[Address]

Dear [Name],

EMC announced on October 14, 2004 its plan to acquire Documentum. The acquisition is expected to be completed in the first quarter of 2004.

[Centera Partner Company Name] is an important EMC partner and key component of the EMC Centera Division's strategy to provide its customers with best-in-class solutions for storing fixed content. The Centera CAS system is EMC's fastest-growing product and its success to date can be attributed to its open integration with best-in-class partner applications such as [Centera Partner's Application].

This partner strategy of open integration is founded upon providing our joint customers with tightly integrated solutions aimed directly at their business requirements. EMC's acquisition of Documentum does not affect the overarching partner strategy for EMC Centera and will not impact our ongoing partnership moving forward.

We will contact you soon to provide you with further details and answer your questions.

Sincerely,
