Penn Virginia and Denbury) and Denbury (with respect to the information concerning Denbury) that they are not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make such information inaccurate or misleading. In our review, we did not obtain any independent evaluation or appraisal of any of the assets or liabilities of, nor did we conduct a physical inspection of any of the properties or facilities of, Penn Virginia or Denbury, nor have we been furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals, nor do we assume any responsibility to obtain any such evaluations or appraisals.

With respect to the Forecasts provided to and examined by us, we note that projecting future results of any company is inherently subject to uncertainty. We express no opinion as to the Forecasts or the assumptions on which they are made and we have assumed that the Penn Virginia Forecasts and the Adjusted Denbury Forecasts will be realized in the amounts and at the times projected.

Our opinion is based on economic, monetary, regulatory, market and other conditions existing and which can be evaluated as of the date hereof. We expressly disclaim any undertaking or obligation to advise any person of any change in any fact or matter affecting our opinion of which we become aware after the date hereof. As you are aware, the credit, financial and stock markets, the industry in which Penn Virginia and Denbury operate and the securities of Penn Virginia and Denbury have experienced and continue to experience volatility, and we express no view or opinion as to any potential effects of such volatility on Penn Virginia, Denbury or the Merger.

We have made no independent investigation of, and we express no view or opinion as to, any legal, regulatory, accounting or tax matters affecting Penn Virginia, Denbury or the Merger, and we have assumed the correctness in all respects material to our analysis of all legal, regulatory, accounting and tax advice given to Penn Virginia and its Board of Directors, including, without limitation, advice as to the legal, regulatory, accounting and tax consequences of the terms of, and transactions contemplated by, the Merger Agreement to Penn Virginia and its stockholders. In addition, in preparing this opinion, we have not taken into account any tax consequences of the transaction to any holder of Penn Virginia Common Stock. We have assumed that the final form of the Merger Agreement will be substantially similar to the last draft reviewed by us, and you have advised us and we have assumed that the Merger will qualify as a tax-free reorganization for federal income tax purposes. We have also assumed that the Merger will be consummated in accordance with the terms of the Merger Agreement without waiver, modification or amendment in any respect material to our analysis or opinion of any term, condition or agreement, and in compliance with applicable laws, documents and other requirements and that in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases for the Merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition will be imposed that would have an adverse effect on Penn Virginia, Denbury or the contemplated benefits of the Merger.

It is understood that our opinion is for the use and benefit of the Board of Directors of Penn Virginia (in its capacity as such) in its consideration of the Merger, and our opinion does not address the relative merits of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement as compared to any alternative transaction or opportunity that might be available to Penn Virginia, nor does it address the underlying business decision by Penn Virginia to engage in the Merger or the terms of the Merger Agreement or the documents referred to therein. Our opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock should vote or act on the Merger or any matter related thereto, including, without limitation, whether any stockholder should elect to receive Mixed Election Consideration, Cash Election Consideration or Stock Election Consideration or to make no election in the Transaction. In addition, you have not asked us to address, and this opinion does not address, (i) the fairness to, or any other consideration of, the holders of any class of securities, creditors or other constituencies of Penn Virginia, other than the holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock or (ii) the allocation of the Merger Consideration as between holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock who receive the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration or the Stock Election Consideration or (iii) the relative fairness of the Mixed Election Consideration, the Cash Election Consideration and the Stock Election Consideration. We express no opinion as to what the value of the Denbury Common Stock will be when issued or the price at which shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock or Denbury Common Stock will trade at any time. Furthermore, we do not express any view or opinion as to the fairness, financial or otherwise, of the amount or nature of any compensation payable or to be received by any of Penn Virginia's officers, directors or employees, or any class of such persons, in connection with the Merger relative to the Merger Consideration to be received by holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock. Our opinion has been authorized by the Fairness Committee of Jefferies LLC.

