Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure

During the weeks of September 15 and 22, 2008, certain Lincoln National Corporation ("Lincoln") officers will meet with investors and analysts during which they expect to respond to questions regarding Lincoln's general account and capital position with the following information.

- Lincoln's investment in debt securities of Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. ("Lehman") was approximately $100 million, at amortized cost, as of August 31, 2008.
- Lincoln estimates that its exposure to counterparty risk on derivative instruments with affiliates of Lehman was approximately $21 million, net of collateral supporting the positions, as of August 31, 2008.
- As of August 31, 2008, Lincoln's exposure to the debt securities of American International Group, Inc. ("AIG") was at an amortized cost of approximately $78 million. Lincoln also has exposures to the debt securities of various AIG operating affiliates of approximately $137 million, at amortized cost, as of August 31, 2008.
 - Lincoln has indirect exposure to Lehman and AIG through its investment in its credit-linked notes.
- Lincoln has repurchased 1,009,644 shares in the third quarter for a total cost of approximately $50 million. Lincoln will provide updated share repurchase guidance during its third quarter earnings call scheduled to take place at 11:00 a.m., Wednesday, October 29, 2008.
 - Based on market conditions at the time of this filing, Lincoln expects third quarter gross realized losses, including impairments, to be elevated from second quarter 2008 levels. However, Lincoln does not expect third quarter gross realized losses, including impairments, to have a material adverse effect on its financial condition or liquidity.

For additional information regarding Lincoln's investments, including the credit-linked notes, please see the section entitled "Consolidated Investments" in Lincoln's Form 10-Q for the quarter ended June 30, 2008. Interested persons can find Lincoln's Form 10-Q and other important information about Lincoln in the Investor Relations page on Lincoln's web site at www.lincolnfinancial.com.

Forward-Looking Statements—Cautionary Language

Certain statements made in this report and in other written or oral statements made by us or on our behalf are "forward-looking statements" within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 ("PSLRA"). A forward-looking statement is a statement that is not a historical fact and, without limitation, includes any statement that may predict, forecast, indicate or imply future results, performance or achievements, and may contain words like: "believe", "anticipate", "expect", "estimate", "project", "will", "shall" and other words or phrases with similar meaning in connection with a discussion of future operating or financial performance. In particular, these include statements relating to future actions, trends in our businesses, prospective services or products, future performance or financial results, and the outcome of contingencies, such as legal proceedings. We claim the protection afforded by the safe harbor for forward-looking statements provided by the PSLRA.

Forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to differ materially from the results contained in the forward-looking statements. Risks and uncertainties that may cause actual results to vary materially, some of which are described within the forward-looking statements include, among others:

- Legislative, regulatory or tax changes, both domestic and foreign, that affect the cost of, or demand for, our products, the required amount of reserves and/or surplus, or otherwise affect our ability to conduct business, including changes to statutory reserves and/or risk-based capital requirements related to secondary guarantees under universal life and variable annuity products such as Actuarial Guideline VACARVM; restrictions on revenue sharing and 12b-1 payments; and the potential for U.S. Federal tax reform;

- The initiation of legal or regulatory proceedings against us or our subsidiaries, and the outcome of any legal or regulatory proceedings, such as: (a) adverse actions related to present or past business practices common in businesses in which we and our subsidiaries compete; (b) adverse decisions in significant actions including, but not limited to, actions brought by federal and state authorities and extra-contractual and class action damage cases; (c) new decisions that result in changes in law; and (d) unexpected trial court rulings;
- Changes in interest rates causing a reduction of investment income, the margins of our fixed annuity and life insurance businesses and demand for our products;
- A decline in the equity markets causing a reduction in the sales of our products, a reduction of asset-based fees that we charge on various investment and insurance products, an acceleration of amortization of deferred acquisition costs, value of business acquired, deferred sales inducements and deferred front-end loads and an increase in liabilities related to guaranteed benefit features of our variable annuity products;
- Ineffectiveness of our various hedging strategies used to offset the impact of changes in the value of liabilities due to changes in the level and volatility of the equity markets and interest rates;
- A deviation in actual experience regarding future persistency, mortality, morbidity, interest rates or equity market returns from our assumptions used in pricing our products, in establishing related insurance reserves and in the amortization of intangibles that may result in an increase in reserves and a decrease in net income, including as a result of investor-owned life insurance business;
- Changes in GAAP that may result in unanticipated changes to our net income, including the impact of Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 157, "Fair Value Measurements," and SFAS No. 159, "The Fair Value Option for Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities;"
- Lowering of one or more of our debt ratings issued by nationally recognized statistical rating organizations and the adverse impact such action may have on our ability to raise capital and on our liquidity and financial condition;
- Lowering of one or more of the insurer financial strength ratings of our insurance subsidiaries and the adverse impact such action may have on the premium writings, policy retention and profitability of our insurance subsidiaries;
- Significant credit, accounting, fraud or corporate governance issues that may adversely affect the value of certain investments in our portfolios requiring that we realize losses on such investments;
- The impact of acquisitions and divestitures, restructurings, product withdrawals and other unusual items, including our ability to integrate acquisitions and to obtain the anticipated results and synergies from acquisitions, including our ability to successfully integrate Jefferson-Pilot's businesses, to achieve the expected synergies from the merger or to achieve such synergies within our expected timeframe;
 - The adequacy and collectibility of reinsurance that we have purchased;

- Acts of terrorism, war or other man-made and natural catastrophes that may adversely affect our businesses and the cost and availability of reinsurance;
- Competitive conditions, including pricing pressures, new product offerings and the emergence of new competitors, that may affect the level of premiums and fees that we can charge for our products;
- The unknown impact on our businesses resulting from changes in the demographics of our client base, as aging baby-boomers move from the asset-accumulation stage to the asset-distribution stage of life;
- Loss of key management, portfolio managers in the Investment Management segment, financial planners or wholesalers;
- Changes in general economic or business conditions, both domestic and foreign, that may be less favorable than expected and may affect foreign exchange rates, premium levels, claims experience, the level of pension benefit costs and funding and investment results; and
- Continued economic declines and credit market volatility that could cause us to realize additional impairments on investments and certain intangible assets and dampen future earnings.

The risks included here are not exhaustive. Our annual report on Form 10-K, quarterly reports on Form 10-Q, and other documents filed with the SEC include additional factors which could impact our businesses and financial performance. Moreover, we operate in a rapidly changing and competitive environment. New risk factors emerge from time to time and it is not possible for management to predict all such risk factors.

Further, it is not possible to assess the impact of all risk factors on our business or the extent to which any factor, or combination of factors, may cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statements. Given these risks and uncertainties, investors should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements as a prediction of actual results. In addition, we disclaim any obligation to update any forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances that occur after the date of the report.