We have been engaged by Penn Virginia to act as financial advisor to Penn Virginia in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee for our services, a portion of which is payable upon delivery of this opinion and a significant portion of which is payable contingent upon consummation of the Merger. We also will be reimbursed for expenses incurred. Penn Virginia has agreed to indemnify us against liabilities arising out of or in connection with the services rendered and to be rendered by us under such engagement. We have, in the past, provided financial advisory and financing services to Penn Virginia and may continue to do so and have received, and may receive, fees for the rendering of such services. In the ordinary course of our business, we and our affiliates may trade or hold securities of Penn Virginia or Denbury and/or their respective affiliates for our own account and for the accounts of our customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold long or short positions in those securities. In addition, we may seek to, in the future, provide financial advisory and financing services to Penn Virginia, Denbury or entities that are affiliated with Penn Virginia or Denbury, for which we would expect to receive compensation. Except as otherwise expressly provided in our engagement letter with Penn Virginia, our opinion may not be used or referred to by Penn Virginia, or quoted or disclosed to any person in any manner, without our prior written consent.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration to be received by the holders of shares of Penn Virginia Common Stock pursuant to the Merger Agreement is fair, from a financial point of view, to the holders of Penn Virginia Common Stock (other than Denbury, Merger Sub and their respective affiliates).

(b) agrees to promptly notify Parent and the Company of the number of any new Securities acquired by such Shareholder after the date hereof and prior to the Expiration Date, it being understood, for the avoidance of doubt, that any such Securities shall be subject to the terms of this Agreement as though owned by such Shareholder on the date hereof;

(c) agrees to permit Parent and the Company to publish and disclose in the Joint Proxy Statement such Shareholder's identity and ownership of the Securities and the nature of such Shareholder's commitments, arrangements and understandings under this Agreement; and

Notwithstanding the foregoing, no failure or delay by a party in exercising any right hereunder shall operate as a waiver thereof nor shall any single or partial exercise thereof preclude any other or further exercise of any other right hereunder. No agreement on the part of a party to any such extension or waiver shall be valid unless set forth in an instrument in writing signed on behalf of such party.

5.5 Assignment. Neither this Agreement nor any of the rights, interests or obligations hereunder shall be assigned by any of the parties (whether by operation of law or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the other party. Subject to the preceding sentence, this Agreement will be binding upon, inure to the benefit of and be enforceable by the parties and their respective successors and permitted assigns. Any purported assignment in violation of this Section 5.5 shall be void.

5.6 No Partnership, Agency, or Joint Venture. This Agreement is intended to create, and creates, a contractual relationship and is not intended to create, and does not create, any agency, partnership, joint venture or any like relationship between the parties.

5.7 Entire Agreement. This Agreement, together with the Merger Agreement, constitutes the entire agreement, and supersedes all prior agreements and understandings, both written and oral, among the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof.

5.8 Third-Party Beneficiaries. Nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person other than the parties any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement.

5.9 Jurisdiction; Specific Performance; Waiver of Jury Trial.

(a) THE PARTIES IRREVOCABLY SUBMIT TO THE JURISDICTION OF THE COURT OF CHANCERY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE OR, IF THE COURT OF CHANCERY OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE OR THE

DELAWARE SUPREME COURT DETERMINES THAT, NOTWITHSTANDING SECTION 111 OF THE DGCL, THE COURT OF CHANCERY DOES NOT HAVE OR SHOULD NOT EXERCISE SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION OVER SUCH MATTER, THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF DELAWARE AND THE FEDERAL COURTS OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA LOCATED IN THE STATE OF DELAWARE SOLELY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY DISPUTE THAT ARISES IN RESPECT OF THE INTERPRETATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS AGREEMENT AND THE DOCUMENTS REFERRED TO IN THIS AGREEMENT OR IN RESPECT OF THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, AND HEREBY WAIVE, AND AGREE NOT TO ASSERT, AS A DEFENSE IN ANY ACTION, SUIT OR PROCEEDING FOR INTERPRETATION OR ENFORCEMENT HEREOF OR ANY SUCH DOCUMENT THAT IT IS NOT SUBJECT THERETO OR THAT SUCH

Each party accordingly agrees not to raise any objections to the availability of the equitable remedy of specific performance to prevent or restrain breaches or threatened breaches of, or to enforce compliance with, the covenants and obligations of such party under this Agreement all in accordance with the terms of this Section 5.9(b). Each party further agrees that no other party or any other Person shall be required to obtain, furnish or post any bond or similar instrument in connection with or as a condition to obtaining any remedy referred to in this Section 5.9(b), and each party irrevocably waives any right it may have to require the obtaining, furnishing or posting of any such bond or similar instrument.

Any Transfer or attempted Transfer of any Securities in violation of this Section 1.3 shall be null and void and of no effect.

direct or approve the voting or disposition of any of the Securities.

2.2 Certain Other Agreements. The Shareholder hereby:

(a) irrevocably waives, and agrees not to exercise, any rights of appraisal or rights of dissent from the Merger that the Shareholder may have with respect to the Securities;

(b) agrees to promptly notify Parent and the Company of the number of any new Securities acquired by the Shareholder after the date hereof and prior to the Expiration Date, it being understood, for the avoidance of doubt, that any such Securities shall be subject to the terms of this Agreement as though owned by the Shareholder on the date hereof;

(c) agrees to permit Parent and the Company to publish and disclose in the Joint Proxy Statement the Shareholder's identity and ownership of the Securities and the nature of the Shareholder's commitments, arrangements and understandings under this Agreement; and

(d) shall, and hereby does, authorize the Company or its counsel to notify the Company's transfer agent that there is a stop transfer order with respect to all of the Securities (and that this Agreement places limits on the voting and transfer of such Securities); provided, however, that Company or its counsel may further notify the Company's transfer agent to lift and vacate the stop transfer order with respect to the Securities following the Expiration Date solely to the extent to effect the consummation of the Merger in accordance with the Merger Agreement.

ARTICLE III

TERMINATION

This Agreement shall automatically terminate (without any further action of the parties) and be of no further force or effect upon the earliest to occur of (a) the termination of the Merger Agreement in accordance with its terms; (b) the Effective Time; (c) the date of any modification, waiver or amendment to the Merger Agreement effected without Shareholder's consent that (i) decreases the amount or changes the form of consideration payable to all of the shareholders of the Company pursuant to the terms of the Merger Agreement as in effect on the date of this Agreement or (ii) otherwise materially adversely affects the interests of the shareholders of the Company; and (d) the mutual written consent of the parties hereto; provided, however, that the covenants and agreements contained in Article II shall survive the consummation of the Merger and remain in full force and effect until all obligations with respect thereto shall have been fully performed or fully satisfied or shall have been terminated in accordance with their terms. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, Article III and Article IV shall survive any termination of this Agreement. Nothing in this Article III shall relieve or otherwise limit any party of liability for a breach of this Agreement.

PART II

Item 20. Indemnification of Directors and Officers.

Section 145 of the DGCL empowers a Delaware corporation to indemnify any person who was or is a party to or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the rights of the corporation) by reason of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise. The indemnity may include expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by such person. The statute provides that it is not exclusive of other rights to which those seeking indemnification may be entitled under any bylaw, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise.

The Denbury bylaws contain provisions that provide for the indemnification of officers and directors to the fullest extent permitted by, and in the manner permissible under, applicable state and federal law, including the DGCL.

Section 102(b)(7) of the DGCL permits a corporation to provide in its charter that a director of the corporation will not be personally liable to the corporation or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for liability (1) for any breach of the director's duty of loyalty to the corporation or its stockholders, (2) for acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or a knowing violation of law, (3) for payments of unlawful dividends or unlawful stock purchases or redemptions, or (4) for any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit. The Denbury certificate of incorporation provides for such limitation of liability.

Denbury expects to maintain standard policies of insurance under which coverage is provided to Denbury's directors and officers against loss arising from claims made by reason of a breach of duty or other wrongful act and to Denbury with respect to payments which may be made by Denbury to such directors and officers pursuant to the above indemnification provision or otherwise as a matter of law.

In the Merger Agreement filed as Annex A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Denbury and the surviving corporation have agreed to, jointly and severally, (i) indemnify and hold harmless each person who is now, or has been or becomes at any time prior to the effective time of the Merger, (A) an officer or director of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries or (B) a director, officer, member, trustee or fiduciary of another corporation, foundation, partnership, joint venture, trust, pension or other employee benefit plan or enterprise if such service was at the request or for the benefit of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries, together with such person's heirs, executors, trustees, fiduciaries and administrators (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") to the fullest extent authorized or permitted by applicable law from and against any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, costs, indemnification expenses, judgments, fines, penalties and amounts paid in settlement (including all interest, assessments and other charges paid or payable in connection with or in respect of any thereof) arising out of or in connection with any threatened, asserted, pending or completed action or proceeding, any governmental entity or any other person, whether civil, criminal, administrative, investigative or other, including any arbitration or other alternative dispute resolution mechanism arising out of or pertaining to matters that relate to such Indemnified Party's duties or service as a director or officer of Penn Virginia or any of its subsidiaries or as a trustee of (or in a similar capacity with) any compensation and benefit plan of any thereof; and (ii) promptly pay on behalf of or, within 15 days after any request for advancement, advance to each of the Indemnified Parties, any indemnification expenses (including reasonable attorneys' fees) incurred in defending, serving as a witness with respect to or otherwise participating with respect to any such action or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such claim or action, including payment on behalf of or advancement to the Indemnified Party of any indemnification expenses incurred by such Indemnified Party in connection with enforcing any rights with respect to such indemnification and/or advancement, in each case without the requirement of any bond or other security.

In the event that Denbury, the surviving corporation, LLC Sub or any of their successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and is not the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers or conveys all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then, Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, must cause proper provision to be made so that the successors and assigns of Denbury, the surviving corporation or LLC Sub, as applicable, assume the indemnification obligations set forth above contemporaneous with the closing of any such consolidation, merger, transfer or conveyance.

Denbury has agreed to cause to be put in place a tail directors and officers liability insurance policy covering the six-year period from and after the effective time of the Merger for Penn Virginia and its current and former directors and officers who are currently covered by the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia from a carrier with the same or better credit rating to Penn Virginia's current directors and officers liability insurance carrier on terms not less favorable to the insured persons than the directors and officers liability insurance coverage currently maintained by Penn Virginia as of the date of the Merger Agreement with respect to claims arising from facts or events that occurred on or before the effective time of the Merger, except that in no event will Denbury be required to pay with respect to such tail policy more than 300% of the aggregate annual premium currently paid by Penn Virginia for such insurance.

Item 22. Undertakings

(a) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes:

- (1) To file, during any period in which offers or sales are being made, a post-effective amendment to this registration statement:

to include any prospectus required by Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933; to reflect in the prospectus any facts or events arising after the effective date of this registration statement (or the most recent post-effective amendment thereof) which, individually or in the aggregate, represent a fundamental change in the information set forth in this registration statement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any increase or decrease in volume of securities offered (if the total dollar value of securities offered would not exceed that which was registered) and any deviation from the low or high end of the estimated maximum offering range may be reflected in the form of a prospectus filed with the SEC pursuant to Rule 424(b) if, in the aggregate, the changes in volume and price represent no more than a 20% change in the maximum aggregate offering price set forth in the Calculation of Registration Fee table in the effective registration statement; and

- (2) That, for the purpose of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
- (3) To remove from registration by means of a post-effective amendment any of the securities being registered which remain unsold at the termination of the offering.
- (4) That, for the purpose of determining liability under the Securities Act of 1933 to any purchaser, each prospectus filed pursuant to Rule 424(b) as part of a registration statement relating to an offering, other than registration statements relying on Rule 430B or other than prospectuses filed in reliance on Rule 430A, shall be deemed to be part of and included in the registration statement as of the date it is first used after effectiveness. Provided, however, that no statement made in a registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement or made in a document incorporated or deemed incorporated by reference into the registration statement or prospectus that is part of the registration statement will, as to a purchaser with a time of contract of sale prior to such first use, supersede or

- (5) That, for the purpose of determining liability of the registrant under the Securities Act of 1933 to any purchaser in the initial distribution of the securities, the undersigned registrant undertakes that in a primary offering of securities of the undersigned registrant pursuant to this registration statement, regardless of the underwriting method used to sell the securities to the purchaser, if the securities are offered or sold to such purchaser by means of any of the following communications, the undersigned registrant will be a seller to the purchaser and will be considered to offer or sell such securities to such purchaser:

any preliminary prospectus or prospectus of the undersigned registrant relating to the offering required to be filed pursuant to Rule 424; any free writing prospectus relating to the offering prepared by or on behalf of the undersigned registrant or used or referred to by the undersigned registrant;

the portion of any other free writing prospectus relating to the offering containing material information about the undersigned registrant or its securities provided by or on behalf of the undersigned registrant; and any other communication that is an offer in the offering made by the undersigned registrant to the purchaser.

- (b) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each filing of the registrant's annual report pursuant to Section 13(a) or Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 (and, where applicable, each filing of an employee benefit plan's annual report pursuant to Section 15(d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) that is incorporated by reference in the registration statement shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
- (c) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to deliver or cause to be delivered with the prospectus, to each person to whom the prospectus is sent or given, the latest annual report to security holders that is incorporated by reference in the prospectus and furnished pursuant to and meeting the requirements of Rule 14a-3 or Rule 14c-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934; and, where interim financial information required to be presented by Article 3 of Regulation S-X is not set forth in the prospectus, to deliver, or cause to be delivered to each person to whom the prospectus is sent or given, the latest quarterly report that is specifically incorporated by reference in the prospectus to provide such interim financial information.
- (d) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes as follows: that prior to any public reoffering of the securities registered hereunder through use of a prospectus which is a part of this registration statement, by any person or party who is deemed to be an underwriter within the meaning of Rule 145(c), the issuer undertakes that such reoffering prospectus will contain the information called for by the applicable registration form with respect to reofferings by persons who may be deemed underwriters, in addition to the information called for by the other items of the applicable form.

- (e) The registrant undertakes that every prospectus (i) that is filed pursuant to the paragraph immediately preceding, or (ii) that purports to meet the requirements of Section 10(a)(3) of the Securities Act of 1933 and is used in connection with an offering of securities subject to Rule 415, will be filed as a part of an amendment to this registration statement and will not be used until such amendment is effective, and that, for purposes of determining any liability under the Securities Act of 1933, each such post-effective amendment shall be deemed to be a new registration statement relating to the securities offered therein, and the offering of such securities at that time shall be deemed to be the initial bona fide offering thereof.
- (f) Insofar as indemnification for liabilities arising under the Securities Act of 1933 may be permitted to directors, officers and controlling persons of the registrant pursuant to the foregoing provisions, or otherwise, the registrant has been advised that in the opinion of the SEC such indemnification is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and is, therefore, unenforceable. In the event that a claim for indemnification against such liabilities (other than the payment by the registrant of expenses incurred or paid by a director, officer or controlling person of the registrant in the successful defense of any action, suit or proceeding) is asserted by such director, officer or controlling person in connection with the securities being registered, the registrant will, unless in the opinion of its counsel the matter has been settled by controlling precedent, submit to a court of appropriate jurisdiction the question whether such indemnification by it is against public policy as expressed in the Securities Act of 1933 and will be governed by the final adjudication of such issue.

- (g) The undersigned registrant hereby undertakes to respond to requests for information that is incorporated by reference into the prospectus pursuant to Items 4, 10(b), 11, or 13 of this Form, within one business day of receipt of such request, and to send the incorporated documents by first class mail or other equally prompt means. This includes information contained in documents filed subsequent to the effective date of this registration statement through the date of responding to the request.
